What is a handbook?
The handbook is an official publication and an essential guide for every student who studies at the University of Sydney. It is an important source of enrolment information. It can also help you with more than just planning your course of study.

As a student at the University of Sydney you need to be aware of course structures and content, who your lecturers are, as well as examination procedures. You should also become familiar with University policies and faculty rules and regulations. The handbook will supply a lot of this information.

It will also point you to places and people around the University who can help you with enquiries about library loans, childcare, fees, casual employment, places to eat and stay, support groups and much, much more.

What new students need to know

- terminology used for courses and programs of study
- semester dates and examination periods
- important contact details
- how to plan your study program
- rules and policies on assessment, satisfactory progression, honours etc.
- what University services are available and where to find them
- how to get around your campus

At the beginning of many of these chapters there will be explanations to help you proceed further.

Where to find what

Course terminology

University terminology – like ‘credit point’, ‘unit of study’, ‘WAM’ etc – can be found at the back of all handbooks.

Definitions of all terminology are located in the General University information section under Abbreviations and Glossary, at the back of this handbook.

Dates

The start and finish dates of semester can be found in the front section of the handbook. Summer School dates are in the General University section at the back of the book.

Contents and index

The comprehensive contents section at the front of the handbook explains the details you’ll find within each chapter.

You’ll find information like:

- how and where to contact Faculty staff
- how to select your units of study and programs
- a list of degrees
- detailed information on all units of study — classified by unit identifiers (a four-alpha, four-digit code and a title)
- electives and streams
- scholarships and prizes
- information specific to faculties

The index lists units of study only. It allows you to check every reference which refers to your unit of study within the handbook.

Colour-coded sections

- Ivory – for undergraduate courses
- Blue – for postgraduate courses

Faculty rules and regulations

Faculty resolutions are the rules and regulations pertaining to a specific faculty. They can generally be found in their own chapter, or next to the relevant units of study.

These should be read along with the University’s own Coursework Rule 2000 (as amended) which can be found in the general University information towards the back of the book. Together they outline the agreement between student and faculty, and student and University. Senate resolutions are located in the University Calendar.

General University information

This is information about the University in general, rather than information specific to the faculty. This information is at the back of the book and includes, among other things:

- the University Coursework Rule
- the PhD Rule
- University terminology and abbreviations
- campus maps to help you find your way around
- Summer School information
- international student information
- student services

Course planner

You might like to plot the course of your degree as you read about your units of study. This planner can be found at the back of the handbook.

Timetables

For information about personal timetables, centrally timetabled units of study, and venue bookings, see http://www.usyd.edu.au/studentcentre/timetabling.shtml.

For the session calendar, see http://web.timetable.usyd.edu.au/calendar.jsp

Students with a disability

Accessible versions of this document, including word, pdf and html versions are available at http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/handbooks_disability/.

You can find information on Disability Services in the General University information section of the handbook. The Service can provide information regarding assistance with enrolment and course requirement modifications where appropriate.

For details on registering with the Service and online resources see the Disability Services website http://www.usyd.edu.au/disability.

Handbook updates

The information in the handbook is current at the time of publication. Updated information to handbooks and references to University policies such as plagiarism and special consideration, among others can be found in the University’s website.

Welcome from the Dean

The mission of the Faculty of Economics and Business at the University of Sydney is to build and sustain the leading learning community in business, economics and government in Australia and its region.

On behalf of my colleagues, I have great pleasure in welcoming you as a student in the Faculty of Economics and Business at the University of Sydney. You are joining a vibrant and international learning community that incorporates academics, students, industry and government partners, alumni, and other universities and research institutions.

The Faculty has an outstanding reputation for diversity and excellence in teaching, learning and research, and is in a leading position among business and economics faculties in Australia. We aim to equip our students for a professionally rewarding and successful career in their chosen field of study, and many of our alumni hold senior positions in the business, professional and government communities within Australia and around the world.

Our programs are informed by the most recent research findings; by best-practice teaching and learning techniques; and by an understanding of business, government and management practices, both nationally and internationally. In short, you will benefit from a University education that is at the cutting edge of knowledge, is intellectually rigorous, and has contemporary and professional relevance.

The Faculty of Economics and Business locates major disciplinary areas within their broader business, economic, political and social contexts:

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Business Law
- Econometrics and Business Statistics
- Economics
- Finance
- Government and International Relations
- International Business
- Marketing
- Political Economy
- Transport and Logistics
- Work and Organisational Studies

This provides you with an exciting and extensive range of study options, and gives impetus to innovative and multi-disciplinary teaching and learning, curriculum and program design, research and consulting.

Domestically and internationally, the Faculty is recognised as one of the leading faculties of its kind in Australia. It is the first to have been awarded both business and accounting accreditation by the US-based AACSB International, as well as EQUIS accreditation from the European Foundation for Management Development.

In addition, a number of Faculty programs have professional accreditation. Our accounting programs are jointly accredited by CPA Australia and the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia; our industrial relations and human resource management programs by the Australian Human Resources Institute; and our business information systems majors by the Australian Computer Society.

These accreditations provide an assurance of our ongoing commitment to excellence in education and research and put the Faculty in company with leading institutions worldwide.

I very much hope you will enjoy studying with us and that you will make the most of the abundant opportunities that are yours as a student of the Faculty of Economics and Business at the University of Sydney.

Student Information Office and other faculty services for students

The Student Information Office manages the student administration activities of the Faculty and is responsible for a broad range of areas including admission, enrolment, graduation, course information and student matters. The Student Information Office should be the first point of inquiry for all current and prospective students.

Hours during teaching periods
Monday to Friday: 9am–6.15pm

Hours during non-teaching periods
Monday to Friday: 9am–5.30pm

The SIO provides the following services and information:

- Advice about courses and majors offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business, including selecting a degree or award course
- Enrolment advice and information, including course structure and selecting units of study and majors
- Information about and administration of applications for study abroad, exchange, cross institutional and non-award study
- Local postgraduate admissions and course transfers
- Enrolment variations and leave of absence requests
- Applications for credit or recognition of prior learning
- Applications for graduation
- Information about scholarships, internships and other opportunities for students

The SIO has two Program Advisers to provide advice and support to students within the Faculty of Economics and Business. You can make an appointment to see the Advisers to discuss a range of issues that may need more time and consideration than is possible at the Student Information Office. For further information see http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/program_advice/.

Postgraduate research students can contact the Research Student Administration Coordinator for any assistance they require. For further details refer the to Postgraduate Research Award Courses chapter in this handbook or http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/researchstudentadmcoord/.

The Faculty also offers a range of learning support services through the Office of Learning and Teaching in Economics and Business, including student mentoring and the PASS program. More information can be found at http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/OLTEB/.

General information and use of the handbook

Use of this handbook

The Economics and Business handbook is designed to provide a complete guide to the Faculty and its courses. For undergraduate students, information regarding the available courses and requirements can be found in chapters 5 through to 9. Postgraduate students should refer to chapters 10 through to 14 for information regarding postgraduate study and courses. Postgraduate research students should refer to chapter 15. The remaining chapters provide information about the Faculty and the University, including regulations, available services, where to find further information and definitions of commonly used terms.

Terminology used in this handbook

There are a number of different terms which are used throughout this handbook that students may be unfamiliar with. Students should consult the Glossary located at the back of the handbook if they require clarification on terms used.

General information for students

Administration manual for students

The Faculty of Economics and Business Administration Manual for Students contains information on all student administration policies and procedures and can be downloaded from the Faculty website (www.econ.usyd.edu.au/studentmanual).

Attendance at classes

Most units of study have prescribed attendance requirements and these must be adhered to for satisfactory completion of the unit. Unit of study outlines provide information on attendance requirements.

Appeals

A student may appeal against a mark or grade given for either a single assessment task, or the final assessment for a whole unit of study. The University’s appeals process is comprehensive, allowing the student the opportunity first to attempt a resolution of the matter informally with the individual academic concerned, then if necessary to take the matter through a series of formal stages within the Faculty and College and ultimately, in certain circumstances, to the Student Academic Appeals Committee of the Senate. For the procedures which need to be followed to lodge an appeal please refer to the Administration Manual for Students or contact the Student Information Office.

Computer accounts

All students in the Faculty of Economics and Business are entitled to a computer account which permits access to word processing packages, electronic library searching, spreadsheet packages, statistical packages and other software programs. Many lecturers use computer-based teaching programs, and many classes are conducted in computer laboratories. Computer accounts are issued free of charge to enrolled students. Laser printing and access to the Internet are available on a user-pays basis. Further information is available on the Faculty website (www.econ.usyd.edu.au/resources).

Computer laboratories

There are five computer laboratories on the first floor of the Economics and Business Building with a total capacity of 258 seats. These are accessible to all Faculty students when not being used for teaching.

Hours during teaching periods

Monday to Friday: 7.30am–9pm
Saturday and Sunday: 9am–5pm

Students should contact the Faculty IT Department on +61 2 9351 5409 for opening hours during non-teaching periods. In addition, a 24-hour computer lab is available in the Merewether Building (Wolstoneholme Study Centre), which is accessible via a swipe card after hours. Information about swipe cards is available from the Faculty Student Information Office.

Special consideration

The Faculty of Economics and Business recognises that the performance of students may be adversely affected by serious illness or other misadventure, and makes provision for special consideration of such disabilities. Any student who believes that his/her performance has been or may be adversely affected by an occurrence of serious illness or misadventure may request the Faculty to make special consideration. All such requests must:

- include the completion of a special consideration application form available from the Student Information Office of the Faculty, the Faculty website or the main Student Centre located in the Carslaw Building;
- be supplied within one week of the occurrence; and
- be accompanied by an appropriate Professional Practitioners Certificate or other relevant documentary evidence, apart from the student's own submission. For guidelines on what constitutes satisfactory documentation, please refer to the Administration Manual for Students.

The Faculty intends to compensate for sub-standard performance only in assessments which do not reflect a student’s true competence in a unit of study, and such provisions must not act to the disadvantage of other students. It is important for students to understand that non-attendance at an examination together with submission of an accompanying Professional Practitioners Certificate does not guarantee that further assessment will take place. Students with serious disabilities likely to affect a high proportion of the end-of-semester examinations are advised to discuss the situation with the Discipline(s) concerned. Students who intend to apply for special consideration should consult the Student Information Office on the appropriate procedure.

Special arrangements

Special arrangements may be made available to any student enrolled at the University of Sydney who is unable to meet assessment requirements or attend examinations because of one or more of the following situations:

- essential religious commitments or essential beliefs (including cultural and ceremonial commitments);
- compulsory legal absence (e.g. jury duty, court summons, etc);
- sporting or cultural commitments, including political/union commitments, where the student is representing the University, state or nation;
- birth or adoption of a child, and
- Australian defence force or emergency service commitments (including Army Reserve).

Any student who wishes to seek special arrangements for assessment or examination is to advise the faculty which administers the unit of study affected by the request.

For the latest updates, visit Handbooks online.
http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks
• as soon as possible with regard to being absent from the University which may have an impact on the types of assessment and/or examination they can undertake.

• of their notice of intent to apply for special arrangements with regard to an examination to be received within two weeks of the publication of the examination timetable.

The full application and all supporting documentation must be lodged within one week of submitting notice of intent to apply for special arrangements. Special consideration for units of study that come under another faculty should be submitted to that faculty office. For further information and procedures regarding special arrangements, students should refer to the Administration Manual for Students.

Student problems
The work of a student may be adversely affected by illness or misadventure causing absence from lectures, failure to hand in an assignment, poor performance in an examination, etc. In simple cases occurring during the semester, such problems can be handled by discussing the issue with a lecturer or the academic staff member in charge of the unit of study. In more complex situations, students should consult the Student Information Office.

Student responsibilities
Each student is responsible for ensuring that their enrolment is correct and that their progress in the award course is in accordance with the Senate and Faculty Resolutions. While the Faculty makes every effort to provide advice and information, the onus is on students to ensure that deadlines and award course requirements are met. The most up to date information on award courses, majors and units of study is available on the Faculty of Economics and Business website. It is recommended that students check the website each semester for any changes which may affect them. Each student is required to check prerequisites and corequisites for each unit of study. If a student is enrolled in a unit and they have not met the prerequisites/corequisites for that unit they must withdraw immediately from the unit in question. There are many University procedures to accommodate students who experience personal problems, illness and misadventure (such as special consideration and student counselling). It is important for students to familiarise themselves with the regulations for their chosen award course and with the services available at the University. The University's rules are published in the University of Sydney Calendar and on the University website (www.usyd.edu.au). Faculty and Award Course Resolutions are published in this handbook. If you require advice about University rules and procedures please contact the Student Information Office.

University correspondence
It is important that students read all information sent to them by the University, via both postal mail and email. Students must ensure they keep their contact details up to date and should check their student email account on a regular basis.

Variations of enrolment
The key dates at the beginning of this handbook set out the deadlines by which variations of enrolment must be made. The key dates are based on University policies.

Commonwealth supported students
If students withdraw from a unit of study prior to the census date, the unit of study does not appear on their academic transcript and they are not charged the student contribution amount for the unit. If students discontinue a unit of study after the census date, the unit will appear on their transcript along with the date the unit was discontinued. Students who withdraw will receive either a full refund of the fee for the unit or not be charged the FEE-HELP fee for the unit. Students who discontinue will receive no refund. In some circumstances the Faculty may consider that a unit of study be discontinued with permission after the relevant date if there is evidence of serious illness or misadventure. Students should contact the Student Information Office for further information.

Local fee-paying and FEE-HELP loan students
If students withdraw from a unit of study prior to the census date, the unit of study does not appear on their academic transcript. If students discontinue a unit of study after the census date, the unit will appear on their transcript along with the date the unit was discontinued. Students who withdraw will receive either a full refund of the fee for the unit or not be charged the FEE-HELP fee for the unit. Students who discontinue will receive no refund. In some circumstances the Faculty may consider that a unit of study be discontinued with permission after the relevant date if there is evidence of serious illness or misadventure. Students should contact the Student Information Office for further information.

International students
If students withdraw from a unit of study prior to the census date, the unit of study does not appear on their academic transcript. If students discontinue a unit of study after the census date, the unit will appear on their transcript with the date the unit was discontinued. Students are advised to contact the International Office to determine if financial penalty will apply due to a variation of enrolment. In some circumstances the Faculty may consider that a unit of study be discontinued with permission after the relevant date if there is evidence of serious illness or misadventure. Students should contact the Student Information Office for further information.

Lecture and seminar rooms
As far as is practicable, lectures and tutorials provided by the Faculty of Economics and Business are held in the Institute Building or the Merewether Building. However, more lectures and tutorials are now being held elsewhere in the University. It is useful, therefore, to discover the whereabouts of lecture theatres and lecture rooms. The following information will assist with the location of the main theatres/rooms and students are reminded that there is a map of the main campus of the University at the end of this handbook.

Merewether Lecture Theatres 1 and 2
These theatres are fitted with tiered seats; the larger theatre is near the Butlin Avenue/City Road corner. Entry is from the downstairs corridor or from the assembly area at the Covered Way level. Students late for lectures will assist if they enter doors at the Covered Way level, that is, if they go to the back of the theatres.

Merewether Lecture Rooms 3, 4 and 5
Courtyard level, entry from the Colonnade.

Merewether Lecture Room 6
Butlin Avenue level, entry from downstairs corridor.

Merewether Seminar Rooms 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6
Butlin Avenue level, entry from downstairs corridor.

Butlin Avenue level, entry from downstairs corridor, past entrance to Lecture Theatre 2.

Institute Lecture Theatre 1
Institute Building at the front on City Road next to Merewether Building.

Institute Lecture Rooms 2 & 3 and Institute Rooms 331 & 386
Institute Building on City Road next to Merewether Building.

Bosch Theatres
Western Avenue, part of the lecture facilities of the Faculty of Medicine adjoining the Royal Prince Alfred Hospital area.

Carslaw Theatres and Seminar Rooms
Eastern Avenue in the main University area.

PNR Theatres
The name given to the Peter Nicol Russell Theatres of the Engineering Faculty. The Engineering precinct is along Darlington Road; a point of identification is the bright blue hydraulics tower of Civil Engineering.

Eastern Ave Auditorium
The Eastern Avenue Auditorium is the main theatre in a new complex built in the forecourt of the Carslaw Building. Eastern Avenue runs from Fisher Library to the City Road Entrance of the University.

Attributes of graduates of the Faculty of Economics and Business
The Faculty's contextualised generic graduate attributes should be read in conjunction with the University of Sydney policy on generic graduate attributes at http://www.itl.usyd.edu.au/GraduateAttributes/policy.htm

Personal and intellectual autonomy
Graduates of the Faculty of Economics and Business will be able to work independently and sustainably, in a way that is informed by openness, curiosity and a desire to meet new challenges.

- Be open to new ways of thinking and appreciate the importance of intellectual curiosity and reflection as the foundation for continuous learning.
- Demonstrate a commitment to lifelong learning through continuous reflection on personal and professional experiences, self-evaluation and self-improvement.
- Demonstrate a willingness to meet new challenges and deadlines.
- Demonstrate a capacity to work independently including the ability to plan and achieve goals.
- Display a commitment to achieving a broad vision that aims to balance and sustain personal, intellectual, emotional, physical and social needs, and that can be sustained.

Research and inquiry
Graduates of the Faculty of Economics and Business will be able to create new knowledge and understanding through the process of research and inquiry.

- Identify, define and analyse problems and recommend creative solutions within real-world constraints.
- Apply economic, political, legal, commercial and business theories and concepts to problems and practice.
- Critically evaluate underlying theories, concepts, assumptions, limitations and arguments in disciplinary and cross-disciplinary fields of study.
- Develop coherent arguments when recommending solutions and critically evaluating theories in major fields of study.
- Appreciate the advancing nature of knowledge frontiers through research.

Ethical, social and professional understanding
Graduates of the Faculty of Economics and Business will hold personal values and beliefs consistent with their role as responsible members of local, national, international and professional communities.

- Display a deep respect for others and act with integrity in all aspects of their personal and professional life and contribute as a global citizen.
- Demonstrate the capacity to deal with ethical and other issues in business, government and social contexts in relation to their personal and professional lives.
- Demonstrate an appreciation of the complex and dynamic nature of professional work.
- Work with people from diverse backgrounds with inclusiveness, open-mindedness and integrity.
- Demonstrate an ability to participate in a broad range of complex and changing social, political and economic contexts.

Communication
Graduates of the Faculty of Economics and Business will recognise and value communication as a tool for negotiating and creating new understanding, interacting with others, and furthering their own learning.

- Appreciate that communication develops learning and learning communities.
- Negotiate and create shared understandings by respectfully interacting with people from diverse backgrounds.
- Confidently and coherently communicate, orally and in writing, to a professional standard in major fields of study.
- Display leadership by inspiring others in personal, professional and global contexts.
- Employ technologies effectively in communicating information relevant to practice in major fields of study.

Information literacy
Graduates of the Faculty of Economics and Business will be able to use information effectively in a range of contexts.

- Conduct research using archives, libraries, the Web and other sources of information.
- Apply research principles and methods for gathering and analysing data/information relevant to major fields of study.
- Employ technologies effectively in gathering information from written, oral and electronic sources.
- Manage, analyse, evaluate and use information efficiently and effectively.
- Appreciate the economic, legal, social, ethical and cultural issues in the gathering and use of information.

Definitions, terminology and other relevant information

Assumed knowledge
Students are not expected to have previously studied economics, commerce or business studies, however, a good grounding in Mathematics (at least HSC Mathematics) is recommended for the study of Economics, Econometrics, Management Decision Sciences, Marketing and Finance. Mathematics (General) at HSC level does not provide sufficient grounding in Mathematics for the study of Economics and Econometrics. For students who have not completed HSC Mathematics, a bridging course in Mathematics is strongly recommended. Students should contact the Mathematics Learning Centre (http://www.usyd.edu.au/mlc) for information on bridging courses available.

Credit and waivers of prerequisites or corequisites for previous study

Credit
Graduates of other faculties and universities are not normally accepted into the undergraduate programs and are recommended to enrol in postgraduate studies. Students from other faculties, universities or similar institutions may apply to transfer to the Bachelor of Economics, Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences, Bachelor of Commerce, Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies) or Bachelor of International Studies. Local students must apply through the University Admissions Centre (UAC). International students must apply directly to the University of Sydney International Office. Students who are successful in their transfer application may be credited with units of study completed elsewhere, which are deemed by the Faculty to be equivalent to units available in the Faculty. If units of study have already been counted towards a completed degree, credit will not be granted. Students should bring comprehensive information to their enrolment session (including original academic transcripts and detailed unit outlines from each unit they wish to have considered, etc).
Introduction to undergraduate study

Please Note: a unit of study or subject outline from a handbook or website is not sufficient. For information on the deadline for credit applications, students should check the Faculty website (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/importantdates/).

Waivers of prerequisites or corequisites
The Faculty may waive the requirement for a student to complete a pre or corequisite if relevant study has been undertaken previously. In order for a pre or corequisite to be waived, students must apply to the Student Information Office for special permission to enrol in the unit of study they wish to undertake (and which pre or corequisite they would like waived). Waivers of pre or corequisites allow students to enter into more advanced areas of study, bypassing the need to repeat foundation material. Students should note, however, that waivers of pre or corequisites do not reduce the total number of units of study required to complete the program. Students should also note that if the pre or corequisite they are seeking a waiver for is a compulsory unit for their program/major and they wish to be exempt from completing it altogether, students must seek a variation to course requirements (see below).

Varying course requirements
In certain circumstances, the Faculty may waive a course requirement to enable students to pursue study of particular interest to them (ie. undertake a unit not prescribed for their program). Students should make an appointment to discuss their proposed plan with the Undergraduate Program Adviser (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/program_advice/) or the Academic Adviser for their program. Students must have written approval from the Faculty permitting a variation of course requirements to avoid problems when they are assessed for graduation.

Honours Year
In some of the more specialised careers open to the Faculty’s graduates, such as economic forecasting and analysis, employers may be looking for a level of specialisation that is not provided by a pass degree. Similarly, if a student wishes to qualify for specialised postgraduate study, a pass degree is not normally sufficient. An additional honours year considerably enhances the quality of a qualification and singles students out to an employer as having exceptional ability.

Honours is available in most of the areas of study in the respective degrees. Honours preparation may involve additional units of study at second and third year level in the chosen area of study.

It is also possible to complete a double honours or joint honours program. Double honours involves completing the honours program in two areas, and thus normally takes an additional year. Joint honours involves two closely related areas of study and a special program is designed for the student to complete the required units in both areas concurrently. For example, each year a number of students complete a joint honours program in Economics and Econometrics. Normally students will not make any decisions about pursuing an honours program until the end of their first year of study in the Faculty. In order to enter and remain in the honours stream in an area of study, students must perform at credit level or better in the chosen area. A pass level performance in a first year unit will not be enough to secure entry into an honours program.

International Exchange Program
The University of Sydney conducts an International Exchange Program (http://www.usyd.edu.au/stuserv/international/how/) for students wishing to study overseas whilst continuing to meet the requirements of their degree. Students may choose from a variety of universities which have entered into formal agreement as an exchange partner with the University of Sydney.

Students are required to have completed 48 undergraduate/24 postgraduate credit points with a credit average overall before they are eligible to apply.

Students should seek the approval of both the International Exchange Office and the Faculty of Economics and Business. Students attend approved full-time study in line with the requirements of their degree and the faculty requires that students will not exceed their credit point total for their degree and credit limit when participating on exchange.

Grading
Students participating in the University of Sydney Exchange program will have a grade of "R" Met requirements/Fail recorded (No mark is recorded). This grade is recorded to the student’s University of Sydney academic transcript, on receipt of their original academic transcript from the overseas exchange partner institution.

Non-award study
Students who wish to undertake units of study outside of their degree requirements may do so on a non-award basis. Students may study award and non-award units concurrently as long as they do not exceed a standard full-time workload (24 credit points per semester). Students should note that non-award study is undertaken on a full-fee paying basis at the current yearly rate. Students should contact the Student Information Office regarding procedures for applying for non-award study.

University Medal
Honours students may be eligible for the award of a University Medal if they have achieved an outstanding and sustained academic record in both their undergraduate pass degree as well as in their honours year. The Medal is awarded in accordance with Academic Board policy and the requirements of the Faculty resolutions relating to the degree.

Transfers between Faculty degrees
Although it is possible to transfer between degrees, it is an extremely competitive process. For these reasons, the Faculty strongly encourages students to enrol in the degree that they wish to graduate from as there is no guarantee that transfer will be possible at a later date. For detailed information on the procedures for transfers, please refer to the Student Administration Manual (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/studentmanual_transfer/).

Weighted Average Mark (WAM) and Annual Average Mark (AAM)
The WAM is the average mark in the unit(s) of study completed, weighted according to the credit point value of the unit(s). The following formula is used by the Faculty of Economics and Business to calculate the WAM:

WAM = \frac{\sum(Wc \times Mc)}{\sum(Wc)}

The AAM is a measure of current progression which is computed annually using only the units of study in which a student is enrolled in a given year. Further information on how to calculate a WAM is available from the Student Information Office.

Other definitions and terminology

Core units of study
Compulsory core units of study are specified under the course structures for the Bachelor of Commerce, Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies), Bachelor of Economics and the Bachelor of International Studies.

Major
Students select a major from a limited list of options for their course. The requirements for a major may differ for each degree. Students must complete at least one major to qualify for the award of the Bachelor of Commerce, Bachelor of Economics and Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences. Two majors are required for the award of the Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies) degree. Completion of a major is optional for students enrolled in the Bachelor of International Studies. In most cases, a major consists of at least 36 senior credit points in a single area of study. In the majority of degrees, two junior units of study (six credit points each) and six senior units of study (six credit points each) are required in total for a major.

Extended major
An extended major in the Faculty of Economics and Business is an alternative to the major and is selected from the same list of options. An extended major allows students to complete either additional senior units of study or honours preparation units of study as part of their extended major. In most cases, an extended major comprises of a minimum of 48 senior credit points in a single area of study. In the majority of degrees, two junior units of study (six credit points each) and eight senior units of study (six credit points each) are required in total for an extended major. The requirements for an extended major may differ for each degree.

Major subject areas
Students may select majors in subject areas offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business, Arts, Science, Education and Social Work and Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources. A major in the Faculty of Economics and Business usually consists of a minimum of 36 senior credit points in a subject area. Normally in the majority of cases, two junior (six credit points each) and six senior (six credit points each) units of study are required for a major. If students choose to undertake a major offered by another faculty, then they must abide by that faculty’s requirements as to what constitutes a major.

Please note: If a student chooses to undertake a major within the Bachelor of International Studies, this major must be directly related to International Studies.

Electives
Students can select units of study which are of interest to them, however those units of study may not be the areas they wish to pursue in-depth to complete a major. Electives can be selected from the Faculty of Economics and Business or from the Faculties of Arts, Science, Education and Social Work or Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources or from other faculties within the university (with permission from the Dean of the Faculty of Economics and Business).
A guide to undergraduate units of study

The numeric code of a unit of study indicates the level of the unit of study. In the Faculty of Economics and Business, undergraduate units of study are divided into junior and senior units of study.

Junior units of study

Units of study with numeric codes between 1000 and 1999 are first year/junior units of study. These units of study are completed in a student's first year and contain introductory material for the particular subject area. For example, ACCT1001 Accounting 1A introduces the student to introductory principles of Accounting.

Senior units of study

Those units of study with numeric codes between 2000 and 2999 are second year/senior units, and those with numeric codes between 3000 and 3999 are third year/senior units, and so forth. Senior units of study are more advanced units and usually requiring the completion of the general introductory junior units of study (1000 level). Senior units of study tend to focus on a more specialised area within the particular subject area.

Students enrolled in a pass degree can only enrol in 1000, 2000 and 3000 level units of study. Course rules indicate which units of study must be completed in order to fulfil degree requirements. Students should refer to the specific information on their degree for further information.

The following table illustrates the units of study levels in a normal degree progression.

Honours year units of study

Units of study with numeric codes between 4000 and 4999 are designated honours units of study. These units of study are completed by students enrolled in the Honours Year only. These units tend to cover highly specialised content in the particular subject area, including a thesis, as indicated by the alpha code. Honours units are not available to students under the pass degree. For details of the Honours Year, please refer to the information under the individual courses or the Faculty of Economics and Business website (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/honours/).

Unit of study definitions

Credit points

Credit points refers to the value of the contribution each unit of study provides to meeting the total course requirements. For example, for the Bachelor of Commerce students must successfully complete 144 credit points in total to be awarded with the degree. In terms of units of study, this would mean that students would need to successfully complete 24 x 6 credit point units of study in order to be awarded the Bachelor of Commerce.

Each unit of study has a credit point value assigned to it. The majority of units of study on offer by the faculty are worth 6 credit points. Some honours preparation units of study are worth 3 credit points and usually two of these are needed to be completed to meet honours requirements. Some senior units of study are also worth 12 credit points and are equivalent in workload and assessment to two 6 credit point units of study. This is also the case with the unit GOVT3558 Internship in Public Policy and Affairs which is worth 18 credit points and is equivalent to three 6 credit point units of study.

Prerequisites

Prerequisites are necessary requirements that need to be completed successfully before students can enrol in another particular unit of study that has the prerequisite.

Examples of prerequisites include the following:

- a particular unit or units of study which is required to be completed successfully before the student can attempt another unit of study e.g. ACCT1001 Accounting 1A is a prerequisite for ACCT2011 Financial Accounting A
- a number of units of study from a particular subject area which must be completed before students can attempt a unit of study e.g. All GOVT2000 level units of study have the prerequisite of two GOVT1000 level units of study
- a particular grade average in particular units of study which must be obtained in order to enrol in higher level units of study e.g. ECOS3901 Advanced Microeconomics requires students to have completed ECOS2901 Intermediate Microeconomics Honours, ECOS2902 Intermediate Macroeconomics Honours and ECOS2903 Mathematical Economics A with a credit average or better over the three units combined the completion of a certain number of credit points before students can enrol in certain units of study at a higher level e.g. to enrol in IBUS2101 International Business Strategy, students must complete 36 junior credit points with at least 12 from the Faculty of Economics and Business.

Corequisites
A corequisite refers to a unit of study which must be taken in the same semester or year as a particular unit of study (unless already completed). For example, ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A and ECOS2903 Mathematical Economics A are corequisites of ECOS2901 Intermediate Microeconomics Honours.

Assumed knowledge
For some units of study, a student is assumed to have passed a relevant unit of study or a particular subject in their HSC. Although students are usually advised against taking a unit of study which they do not have the assumed knowledge for, they are not prevented from enrolling in the unit of study.

For example, students enrolling in INFS3030 BIS Assurance and Control, would find it beneficial for their study in the unit to have already completed the unit of study INFS2010 Managing Information & Knowledge Assets.

Prohibition
Prohibitions or prohibited combinations of units refers to when two or more units of study contain a significant overlap of content. Enrolment by students in any one such unit of study prohibits their enrolment in any other unit of study identified as a prohibited unit.

For example, Students who began their degree prior to 2006 and completed the unit of study FINC2001 Corporate Finance I would not be able to enrol in the unit of study FINC2011 Corporate Finance I as it is a prohibited unit of study (because both units cover similar material).
Overview of the undergraduate degrees offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business

Each undergraduate degree offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business, focuses on different areas of knowledge and specialisation that are designed to provide students with the skills needed to build a successful career.

Bachelor of Commerce

The Bachelor of Commerce provides students with the specialist technical skills which are the foundation of opportunities in business and the professions, and prepares them to work in almost any business-related field. There are two basic career paths students can follow with this degree:

- Specialist: Students can work as a specialist in accounting, finance or other fields. They may be part of a large corporation or government department, providing information and advice so that management can make decisions or they may be in a small organisation or working for themselves. Depending on what the student studies, the Bachelor of Commerce can provide a pathway to recognition by major professional bodies, including CPA Australia.
- Generalist: This degree is designed to ensure that students who enrol in it develop an understanding of the full-range of key business-related subjects. It lays a good foundation for students if they want a career in management, or if business skills would be useful in their chosen career (as an engineer, scientist, etc.). With the knowledge gained in the Bachelor of Commerce students will be able to make sound decisions based on a good understanding of how business works.

Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies)

The Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies) program gives students technical skills in many areas of specialisation. The breadth of study within this degree actively encourages students to work with other people and understand their roles, to have ‘vision’, and to make effective decisions. This degree develops your skills in critical thinking and decision-making. Whatever the student's career choice, they will have a wider view on the work they do because of their studies in the arts and sciences. With this knowledge students can take their career along the paths of journalism, policy analysis, international aid or any number of fascinating areas.

Bachelor of Economics

The Bachelor of Economics is a specialist program in economics, or the more statistically based econometrics. Economics at The University of Sydney is internationally renowned and is taught through a variety of theoretical perspectives, providing a solid grounding in quantitative techniques and econometrics. Economics is central to the understanding of modern societies and the behaviour of people and firms in making choices. This degree is a versatile and relevant business and professional qualification that prepares students for a career in areas such as:

- economic and social research
- government policy
- business strategy
- international trade
- analysis of financial and commodity markets

Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences

The Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences aims to develop in students a sound understanding of the economic, social and political context in which business and government operate. This degree gives students the option of taking an analytical approach to economics which emphasises the social and political context of economics and business activity. With this degree students will be ideally prepared for positions in economic and social policy work, as well as the social research areas of business. There are further opportunities that flow directly from the many specialisations available through the program or via specialist postgraduate programs in psychology, human resource management, law or teaching.

Bachelor of International Studies

The Bachelor of International Studies gives students an understanding of the global economic and political system and its impact on Australia and other nations. Public administration and private enterprise today operate at a global level and a sound knowledge of international studies is something that employers are increasingly looking for. With this degree we aim to provide you with the knowledge and skills to work in the world community and to take up key advisory positions in:

- government
- non-governmental agencies
- the business sector in Australia and overseas

More specific course information is outlined in the following sections of this chapter; here students can find the course rules, definitions for majors/extended majors and electives, guides to enrolment, information on professional accreditation and information regarding continuing studies into an honours year for each of the degrees offered by the Faculty.
Bachelor of Commerce

BCom
This three year (full-time) program provides students with the opportunity to study in areas that are of particular relevance to the management and conduct of business, such as accounting, business information systems, commercial law, econometrics, economics, finance, industrial relations and human resource management, international business, management, management decision sciences, and marketing. Depending on the units of study chosen, this award course may also be recognised by CPA Australia, the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia, the Australian Computer Society, and the Australian Human Resources Institute.

Course rules
To be awarded the Bachelor of Commerce, students must successfully complete a total of 144 credit points, comprising:

- 11 core units of study (66 credit points) as indicated in the heading Core units of study
- Either a major or an extended major in a Commerce subject area (as indicated under the heading Bachelor of Commerce subject areas for majors)
- Either a second major or elective units of study selected from Economics and Business subject areas or from the Faculties of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources, Arts, Education and Social Work or Science.
- No more than 60 junior credit points (1000 level units of study)
- At least 96 credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business.

Core units of study

Junior units of study (42 credit points):
- ACCT1001 Accounting 1A
- ACCT1002 Accounting 1B
- ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
- ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics
- MKTG1001 Marketing Principles
- INF1500 Business Information Systems Foundations
- ECON1002 Introductory Microeconomics
- ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
- ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
- MKTG1002 Marketing Principles
- INF1500 Business Information Systems Foundations

Senior units of study (24 credit points):
- FINC2011 Corporate Finance I
- GOVT2558 Government, Business and Society
- WORK2218 People and Organisations
- ECOF3001 Business Strategy

Majors and extended majors

Majors
A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student's testaments.

Students select their required Bachelor of Commerce major from a limited list of options (see Bachelor of Commerce subject areas). The number of senior units of study required for the major differs depending on whether the core units of study for the degree can be counted towards the chosen major, and depending on the prerequisites required for senior units of study. Students must complete at least one major (or extended major) in a Commerce subject area to fulfill the requirements of their course. In most cases, a major consists of a minimum of 36 senior credit points (usually 6 senior units) in a single subject area. For exact details of the requirements for majors and of what units of study are necessary to be completed for each of these majors, please refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook.

Bachelor of Commerce subject areas
The following list indicates the majors available in the Bachelor of Commerce. Students should check the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives and the Tables of undergraduate units of study sections in this handbook for information on the units of study available in each major.

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Commercial Law
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Finance
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Management Decision Sciences
- Marketing

Extended major/s
An extended major is an alternative to the major. An extended major in the Bachelor of Commerce may be selected from the same list of options as the major. To complete an extended major, students undertake additional senior units of study in the same subject area. In most cases, an extended major consists of a minimum of 48 senior credit points (usually eight senior units) in a single subject area. For exact details of the requirements for majors and of what units of study are necessary to be completed for each of these majors listed in the table, please refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook.

Please note: The major or extended major students choose will determine whether they can complete an additional major in the degree.

Additional majors and/or electives
Students may select additional majors and/or electives offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business (including the Government and International Relations and Political Economy subject areas), or from the Faculties of Arts, Science, Education and Social Work, Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources or from other faculties of the University of Sydney (subject to approval by the Faculty of Economics and Business). If a major is chosen in a subject area offered by another faculty then in most cases, a minimum of 36 senior credit points must be completed in that subject area. For exact details of the requirements for Economics and Business majors and of what units of study are necessary to be completed for each of these majors, please refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook. For details of majors from other faculties, students should consult the handbook for the relevant faculty (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks).

Please note: Due to prerequisites and other limitations not all combinations of majors are possible. Senior units of study cannot be counted towards more than one major or extended major.
Guide to enrolment

Students need to complete seven junior core units of study for this degree. Full-time students usually complete their junior core and elective units in the first three semesters of enrolment. Students should plan carefully when choosing the sequence in which to undertake core units of study as some core units may be required for certain majors, whilst other majors may require the completion of additional junior units of study as prerequisites.

The junior units of study chosen, besides the core ones, depend on which majors or electives students wish to undertake. The table below gives a generic example which spreads the junior core units of study across three semesters. For example, if a student wishes to complete their required commerce major in economics and a secondary major in either government or international relations, political economy or a language from Faculty of Arts, then they would complete the junior prerequisite units for all these subject areas in the first two or three semesters of their enrolment and the other core units of study which are not required for these majors later. For requirements for individual Economics and Business majors students should refer to the section Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives in this Handbook. For details of majors from other faculties, students should consult the relevant handbook of the other faculty (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/).

Senior units of study

Students need to complete four senior core units of study. These core units are usually completed during the second and third year of the full-time students’ enrolment. Students would normally complete ECOF3001 Business Strategy in their third year. From their second year of study students usually begin to select senior units for their major/s and other electives. Students who choose to complete a second major should begin their required units of study for this major during their second year. For requirements for individual Economics and Business majors, students should refer to the section Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives in this Handbook. For details of majors from other faculties, students should consult the relevant other faculty’s handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbook).

Please note: Due to prerequisites and other limitations not all combinations of majors are possible.

Elective units may be chosen from the Faculty of Economics and Business (including Government and International Relations and Political Economy subject areas), or from the Faculties of Arts, Science, Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources or Education and Social Work or from other faculties of the University of Sydney (subject to approval by the Faculty of Economics and Business).

It is recommended that students use the Course Planner at the back of this handbook to help them structure their course.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Bachelor of Commerce on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester. Core units of study are indicated in bold type.

Accreditation

Within the Bachelor of Commerce, students may choose to pursue a program of study which would allow them to seek accreditation with particular professional bodies. The required program of study for accreditation for accounting, business information systems or human resource management programs are outlined below.

Professional accounting accreditation

Students planning to satisfy the entry requirements of CPA Australia or the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia should include in their course a prescribed set of units of study, including units of study from accounting, business law, business information systems and finance. The required units of study are listed under the heading Professional accreditation in accounting in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives section in this handbook.

Australian Computer Society (ACS) accreditation

Students planning to satisfy the entry requirements of the ACS should include in their course a prescribed set of units of study, including a major in Business Information Systems. The required units of study are listed under Business Information Systems in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives section in this handbook.

Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI) accreditation

AHRI is the national association representing human resource management professionals and is Australia’s leading human resources professional body. All undergraduate award courses incorporating a major in Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management are AHRI-accredited. Students wishing to satisfy the requirements for professional membership of AHRI should include this major in their course. The required units of study for the major are listed under Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives section in this handbook.

Honours year

In some of the more specialised careers open to the faculty’s graduates, employers may be looking for a higher level of specialisation that is not provided in a three-year pass award course. Similarly, if students want to qualify for specialist postgraduate research study, a pass award course is not normally sufficient. For all graduates, a four-year honours award course considerably enhances the quality of a qualification which singles out students to an employer as having exceptional ability.

The honours year is available in most of the subject areas in the respective degrees. The honours year may involve extra work at second and third year level in the chosen subject area and, in all cases, an additional year of study spent entirely on that subject area.

After completing the requirements for the pass degree (and attaining results which satisfy the entry requirements for the award of honours), students may commence their honours year specialising in one of the following areas:

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Commercial Law

22
From the Faculty of Arts:

- Either a major or an extended major in a Commerce subject area
- 7 core units of study (42 credit points) from the Faculty of Economics and Business
- Management Decision Sciences
- Marketing
- Political Economy; or
- Other areas of study as approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business

It may be possible to complete either double honours or joint honours. Double honours involves completing all the honours work in two subject areas, and thus normally takes an extra year. In joint honours the two subject areas which are more closely related to each other are studied concurrently through a special program of study designed for the student. For example, each year a number of students take joint honours in economics and econometrics.

Normally students will not make any decisions about honours courses until the end of their first year of study in the faculty. In order to enter and remain in an honours stream, students must perform at a credit level or better in the chosen subject area. A bare pass level of performance in a first year subject will not be sufficient to secure entry into honours courses.

Students in their honours year enrol in a sequence of four 4000 level units of study in the subject area in which they wish to complete honours. Details of these units of study are available in the Tables of undergraduate units of study section in this handbook.

For further details regarding completing the honours year in a specific subject area students should contact the honours coordinator in the particular discipline area concerned (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/honours/).

Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Arts

BCom/BA

The combined Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Arts program provides the opportunity for students to combine professional commerce-related studies with further studies in the humanities. The Bachelor of Commerce/Bachelor of Arts offers advantages similar to the Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies), but is a five-year program enabling students to graduate with two degrees.

Course rules

To be awarded the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Arts, students must successfully complete a total of 240 credit points (with no more than 96 credit points in junior units of study), comprising:

From the Faculty of Economics and Business:

- 7 core units of study (42 credit points) from the Faculty of Economics and Business as listed under Commerce core units of study under the combined degree programs
- Either a major or an extended major in a Commerce subject area (see Bachelor of Commerce subject areas)
- A major in an Arts subject area (At least 36 senior credit points); For details of Arts majors, students should refer to the Faculty of Arts website (http://www.arts.usyd.edu.au)
- At least 72 senior credit points from the Faculty of Arts (See Bachelor of Arts subject areas for majors available and refer to the Tables of undergraduate units of study in this handbook for details of available units of study)

From the Faculty of Arts:

- Political Economy; or
- Other areas of study as approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business

The following list indicates the majors available in the Bachelor of Commerce. Students should check the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook for information on the units of study available in each major.

Bachelor of Commerce subject areas

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Commercial Law
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Finance
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Management Decision Sciences
- Marketing

Extended major in Commerce

An extended major in Commerce may be selected from the same list of options as the major. To complete an extended major, students undertake additional senior units of study in the same subject area. In most cases, an extended major consists of a minimum of 48 senior credit points (usually eight senior units) in a single subject area. For exact details of the requirements for majors and which units of study are necessary to be completed for each of these majors, please refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook.

Please note: The major or extended major students choose will determine whether they can complete an additional major in the degree.
Major in Arts
Students select their Arts major from the Bachelor of Arts subject areas. Students must complete at least one major in Arts to fulfil the requirements of their degree. In total, a major consists of a minimum of 36 senior credit points (six senior units). Students are required to complete at least 12 junior credit points (two junior units of study) in order to progress to senior units of study. For more details in regards to the requirements of the particular Arts majors students should refer to the Faculty of Arts website (http://www.arts.usyd.edu.au).

- Yiddish (no guarantee of continuing availability of units for a major)*

Please note: Arts subject areas marked with * indicate subject areas where a major is either not available or where there is no guarantee that units of study or the major will continue to be available in the future. Please check with the Faculty of Arts (http://www.arts.usyd.edu.au) for further details.

Additional majors and/or electives
Students may select additional majors and/or electives offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business (including the Government and International Relations and Political Economy subject areas), Faculty of Arts, or from the Faculties of Science, Education and Social Work, Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources or other faculties in the University of Sydney (subject to approval by the Faculty of Economics and Business). If a major is chosen in a subject area offered by another faculty then in most cases, a minimum of 36 senior credit points must be completed in that subject area. For exact details of the requirements for Economics and Business majors and of what units of study are necessary to be completed for each of these majors listed in the table, please refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook. For details of majors from other faculties, students should consult the handbook for the relevant faculty (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks).

Please note: Because of the nature of the combined program and to prerequisites and other limitations, not all major/extended major combinations may be available within this combined degree program.

Junior units of study
Students need to complete six commerce junior core units of study for this degree. Within the first four semesters of study full-time students enrol in all the required commerce junior core units, the junior requirements for their Arts major and any other elective junior units of study they may wish to study. The sequence in which students enrol in these units is dependent upon which subject areas they wish to study as majors. (As some core units may be required for certain majors, whilst other majors may require the completion of additional junior units of study).

For example, if a student wishes to complete their required Commerce major in economics, their Arts major in history and a secondary major in either government and international relations, political economy or a language form the Faculty of Arts, then they would complete the junior prerequisite units for all these subject areas in the first two or three semesters of their enrolment and the other core units of study which are not required for these majors later.

For exact details of the requirements for Economics and Business majors and of what units of study are necessary to be completed for each of these majors listed in the table, please refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook.

The table following this information gives a generic example which spreads the junior core units of study across the first four semesters.

Senior units of study
Full-time students must complete the senior core unit of study ECOF3001 Business Strategy in their third or fourth year of enrolment. From their second or third year of study students select senior units of study for their required Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Arts majors. Students who choose to complete an additional major to those which are required by their program begin required senior units of study for this major at this time as well. For requirements for individual Economics and Business majors students should refer the section Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives in this Handbook. For the requirements of the Arts majors, students should refer to the Faculty of Arts website (http://www.arts.usyd.edu.au) or handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbook/).

Please note: Due to prerequisites and other limitations not all combinations of majors are possible.

It is recommended that students use the Course Planner at the back of this handbook to help them structure their course.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Arts on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester. Core units of study for the Bachelor of Commerce are in bold italic type and the compulsory Commerce components of the program are in italic. The required Arts units are in bold below.
The Faculty of Economics and Business website illustrates units of study progression sequences for specific majors. This information can be accessed at http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/course/FH033/.

Honours year
Both the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Arts can be awarded with honours. Joint honours courses are available.

For the Bachelor of Commerce students must successfully complete an additional honours year of study. For details of this program students should refer to the Honours year information listed under the Bachelor of Commerce.

For the award of honours in the Bachelor of Arts, students must complete successfully an additional honours year of study in any of the subject areas where honours units of study are listed. For further details of requirements for honours, students should refer to the Faculty of Arts Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/)

Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Laws

BCom/LLB
For further information regarding the core units of study and course majors available, students should refer to the previous information relating to the Bachelor of Commerce.

For the first three years of the combined degree program, in place of elective units of study, students substitute compulsory Law units of study as specified below under Course rules. Students should note that the units of study in Law cannot be counted as a major in the Commerce degree.

Course rules
To be awarded the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Laws, students must successfully complete a total of 240 credit points (96 credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business and 144 credit points from the Faculty of Law), comprising:

From the Faculty of Economics and Business:
- 7 core units of study (42 credit points) as listed under Commerce core units of study under the combined degree programs
- Either a major or an extended major in a Commerce subject area (See Bachelor of Commerce subject areas under the Bachelor of Commerce section in this chapter)
- No more than 48 junior credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business

From the Faculty of Law:
- 10 compulsory units of study to be completed in the first three years of the combined program in the annual sequence as specified under the heading Compulsory Law units of study for the combined degree program
- An additional 6 compulsory and 6 elective Law units of study to be completed over the remaining 2 years of the degree at the Law School. For details please refer to the Law Faculty Handbook (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au) or the Faculty of Law website (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au)

Commerce core units of study under the combined degree programs

Junior units of study (36 credit points):
- ACCT1001 Accounting 1A
- ACCT1002 Accounting 1B
- ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
- ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
- ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics

Compulsory Law units of study for the combined degree program
Students commencing their combined degree in 2007 must complete the units of study in the yearly sequence indicated in the following information. Students who commenced their combined degree in 2006 and have only completed LAWS1006, LAWS1010 and LAWS1008 must complete the units of study in the yearly sequence indicated under Combined Law Year 2 and Combined Law Year 3.

Combined Law Year 1
- LAWS1006 Foundations of Law (6 credit points)
- LAWS1013 Legal Research I (0 credit points)
- LAWS1012 Torts (6 credit points)

Combined Law Year 2
- LAWS1015 Contracts (6 credit points)
- LAWS1016 Criminal Law (6 credit points)
- LAWS1014 Processes of Justice (6 credit points)
- LAWS1020 The Legal Profession (6 credit points) (This unit of study will be available as an option in Year 2 or Year 3)*

Combined Law Year 3
- LAWS1018 International Law (6 credit points)*
- LAWS1019 Legal Research II (0 credit points)*
- LAWS1020 The Legal Profession (6 credit points) (This unit of study will be available as an option in Year 2 or Year 3)*
- LAWS1017 Torts and Contracts II (6 credit points)*

Please note: The units of study marked with * will NOT be available for 2007 enrolments. These units of study are proposed to be offered by the Faculty of Law for the first time in 2008. Please refer to the Faculty of Law for further details.

All students continuing under old resolutions (Students commencing their third year of study and transfer students going into third year) must complete the following LAWS units of study according to the old resolutions.
Combined Law Year 3 (For students who commenced their degree prior to 2006)

- Either LAWS2008 Contracts (6 credit points) OR LAWS2009 Criminal Law (6 credit points) (This unit must be completed by transfer students only)*
- LAWS3003 Federal Constitution Law (12 credit points)
- LAWS3004 Law, Lawyers and Justice (12 credit points)

*Please note: Transfer students going into third year must enrol in either LAWS2008 OR LAWS2009 AND LAWS3003 and LAWS3004. Please refer to the Faculty of Law for further details regarding these transitional arrangements (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au).

Majors and electives

A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student's testamurs.

Major or extended major in Commerce

Majors available under the Commerce degree are listed under Bachelor of Commerce subject areas. Students should refer to the information in the Bachelor of Commerce section in this chapter of the handbook for details of the requirements for majors and subject areas for electives which maybe undertaken in this degree.

Please note: Because of the nature of the combined program and the prerequisites and other limitations, not all major/extended major combinations maybe available within this combined degree program.

Bachelor of Commerce subject areas

The following list indicates the majors available in the Bachelor of Commerce. Students should check the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives and the Tables of undergraduate units of study sections in this handbook for information on the units of study available in each major.

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Commercial Law
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Finance
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Management Decision Sciences
- Marketing

Guide to enrolment

To satisfy the requirements of the Bachelor of Commerce, students must complete the seven Commerce core units of study and a Commerce major or extended major. Instead of choosing additional elective units of study or majors they complete a specified sequence of compulsory Law units of study. For further information on the majors available, students should refer to the Bachelor of Commerce information in this handbook. For full details on all Bachelor of Laws units of study, students should refer to the Tables of undergraduate units of study chapter in this handbook or the Faculty Law Handbook (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au/handbooks) or the Faculty of Law website (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au). Students should note that the units of study in Law cannot be counted as a major in the Commerce degree component of this course.

It is recommended that students use the Course Planner at the back of this handbook to help them structure their course.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Laws on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester. In this table, core units of study for the Bachelor of Commerce are indicated in bold type and compulsory Law units of study are in italics.

At the end of the third year, full-time students should have completed the requirements for their Commerce degree. An additional two years of study is required at the Law School where the remaining units of study for the Bachelor of Laws are completed. For details on the final years of this program, please refer to the Faculty of Law website (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au).

The Faculty of Economics and Business website illustrates units of study progression sequences for specific majors. This information can be accessed at http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/course/FH028.

Honours

Both the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Laws can be awarded with honours.

For the Bachelor of Commerce students must successfully complete an additional honours year of study. For details of this honours year students should refer to the Honours year information listed under the Bachelor of Commerce.

For the award of honours in the Bachelor of Laws, students must obtain a certain weighted average mark (WAM) across all Law units of study, including those taken as part of the combined degree. An additional honours year is not required. For further details, students should refer to the particular combined Law resolution in the Faculty resolutions for undergraduate degrees or the Faculty of Law (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au).

Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Science

BCom/BSc

This five-year combined degree gives scope for students to pursue studies in the sciences, while developing professional skills which will enhance their prospects in the labour market.

Course rules

To be awarded the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Science, students must successfully complete a total of 240 credit points (with no more than 96 junior credit points), comprising:

From the Faculty of Economics and Business:

- 7 core units of study (42 credit points) from the Faculty of Economics and Business as listed under Commerce core units of study under the combined degree programs
- Either a major or an extended major in a Commerce subject area (See Bachelor of Commerce subject areas)
• At least 96 credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business (minimum of 48 senior credit points)

From the Faculty of Science:
• At least 12 credit points from Mathematics or Statistics units of study as indicated under Junior mathematics and statistics units of study
• At least 24 junior credit points from at least two Science subject areas (other than Mathematics and Statistics)
• A major from the Faculty of Science (See Bachelor of Science subject areas and refer to the Tables of undergraduate units of study for details of available units of study)
• At least 96 credit points from the Faculty of Science

Commerce core units of study under the combined degree programs
Junior units of study (36 credit points):
• ACCT1001 Accounting 1A
• ACCT1002 Accounting 1B
• ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A*
• ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
• ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics
• INFS1000 Business Information Systems Foundations

Senior unit of study (6 credit points):
• ECOF3001 Business Strategy

*Please note: Students who complete MATH1005/MATH1015/MATH1905 and an additional junior MATH unit are not required to complete Business and Economic Statistics A (ECMT1010) but must replace this unit with another junior unit of their choice from the Faculty of Economics and Business. However, students who intend to undertake a major in Econometrics should study ECMT1010 and choose alternative MATH unit options to meet the requirements of the Science component of their degree.

Junior mathematics and statistics units of study
Students must complete 12 credit points in the following units of study. All MATH units of study are three credit points each. For details refer to the Faculty of Science’s School of Mathematics and Statistics website for further details (http://www.maths.usyd.edu.au/).
• MATH1001 Differential Calculus; OR MATH1901 Differential Calculus (Advanced); OR MATH1111 Life Sciences Calculus; OR MATH1111 Introduction to Calculus; OR MATH1906 Mathematics (Special Studies Program) A
• MATH1002 Linear Algebra; OR MATH1902 Linear Algebra (Advanced); OR MATH1014 Introduction to Linear Algebra
• MATH1003 Integral Calculus and Modelling; OR MATH1013 Differential and Difference Equations; OR MATH1903 Integral Calculus and Modelling Advanced; OR MATH1907 Mathematics (Special Studies Program) B
• MATH1004 Discrete Mathematics; OR MATH1904 Discrete Mathematics (Advanced);
• MATH1005 Statistics; OR MATH1015 Life Science Statistics; OR MATH1905 Statistics (Advanced)

Majors and extended majors
A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student’s testamurs

Major in Commerce
Students select their Commerce major from a limited list of options (see Bachelor of Commerce subject areas). The number of additional units of study required for the major differs depending on whether the core units of study for the degree can be counted towards the chosen major, and depending on which prerequisites are required for senior units of study. Students must complete at least one major (or extended major) in a Commerce subject area to fulfil the requirements of their course. In most cases, a major consists of a minimum of 36 senior credit points (usually six senior units) in a single subject area. For exact details of the requirements for majors and of what units of study are necessary to be completed for each of these majors, please refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook.

The following list indicates the majors available in the Bachelor of Commerce. Students should check the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives and the Tables of undergraduate units of study sections in this handbook for information on the units of study available in each major.

Bachelor of Commerce subject areas
• Accounting
• Business Information Systems
• Commercial Law
• Econometrics
• Economics
• Finance
• Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
• International Business
• Management
• Management Decision Sciences
• Marketing

Extended major in Commerce
An extended major in Commerce may be selected from the same list of options as the major. To complete an extended major, students undertake additional senior units of study or honours preparation units of study in the same subject area. This gives recognition to students who may complete additional senior units required for honours preparation, but who do not undertake the additional honours year. In most cases, an extended major consists of a minimum of 48 senior credit points (usually eight senior units) in a single subject area. For exact details of the requirements for majors and of what units of study are necessary to be completed for each of these majors listed in the table, please refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook.

Major in Science
Students select their Science major from the subject areas listed in the following table. Students must complete at least one major in Science to fulfil the requirements of their course. A major in Science usually comprises a minimum of 24 senior (3000 level) credit points in a subject area.

Bachelor of Science subject areas
The majors students choose will determine whether they can complete additional majors in the degree. See the Tables of undergraduate units of study chapter of this handbook for information on the specific units of study in each major.
• Agricultural Chemistry
• Anatomy and Histology
• Biochemistry

Please note: Because of the nature of the combined program and to prerequisites and other limitations, not all major/extended major combinations maybe available within this combined degree program.

Junior units of study

In the first four semesters of study full-time students enrol in all of the required six Commerce junior core units of study, the required MATH units of study for Science and any other junior units of study which are required for their Commerce and Science majors. The sequence in which students enrol in these units is dependent upon which subject area/s they may wish to take as major/s. The table following this information gives a generic example which spreads the required junior units of study across the first four semesters of enrolment.

Students should plan carefully when choosing to undertake junior units of study as the units of study undertaken will depend upon the major or electives the students would like to study. For example, if a student wishes to complete their required Commerce major in Finance, their Science major in Financial Mathematics and a secondary major in either Government and International Relations or Political Economy, then they would try to complete the junior prerequisite units of study for all these subject areas within the first four semesters of their enrolment and the other core units of study which are not required for these majors could be studied later. For requirements for individual Economics and Business majors students should refer the section Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives in this Handbook. For the requirements of the Science majors, students should refer to the Faculty of Science website (http://www.science.edu.au) or handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbook)/.

Senior units of study

Full-time students complete the senior core unit of study ECOF3001 Business Strategy in their third or fourth year of enrolment. From their second or third year of study students select senior units for their required Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Science majors. Students who choose to complete an additional major to those which are required by their program usually begin required senior units of study for this major at around this time as well. For requirements for individual Economics and Business majors students should refer the section Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives in this Handbook. For the requirements of the Science majors, students should refer to the Faculty of Science website (http://www.science.edu.au) or handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbook)/.

Please note: Due to prerequisites and other limitations not all combinations of majors are possible.

It is recommended that students use the Course Planner at the back of this handbook to help them structure their course.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Science on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester. Core units of study for the Bachelor of Commerce are in bold italic type and the compulsory Commerce components of the program are italic. The required Science units of study are in bold below.

Please note: Students who complete MATH1005/MATH1015/MATH1905 and an additional junior MATH unit are not required to complete Business and Economic Statistics A (ECMT1010) but must replace this unit with another junior unit of their choice from the Faculty of Economics and Business. However, students who intend to undertake a major in Econometrics should study ECMT1010 and choose alternative MATH unit options to meet the requirements of the Science component of their degree.

The Faculty of Economics and Business website gives other illustrative sequences of units of study for specific majors. This information can be accessed at http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/course/34.

Bachelor of Science (Advanced) degree and the Talented Students Program

Advanced Science degree

The Advanced Science degree retains much of the flexibility of the Bachelor of Science degree but caters to the needs of the best students. In this degree, students enrol in advanced level units of study from their first year. Students are required to completed advanced level junior, intermediate and senior units of study throughout their degree. Students must also meet minimum progression requirements to continue studying in the Bachelor of Science (Advanced) degree. For further information on this program, students should refer to the Faculty of Science website (http://www.science.usyd.edu.au/student/undergrad/course/bsc-adv.shtml) or the Faculty of Science Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/)

Talented Students Program

The top students in the Faculty of Science are invited to participate in the Talented Student Program (TSP). This program allows students to tailor their degree to suit their own interests, for example by working on individual projects under the supervision of a mentor, attending special seminars or accelerating the completion of their degree.
Bachelor of Commerce and related combined degrees

In general, the TSP caters for students whose talent is broad-based across science. Students can have greater flexibility in their choice of study (beyond that normally allowed by degree rules), and they have a mentor (a member of the academic staff) who assists them in choosing from the great range of academic and research options.

For further information on this program, students should refer to the Faculty of Science website (http://www.science.usyd.edu.au/fstudent/undergrad/tsp/index.shtml) or the Faculty of Science Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/).

Honours year
Both the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Science can be awarded with honours. Joint honours courses are available.

For the Bachelor of Commerce, students must successfully complete an additional honours year of study. For details of this program students should refer to the Honours year information listed under the Bachelor of Commerce.

For the award of honours in the Bachelor of Science, students must complete successfully an additional honours year of study in any of the subject areas as specified in the Faculty of Science Handbook. For details of requirements for honours, students should refer to the Faculty of Science Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/).

Bachelor of Engineering and Bachelor of Commerce

BE/BCom
Students may combine the Bachelor of Commerce with any one of the Bachelor of Engineering courses (including Aeronautical Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Computer Engineering, Telecommunications Engineering, Mechanical Engineering and Mechatronic Engineering). Both courses are studied concurrently and will be awarded after five years of full-time study.

Course rules
To be awarded the Bachelor of Engineering and Bachelor of Commerce, students must successfully complete a total of 240 credit points, comprising:

From the Faculty of Engineering:
• For information on the requirements for Engineering, see the Specialisation Requirements in the Faculty of Engineering Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/)

From the Faculty of Economics and Business:
• 7 core units of study (42 credit points) as listed under Commerce core units of study under the combined degree programs
• Either a major or an extended major in a Commerce subject area
• At least 96 credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business (minimum of 48 senior credit points)

Commerce core units of study under the combined degree programs

Junior units of study (36 credit points):
• ACCT1001 Accounting 1A
• ACCT1002 Accounting 1B
• ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A*
• ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
• ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics
• INF5100 Business Information Systems Foundations

Senior unit of study (6 credit points):
• ECOF3001 Business Strategy

*Please note: Engineering students who complete at least 6 credit points of junior Mathematics (including MATH1005 or MATH1905) are not required to complete Business and Economic Statistics A (ECMT1010) but must replace this unit with another junior unit of study of their choice from the Faculty of Economics and Business. However, students who intend to undertake a major in Econometrics should study ECMT1010 and choose alternative MATH unit options to meet the requirements of the Science component of their degree.

Major or extended major in Commerce
The subject areas available under the Bachelor of Commerce are listed under Bachelor of Commerce subject areas. Students should refer to the information on the Bachelor of Commerce section in this chapter of the handbook for details of the requirements for majors and subject areas for electives which maybe undertaken in this degree.

Please Note: Because of the nature of the combined program and the prerequisites and other limitations, not all major/extended major combinations maybe available within this combined degree program.

Bachelor of Commerce subject areas
The following lists indicates the majors available in the Bachelor of Commerce. Students should check the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives and the Tables of undergraduate units of study sections in this handbook for information on the units of study available in each major.

• Accounting
• Business Information Systems
• Commercial Law
• Econometrics
• Economics
• Finance
• Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
• International Business
• Management
• Management Decision Sciences
• Marketing

Guide to enrolment
To satisfy the requirements of the Bachelor of Commerce, students must complete the seven Commerce core units of study (or alternatives as specified under the course rules) and a Commerce major or extended major. For further information on the majors available students should refer to the Bachelor of Commerce information in this handbook. For information on the specialisation requirements for the Bachelor of Engineering students should refer to the Faculty of Engineering Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/).

This course is supervised by both the Faculty of Engineering and the Faculty of Economics and Business.

For student matters relating to the Bachelor of Engineering component of this degree, students should refer to Faculty of Engineering’s Student Enquiry Office (http://www.eng.usyd.edu.au/about/contactus.shtml).

For student matters relating to the Bachelor of Commerce students should refer to the Faculty of Economics and Business’ Student Information Office (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/sio).

Honours
Both the Bachelor of Engineering and the Bachelor of Commerce can be awarded with honours. For the award of honours in the Bachelor of Engineering, students should refer to the Faculty of Engineering handbook for details (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/). For the Bachelor of Commerce, students must successfully complete an additional honours year of study. For details of this program students should refer to the Honours year information listed under the Bachelor of Commerce.
Bachelor of Commerce and related combined degrees
Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies)

The Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies) complements the professional/business related studies and accreditation of the Bachelor of Commerce with additional studies in languages, humanities and sciences. This four year (full-time) program gives students the opportunity to develop enhanced communication skills and an unrivalled breadth of knowledge from study in subject areas from both the Faculty of Arts and the Faculty of Science.

Course rules
To be awarded the Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies), students must successfully complete a total of 192 credit points, comprising:

- 1 compulsory junior unit of study, as indicated under Compulsory requirements for the degree (including junior core unit of study)
- At least 24 credit points worth of units of study from the Faculty of Arts or the Discipline of Government and International Relations
- At least 12 credit points worth of units of study from the Faculty of Science
- 2 majors (where each major consists of a minimum of 36 senior credit points) selected from the subject areas as indicated under Major I subject areas and Major II subject areas.
- No more than 96 junior credit points (1000 level units of study)
- At least 132 credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business

Compulsory requirements for the degree (including junior core unit of study)

- ECOF1001 Communication and Critical Analysis 1A; OR ECOF1002 Communication and Critical Analysis 1B
- 24 credit points from the Faculty of Arts or the Discipline of Government and International Relations
- 12 credit points from the Faculty of Science

Majors and electives
A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student's testamurs.

Students in the Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies) are required to complete two majors. One of these majors must be from the following subject areas: accounting, Commercial law, economics, econometrics, finance, industrial relations and human resource management, international business, marketing, or management (see Major I subject areas). The second major can be drawn from a broader list which includes the aforementioned subject areas as well as business information systems, political economy, government and international relations, computer science, agricultural economics, management decision sciences, mathematics and financial mathematics (see Major II subject areas).

Students should check the Undergraduate subject area for majors or electives chapter of this handbook for information on the units of study available in each major. The number of units of study required to complete the second major will depend on the first major chosen. Senior units of study may only be counted towards one major. For example, WORK2000 level units listed under the Management major may be counted to either the Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management major or the Management major, but cannot be counted to both.

Students must choose their majors from the following subject areas:

Major I subject areas
Select must select a major from the following subject areas:

- Accounting
- Commercial Law
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Finance
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Marketing

Major II subject areas
Students must select their second major from the subject areas listed below.

Please note: The second major must be different to the one chosen from the list above

- Accounting
- Agricultural Economics
- Business Information Systems
- Commercial Law
- Computer Science
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Financial Mathematics
- Government and International Relations
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Management Decision Sciences
- Marketing
- Mathematics
- Political Economy

Guide to enrolment

Junior units of study
In the first three or four semesters of enrolment, students normally complete the junior unit of study requirements for their degree. Full-time students enrol in the foundation core unit ECOF1001 or ECOF1002 and begin their compulsory Arts/Government and International Relations and Science studies within their first year of enrolment. Within the first four semesters of enrolment, full-time students usually complete the junior units of study requirements for their two compulsory majors. The sequence in which they enrol in these units depends on the subject areas students wish to study as majors so as to meet the prerequisite requirements of these majors. The table following this information shows a generic example which spreads the junior core units of study across the first three semesters. For details of the required junior units of study for majors under the Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies), students should refer to the section Undergraduate subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives in this Handbook.

From their third semester of enrolment full-time students select their senior units of study for their required majors and any remaining senior... unit compulsory requirements, such as additional Arts or Government and International Relations units of study. Students may also select senior units of study for an additional major or as electives. Students should also note that a maximum of 60 credit points can be only be taken in another faculty outside of the Faculty of Economics and Business. Students who elect to complete a major in another faculty may have to limit the number of credit points they take from the Faculty of Arts by taking Government and International Relations units of study as the compulsory component of the degree.

It is recommended that students use the Course Planner at the back of this handbook to help them structure their course.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies) on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester.

Please note: This is a basic structure only. If the second major chosen is either Government and International Relations or one of the Science Faculty majors then this structure would differ as the compulsory units of study in these areas could be counted towards the second major. For a Science major the term "senior" in the table above refers to "intermediate" and "senior" Science units of study.

The Faculty of Economics and Business website illustrates units of study progression sequences for specific majors. This information can be accessed at http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/course/FH019/.

Accreditation
Within the Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies), students may choose to pursue a program of study which would allow them to seek accreditation with particular professional bodies. The required programs of study for accreditation are outlined below.

Professional accounting accreditation
Students planning to satisfy the entry requirements of CPA Australia or the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia should include in their course a prescribed set of units of study, including units of study from accounting, business law, business information systems and finance. The required units of study are listed under Professional accreditation in accounting in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives section in this handbook.

Australian Computer Society (ACS) accreditation
Students planning to satisfy the entry requirements of the ACS should include in their course a prescribed set of units of study, including a major in Business Information Systems. The required units of study are listed under Business Information Systems in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives section in this handbook.

Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI) Accreditation
AHRI is the national association representing human resource management professionals and is Australia’s leading human resources professional body. All undergraduate award courses incorporating a major in Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management are AHRI-accredited. Students wishing to satisfy the requirements for professional membership of AHRI should include this major in their course. The required units of study for the major are listed under Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives section in this handbook.

Honours year
In some of the more specialised careers open to the faculty’s graduates, employers may be looking for a level of specialisation that is not provided in the four-year pass award course. Similarly, if students want to qualify for specialist postgraduate study, a pass award course is not normally sufficient. For all graduates, a four-year honours award course considerably enhances the quality of a qualification and singles students out to an employer as having exceptional ability.

The honours year is available in most of the subject areas in the respective degrees. The honours year may involve extra work at second and third year level in the chosen subject area and, in all cases, an additional year of study spent entirely on that subject area.

After completing the requirements for the pass degree (and attaining results which satisfy the entry requirements for the award of honours), students may commence their honours year specialising in one of the following areas:

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Commercial Law
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Finance
- Government and International Relations
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Management Decision Sciences
- Marketing
- Political Economy; or
- Other areas of study as approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business

It may be possible to complete either double honours or joint honours. Double honours involves completing all the honours work in two subject areas, and thus normally takes an extra year. In joint honours the two subject areas which are more closely related to each other are studied concurrently through a special program of study is designed for the student. For example, each year a number of students take joint honours in economics and econometrics.

Normally students will not make any decisions about honours courses until the end of their first year of study in the faculty. In order to enter and remain in an honours stream, students must perform at a credit level or better in the chosen subject area. A bare pass level of performance in a first year subject will not be sufficient to secure entry into honours courses.

Students in their honours year enrol in a sequence of four 4000 level units of study in the subject area in which they wish to complete honours. Details of these units of study are available in the Tables of undergraduate units of study section in this handbook.

For further details regarding completing the honours year in a specific subject area students should contact the honours coordinator in the particular discipline area concerned (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/honours/).
Bachelor of Economics

BEc

The reach and impact of economic issues and events makes this one of the most versatile and important programs of study available. Students complete a major in Economics or Econometrics and may combine this with majors in areas as diverse as finance, marketing and political economy. The career prospects are just as diverse, and opportunities range over both the private and public sectors. The Bachelor of Economics encourages students to concentrate their studies in a range of subject areas which are of central importance to the academic Discipline of Economics and to some of the specialised career patterns for graduates in Economics.

Course rules

To be awarded the Bachelor of Economics, students must successfully complete a total of 144 credit points, comprising:

- 4 core units of study (24 junior credit points), as indicated under Core units of study
- Either a major (36 senior credit points) or an extended major (48 senior credit points) in Economics OR a major (36 senior credit points) or an extended major (48 senior credit points) in Econometrics and a minimum of 12 senior credit points in Economics
- No more than 60 junior credit points
- No more than 48 credit points from outside the Faculty of Economics and Business

Core units of study

Students must complete the following junior four units of study (24 credit points):

- ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
- ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics
- ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
- ECMT1020 Business and Economic Statistics B

Majors, extended majors and electives

Majors

A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student’s testamurs.

Students in the Bachelor of Economics must complete either a major (minimum of 36 senior credit points) or an extended major (minimum of 48 senior credit points) in either Economics or Econometrics. If a major or extended major in Econometrics is chosen then a minimum of 12 senior credit points in Economics must also be completed.

Students can also complete additional majors from the Faculties of Economics and Business, Arts, Science, Education and Social Work or Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources, or from other faculties of the University of Sydney (subject to approval by the Faculty of Economics and Business). A list of available Economics and Business majors can be found under Major subject areas. In most cases a major in these subject areas requires the completion of six senior units of study (minimum 36 credit points). Students should check the particular requirements for individual majors in the information listing in the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives chapter in this handbook. For other faculty majors, students should refer to the relevant faculty handbook for the exact requirements for the major you wish to complete (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/).

An extended major is an alternative to a major. To complete an extended major, students undertake additional senior units of study in the same subject area. Most extended majors require the completion of a minimum of 48 senior credit points (usually eight senior units) in a single subject area. Students should check the particular requirements for individual majors in the information listing in the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives chapter in this handbook. In the Bachelor of Economics, students may complete an extended major (minimum of 48 senior credit points) in either Economics or Econometrics. If an extended major in Econometrics is chosen then a minimum of 12 senior credit points in Economics must also be completed. Depending upon prerequisite/corequisite and other degree requirements, additional extended majors from the Faculty of Economics and Business may be completed.

Major subject areas

The major or extended major students choose will determine whether they can complete an additional major in the degree. Due to prerequisites and other limitations not all combinations of majors are possible to be completed.

Senior units of study may only be counted towards one extended major or major. The following list shows the majors from the Faculty of Economics and Business available for students enrolled in the Bachelor of Economics. Students should check the particular requirements for individual majors in the information listing in the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives chapter in this handbook.

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Commercial Law
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Finance
- Government and International Relations
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Management Decision Sciences
- Marketing
- Political Economy

Electives

Students may select additional electives offered by the Faculties of Economics and Business, Arts, Science, Education and Social Work, Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources, or from other faculties of the University of Sydney (subject to approval by the Faculty of Economics and Business).

Please note: A maximum of 48 credit points only from outside the Faculty of Economics and Business may be selected.

Junior units of study

For this degree, students are required to complete four junior core units of study in Economics and Econometrics (as indicated under the course rules). The sequence in which students would normally enrol in junior units of study depends on whether they choose to complete a compulsory major or extended major in Economics or Econometrics. The additional junior units of study chosen by the student depends on which majors or electives they may wish to study in addition to the compulsory major in Economics or Econometrics.
For full-time students junior units of study are usually completed within the first three semesters of enrolment.

Please note: The major or extended major chosen will effect which additional electives or majors can be chosen.

Senior units of study

From the third semester of enrolment, students enrol in the senior units of study required for their compulsory major and any senior units of study required for their additional major/s. Due to prerequisites and other limitations, not all combinations of majors are possible. Senior units of study may only be counted towards one extended major or major. For example, if both a major in Econometrics and a major in Management Decision Science are completed, ECMT2110 Regression Modelling may only be counted towards one of these majors (therefore an additional ECMT2000 or 3000 level unit must be completed to replace ECMT2110 in one of the majors). For requirements for individual Economics and Business majors students should refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this Handbook. Elective units may be chosen from the Faculties of Economics and Business, Arts, Science, Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources or Education and Social Work, or other faculties of the University of Sydney (Subject to approval by the Faculty of Economics and Business).

The following tables list the two options for students under this degree based upon the compulsory major chosen: Option 1. Major or extended major in Economics and Option 2. Major or extended major in Econometrics and a minimum of 12 senior credit points in Economics. These tables show each option and an illustrative program of study for that option for a student enrolled in the Bachelor of Economics on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester. Core units of study and compulsory majors for the Bachelor of Economics are indicated in bold. Students should follow one of these options.

Accreditation

Within the Bachelor of Economics, students may choose to pursue a program of study which would allow them to seek accreditation with particular professional bodies. The required programs of study for accreditation are outlined below.

Professional accounting accreditation

Students planning to satisfy the entry requirements of CPA Australia or the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia should include in their course a prescribed set of units of study, including units of study from Accounting, Business Law, Business Information Systems and Finance. The required units of study are listed under Professional accreditation in accounting in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives chapter in this handbook.
Australian Computer Society (ACS) accreditation
Students planning to satisfy the entry requirements of the ACS should include in their course a prescribed set of units of study, including a major in Business Information Systems. The required units of study are listed under Business Information Systems in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives chapter in this handbook.

Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI) Accreditation
AHRI is the national association representing human resource management professionals and is Australia’s leading human resources professional body. Bachelor of Economics and Bachelor of Laws

BEc/LLB
For further information regarding the core units of study and course majors available, students should refer to the previous information relating to the Bachelor of Economics. For the first three years of the combined degree program, in place of elective units of study, students substitute compulsory Law units of study as specified in the table Bachelor of Laws units of study detailed below. Students should note that the units of study in Law cannot be counted as a major in the Economics award course.

Course rules
To be awarded the Bachelor of Economics and Bachelor of Laws, students must successfully complete a total of 240 credit points (96 credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business and 144 credit points from the Faculty of Law), comprising:

From the Faculty of Economics and Business:
- 4 core units of study (24 junior credit points), as indicated under Bachelor of Economics core units of study
- Either a major (minimum of 36 senior credit points) or an extended major (minimum of 48 senior credit points) in Economics OR a major or an extended major in Econometrics and a minimum of 12 senior credit points in Economics
- No more than 48 junior credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business

From the Faculty of Law:
- 10 compulsory units of study to be completed in the first three years of the combined program in the annual sequence as specified under Compulsory Law units of study for the combined degree program
- An additional 6 compulsory and 6 elective Law units of study to be completed over the remaining 2 years of the degree at the Law School. For details please refer to the Law Faculty Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks) or the Faculty of Law website (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au)

Bachelor of Economics core units of study
Students must complete the following four junior units of study (24 credit points):

- ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
- ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics
- ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
- ECMT1020 Business and Economic Statistics B

Compulsory Law units of study for the combined degree program
Students beginning their combined degree in 2007 must complete the units of study in the yearly sequence indicated in the following information. Students who commenced their combined degree in 2006 and have only completed LAWS1006, LAWS1010 and LAWS1008 must complete the units of study in the yearly sequence indicated under Combined Law Year 2 or Combined Law Year 3.

Combined Law Year 1
- LAWS1006 Foundations of Law (6 credit points)
- LAWS1013 Legal Research I (0 credit points)
- LAWS1012 Torts (6 credit points)

Combined Law Year 2
- LAWS1015 Contracts (6 credit points)
Bachelor of Economics and related combined degrees

- LAWS1016 Criminal Law (6 credit points)
- LAWS1014 Processes of Justice (6 credit points)
- LAWS1020 The Legal Profession (6 credit points) (This unit of study will be available as an option in Year 2 or Year 3)*

Combined Law Year 3

- LAWS1018 International Law (6 credit points)*
- LAWS1019 Legal Research II (0 credit points)*
- LAWS1020 The Legal Profession (6 credit points) (This unit of study will be available as an option in Year 2 or Year 3)*
- LAWS1017 Torts and Contracts II (6 credit points)*

Please Note. The units of study marked with an  will NOT be available for 2007 enrolments. These units of study are proposed to be offered by the Faculty of Law for the first time in 2008. Please refer to the Faculty of Law for further details.

All students continuing under old resolutions (students commencing their third year and transfer students going into third year) must complete the following LAWS units of study according to the old resolutions.

Combined Law Year 3 (For students who commenced their degree prior to 2006)

- Either LAWS2008 Contracts OR LAWS2009 (This unit must be completed by transfer students only)*
- LAWS3003 Federal Constitution Law (12 credit points)
- LAWS3004 Law, Lawyers and Justice (12 credit points)

*Please Note. Transfer students going into third year must enrol in either LAWS2008 OR LAWS2009 AND LAWS3003 AND LAWS3004. Please refer to the Faculty of Law for further details regarding these transitional arrangements (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au).

Majors, extended majors and electives in the Bachelor of Economics

A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student's transcript. Students should refer to the on the Bachelor of Economics section in this chapter of the handbook for details of the requirements for majors and extended majors and subject areas for electives which may be undertaken in this degree. Please Note: Because of the nature of the combined program and the prerequisites and other limitations, not all major/extended major combinations may be available within this combined degree program.

Guide to enrolment

To satisfy the requirements of the Bachelor of Economics, students must complete the compulsory major or extended major in Economics or Econometrics, including the required core units of study (as specified under the course rules). Instead of choosing additional elective units of study or majors, students then complete a specified sequence of compulsory Law units of study. For further information on the majors available students should refer to the Bachelor of Economics in this handbook. For full details on all Bachelor of Laws units of study, students should refer to the Law Faculty Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks) or the Faculty of Law website: http://www.law.usyd.edu.au.

At the end of the third year, full-time students should have completed the requirements for their Commerce degree. An additional two years of study is required at the Law School where the remaining units of study for the Bachelor of Laws are completed. For details on the final years of this program, please refer to the Faculty of Law (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au). The Faculty of Economics and Business website gives other illustrative sequences of units of study for specific majors. This information can be accessed at http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/course/FH030.

Honours

Both the Bachelor of Economics and Bachelor of Laws can be awarded with honours. For the Bachelor of Economics, students must successfully complete an additional honours year of study. For details of this honours year students should refer to the Honours year information listed under the Bachelor of Economics. For the award of honours in the Bachelor of Laws, students must obtain a certain weighted average mark (WAM) across all Law units of study, including those taken as part of the combined degree. An additional honours year is not required. For further details, students should refer to the particular combined Law resolution in the Faculty resolutions for undergraduate degrees or the Faculty of Law (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au).
Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences and related combined degrees

BBeScSc
This is a flexible award course which offers students the opportunity to develop a broad understanding of the social environment in which economic activity takes place. Majors in areas such as Political Economy, Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management, Government and International Relations, History and Sociology provide outstanding opportunities in personnel management and policy development. The Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences suits students who are interested in the social and political context in which economic activity takes place, or who would like to minimise mathematical approaches.

Course rules
To be awarded the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences, students shall successfully complete a total of 144 credit points, comprising:

- Either a major or an extended major in Economics or Political Economy AND a major or a minimum of 12 senior credit points (2 senior units) from Government and International Relations or Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management OR vice versa (i.e. either a major or an extended major in Government and International Relations or Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management AND a major or 12 senior credit points from Economics or Political Economy)
- No more than 60 junior credit points
- No more than 60 credit points from outside the Faculty of Economics and Business

Majors, extended majors and electives

Major/s
A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student’s testamurs

Students in the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences must complete a major in Economics (60 credit points), Political Economy (48 credit points), Government and International Relations (48 credit points) or Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (48 credit points).

Students can also complete additional majors from the Faculties of Economics and Business, Arts, Science, Education and Social Work or Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources, or other faculties of the University of Sydney (subject to approval by the Faculty of Economics and Business). A list of available Economics and Business majors can be found under Major subject areas. In most cases a major in these subject areas requires the completion of at least six senior units of study (minimum 36 credit points). Students should check the particular requirements for individual majors in the information listing in the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives chapter in this handbook. If a major or electives are chosen from a subject area from another faculty, in most cases a minimum of 36 senior credit points must be completed. Students should refer to the relevant handbook for the other faculty for the exact requirements for the major the wish to complete (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/).

An extended major is an alternative to a major. To complete an extended major, students undertake additional senior units of study or honours preparation units of study in the same subject area. This gives recognition to students who may complete additional senior units including those required for honours preparation. Most extended majors require the completion of a minimum of 48 senior credit points (usually eight senior units) in a single subject area. Students should check the particular requirements for individual majors in the information listing in the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives chapter in this handbook.

In the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences students may complete an extended major in Economics (72 credit points), Government and International Relations (60 credit points), Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (50 credit points) or Political Economy (60 credit points).

Depending upon prerequisite/corequisite and other degree requirements additional extended majors from the Faculty of Economics and Business may be completed.

Compulsory second major or senior units of study
If a major or extended major in Economics or Political Economy is chosen then students must either complete a major or a minimum of 12 senior credit points in either Government and International Relations or Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management. If a major or extended major in either Government and International Relations or Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management is chosen then students must also complete either a major or a minimum of 12 senior credit points in either Economics or Political Economy.

Major subject areas
The major or extended major students choose will determine whether they can complete an additional major in the degree. Due to prerequisites and other limitations not all combinations of majors are possible to be completed.

Senior units of study may only be counted towards one extended major or major. The following list shows the Economics and Business majors available in the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences. Students should check the particular requirements for individual majors in the information listing in the Undergraduate subject areas for majors or electives chapter in this handbook.

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Commercial Law
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Finance
- Government and International Relations
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Management Decision Sciences
- Marketing
- Political Economy
- Other Faculty

*Please note: The requirements for this major may differ depending upon which of the above listed options is chosen. For details please refer to the Undergraduate subject areas for majors and electives section in this handbook.
Electives
Students may select additional electives offered by the Faculties of Economics and Business, Arts, Science, Education and Social Work, Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources or other faculties of the University of Sydney (subject to approval by the Faculty of Economics and Business).

Junior and Senior units of study
Students must choose units for enrolment according to which compulsory major/s and required electives they wish to undertake. Junior units of study for the compulsory major/s are usually completed within the first semesters of enrolment and senior units for majors and electives in the following semesters of enrolment. If students wish to complete additional major/s other than the compulsory major/s, then junior units of study required for these majors should be undertaken in the first semesters of enrolment and senior units of study in the subsequent semesters.

In order to meet the compulsory major requirements students must complete either a major in Economics OR Political Economy AND a major or minimum of 12 senior credit points in either Government and International Relations OR Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (option 1) or vice versa (i.e. a major in Government and International Relations OR Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management AND a major or a minimum of 12 credit points in either Economics OR Political Economy) (option 2). These two options of major/elective combinations are outlined in the following tables. Students must choose one of these the options to follow for their enrolment in this degree.

Students should note that the combination of majors and extended majors that are selected will affect the additional options (majors and electives) available.

It is recommended that students use the Course Planner at the back of this handbook to help them structure their course.

Option 1. Major or extended major in Economics OR Political Economy AND a major or minimum of 12 senior credit points in Government and International Relations OR Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management

Accreditation

Within the Bachelor of Economic and Social Science, students may choose to pursue a program of study which would allow them to seek accreditation with particular professional bodies. The required program of study for accreditation with the Australian Human Resources Institute is outlined below.

Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI) accreditation

AHRI is the national association representing human resource management professionals and is Australia’s leading human resources professional body. All undergraduate award courses incorporating a major in Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management are AHRI-accredited. Students wishing to satisfy the requirements for professional membership of AHRI should include this major in their course. The required units of study for the major are listed under the Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives section in this handbook.

Honours year

In some of the more specialised careers open to the faculty’s graduates, employers may be looking for a higher level of specialisation than is provided in a three-year pass award course. Similarly, if students want to qualify for specialist postgraduate research study, a pass award course is not normally sufficient. For all graduates, a four-year honours award course considerably enhances the quality of a qualification and singles out students to an employer as having exceptional ability.

The honours year is available in most of the subject areas in the respective degrees. The honours year may involve extra work at second and third year level in the chosen subject area and, in all cases, an additional year of study spent entirely on that subject area.

After completing the requirements for the pass degree (and attaining results which satisfy the entry requirements for the award of honours), students may commence their honours year specialising in one of the following areas:

- Accounting
- Business Information Systems
- Commercial Law
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Finance
- Government and International Relations
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Management Decision Sciences
- Marketing
- Political Economy
- Other areas of study as approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business

It may be possible to complete either double honours or joint honours. Double honours involves completing all the honours work in two subject areas, and thus normally takes an extra year. In joint honours the two subject areas which are more closely related to each other are studied concurrently through a special program of study designed for the student. For example, each year a number of students take joint honours in economics and econometrics.

Normally students will not make any decisions about honours courses until the end of their first year of study in the faculty. In order to enter and remain in an honours stream, students must perform at a credit level or better in the chosen subject area. A bare pass level of performance in a first year subject will not be sufficient to secure entry into honours courses.

Students in their honours year enrol in a sequence of four 4000 level units of study in the subject area in which they wish to complete honours. Details of these units of study are available in the Tables of undergraduate units of study section in this handbook.

For further details regarding completing the honours year in a specific subject area students should contact the honours coordinator in the particular discipline area concerned (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/honours/).
Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences and Bachelor of Laws

BEcSocSc/LLB

For further information regarding the core units of study and course majors available, students should refer to the previous information relating to the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences.

For the first three years of the combined degree program, in place of elective units of study, students substitute compulsory Law units of study as specified in the course rules. Students should note that the units of study in Law cannot be counted as a major in the Economic and Social Sciences degree.

Course rules

To be awarded the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences and Bachelor of Laws, students shall successfully complete a total of 240 credit points (96 credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business and 144 credit points from the Faculty of Law), comprising:

From the Faculty of Economics and Business:

- Either a major in Economics or Political Economy AND a major or a minimum of 12 senior credit points (2 senior units of study) in Government and International Relations or Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management OR vice versa (i.e. either a major or an extended major in Government and International Relations or Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management AND a major or a minimum of 12 senior credit points from Economics or Political Economy)
- No more than 48 junior credit points from the Faculty of Economics and Business

From the Faculty of Law:

- 10 compulsory units of study to be completed in the first three years of the combined program in the annual sequence as specified under the heading Compulsory Law units of study for the combined degree program
- An additional 6 compulsory and 6 elective Law units of study to be completed over the remaining 2 years of the degree at the Law School. For details please refer to the Law Faculty Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks) or the Faculty of Law website (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au)

Compulsory Law units of study for the combined degree program

Students beginning their combined degree in 2007 must complete the units of study in the yearly sequence indicated the following information. Students who commenced their combined degree in 2006 and have only completed LAWS1006, LAWS1010 and LAWS1008 must complete the units of study in the yearly sequence indicated under Combined Law Year 2 and Combined Law Year 3.

Combined Law Year 1

- LAWS1006 Foundations of Law (6 credit points)
- LAWS1013 Legal Research I (0 credit points)
- LAWS1012 Torts (6 credit points)

Combined Law Year 2

- LAWS1015 Contracts (6 credit points)
- LAWS1016 Criminal Law (6 credit points)
- LAWS1014 Processes of Justice (6 credit points)
- LAWS1020 The Legal Profession (6 credit points) (This unit of study will be available as an option in Year 2 or Year 3)

Combined Law Year 3

- LAWS1018 International Law (6 credit points)*
- LAWS1019 Legal Research II (0 credit points)*
- LAWS1020 The Legal Profession (6 credit points) (This unit of study will be available as an option in Year 2 or Year 3)
- LAWS1017 Torts and Contracts II (6 credit points)*

Please Note. The units of study marked with an "*" will NOT be available for 2007 enrolments. These units of study are proposed to be offered by the Faculty of Law for the first time in 2008. Please refer to the Faculty of Law for further details.

All students continuing under old resolutions (students commencing their Third Year and transfer students going into third year) must complete the following LAWS units of study according to the old resolutions.

Combined Law Year 3 (For students who commenced their degree prior to 2006)

- Either LAWS2008 Contracts OR LAWS2009 Criminal Law (This unit must be completed by transfer students only)*
- LAWS3003 Federal Constitution Law (12 credit points)
- LAWS3004 Law, Lawyers and Justice (12 credit points)

*Please Note. Transfer students going into Third Year must enrol in either LAWS2008 Contracts OR LAWS2009 Criminal Law AND LAWS3003 and LAWS3004. Please refer to the Faculty of Law for further details regarding these transitional arrangements (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au).

Majors, extended majors and electives

A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student’s testamurs.

Students should refer to the information on the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences section in this chapter of the handbook for details of the requirements for majors and subject areas for electives which maybe undertaken in this degree.

Please Note: Because of the nature of the combined program and the prerequisites and other limitations, not all major/extended major combinations maybe available within this combined degree program.

Guide to enrolment

To satisfy the requirements of the Bachelor of Economics, students must complete either a major in Economics OR Political Economy AND a major or minimum of 12 senior credit points in either Government and International Relations OR Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (option 1) or vice versa (i.e. a major in Government and International Relations OR Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management AND a major or a minimum of 12 senior credit points in either Economics OR Political Economy)(option 2). Instead of choosing additional majors or elective units of study, students must then complete a specified sequence of compulsory Law units of study. For further information on the compulsory majors, students should refer to the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences information in this handbook. For full details on all Bachelor of Laws units of study, students should refer to the Law Faculty Handbook (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks) or the Faculty of Law website (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au). Students should note that the units of study in Law cannot be counted as a major in the Commerce degree component of this course.

It is recommended that students use the Course Planner at the back of this handbook to help them structure their course.

These two options of major/elective combinations are outlined in the following tables. Students must choose one of these the options to follow for their enrolment in this degree. In the tables below the units of study for the compulsory major requirements of the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences are indicated in bold type and compulsory Law units of study in italics. Students should note that the units of study in Law cannot be counted as a major in the Economic and Social Sciences degree.

At the end of the third year, full-time students should have completed the requirements for their Commerce degree. An additional two years of study is required at the Law School where the remaining units of study for the Bachelor of Laws are completed. For details on the final years of this program, please refer to the Faculty of Law (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au).

The Faculty of Economics and Business website gives other illustrative sequences of units of study for specific majors. This information can be accessed at http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/course/FH026.

Honours

Both the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences and Bachelor of Laws can be awarded with honours.

For the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences, students must successfully complete an additional honours year of study. For details of this honours year students should refer to the Honours year information listed under the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences.

For the award of honours in the Bachelor of Laws, students must obtain a certain weighted average mark (WAM) across all Law units of study, including those taken as part of the combined degree. An additional honours year is not required. For further details, students should refer to the particular combined Law resolution in the Faculty resolutions for undergraduate degrees or the Faculty of Law (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au).

Bachelor of International Studies and related combined degrees

Bachelor of International Studies

BIntS

This course is designed to equip students with knowledge, understanding and expertise pertaining to the economic and political dimensions of the global system. In so doing, it will draw on the considerable expertise in international studies (economics, politics and business) that exists in the Faculty of Economics and Business. Moreover, students are encouraged to study a second language in the Faculty of Arts and to study abroad for one semester, or to work as an intern in an international organisation based in Sydney. The degree provides the flexibility to include a range of international related units (including a major) from the Faculties of Arts, Economics and Business, Education and Social Work, and Science. Graduates of this program will have the tools necessary to operate effectively as members of the world community. They will also be able to compete successfully in the global marketplace and to take up key international advisory and management positions in government and non-government agencies, and in the business sector, both overseas and in Australia.

Course rules

To be awarded the Bachelor of International Studies, students must successfully complete a total of 144 credit points, comprising:

- 6 compulsory units of study (4 junior and 2 senior); 36 credit points in total as listed under Table 1.
- 2 compulsory units of study (12 credit points) from Table 2A.
- 2 compulsory units of study (12 credit points) from Table 2B.
- Up to 14 units of study (84 credit points) from unit of study/subject areas in the Tables 2A, 2B, 3 or 4 arranged as major/s or electives*
- No more than 60 junior credit points

*Note: Students may complete units of study additional to those taken as compulsory from Tables 2A and 2B as elective units of study.

Table 4. Optional units of study related to International Studies

Units of study from the following subject areas may be taken in the Bachelor of International Studies. Although not required, it is possible for students to complete a major in the Bachelor of International Studies. With careful planning, students may be able to complete up to two majors but should consult the Bachelor of International Studies Program Director when considering options. Major subject areas available are listed as follows:

Part A: Economics and Business subject areas for majors and electives related to International Studies

Students may complete a major or elective units of study (subject to normal pre/corequisite requirements) in the following subject areas:

- Economics
- Government and International Relations
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Management
- Political Economy

Students may complete any of the following Economics and Business units of study (subject to the normal pre/corequisite requirements) which are recommended for students considering elective units of study within the Faculty:

- ECOS3006 International Trade
- ECOS3007 International Macroeconomics
- IBUS2101 International Business Strategy
- IBUS2102 Cross-Cultural Management
- IBUS3101 International Business Alliances
- IBUS3102 International Risk Management
- IBUS3103 Global Entrepreneurship and Enterprise
- IBUS3104 Ethical Issues in International Business
Part B: Languages and other Faculty of Arts subject areas related to International Studies

Students may complete a major or elective units of study (subject to the normal pre/corequisite requirements) from the following Faculty of Arts subject areas listed below:

Please Note: The completion of a language major or units of study in this degree is highly recommended.

Languages
- Arabic Language and Literature
- Chinese Studies
- French Studies
- Germanic Studies
- Hebrew (Modern)
- Hindu-Urdu

Part C: Faculty of Science subject areas related to International Studies

Students may complete a major or elective units of study (subject to the normal pre/corequisite requirements) from the following Faculty of Science subject areas:

Human Geography
- GEOS1001 Earth, Environment and Society
- GEOS1002 Introductory Geography
- GEOS2112 Economic Geography of Global Development/ GEOS2912 Economic Geography of Global Development (Advance)
- GEOS2122 Urban Geography/ GEOS2922 Urban Geography (Advance)
- GEOS3053 Asia-Pacific Field School (A) / GEOS3953 Asia-Pacific Field School (A) (Advance)
- GEOS3054 Asia-Pacific Field School (B) / GEOS3954 Asia-Pacific Field School (B) (Advance)
- GEOS3512 Contemporary Global Geographies OR GEOS3912 Contemporary Global Geographies (Advance)
- GEOS3922 Cities and Citizenship (Advance)
- GEOS3922 Cities and Citizenship

Note: It is possible to do senior units in human geography (GEOS2000 and GEOS3000 level units of study) outside of a major. Permission to do senior units without junior unit prerequisites will require departmental approval.

Major/s and electives in International Studies

A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student's testamurs. Although not a requirement of the Bachelor of International Studies, students may decide to undertake a major from any of the subject areas in listed in Tables 2, 3 and 4. A major is defined as a minimum of 36 senior credit points in a subject area. Generally, two junior (12 credit points) and six senior (36 credit points) units will be completed for a major. With careful planning, students may be able to complete up to two majors. Students should check the particular requirements for individual majors in the information listing in the Undergraduate subject areas for majors or electives chapter in this handbook or the handbooks of the other relevant faculties (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/).

Students are also advised to consult with the Bachelor of International Studies Program Director for assistance about subject choices. Senior units of study cannot be counted towards more than one major. The major that is chosen may effect the additional elective options available to students. Students should check the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives and the Tables of undergraduate units of study chapters of this handbook for information on the specific units in each major.

Electives
Electives may be selected from subject areas in Tables 2A, 2B, 3 or 4 or from other units of study available in the Faculties of Economics and Business, Arts, Education and Social Work, Science, Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources and/or other faculties from across the university (subject to approval by the Faculty of Economics and Business).

Junior units of study
Students would normally enrol in the core junior units of study in the first three semesters. Junior elective units of study can be chosen from the subject areas in Tables 2A, 2B, 3 or 4; or from the Faculties of Economics and Business, Arts, Education and Social Work, Science, Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources and/or other faculties from across the university. Students should be aware that if they wish to complete a major in one of the subject areas in Table 4, then the required junior units of study for this subject area should be completed during their first year. Remember it is not necessary for Bachelor of International Studies students to undertake a major and students may wish to complete a variety of elective units of study relating to international studies instead.

From their third semester of enrolment students enrol in their required senior units of study (selected from Tables 2A and 2B) and senior units they may wish to undertake as part of the requirements for majors or as electives (Tables 2A, 2B, 3 and 4). Students must enrol in the remaining required core unit of study GOVT2801 Applied International Studies in their second year (full-time) and GOVT2802 International Studies Practicum in the second semester of their third year (full-time). Students must complete GOVT2801 prior to GOVT2802. Although not required, students are encouraged to study abroad in their third year. While abroad, students will enrol in the senior core unit GOVT2802 which is studied online. As this unit of study is offered in Semester Two, it is only possible for students to go on Exchange in Semester Two of their third year. Therefore, GOVT2802 can only be taken in the second semester of the third year. In the light of any issues arising from this, students should consult the International Studies Program Director. Please Note: In order to meet the exchange requirement of studying full-time whilst abroad students need to enrol in three exchange units of study in addition to GOVT2802. Students who do not study abroad complete GOVT2802 as an intern in a government or non-government organisation in Sydney, working on an internationally focused project. It is recommended that students use the Course Planner to help them structure their course. The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Bachelor of International Studies on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester. Core and compulsory units of study for the Bachelor of International Studies are in bold type.

Accreditation

Within the Bachelor of International Studies, students may choose to pursue a program of study which would allow them to seek accreditation with the Australian Human Resources Institute. The required program of study for accreditation is outlined below.

Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI) accreditation

AHRI is the national association representing human resource management professionals and is Australia’s leading human resources professional body. All undergraduate award courses incorporating a major in Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management are AHRI-accredited. Students wishing to satisfy the requirements for professional membership of AHRI should include this major in their course. The required units of study for the major are listed under Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management in the Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives chapter in this handbook.

Honours year

In some of the more specialised careers open to the Faculty’s graduates, employers may be looking for a higher level of specialisation that is not provided in a three-year pass award course. Similarly, if students want to qualify for specialist postgraduate research study, a pass award course is not normally sufficient. For all graduates, a four-year honours award course considerably enhances the quality of a qualification which singles out students to an employer as having exceptional ability. The honours year is available in most of the subject areas in the respective degrees. The honours year may involve extra work at second and third year level in the chosen subject area and, in all cases, an additional year of study spent entirely on that subject area. After completing the requirements for the pass degree (and attaining results which satisfy the entry requirements for the award of honours), students may commence their honours year specialising in one of the following areas:

- Anthropology
- Asian Studies
- Chinese Studies
- Economics
- French Studies
- Germanic Studies
- Government and International Relations
- History
- Indonesian and Malay Studies
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Italian Studies
- Japanese Studies
- Jewish Civilisation, Thought and Culture
- Korean Studies
- Management
- Modern Greek Studies
- Marketing
- Political Economy
- Sanskrit
- Other areas of study as approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business

Note: All the honours areas listed above are not available for students enrolled in the combined Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor of Law degree.

It may be possible to complete either double honours or joint honours. Double honours involves completing all the honours work in two subject areas, and thus normally takes an extra year. In joint honours the two subject areas which are more closely related to each other are studied concurrently through a special program of study designed for the student. For example, each year a number of students take joint honours in economics and econometrics. Normally students will not make any decisions about honours courses until the end of their first year of study in the faculty. In order to enter and remain in an honours stream, students must perform at a credit level or better in the chosen subject area. A bare pass level of performance in a first year subject will not be sufficient to secure entry into honours courses. Students in their honours year enrol in a sequence of four 4000 level units of study in the subject area in which they wish to complete honours. Details of these units of study are available in the Tables of undergraduate units of study section in this handbook. For further details regarding completing the honours year in a specific subject area students should contact the honours coordinator in the particular discipline area concerned (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/honours/).

Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor of Laws

BIntS/LLB

For further information regarding the core units of study and course majors available, students should refer to the previous information relating to the Bachelor of International Studies. For the first three years of the combined degree program, in place of elective units of study, students substitute compulsory Law units of study as specified in the course rules. Students should note that the units of study in Law cannot be counted as a major in the International Studies degree.

Course rules

To be awarded the Bachelor of International Studies and the Bachelor of Laws, students must successfully complete a total of 240 credit points, comprising:

From the Faculty of Economics and Business:

- 6 compulsory units of study listed in Table 1 under the Bachelor of International Studies
- 2 units from Table 2A, listed under the Bachelor of International Studies
- 2 units from Table 2B, listed under the Bachelor of International Studies
- 6 additional units from Tables 2, 3 or 4 listed under the Bachelor of International Studies
- No more than 48 junior credit points
- No more than 36 credit points from outside the Faculty of Economics and Business
From the Faculty of Law:

- 10 compulsory units of study to be completed in the first three years of the combined program in the annual sequence as specified under Compulsory Law units of study for the combined degree program.
- An additional 6 compulsory and 6 elective Law units of study to be completed over the remaining 2 years of the degree at the Law School. For details please refer to the Law Faculty Handbook (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au/handbooks) or the Faculty of Law website (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au).

Compulsory Law units of study for the combined degree program

Students beginning their combined degree in 2007 must complete the units of study in the yearly sequence indicated in the following text. Students who commenced their combined degree in 2006 and have only completed LAWS1006, LAWS1010 and LAWS1008 must complete the units of study in the yearly sequence indicated under Combined Law Year 2 and Combined Law Year 3.

Combined Law Year 1

- LAWS1006 Foundations of Law (6 credit points)
- LAWS1013 Legal Research I (0 credit points)
- LAWS1012 Torts (6 credit points)

Combined Law Year 2

- LAWS1015 Contracts (6 credit points)
- LAWS1016 Criminal Law (6 credit points)
- LAWS1014 Processes of Justice (6 credit points)
- LAWS1020 The Legal Profession (6 credit points) (This unit of study will be available as an option in Year 2 or Year 3)*

Combined Law Year 3

- LAWS1018 International Law (6 credit points)*
- LAWS1019 Legal Research II (0 credit points)*
- LAWS1020 The Legal Profession (6 credit points) (This unit of study will be available as an option in Year 2 or Year 3)*
- LAWS1017 Torts and Contracts II (6 credit points)*

Note: The units of study marked with * will NOT be available for 2007 enrolments. They are proposed to be offered by the Faculty of Law in 2008. Please refer to the Faculty of Law for further details.

All students continuing under old resolutions (students commencing Third Year and transfer students going into third year) must complete the following LAWS units of study according to the old resolutions.

Combined Law Year 3 (For students who commenced their degree prior to 2006)

- Either LAWS2008 Contracts (6 credit points) OR LAWS2009 Criminal Law (6 credit points) (This unit must be completed by transfer students only)*
- LAWS3003 Federal Constitution Law (12 credit points)
- LAWS3004 Law, Lawyers and Justice (12 credit points)

*Note: Transfer students going into Third Year must enrol in either LAWS2008 OR LAWS2009 AND LAWS3003 and LAWS3004. Please refer to the Faculty of Law for further details regarding these transitional arrangements (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au).

Major/s and electives in International Studies

A major is usually a three-year defined sequence of study (in some cases, a two-year sequence), generally comprising specified units of study in a particular subject area. Majors are included on student’s testamurs. Students should refer to the information on the Bachelor of International Studies section in this chapter of the handbook for details of the requirements for the degree and subject areas for electives which may be undertaken in this degree.

Note: Because of the nature of the combined program, prerequisites and other limitations, the available majors within the combined degree program are limited (Government and International Relations, International Business, and Political Economy). Please consult the course Program Director for assistance with subject choices.

Guide to enrolment

To satisfy the requirements of the Bachelor of International Studies, students must complete core and compulsory units of study required by the degree. Instead of choosing additional elective units of study or majors, students must then complete a specified sequence of compulsory Law units of study. For information on the required core and compulsory units of study students should refer to the Bachelor of International Studies information in this handbook. For full details on all Bachelor of Laws units of study, students should refer to the Law Faculty Handbook (http://www.laws.usyd.edu.au/handbooks) or the Faculty of Law website (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au). The units of study in Law cannot be counted as a major in the International Studies degree component of this course. It is recommended that students use the Course Planner at the back of this handbook to help them structure their course. The following table shows an illustrative program of study of the first three years of study for a student enrolled in the Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor of Laws on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester. Core units of study for the Bachelor of International Studies are in bold type below.

Compulsory Law units of study are in italics below. Students should note that the units of study in Law cannot be counted as a major in the International Studies degree.

At the end of their third year, full-time students should have completed the requirements for their International Studies degree. Students must have completed the International Studies component of their degree before progressing onto the additional two years of study is required at the Law School where the remaining units for the Bachelor of Laws are completed. The Faculty of Economics and Business website illustrates units of study progression sequences for specific majors. This information can be accessed at http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/course/FH032.

Honours

For the Bachelor of International Studies students must successfully complete an additional honours year of study in a limited range of subject areas which are available as majors to students enrolled in the combined Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor of Laws (see Majors and/or electives in International Studies in this section for details). For details of the honours year program students should refer to the Honours year information listed under the Bachelor of International Studies. For the award of honours in the Bachelor of Laws, students must obtain a certain weighted average mark (WAM) across all Law units, including those taken as part of the combined degree component of the degree. An additional honours year is not required. For further details, students should refer to the particular combined Law resolution in the Faculty resolutions for undergraduate degrees or the Faculty of Law (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au).
The following information illustrates the requirements for majors in the different Faculty of Economics and Business subject areas which are available for undergraduate students in Economics and Business degrees. For available majors from other faculties, students should refer the respective handbooks (http://www.usyd.edu.au/handbooks/) or websites of these faculties. Information on prerequisites and unit of study availability in 2007 can be found in the Table of undergraduate units of study chapter in this handbook. The faculty website (www.econ.usyd.edu.au) contains the most up to date information on unit of study availability. Timetabling information is also available on the faculty website at www.econ.usyd.edu.au/timetable.

Please note: All units of study listing in the following information are worth 6 credit points unless indicated otherwise.

Accounting

An accounting qualification provides capability and credibility across a broad spectrum of careers. It opens the door to many other markets and professions where the ability to understand and interpret financial information is the key capability.

To obtain a major in accounting, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 3 compulsory junior units of study (18 credit points):
   • ACCT1001 Accounting 1A
   • ACCT1002 Accounting 1B
   • ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A

(ii) 2 compulsory senior units of study (12 credit points):
   • ACCT2011 Financial Accounting A
   • ACCT2012 Management Accounting A

(iii) At least 4 (6 credit point) units of study (24 credit points) selected from the following elective units of study:
   • ACCT3011 Financial Accounting B
   • ACCT3012 Management Accounting B
   • ACCT3013 Financial Statement Analysis
   • ACCT3014 Auditing and Assurance
   • ACCT3031 International Corporate Governance
   • ACCT3032 Current Issues in Management Accounting
   • ACCT3098 Accounting Honours Preparation A (3 credit points)
   • ACCT3099 Accounting Honours Preparation B (3 credit points)
   • CLAW2201 Corporations Law

Please note: As ACCT3098 and ACCT3099 are worth 3 credit points each. If students wish to include these units as part of their major they would need to complete at least 5 elective units of study to meet elective requirements.

Please note: CLAW2201 requires the completion of additional prerequisites outside the units listed for this major.

Professional accreditation in accounting

In order to become a professional accountant, students must become accredited by CPA Australia or the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia (ICAA).

To meet accreditation requirements, students must complete the following units of study:

7 compulsory Accounting units of study (42 credit points):
   • ACCT1001 Accounting 1A
   • ACCT1002 Accounting 1B
   • ACCT2011 Financial Accounting A
   • ACCT2012 Management Accounting A
   • ACCT3011 Financial Accounting B
   • ACCT3012 Management Accounting B
   • ACCT3014 Auditing and Assurance

3 compulsory Commercial Law units of study (18 credit points):
   • CLAW1001 Commercial Transactions A
   • CLAW2201 Corporations Law
   • CLAW3201 Australian Taxation System

1 compulsory Finance unit of study (6 credit points):
   • FINC2011 Corporate Finance I

For CPA Australia accreditation, students must also complete the following additional 4 units of study (24 credit points):
   • ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
   • ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
   • ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics
   • INF52001 Business Information Systems

Please note: From 2004, CPA Australia has allowed students the option of completing auditing and taxation units of study as part of their degree at university or as postgraduate studies within the CPA program.

Please note: For students in the combined Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Laws program, the following LAWS units of study maybe substituted for the CLAW units of study to meet CPA and ICAA requirements:

   • CLAW1001 Commercial Transactions A maybe substituted with LAWS1006 Foundations of Law and LAWS1002 Contracts
   • CLAW2201 Corporations Law maybe substituted with LAWS2003 Corporations Law
   • CLAW3201 Australian Taxation System maybe substituted with LAWS3047 Personal Taxation and LAWS3013 Business Taxation.

For offering details of these units of study contact the Faculty of Law (http://laws.usyd.edu.au).

Business Information Systems

This major aims to meet the increasing demand for professionals who possess the business acumen to understand a company’s business systems and information needs, and who also have the technical awareness to ensure that the right computer support is available. Businesses need these professionals to help them harness the power of modern technology in management decision making and the use of network based information sharing. The primary emphasis of the major is on the ways in which databases and enterprise information systems can be strategically used for business process improvement and innovation. It encourages students to develop the ability to contribute to the decision-making, design and implementation of business process change.
To obtain a major in Business Information Systems, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 2 compulsory junior units of study (18 credit points):
- ACCT1001 Accounting 1A; OR ACCT1003 Financial Accounting Concepts
- INFS1000 Business Information Systems Foundations

(ii) 2 compulsory senior units of study (12 credit points):
- INFS2001 Business Information Systems
- INFS2020 Business Process Integration and Modelling

(iii) At least 5 units of study (30 credit points) of elective units of study selected from the following:
- CLAW2206 Legal Issues for e-Commerce
- INFS2010 Managing Information and Knowledge Assets
- INFS2030 e-Commerce Business Models
- INFS3030 IT Assurance and Control
- INFS3040 Enterprise Systems
- INFS3050 Supporting Business Intelligence
- INFS3060 Management BIS Projects
- INFS3080 Business Information Systems Project
- MKTG3110 Electronic Marketing

Australian Computer Society (ACS) accreditation

To meet the accreditation requirements of the Australian Computer Society candidates must complete the following:

(i) A Bachelor of Commerce with a major in Business Information Systems (at least 48 credit points in INFS coded units of study), including:
- INFS1000 Business Information Systems Foundations
- INFS2001 Business Information Systems
- INFS2020 Business Process Integration and Modelling
- INFS3040 Enterprise Systems
- AND 4 additional senior INFS coded elective units of study (See listings under Business Information Systems major for available units of study).

Commercial Law

The Commercial Law major provides an introduction to commercial law as well as in depth specialisation in some of its key areas – stock markets and derivatives law, finance and banking, taxation, insolvency, trade practices and consumer law. These specialist units are designed to provide the basis of a professional capability in the area far beyond the general introduction. This major is not a qualification for admission to the professional practice of law as a solicitor or barrister.

To obtain a major in Commercial Law, students must complete the following:

(i) 2 compulsory junior units of study (12 credit points):
- CLAW1001 Commercial Transactions A
- CLAW1002 Commercial Transitions B

Please note: Students may substitute any CLAW2000 or 3000 level unit of study for CLAW1002. Students who decide to take this option would then be required to complete at least seven senior units of study (including CLAW2201) for a major instead of six.

(ii) 1 compulsory senior unit of study (6 credit points):
- CLAW2201 Corporations Law

Econometrics

Econometrics applies mathematical and statistical techniques to the analysis of business and economic data. There has always been a strong demand for graduates with quantitative skills. The impact of information technology has meant that there are huge data sets now available – such as data sets of financial market activity or of consumer markets via supermarket scanning. This adds considerably to the high level prospects for graduates with the quantitative skills to deal with the potential of the data – such as in the analysis of energy demand, greenhouse gas emissions, international trade flows or consumer behaviour.

To obtain a major in Econometrics, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 2 compulsory junior units of study (12 credit points):
- ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
- ECMT1020 Business and Economic Statistics B

(ii) 2 compulsory senior units of study (12 credit points):
- ECMT2110 Regression Modelling
- ECMT3110 Econometric Models and Methods

(iii) At least 4 units of study (24 credit points) of elective units of study selected from the following:
- ECMT2120 Analysis of Discrete Choice Data
- ECMT2130 Financial Econometrics
- ECMT2620 Management Science
- ECMT2630 Management Decision Making
- ECMT3120 Applied Econometrics
- ECMT3130 Forecasting for Economics and Business
- ECMT3150 The Econometrics of Financial Markets
- ECMT3160 Statistical Modelling
- ECMT3610 Management Science Models and Methods
- ECMT3620 Stochastic Modelling for Management

Economics

Economics provides a valuable understanding of the overall context of business and government, and the technical skills to analyse economic and social data and events. It equips students to work on economic and social policy. It also provides key capabilities for students who wish to work in business fields such as financial markets, marketing, transport and logistics, international trade and consulting or the media. Economics at Sydney is a significant and influential grouping within the discipline in Australia. It is an important centre of policy analysis and review and one of the most important training grounds for economists within the region.

Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives

Please note: All units of study marked with * will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Please note: CLAW2206 and MKTG3110 require the completion of additional prerequisites outside of those units of study listed for this major.

Please note: All units of study marked with * will NOT be available for 2007 enrolments.
To obtain a major in Economics, students shall complete the following units of study:

(i) 4 compulsory junior units of study (24 credit points):
- ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
- ECMT1020 Business and Economic Statistics B
- ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
- ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics

(ii) 2 compulsory senior units of study (12 credit points):
- ECOS2001 Intermediate Microeconomics; OR ECOS2901 Intermediate Microeconomics Honours
- ECOS2002 Intermediate Macroeconomics; OR ECOS2902 Intermediate Macroeconomics Honours

(ii) At least 4 units of study (24 credit points) of senior elective units of study selected from the following:
- ECOS2201 Economics of Competition and Strategy
- ECOS2306 Managerial Firms: Evolutions and Attributes
- ECOS2903 Mathematical Economics A
- ECOS3001 Capital and Growth
- ECOS3002 Development Economics

- ECOS3015 Law and Economics
- ECOS3020 Special Topic in Economics
- ECOS3901 Advanced Microeconomics
- ECOS3902 Advanced Macroeconomics

OR
- Any 3 of the above ECOS3000 level units of study AND any ECOP3000 level unit of study

Please note: All units of study marked with * will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Please note: ECOS3901, ECOS3902 and all ECOP units of study require the completion of additional prerequisites outside of those units of study listed for this major.

Finance
The Discipline of Finance works in partnership with the Australian Stock Exchange, the Sydney Futures Exchange, the Australian Financial Markets Association and several of the largest banking, broking, accounting and funds management businesses in the region. A sound knowledge of finance is important for graduates in a wide range of commerce/economics disciplines. The units offered are designed to integrate a variety of practical applications with essential theory and financial reasoning skills.

To obtain a major in Finance, students shall complete the following units of study:

(i) 4 compulsory junior units of study (24 credit points):
- ACCT1001 Accounting 1A; OR ACCT1003 Financial Accounting Concepts
- ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
- ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
- ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics

(ii) 2 compulsory senior units of study (12 credit points):
- FINC2011 Corporate Finance I; AND
- Either FINC2012 Corporate Finance II; OR FINC2013 Introductory Mathematical Finance

(iii) At least 4 units of study (24 credit points) of senior elective units of study selected from the following:
- FINC3011 International Financial Management
- FINC3012 Derivative Securities
- FINC3013 Mergers and Acquisitions
- FINC3014 Trading and Dealing in Security Markets
- FINC3015 Financial Valuation: Case Study Approach
- FINC3017 Investments and Portfolio Management
- FINC3018 Bank Financial Management

OR
- Any 3 FINC3000 level units of study and either ACCT3013 Financial Statement Analysis OR CLAW3201 Australian Taxation System

Please note: ACCT3013 and CLAW3201 require the completion of additional prerequisites outside of those units of study listed for this major.

Please note: The pre-honours units of study, FINC2192, FINC3193 and FINC3194 cannot be counted towards a major in Finance. However, it is recommended that students intending to undertake an honours year in Finance, complete at least the 3000 level pre-honours units of study in addition to a Finance major. For further details, students should refer to the Discipline of Finance's honours information (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/12936.html).

Government and International Relations
Government and International Relations is one of the largest academic groups within the Faculty, offering a range of units in areas such as: international relations and international business; the state and organisation of economic activity; communist and post-communist systems; Asia and the Pacific; Australian politics; Australian foreign and defence policy; American politics; public policy and public management; international security; human rights; political institutions; and political theory.

To obtain a major in Government and International Relations, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 12 credit points of compulsory junior units of study selected from the following:
- GOVT1101 Australian Politics
- GOVT1104 Power in Society
- GOVT1105 Geopolitics
- GOVT1202 World Politics
- GOVT1406 International Business and Politics*
- GOVT1609 Ethnicity, Nationalism and Citizenship

(ii) At least 6 (6 credit point) units of study (36 credit points) of senior elective units of study selected from the following:
- GOVT2111 Human Rights and Australian Politics
- GOVT2114 The Australian Political Party System*
- GOVT2116 Australian Foreign and Defence Policy
- GOVT2119 Southeast Asia: Dilemmas of Development
- GOVT2210 International Risk Analysis
- GOVT2221 Politics of International Economic Relations
- GOVT2225 International Security in the 21st Century
- GOVT2226 International Organisations
- GOVT2228 Environmental Politics
- GOVT2236 Gender and Human Rights*
- GOVT2440 Globalisation and National Governance
- GOVT2414 Capitalism and Democracy in East Asia*
- GOVT2424 Politics of China*
- GOVT2444 Europe in World Affairs*
- GOVT2445 American Politics and Foreign Policy*
- GOVT2446 Reform, Revolution and Post Communism*
- GOVT2449 Authoritarian Politics*
- GOVT2552 Policy Analysis
- GOVT2557 Public Sector Management
International Business

The International Business major is designed to provide students with knowledge and skills relevant to the development, strategy and management of international business organisations and the institutional context for their development, growth and operation.

To obtain a major in International Business, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 36 credit points (at least 6 units of study) including at least 12 credit points (at least 2 units of study) of units of study offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business

(ii) 4 compulsory senior units of study (24 credit points):
- IBUS2101 International Business Strategy
- IBUS2102 Cross-Cultural Management
- IBUS3101 International Business Alliances
- IBUS3102 International Risk Management

(iii) At least 2 units of study (12 credit points) of senior elective units of study:
- ACCT3031 International Corporate Governance
- ECOP3012 Global Political Economy
- ECOP3014 International Development and Trade
- ECOS3006 International Trade
- ECOS3007 International Macroeconomics
- FINC3011 International Financial Management
- GOVT2210 International Risk Analysis
- GOVT2221 Politics of International Economic Relations
- GOVT2225 International Security in the 21st Century
- IBUS3103 Global Entrepreneurship and Enterprise
- IBUS3104 Ethical Issues in International Business
- MKTG3116 International Marketing
- WORK2217 International Human Resource Management

Please note: Almost all senior elective units of study require the completion of additional prerequisites outside of those units of study listed for this major.

Management

Management is the process of planning, organising, leading and controlling the efforts of organisational members and using resources inside and outside the organisation to achieve set objectives. A management major draws on subjects from a number of disciplines in the Faculty and develops a sound understanding of managing the internal processes of organisations and the relationship between organisations and their environments.

To obtain a major in Management, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 2 compulsory senior units of study (12 credit points) selected from the following:
- ECON1001 Introductory Microeconomics
- ECON1002 Introductory Macroeconomics
- GOVT1101 Australian Politics
- GOVT1104 Power in Society
- GOVT1005 Geopolitics
- GOVT1202 World Politics
- GOVT1406 International Business and Politics*
- GOVT1609 Ethnicity, Nationalism and Citizenship
- MKTG1001 Marketing Principles
- MKTG1002 Marketing Research I
- WORK1003 Foundations of Work and Employment

(ii) 1 compulsory senior unit of study (6 credit points):
- WORK2201 Foundations of Management

(iii) At least 5 units of study (30 credit points) of senior elective units of study selected from the following:
- ECOS2306 Managerial Firms: Evolution and Attributes
- ECOS3003 Hierarchies, Incentives and Firm Structure
• ECOS3005 Industrial Organisation
• ECOS3008 Labour Economics
• ECOS3012 Strategic Behaviour
• GOVT2552 Policy Analysis
• GOVT2557 Public Sector Management
• WORK2205 Human Resources Processes
• WORK2209 Organisational Analysis and Behaviour
• WORK2210 Strategic Management
• WORK2211 Human Resource Strategies
• WORK2217 International Human Resource Management
• WORK2218 People and Organisations
• WORK2219 Management and Organisational Ethics
• WORK2221 Organisational Communication

Please note: All units of study marked with * will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Please note: Selection of senior elective units of study depends on whether the student has completed the prerequisites for these units of study. Some of these elective units of study require the completion of additional prerequisites outside of those units of study listed for this major.

Management Decision Sciences

Management Decision Sciences provides a modelling-based approach to managerial decision-making. It uses mathematical and statistical tools to analyse the impact of managerial decisions on various aspects of an organisation’s operations, and to develop optimal managerial strategies. The Management Decision Sciences major draws on data and computing based techniques to provide training in practical management decision-making.

To obtain a major in Management Decision Sciences, students must complete the following:

(i) 2 compulsory junior units of study (12 credit points):
• ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
• ECMT1020 Business and Economic Statistics B

(ii) 4 compulsory senior units of study (24 credit points):
• ECMT2110 Regression Modelling
• ECMT2620 Management Science
• ECMT2630 Management Decision Making
• ECMT3610 Management Science Models and Methods

(iii) At least 2 units of study (12 credit points) of senior elective units of study:
• ECMT2120 Analysis of Discrete Choice Data
• ECMT2130 Financial Econometrics
• ECMT3110 Econometric Models and Methods
• ECMT3120 Applied Econometrics
• ECMT3130 Forecasting for Economics and Business
• ECMT3150 The Econometrics of Financial Markets
• ECMT3160 Statistical Modelling

Political Economy

Studies in Political Economy are a focal point for critical inquiry into contemporary economic issues, taking account of their connections with social, political and environmental concerns. Political Economy is an excellent background for a wide range of careers such as journalism and the media, economic research, teaching, public service, and management.

To obtain a major in Political Economy, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 2 compulsory junior units of study (12 credit points) as listed below:
• ECOP1001 Economics as a Social Science
• ECOP1002 Economy and Policy

Please note: Bachelor of International Studies students may substitute the compulsory junior unit of study ECOP1002 with ECOP1003 International Economy and Finance to complete a major in Political Economy.

Please note: Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences CANNOT enrol in ECOP1003.

(ii) Any 1 ECOP2000 level senior unit of study (6 credit points) selected from the electives listed in (iii) (Excluding Pre-honours units of study)

(iii) At least 5 units of study (30 credit points) of senior elective units of study selected from the following:
• ECOP2011 Economic Foundations of Modern Capitalism
• ECOP2012 Social Foundations of Modern Capitalism
• ECOP2911 Political Economy Honours II
• ECOP3011 Economic Conflict and the State*
• ECOP3012 Global Political Economy
• ECOP3013 Global Cities and Regional Economics*
• ECOP3014 International Development and Trade
• ECOP3015 Political Economy of the Environment*
• ECOP3016 Women in the Global Economy*
• ECOP3017 Political Economy of Human Rights
• ECOP3018 Economic Policy
• WORK2211 Organisational Communication
Subject areas for undergraduate majors and electives

Computer Science

This major is offered by the Faculty of Science.

Computer Science is concerned with the design of computers, their applications in science, government and business, and the formal and theoretical properties which can be shown to characterise these applications. A major in Computer Science covers a diversity of topics such as software development, networks and systems and multimedia technologies. Please note: Units of study beginning with COMP, MULT, NETS, SOFT and INFO (but not ISYS) can be counted as Computer Science. Students cannot count INFO1000 or INFS1000 towards a major in Computer Science. Students should consult the School of Information Technologies website (www.it.usyd.edu.au/) to assist them in selecting their units of study.

To obtain a major in Computer Science, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 12 credit points of compulsory junior SOFT coded units of study:

- SOFT1001 Software Development 1; OR SOFT1901 Software Development 1 (Advanced)
- SOFT1002 Software Development 2; OR SOFT1902 Software Development 2 (Advanced)

(ii) At least 12 credit points of intermediate elective units of study selected from the following:

- COMP2160 Data Structures; OR COMP2860 Data Structures (Advanced)
- INFO2110 Systems Analysis and Modelling; OR INFS2810 Systems Analysis and Modelling (Advanced)
- INFO2120 Database Systems I; OR INFO2820 Database Systems I (Advanced)
- SOFT2130 Software Construction I; OR SOFT2830 Software Construction I (Adv)

(iii) At least 24 credit points of elective senior units of study

- COMP3308 Introduction to Artificial Intelligence; OR COMP3608 Intro. To Artificial Intelligence (Adv)
- COMP3309 Algorithms; OR COMP3609 Algorithms (Advanced)
- COMP3310 Theory of Computation; OR COMP3610 Theory of Computation (Advanced)
- INFO3404 Database Systems 2; OR INFO3504 Database Systems 2 (Adv)
- MULT3306 Multimedia Computing and Processing; OR MULT3606 Multimedia Computing and Processing (Adv)
- MULT3307 Interactive Multimedia Systems; OR MULT3607 Interactive Multimedia Systems (Adv)
- NETS3303 Network Protocols and Programming; OR NETS3603 Network Protocols and Programming (Adv)
- NETS3304 Operating Systems Internals; OR NETS3604 Operating Systems Internals (Advanced)
- NETS3305 Computer and Network Security; OR NETS3605 Computer and Network Security (Advanced)
- SOFT3300 Software Development Project; OR SOFT3600 Software Development Project (Advanced)
- SOFT3301 Software Construction 2; OR SOFT3601 Software Construction 2 (Advanced)

Financial Mathematics

This is an interdisciplinary major offered by the Faculty of Science and consists of several core units and a number of elective units from mathematics, statistics and information technologies.

The Financial Mathematics major is designed to meet the need for high level quantitative and modelling skills in the banking, insurance, stockbroking and finance industries. Graduates with strong mathematical and statistics backgrounds are in demand. Core units in Financial Mathematics introduce students to important financial concepts within a mathematical and statistical framework. Core mathematics and statistics units provide the technical base that is required by a quantitative analyst, while the elective units offer increased flexibility and additional opportunities to develop related skills.

Subject areas from other faculties for Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies) students

Agricultural Economics

This major is offered by the Faculty of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources.

Agriculture is a major sector of the world economy. As much as 30 per cent of the aggregate value of goods and services consumed globally is food. However, food is only part of agriculture, which also includes the production, processing, wholesaling, retailing and trading of food and fibre, the provision of inputs (e.g. land, water, chemicals, research), and the fundamental issues of environmental and resource management. Agricultural economists are applied economists with an underlying quantitative focus. They analyse markets and the impacts of government policies, forecast trends and developments, and devise and evaluate alternative strategies and policies. The global nature of the agricultural market creates important international opportunities for agricultural economists.

To obtain a major in Agricultural Economics, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 2 compulsory junior units of study (12 credit points) listed below:

- AGEC1101 Agricultural and Resource Systems
- AGEC1102 Agricultural Economics I

(ii) 4 compulsory senior units of study (24 credit points) listed below:

- AGEC2101 Market and Price Analysis
- AGEC2103 Production Economics
- AGEC3102 Agricultural and Resource Policy
- AGEC3103 Applied Optimisation

(iii) at least 12 credit points of senior elective units of study selected from the following:

- AGEC4101 Agricultural Marketing Analysis
- AGEC4102 Agricultural Development Economics
- AGEC4103 International Agricultural Trade
- AGEC4104 Agribusiness Analysis
- AGEC4106 Quantitative Planning Methods
- AGEC4109 Agricultural Finance and Risk
- RSEC4131 Benefit-Cost Analysis

Any ECOS 3000 level unit of study

Please note: All units of study marked with * will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Please note: All senior ECOS elective units of study require the completion of additional prerequisites outside of those units of study listed for this major.

Please note: Students NOT enrolled in the Bachelor of International Studies or the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences may complete ECOP1003 as an elective unit of study outside of the Political Economy major (provided that in doing so the maximum 60 junior credit point limit for the degree is not exceeded).
To obtain a major in Financial Mathematics, students must complete the following units of study:

(i) 12 credit points of compulsory junior Mathematics units of study including:

- MATH1001 Differential Calculus; OR MATH1901 Differential Calculus (Advanced)
- MATH1002 Linear Algebra; OR MATH1902 Linear Algebra (Advanced)
- MATH1003 Integral Calculus and Modelling; OR MATH1903 Integral Calculus and Modelling Advanced
- MATH1005 Statistics; OR MATH1905 Statistics (Advanced)

(ii) 18 credit points of intermediate units of study selected from the following:

- MATH2070 Optimisation and Financial Mathematics; OR MATH2970 Optimisation and Financial Mathematics Adv
- STAT2011 Statistical Models; OR STAT2911 Probability and Statistical Models (Adv)
- STAT2012 Statistical Tests; OR STAT2912 Statistical Tests (Advanced)

(iii) At least 24 credit points of senior units of study comprising of:

- MATH3075 Financial Mathematics; OR MATH3975 Financial Mathematics (Advanced)
- STAT3011 Stochastic Processes and Time Series; OR STAT3911 Stochastic Processes and Time Series Adv
- STAT3012 Applied Linear Models; OR STAT3912 Applied Linear Models Advanced

AND one of the following units of study:

- INFO3404 Database Systems 2; OR INFO3504 Database Systems 2 (Adv)
- MATH3067 Information and Coding Theory
- MATH3076 Mathematical Computing; OR MATH3976 Mathematical Computing (Advanced)
- MATH3078 PDEs and Waves; OR MATH3078 PDEs and Waves (Advanced)
- STAT3013 Statistical Inference; OR STAT3913 Statistical Inference Advanced
- STAT3014 Applied Statistics; OR STAT3914 Applied Statistics Advanced

Mathematics

This major is offered by the Faculty of Science.

The School of Mathematics and Statistics offers units of study in Applied Mathematics, Mathematical Statistics and Pure Mathematics. Junior units of study cover a range of topics in mathematics and statistics and are offered at three levels, viz. Life Sciences, Normal and Advanced, to suit various levels of previous knowledge. Intermediate, senior and honours units of study are mostly provided within one of the subject areas of Applied Mathematics, Mathematical Statistics and Pure Mathematics. Full details about the extensive range of units offered and prerequisites can be obtained from the School of Mathematics and Statistics handbooks, the Science Faculty Handbook or from the School's website (www.maths.usyd.edu.au/Teaching.html).

To obtain a major in Mathematics, student must complete the following units of study:

(i) 12 credit points of junior units of study selected from the following:

- MATH1001 Differential Calculus; OR MATH1901 Differential Calculus (Advanced); OR MATH1011 Life Sciences Calculus; OR MATH1111 Introduction to Calculus; OR MATH1906 Mathematics (Special Studies Program) A
- MATH1002 Linear Algebra; OR MATH1902 Linear Algebra (Advanced); OR MATH1014 Introduction to Linear Algebra
- MATH1003 Integral Calculus and Modelling; OR MATH1013 Differential and Difference Equations; OR MATH1903 Integral Calculus and Modelling Advanced; OR MATH1907 Mathematics (Special Studies Program) B

- MATH1004 Discrete Mathematics; OR MATH1904 Discrete Mathematics (Advanced)
- MATH1105 Life Sciences Calculus; OR MATH1015 Life Science Statistics; OR MATH1905 Statistics (Advanced)

(ii) At least 12 credit points of intermediate units of study selected from the following:

- MATH2061 Linear Mathematics and Vector Calculus; OR MATH2961 Linear Mathematics and Vector Calculus Adv
- MATH2063 Math Computing and Nonlinear Systems; OR MATH2963 Math Computing and Nonlinear Systems(Adv)
- MATH2065 Partial Differential Equations (Intro); OR MATH2965 Partial Differential Equations Intro Adv
- MATH2068 Number Theory and Cryptography
- MATH2069 Discrete Mathematics and Graph Theory; OR MATH2969 Discrete Mathematics and Graph Theory Adv
- MATH2070 Optimisation and Financial Mathematics; OR MATH2970 Optimisation and Financial Mathematics Adv
- MATH2916 Working Seminar A (SSP)
- MATH2917 Working Seminar B (SSP)
- MATH2968 Algebra (Advanced)

(iii) At least 24 credit points of senior units of study selected from the following:

- MATH3061 Geometry and Topology
- MATH3062 Algebra; OR MATH3962 Rings, Fields and Galois Theory (Adv)
- MATH3063 Differential Equations and Biomaths; OR MATH3963 Differential Equations and Biomaths (Adv)
- MATH3065 Logic and Foundations
- MATH3067 Information and Coding Theory
- MATH3068 Analysis
- MATH3075 Financial Mathematics; OR MATH3975 Financial Mathematics (Advanced)
- MATH3076 Mathematical Computing; OR MATH3976 Mathematical Computing (Advanced)
- MATH3078 PDEs and Waves; OR MATH3978 PDEs and Waves (Advanced)

Faculty resolutions for undergraduate degrees

These Resolutions must be read in conjunction with the University of Sydney (Coursework) Rule 2000 (as amended), which sets out the requirements for all coursework courses, and the relevant Resolutions of the Senate.

(section 1)

Bachelor of Commerce and related combined degree programs

Bachelor of Commerce

1. Units of study
1.1 The units of study which may be taken for the pass degree are set out under the tables of undergraduate units of study in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook, together with:
1.1.1 designation as junior, intermediate, senior or honours level;
1.1.2 credit point value;
1.1.3 the units of study with which they are mutually exclusive;
1.1.4 the semesters in which they are offered;
1.1.5 corequisites/prerequisites/assumed learning/assumed knowledge;
1.1.6 the faculty responsible for the unit of study; and
1.1.7 any special conditions.

2. Requirements for the Bachelor of Commerce
2.1 To qualify for the award of the pass degree, a student must complete successfully units of study amounting to a total of 144 credit points, comprising:
2.1.1 11 core units of study (comprising 42 junior and 24 senior credit points), as specified in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook; and
2.1.2 either a major (minimum of 36 senior credit points) or an extended major (minimum of 48 senior credit points), comprising units of study as specified in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook, from one of the following subject areas:
2.1.2.1 Accounting;
2.1.2.2 Business Information Systems;
2.1.2.3 Commercial Law;
2.1.2.4 Econometrics;
2.1.2.5 Economics;
2.1.2.6 Finance;
2.1.2.7 Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management;
2.1.2.8 International Business;
2.1.2.9 Management;
2.1.2.10 Management Decision Sciences; or
2.1.2.11 Marketing.
2.1.3 no more than 60 credit points of junior units of study; and
2.1.4 no more than 48 credit points of junior units of study from another Faculty of the University.

3. Requirements for the combined degrees
3.1 To qualify for the award of the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Science, or the Bachelor of Engineering and Bachelor of Commerce degrees, a student must complete the requirements specified in the Faculty Resolutions relating to these combined award courses.

4. Requirements for the honours degree
4.1 The Bachelor of Commerce may be awarded either with honours in any one of the subject areas where honours units are listed below in the Tables of undergraduate units of study Faculty of Economics and Business or, as approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business, and with joint honours in two of these subject areas.
4.2 Honours may also be awarded in any other area offered by another Faculty of the University, as approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business.
4.3 To qualify for the award of the honours degree a student must complete successfully an additional year of study (the honours year), as specified in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook.

4.4 To enrol in the honours year, a student must satisfy the following:
4.4.1 successful completion of the requirements for the pass degree;
4.4.2 confirmation of the student's eligibility for entry to the honours year from the relevant Discipline(s)/Department;
4.4.3 any other requirements for entry into the honours year set by the relevant Discipline(s)/Department and the Faculty of Economics and Business, unless otherwise approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business.

4.5 The classes for the award of honours are specified in the following table:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Mark range</th>
</tr>

*Please Note. This is a minimum criterion only, other criteria apply.

5. Award of Bachelor of Commerce
5.1 The Bachelor of Commerce may be awarded in two grades, namely pass and honours.
5.1.1 The testamur for the pass degree shall specify the major(s) completed.
5.1.2 The testamur for the honours degree shall specify the subject area(s) and the grade of honours. It shall not include majors.

Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Arts

Participating faculties:Faculty of Arts and Faculty of Economics and Business

These Resolutions must be read in conjunction with the University of Sydney (Coursework) Rule 2000 (as amended), which sets out the requirements for all coursework courses, and the relevant Faculty Resolutions.

1. Cross-faculty management of the combined award course
1.1 The Faculty of Economics and Business is the primary Faculty for management for the combined award course.
1.2 The Deans of the Faculty of Economics and Business and the Faculty of Arts shall jointly exercise authority in any matter concerning the combined award course not otherwise dealt with in these Resolutions.

2. Units of study
2.1 The units of study which may be taken for the combined award course are set out under the Table of undergraduate units of study in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook, and the Table of units of study in the Faculty of Arts Handbook together with:
2.1.1 designation as junior, senior or honours level;
2.1.2 credit point value;
2.1.3 the units of study with which they are mutually exclusive;
2.1.4 the semesters in which they are offered;
2.1.5 corequisites/prerequisites/assumed learning/assumed knowledge;
2.1.6 the faculty responsible for the unit of study; and
2.1.7 any special conditions.
Faculty resolutions for undergraduate degrees

3. Requirements for the Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Arts

3.1 To qualify for the award of the pass degree a student must complete successfully units of study amounting to a total of 240 credit points (but no more than 96 credit points of junior units of study), including:

In the Faculty of Economics and Business:

3.1.1 at least 96 credit points (minimum of 48 senior credit points) of units of study from the Table of undergraduate units of study – Faculty of Economics and Business, which must include:

3.1.1.1 seven core units of study (comprising 36 junior and 6 senior credit points), as specified by the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook; and

3.1.1.2 either a major (minimum of 36 senior credit points) or an extended major (minimum of 38 senior credit points), comprising units of study as specified in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook, from one of the following subject areas:

3.1.1.2.1 Accounting;
3.1.1.2.2 Business Information Systems;
3.1.1.2.3 Commercial Law;
3.1.1.2.4 Economometrics;
3.1.1.2.5 Economics;
3.1.1.2.6 Finance;
3.1.1.2.7 Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management;
3.1.1.2.8 International Business;
3.1.1.2.9 Management;
3.1.1.2.10 Management Decision Sciences; or
3.1.1.2.11 Marketing.

In the Faculty of Arts:

3.1.2 at least 72 credit points of senior units of study from Part A of the Table of units of study for the Bachelor of Arts (see the Table of undergraduate units of study – Faculty of Arts in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook), which must include:

3.1.2.1 a major (minimum of 36 senior credit points), comprising units of study as specified in the Faculty of Arts Handbook, from one of the following subject areas:

3.1.2.1.1 Aboriginal Studies;
3.1.2.1.2 Ancient History;
3.1.2.1.3 Anthropology;
3.1.2.1.4 Arab World, Islam and the Middle East;
3.1.2.1.5 Arabic Language and Literature;

6.2.1 The testamur for the honours degree shall specify the subject area(s) and the grade of honours.

6.2.2 It shall not include majors.

Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor of Laws

1. These Resolutions must be read in conjunction with the University of Sydney (Coursework) Rule 2000 (as amended), which sets out the requirements for all coursework courses, and the relevant Resolutions of the Senate.

2. Cross-faculty management of the combined award course

2.1 Students will be under the general supervision of the Faculty of Economics and Business until the end of the semester in which they complete the requirements for the Bachelor of International Studies and then they will then be under the general supervision of the Faculty of Law.

2.2 The Deans of the Faculty of Economics and Business and the Faculty of Law shall jointly exercise authority in any matter concerning the combined award course not otherwise dealt with in these resolutions.

3. Units of study

3.1 The units of study which may be taken for the Bachelor of International Studies are set out under the Tables of undergraduate units of study in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook, together with:

3.1.1 designation as junior, senior or honours level;

3.1.2 credit point value;

3.1.3 the units of study with which they are mutually exclusive;
Faculty resolutions for undergraduate degrees

3.1.4 the semesters in which they are offered;
3.1.5 corequisites/prerequisites/assumed learning/assumed knowledge;
3.1.6 the faculty responsible for the unit of study; and
3.1.7 any special conditions.

3.2 The units of study which may be taken by the Bachelor of Laws are set out under the Tables of undergraduate units of study in the Faculty of Law Handbook together with:
3.2.1 designation as compulsory or optional;
3.2.2 credit point value;
3.2.3 the units of study with which they are mutually exclusive;
3.2.4 the semesters in which they are offered;
3.2.5 corequisites/prerequisites/assumed learning/assumed knowledge;
3.2.6 any special conditions.

4. Requirements for the Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor of Law

4.1 To qualify for the award of the pass degree a student must complete successfully units of study amounting to a total of 240 credit points, including:
4.2 To qualify for the award of the Bachelor of International Studies degree a student must complete successfully units of study amounting to a total of 144 credit points, including:
4.2.1 Ten core units of study (comprising 24 junior and 36 senior credit points) in International Studies, as specified in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook;
4.2.2 Six additional units of study (36 credit points) from Tables 2, 3 and 4 in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook;
4.2.3 10 compulsory units of study (48 credit points) in Law, as specified in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook; and
4.2.4 no more than 48 credit points of junior units of study from Tables 2.3 and 4.

4.3 To qualify for the degree of Bachelor of Laws (LLB), in the Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor of Laws combined degree program a student must complete units of study to the value of 144 credit points, made up of the following:

4.3.1 96 credit points of the compulsory units of study, which includes the 48 credit points of LAWS units of study listed below in 3.5.1 and counted towards the Bachelor of International Studies;
4.3.2 48 credit points of the optional units of study, as specified in the Faculty of Law Handbook, that must include:
4.3.2.1 a maximum of 40 credit points from the units of study listed in Part One of the Undergraduate units of study table, and
4.3.2.2 a minimum of 8 credit points from the units of study listed in Part Two of the Undergraduate units of study table.

4.4 Candidates in International Studies / Law may credit the following subjects to both the Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor of Laws.

4.4.1 Foundations of Law
4.4.2 Torts
4.4.3 Contracts
4.4.4 Torts and Contracts II
4.4.5 Processes of Justice
4.4.6 The Legal Profession

4.6 Except with the permission of the Dean or Associate Dean (Undergraduate) of the Faculty of Law, candidates in a Combined Law program must successfully complete Foundations of Law before enrolling in any other Bachelor of Laws units of study.

4.7 Students must complete the requirements for the Bachelor of International Studies before proceeding to the Bachelor of Laws (unless they have permission from the Faculty of Law stating otherwise).

5. Requirements for the award of honours

5.1 Both the Bachelor of International Studies and the Bachelor of Laws may be awarded with honours.

5.2 To qualify for the award of honours in the Bachelor of International Studies a student must complete successfully an additional year of study (the honours year), as specified in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook.

5.2.1 students who qualify to undertake the honours year may elect to do so either:

5.2.1.1 by suspending candidature from the Bachelor of Laws (including the combined International Studies/Laws award course) for one year with the permission of the Faculty of Law; or 5.2.1.2 after completion of the combined award course.

5.2.2 The Bachelor of International Studies may be awarded with honours in any subject area approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business.

5.2.3 To enrol in the honours year, a student must satisfy the following:

5.2.3.1 successful completion of the requirements for the pass degree;
5.2.3.2 confirmation of the student’s eligibility for entry to the honours year from the relevant Discipline(s)/Department; and
5.2.3.3 any other requirements for entry into the honours year set by the relevant Discipline/Department and the Faculty of Economics and Business, unless otherwise approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business.

5.2.4 The classes for the award of honours in the Bachelor of International Studies are specified in the following table:

<thead>
<tr>

*Please note: This is a minimum criterion only, other criteria apply.

5.3.1 Honours in the Bachelor of Laws may be awarded in two classes: Class I and Class II

5.3.2 To qualify for the award of honours in the Bachelor of Laws students must obtain the following WAM across all Law units,
2. A student may not enrol in more than 24 credit points in any year. An honours year is not required.

3. First class honours are awarded to students who obtain an average mark of 75 per cent or higher (weighted in accordance with the credit points for each unit of study).

4. Second class honours are awarded to students who obtain an average mark of between 70 per cent and 74.9 per cent (weighted in accordance with the credit points for each unit of study).

5. Students who qualify for the award of first class honours, and whose work is of outstanding merit in the opinion of the Faculty, may be considered for the award of a University medal.

6. An honours year is not required.

6. Award of Bachelor of International Studies and Bachelor of Laws

1. A student who completes the requirements for the Bachelor of International Studies and the Bachelor of Laws shall receive at graduation a separate testamur for each of the degrees.

2. The Bachelor of International Studies and the Bachelor of Laws may be awarded in two grades, namely pass and honours.

3. The testamur for the pass degree of Bachelor of International Studies shall specify the major(s) completed.

4. The testamur for the Bachelor of International Studies with honours shall specify the subject area(s) and the class of honours. It shall not include majors.

5. The testamur for the Bachelor of Laws with honours shall specify the class of honours.

6. Students may abandon the combined award course and elect to complete the Bachelor of International Studies in accordance with the resolutions governing this award course.

1. Details of units of study

1.1 The units of study which may be taken for the degrees administered by the Faculty of Economics and Business are set out under the Tables of undergraduate units of study in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook.

1.2 Senior units of study may not be counted to more than one major or extended major.

2. Enrolment in more/less than minimum load

2.1 A student must enrol in at least one unit of study per semester.

2.2 A student may not enrol in more than 24 credit points in any one semester, unless granted permission to do so by the Faculty.

2.3 A student who wishes to change majors may only do so if all award course requirements can be completed within the specified limits.

2.4 A student may not enrol in more than two units of study in any one summer or winter session, unless granted permission by the Faculty.

2.5 A student wishing to undertake units of study additional to the award course requirements must enrol as a non-award student.

3. Cross-institutional study

3.1 The Faculty of Economics and Business may permit a student to complete a unit of study at another university or institution and have that unit of study credited to the student's award course.

3.2 Approval for cross-institutional study is at the discretion of the Faculty of Economics and Business and is conditional on a student satisfying Faculty of Economics and Business requirements.

3.3 Students should consult the Faculty of Economics and Business Student Information Office for information on Faculty of Economics and Business requirements.

4. Restrictions on enrolment

4.1 A student who has completed a unit of study towards the requirements of a degree may not re-enrol in that unit of study.

4.2 A student may not enrol in any unit of study which overlaps substantially in content with a unit of study already completed, or for which credit or exemption has been granted towards the degree requirements.

5. Discontinuation of enrolment

5.1 A student seeking a total discontinuation of enrolment in a degree must lodge an application to discontinue the award course with the Faculty of Economics and Business Student Information Office by the relevant census date.

6. Suspension of candidature

6.1 A student seeking to suspend enrolment in a degree must lodge an application for a 'leave of absence' from the award course with the Faculty of Economics and Business Student Information Office by the relevant census date.

7. Re-enrolment after an absence

7.1 A student wishing to return to study after a 'leave of absence' must notify the Faculty of Economics and Business Student Information Office in writing three months prior to the commencement of semester.

8. Satisfactory progress

8.1 A student will be asked to show good cause as to why re-enrolment in the Faculty of Economics and Business should be allowed, if a student fails to pass at least half of the enrolled units of study in any given year.

8.2 Where the Faculty of Economics and Business permits the re-enrolment of a student whose progress was deemed unsatisfactory, the Faculty of Economics and Business may place restrictions on the number and type of units of study in which the student may re-enrol and may also require the completion of specified units of study in a specified time. If a student does not comply with these conditions the student may again be asked to show good cause.

9. Time limit

9.1 A student must complete all the requirements for an award course within ten calendar years of commencement of the award.

10. Assessment policy

10.1 Examination and assessment are conducted in accordance with the policies and directions of the Academic Board.

10.2 The Faculty of Economics and Business does not award Pass Concessional (PCon) grades, nor does it recognise Pass Concessional grades awarded by other faculties.

10.3 The Faculty of Economics and Business does not hold supplementary examinations.

10.3.1 The Faculty of Economics and Business may allow a further assessment in a unit of study, in accordance with the Faculty of Economics and Business guidelines on special consideration.

10.3.2 A student who is absent from a further assessment may be deemed to have failed that assessment.

11. Credit transfer policy

11.1 At the discretion of the Faculty of Economics and Business, credit for units of study completed at another institution (including those approved as cross-institutional study) may be granted towards a student's University of Sydney award course, if:

67
11.1.1 the units of study have not been counted towards another degree that has been, or is to be, conferred*; and 11.1.2 the Faculty of Economics and Business is satisfied that a student has completed units of study of a substantially similar nature.
11.2 Notwithstanding any credit granted on the basis of work completed or prior learning in another degree at the University of Sydney or in another institution, in order to qualify for an award course a student must complete a minimum of the equivalent of two full-time semesters of the degree at the University.
* The Faculty of Science may grant limited credit for units counted towards a conferred degree, however eligibility is restricted to students enrolled in the combined Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Science.

12. Admission to the honours year
12.1 A student may enrol in the honours year only on completion of the requirements for the pass degree and on satisfying any other entry requirements for the honours year.
12.2 A student who has been awarded the pass degree at a recognised institution may subsequently be admitted to an honours unit of study and may qualify for the award of honours upon completion of such additional requirements in such time as the Faculty may decide, provided that such a student may only be admitted to candidature for an honours year up to six consecutive semesters after the award of the pass degree.

13. Transitional arrangements for students who commenced their award course prior to 2006
13.1 Wherever reasonable, students will be permitted to graduate from their award course under the Faculty Resolutions current at the time of transition to standardisation.
13.2 The Faculty of Economics and Business will provide extension units of study to the value of two credit points each to enable students to meet the course under the pre-2006 Faculty
Resolutions requirements of their award
13.2.1 Enrolment in extension units is at the discretion of the Faculty of Economics and Business.
13.2.2 Extension units will be available up until, and including,
Semester 2, 2008.
The Faculty website (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/ugunits) contains the most up to date information on unit of study availability and other requirements. Timetabling information for 2007 is also available on this website (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/timetable).

Biochemistry

For a major in Biochemistry, the minimum requirement is 24 credit points from senior units of study listed in this subject area.

Intermediate units of study

- At least one additional unit from A or B or C or BINF3101. BINF3101 cannot be credited to the major together with SOFT3300 or SOFT3600.

Senior units of study

- At least one of SOFT3300 or SOFT3600 or SOFT3301 or SOFT3601.

For further information on how to prepare for a major in Bioinformatics, please consult the Faculty of Science’s web page (http://www.science.usyd.edu.au/educatedcourse).

Bioinformatics major (A) units of study

- At least one of BIOL3027 or BIO3092 or BCHM3992.

For a major in Bioinformatics, students must complete a minimum of 24 credit points from senior units of study in the Life Sciences, Statistics, and Computer Science including:-

- (A) At least one of BIOL3027 or BIO3092 or BCHM3992.
- (B) At least one of STAT3012 or STAT3919 or STAT3014 or STAT3914.
- (C) At least one of SOFT3300 or SOFT3600 or SOFT3301 or SOFT3601.
- (D) At least one additional unit from A or B or C or BINF3101. BINF3101 cannot be credited to the major together with SOFT3300 or SOFT3600.

For a major in Bioinformatics, students must complete a minimum of 24 credit points from senior units of study in the Life Sciences, Statistics, and Computer Science including:-

1. Bioinformatics and Genomics
   - N BIOL3027: This unit of study is recommended for third year students enrolled in the BSc (Bioinformatics) degree.

For a major in chemistry, the minimum requirement is 24 credit points from senior units of study listed in this subject area, which must include the associated laboratory entries.

Junior units of study

CHEM1001
Fundamentals of Chemistry 1A

- A: There is no assumed knowledge of chemistry for this unit of study, but students who have not undertaken an HSC chemistry course are strongly advised to complete a chemistry bridging course before lectures commence.
- P: 6 credit points of MBLG
- C: Not required
- N: CHEM1101, CHEM1901, CHEM1903, CHEM1909
- Semester: 1

CHEM1002
Fundamentals of Chemistry 1B

- A: CHEM (1001 or 1101) or equivalent
- P: CHEM (1102 or 1902) or CHEM (1101 or 1901) or CHEM (1909 or 1919)
- C: Not required
- N: CHEM1102, CHEM1108, CHEM1902, CHEM1904, CHEM1908
- Semester: 2

CHEM1101
Chemistry 1A

- A: HSC Chemistry and Mathematics
- P: CHEM (1101 or 1901) or a Distinction in CHEM1101 or equivalent
- C: CHEM1102, CHEM1108, CHEM1902, CHEM1904, CHEM1908
- N: CHEM1001, CHEM1901, CHEM1903, CHEM1909
- Semester: 1

Chemistry 1B

- A: HSC Chemistry and Mathematics
- P: CHEM (1101 or 1901) or a Distinction in CHEM1101 or equivalent
- C: CHEM1102, CHEM1108, CHEM1902, CHEM1904, CHEM1908
- N: CHEM1001, CHEM1901, CHEM1903, CHEM1909
- Semester: 1

CHEM1901
Chemistry 1A (Advanced)

- A: UAI of at least 96.4 and HSC Chemistry result in band 5 or 6, or Distinction or better in a University level Chemistry unit, or by invitation
- P: CHEM (1102 or 1902) or CHEM (1101 or 1901) or CHEM (1909 or 1919)
- C: Recommended concurrent unit of study: 6 credit points of Junior Mathematics
- N: CHEM1001, CHEM1101, CHEM1109, CHEM1903, CHEM1909
- Semester: 2

CHEM1902
Chemistry 1B (Advanced)

- A: UAI of at least 98.7 and HSC Chemistry result in Band 6
- P: CHEM (1901 or 1903) or Distinction in CHEM1101 or equivalent
- C: Recommended concurrent unit of study: 6 credit points of Junior Mathematics
- N: CHEM1001, CHEM1101, CHEM1109, CHEM1903, CHEM1909

Nanoscience and Technology

A major in Nanoscience and Technology requires 24 credit points of study at senior level taken from the following:

- Materials Chemistry (CHEM3112 or CHEM3111)
- Membranes, Self-Assembly & Surfaces (CHEM3116 or 3916)
- Senior physics units containing the Nanoscience lecture module (PHYS3034/3954, 3055/3955 or 3057/3957)
- Quantum Mechanics, Condensed Matter and Physics Laboratory (PHYS3062/3962)
- Mechanics of Solids 2 (MECH3361)
- Materials (MECH3362)
- Membranes, Self-Assembly & Surfaces (CHEM3001 or 3916)
- Senior physics units containing the Nanoscience lecture module (PHYS3034/3954, 3055/3955 or 3057/3957)
- Quantum Mechanics, Condensed Matter and Physics Laboratory (PHYS3062/3962)
- Mechanics of Solids 2 (MECH3361)
- Materials (MECH3362)

Neuroscience

For a major in Neuroscience, students are required to complete at least 24 credit points of the senior elective units of study listed below.

Intermediate elective units of study

Intermediate units should be chosen from the following units of study: ANAT2010 is strongly recommended. ANAT2010, MBLG2071/2971 or MBLG2072/2972, MBLG2071, MBLG2072

- PHYS3057 Nanoscience/Thermodynamic/Biol.Phys 6
- PHYS3957 Nanoscience/Thermodynamic/Biol/Phys(Adv) 6
- PHYS3062 Quantum/Cond Matter Physics & Lab 6
- PHYS3962 Quantum/Cond Matter Physics & Lab (Adv) 6
- MECH3361 Mechanics of Solids 2 6
- MECH3362 Materials 2 6

Senior elective units of study

For a major in Neuroscience, 24 credit points must be chosen from any of the following units: PCOL3022/3922, NEUR3001/3901, NEUR3002/3902, NEUR3003/3903, NEUR3004/3904, PSYC3011, PSYC3013, PSYC3014

At least two subject areas must be chosen from NEUR, PSYC and PCOL.

- PCOL3022 Neuropharmacology 6
- PCOL3922 Neuropharmacology (Advanced) 6

Psychology

For a major in Psychology, the minimum requirement is 48 credit points across intermediate and senior psychology\(^*\) units of study including PSYC (2111 or 2011), PSYC (2112 or 2012), PSYC (2113 or 2013) and PSYC (2114 or 2014). No other intermediate psychology units can be counted towards the major. You must complete at least 24 (30 for BPsych) credit points of Senior Psychology for a major. The senior units must include at least one of PSYC3011, 3012, 3013 and 3014. Students who want to be eligible for entry to the Honours or GDS 4th year programs must also include PSYC3010.

\(^*\)Note: HPSC3203 Psychology & Psychiatry: History & Phil is available for senior Psychology students and will count towards a major in Psychology. Successful completion of this unit of study is essential for students intending to take the Theoretical Thesis option in Psychology Honours.

Study in other Faculties

A total of 48 credit points of units of study from non-Science discipline areas may be counted towards the Bachelor of Science degree. Students should consult the Handbooks from other faculties to determine any prerequisites, corequisites or other requirements relating to enrolment in units of study offered by departments in these faculties. Students may not enrol in Concepts and Issues in Physical Science (PHYS1600) or General Statistical Methods 1 (STAT1021) or General Statistical Methods 2 (STAT1022) or Econometrics first year units, or any other unit of study deemed mutually exclusive with units of study listed in this Table. Students enrolled in the combined BSc/BCom program may enrol in Econometrics 1A (ECMT1010). Students may not enrol in LAWS units of study, unless enrolled in the combined BSc/Llb degree.

Economics and Business units of study

Accounting

Junior units of study

ACCT1001 Accounting IA

- Credit points: 6
  - Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Dec
  - Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week
  - Prohibitions: ACCT1003, ACCT1004
  - Assumed knowledge: HSC Mathematics
  - Assessment: Quiz; Mid-semester examination; Tutorial and research assignments; Practice Set; Final examination
  - Note: Restricted entry

Introduces accounting and the double entry system of financial recording. Students are introduced to the skills necessary to prepare, interpret and analyse financial statements. Examines assumptions underlying the preparation of financial statements for external users. Development of skills necessary to understand, discuss, analyse and write about accounting-related topics. Designed as an introduction to accounting. No prior knowledge of accounting assumed.

ACCT1002 Accounting IB

- Credit points: 6
  - Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
  - Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week
  - Prerequisites: ACCT1001
  - Prohibitions: ACCT1003, ACCT1004
  - Assessment: Homework task and worked examples; Group project; Mid-semester examination; Final examination
  - Note: Restricted entry

Accounting is about the recording, classification, reporting and interpretation of information to help make economic decisions. Accounting 1A introduces accounting and the double entry system for financial recording. Accounting 1B develops themes and competencies learnt in Accounting 1A. The primary focus of this unit of study is on conceptual and technical issues relating to management accounting and the information required by internal users to make strategic and operational decisions relating to managing a business.
A second theme is the financial accounting information businesses are required to produce to assess a firm’s financial state and performance. Students examine how commercial and ethical issues affect business decisions and how there are present and future consequences that will affect different groups of interest.

ACCT1003 Financial Accounting Concepts

- Credit points: 6
  - Session: Semester 1
  - Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week
  - Prohibitions: ACCT1001, ACCT1002
  - Assessment: Group assignments; Mid-semester examination; Final examination.
  - Note: Terminating unit.

Provides an introduction to the concepts underlying "external" accounting and is designed for students who are not majoring in accounting. The unit utilises a transaction-effect approach to the preparation of financial statements with basic bookkeeping minimised. Accounting-method choices are analysed for their effect on the financial statements, and, thus, on decision-making.

ACCT1004 Management Accounting Concepts

- Credit points: 6
  - Session: Semester 2
  - Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week
  - Prohibitions: ACCT1001, ACCT1002
  - Assessment: Quizzes; Assignment; Presentation; Final examination.
  - Note: Terminating unit.

This unit is designed to explain how managers use accounting information, with an emphasis on identifying relevant accounting information for decision-making. Topics include: estimating cost functions, relevant costing, cost allocation, budgeting, short and long term decision making and managing within a changing environment.

ACCT1551 Accounting Exchange

- Credit points: 6
  - Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
  - Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Senior units of study

ACCT2011 Financial Accounting A

- Credit points: 6
  - Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Dec
  - Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week
  - Prerequisites: ACCT1001 and ACCT1002 and ECMT1010
  - Prohibitions: ACCT2001
  - Assessment: Presentation; Quizzes; Tutorial participation; Research project; Mid-semester examination; Final examination.

This unit examines the accounting and reporting practices of reporting entities, particularly listed public companies. Emphasis is placed on developing an understanding of, and the ability to critically evaluate, the various regulatory requirements (professional and statutory) governing financial reporting. The unit commences with an overview of the financial reporting environment and theories that seek to explain the accounting policy choices of management. This framework provides a basis for examining a range of specific issues in financial accounting. Emphasis throughout the unit is on both the application of specific accounting techniques/rules and the conceptual/theoretical issues associated with alternative accounting methods.

ACCT2012
Management Accounting A
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week.
Prerequisites: ACCT1001 and ACCT1002
Prohibitions: ACCT2002
Assessment: Quizzes; case study assignment; tutorial participation; presentation; final examination.

This course provides students with an introduction to the basics of management/cost accounting. Areas specifically covered include: cost terms and purposes, cost behaviour, cost-volume-profit analysis, cost estimation, basic and alternative product costing methods (including activity-based costing), detailed study of the mechanics of the budgeting process (master budgets, flexible budgets, standard costing and variance analysis), decision making using relevant costs/revenues and cost allocation.

ACCT2551
Accounting Exchange
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

ACCT2552
Accounting Exchange
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

ACCT3011
Financial Accounting B
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week.
Prerequisites: ACCT2011 or ACCT2001
Prohibitions: ACCT3001
Assessment: Mid-semester examination; group project; final examination.

This unit aims to deepen students' appreciation of the role and impact of accounting, and their ability to critically evaluate current issues in accounting regulation and practice. It also provides students with an understanding of the issues and a working knowledge of the techniques that relate to certain advanced topics in financial reporting. Topics include accounting for a company's investments in shares including investments in subsidiaries and associates and hedge accounting including a number of related disclosures, both compulsory and voluntary.

ACCT3012
Management Accounting B
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2, Summer Dec
Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week.
Prerequisites: ACCT1001 and ACCT1002 and (ACCT2012 or ACCT2002)
Prohibitions: ACCT3002
Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Tutorial work/participation; Presentation; Essay; Final examination.
Note: Discipline Permission required for students who haven't passed ACCT2012 or ACCT2002

Management Accounting B deals with the theory and practice of a selection of contemporary management accounting issues. The course begins by examining the influences that impact upon the design of an organisation and its management accounting system. Behavioural factors, rather than technical factors, are highlighted and a range of organisational settings and management levels are reviewed. The unit then examines advanced issues relevant to operational management accounting. While this section of the course builds on the foundations laid in Management Accounting A, the focus remains on the behavioural implications of accounting techniques for making decisions in organisations.

ACCT3013
Financial Statement Analysis
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week.
Prerequisites: (ACCT2011 or ACCT2001) and (FINC2011 or FINC2001)
Prohibitions: ACCT3003
Assessment: Tutorial participation; Group case studies; Final examination.

Although the appropriate 'form' of financial analysis depends largely on the specific context (e.g. equity investment, credit extension, analysis of supplier/customer health, competitor analysis, regulatory overview or intervention, valuation for takeover/restructuring), many of the techniques of financial analysis are common to each. A primary purpose of this course is to develop an understanding of these techniques, as well as the inherent difficulties in their application. Specific issues addressed include the analysis of business performance and disclosure, the analysis of earnings quality, cash flow assessment, credit worthiness and accounting-based valuation methods.

ACCT3014
Auditing and Assurance
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main
Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week.
Prerequisites: ACCT3011 or ACCT3001
Prohibitions: ACCT3004
Assessment: Planning Project; Group assignment; Mid-semester; Final examination.

This unit of study examines the process of auditing and the concepts which underlie the practice. Although the focus of attention is on audits of financial reports undertaken in compliance with the Corporation Act 2001, reference is also made to other forms of audit and assurance. The course is intended to provide an overview of the audit process as it exists in Australia under legally enforceable Auditing Standards. The course is both practical and theoretical, with students required to apply their knowledge to discussing case studies developed from practice as well as selected Australian companies.

International Corporate Governance
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week.
Prerequisites: ACCT2011 or ACCT2001
Assessment: Group assignments; Mid-semester quiz; Final examination.

This unit seeks to develop students' ability to understand and critically evaluate the principles of corporate governance and how they are applied in Australia and internationally. Topics include, governance structures - an international perspective; governance arrangements and external and internal stakeholders. Japanese and European systems; governance in Asia; western governance - legal framework; control of the modern corporation; operations of a Board; role of board sub-committees; Boards and the development or endorsement of strategies; measuring and rewarding performance; corporate governance and financial reporting; corporate governance and the audit process.

ACCT3032
Current Issues in Management Accounting
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week.
Prerequisites: ACCT2012 or ACCT2002
Assessment: Continuous assessment and Final examination.

This unit builds on the fundamentals of management accounting practice (ACCT2012) by introducing a series of advanced management accounting topics such as strategic management accounting, innovation and change in management accounting and designing management accounting systems for new organizational forms. In addition, this unit relaxes the hitherto held assumption that management accounting works in a world characterised by certainty and rationality and instead shows that management accounting more often operates in a world characterised by fuzziness and ambiguity. This real-world view requires students to develop their judgemental skills and to adopt a more critical and reflective approach that challenges their beliefs about how management accounting works in practice.

ACCT3098
Accounting Honours Preparation A
Credit points: 3
Session: Semester 1
Classes: One 1.5 hour seminar per week.
Corequisites: ACCT2001
Assessment: Seminar participation; Paper summaries; Paper presentation; Essay; Research Proposal
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
Note: Enrolment is by invitation only and will require a distinction average in ACCT units attempted [or be at the discretion of the Chair of Discipline on the recommendation of the Honours Coordinator].
The purpose of this unit of study is to prepare students for entry to the fourth year honours program in accounting. As such, this unit of study has been designed to: first, extend the substantive knowledge of students in relation to financial accounting by examining emerging/advanced issues in relation to theory and practice; second, introduce students to different ways of conducting accounting research, considering extant research mobilising a variety of epistemologies and research methods; and, third, assist students to identify potential topic areas for research and appropriate research questions. The course will be based on a series of readings drawn from the accounting research literature.

ACCT3099
Accounting Honours Preparation B
Credit points: 3
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: One 1.5 hour seminar per week
Prerequisites: ACCT2012 or ACCT2002
Corequisites: ACCT3012
Assessment: Class participation; Proposal
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
Note: Enrolment is by invitation only and will require a distinction average in ACCT units attempted [or be at the discretion of the Chair of Discipline on the recommendation of the Honours Coordinator].

Honours year units of study

ACCT4103
Accounting Honours C
Credit points: 12
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Prerequisites: ACCT2003, INFS2000
Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Group project; Final examination
Prohibitions: ISYS1003, INFO1000, INFO1003, INFO1903

ACCT4104
Accounting Honours D
Credit points: 12
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Prerequisites: ACCT2003, INFS2000
Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Group project; Final examination
Prohibitions: ISYS1003, INFO1000, INFO1003, INFO1903

ACCT4101
Accounting Honours A
Credit points: 12
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Prerequisites: Bachelor of Commerce, major in ACCT with Credit average overall and a distinction average for second and third year units in Accounting
Assessment: Course work; Thesis
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
Note: Requirements for the pass degree must be completed before entry to level 4000 honours units of study

Honours study within the Discipline is directed at: (i) increasing students’ analytic and constructive skills beyond the level acquired in undergraduate Pass level units; (ii) providing a foundation for the conduct of applied research in accounting; and (iii) conducting research in the form of a research report. These skills are developed through the completion of an additional (fourth) year of study that may be either a full- or a part-time basis, though the former is more common.

ACCT4102
Accounting Honours B
Credit points: 12
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Prerequisites: B Com, major in ACCT with Credit average overall and a Distinction average for second and third year units in Accounting
Corequisites: ACCT4101
Assessment: Course work; Thesis
See ACCT4101

Business Information Systems

INF5100
Business Information Systems Foundations
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main
Classes: Three hours per week
Prohibitions: ISYS1003, INFO1000, INFO1003, INFO1903
Assessment: Tutorial work; participation; Individual project; Group project; Final examination

The Information Age, with its focus on information as a key business resource, has changed the way Business Information Systems (BIS) are viewed in organisations. In previous years, people approached BIS primarily as a tool to increase efficiency, either by cutting costs, time or energy spent. In the information age, however, the role of BIS is different it is an enabler of innovation and a tool for getting the right information into the hands of the right people at the right time. This unit focuses on how businesses operate and shows how business information systems support business operations and management. Students are provided with an introduction to BIS theories, frameworks and models to assist in understanding the nature and contribution of BIS in a range of organisational contexts including private, public and not for profit.

INF5151
Business Information Systems Exchange
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Note: Department permission required for enrolment

Senior units of study

INF52001
Business Information Systems
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Prerequisites: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: (INF5100 or INFO1000 or INFO1003 or INFO1903 or ISYS1003) and (ACCT1001 or ACCT1004)
Prohibitions: ACCT2003, INF52000
Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Group project; Final examination

This unit is designed to help you understand the firm’s information environment from the perspective of users, evaluators and designers and how business processes impact on the appropriateness of information system design. It will raise your awareness of managers’ professional and legal responsibility for the design, operation and control of business information system applications, as it pertains to business events narrowly defined as accounting transactions. You will learn how to integrate both accounting and non-accounting functions to support the information needs of all users in a modern organization and how to mitigate risks associated with a loss of control.
You will gain knowledge of approaches and methodologies used in design, including structured design, computer aided software engineering and prototyping.

INFS2010
Managing Information & Knowledge Assets
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INFS1000 or INFO1000 or INFO1003 or INFO1903 or ISYS1003
Prohibitions: INFS3015 Assumed knowledge: INFS2001 Assessment: Individual project; Case study; Final examination

Organisations and individuals are often overwhelmed by the amount and diversity of digital information they need (or are required by law) to manage and maintain. This unit introduces you to the concepts of information, content and knowledge management and the systems that enable the acquisition, storage and distribution of business information, an understanding of which is crucial for your role as a future business manager. Adopting a sociotechnical systems design approach, you will develop your understanding of the theory and practical skills required to effectively design and deliver Web content to different kinds of users in a variety of formats. Specific emphasis is placed on the design of usable, scalable, standards-based Web information resources.

INFS2020
Business Process Integration & Modelling
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INFS1000 or INFO1000 or INFO1003 or INFO1903 or ISYS1003
Prohibitions: INFS2005 Assumed knowledge: INFS2001 Assessment: Individual project; Final examination

This unit provides an overview of business process analysis, design and integration from the management perspective in the context of integrated information systems and inter-enterprise integration models. It equips students with high level skills and knowledge required to carry out analysis and redesign of business processes facilitating efficient convergence of technology and business. Building on the basic knowledge of business information systems and transactional processing cycles developed from other units, this unit provides students a higher level process modelling, analysis and optimisation skills necessary in process-centred organisations. This unit views the functioning of business from a holistic and integrated perspective rather than from a simple functional perspective.

INFS2030
e-Commerce Business Models
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INFS1000 or INFO1000 or INFO1003 or INFO1903 or ISYS1003
Prohibitions: ACCT3006, INFS3020 Assessment: Tutorial participation; Mid-semester examination; Individual project; Final examination

This unit will provide you with a detailed overview of the concepts and processes used in doing business electronically in the new digital economy and e-business era. These concepts and tools will enable you to analyse, evaluate, synthesise and implement e-commerce business models. Importantly, this unit will provide the critical link between technologies and the firm's performance and takes a business management perspective in teaching and learning. The emphasis is on the way technologies enable the business and its effective management, rather than the technologies.

Honours year units of study

INFS4101
Business Information Systems Honours A
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Bachelor of Commerce major in Business Information Systems with a Credit average overall and a Distinction average for second and third year units in Business Information Systems.
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
Note: Requirements for the Pass degree must be completed before entry to 4000 level honours units of study.

This unit is part of the Honours in Business Information Systems. The unit is intended to ensure that students have a sound grounding in research philosophy as is relevant to Business Information Systems. The unit is designed to develop a foundation for developing your knowledge and skills as researchers throughout the Honours year. While the core will remain constant the focus of this unit may vary given the research requirements and interests of the students taking the unit.

Business Information Systems Honours B
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Bachelor of Commerce major in Business Information Systems with a credit average overall and a distinction average for second and third year units in Business Information Systems. Corequisites: INFS4101

This unit will ensure that you have a solid understanding of contemporary issues in BIS. You will analyse critical industry issues and evaluate the theoretical contributions that are available to address these issues. You will have the opportunity to explore your own research interests and issues of concern to theory and practice.

Business Information Systems Honours C
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Bachelor of Commerce major in Business Information Systems with a Credit average overall and a Distinction average for second and third year units in Business Information Systems. Corequisites: INFS4102

This unit will ensure that you have a solid grounding in research methods of particular concern to BIS. You will develop skills required for data collection, analysis and presentation as well as for the preparation and presentation of a BIS thesis. The knowledge you will acquire complements the Research Philosophy knowledge and skills acquired in BIS Honours A. You will have the opportunity to explore your own research interests.

Business Information Systems Honours D
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Bachelor of Commerce major in Business Information Systems with a credit average overall and a Distinction average for second and third year units in Business Information Systems. Corequisites: INFS4103

This unit will ensure that you have a solid grounding in the management of BIS at a strategic level. It will help you develop an understanding of strategic BIS planning, implementation and evaluation at organisational and inter-organisational levels. You will explore the potential impact of BIS in industry transformation. The unit provides you with opportunities to explore your own research interests.

Business Law

Junior units of study

CLAW1001
Commercial Transactions A
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Assessment: Exam, Mid-Semester Test, Tutorial Assessment, Case Analysis

This unit of study is concerned with the fundamental elements of business law. It commences with an overview of the Australian legal system (sources of law, parliament, courts, statutory interpretation, doctrine of precedent), including an examination of those provisions in the Commonwealth Constitution relevant to business and commercial activities. The unit continues with a detailed study of those aspects of the law of contract that underlie all commercial transactions and are the essence of commercial law (formation of contract, terms of a contract, factors affecting the validity and enforcement of contracts, termination, remedies for breach of contract). Some aspects of the law of agency, criminal law and the law of torts (in particular, negligence and negligent misstatement) are introduced. The unit concludes with an examination of some of the key provisions of the Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth) including those relating to misleading and deceptive conduct and manufacturers' liability.

CLAW1002
Commercial Transactions B
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: CLAW1001 Assessment: Final exam, tutorial participation, optional mid semester exam, optional tutorial hand in, optional assignment

Commerce today covers a diverse range of items - from securities to patents and all forms of property in between. An understanding of what the forms of property are and how to gain or sell an interest is essential to everything from tax through marketing to e-commerce. This unit provides a detailed overview of the types of property found in standard commercial transactions and the methods for acquiring or divesting an entity with an interest in that property. The unit focuses on all forms of personal property including intellectual property and real property (land). Students will gain both an understanding of the transactions and the property as well as analytical skills in assessing and working out problems and case studies to do with commercial property.

CLAW2001
Corporations Law
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week.
Prerequisites: CLAW1001
Prohibitions: CLAW2001
Assessment:
Class participation, Take home assignment, Final examination

This unit begins with a brief comparison of business entities, especially partnership. The concept and process of incorporation are examined. Company finance, both equity and debt finance, and the maintenance of the company's share capital will be studied as well as the topics of accounts, auditors, and companies in financial difficulty. The management of companies and directors' duties will be explored as well as the rights and remedies of company shareholders. Company takeovers, prospectus provisions and securities regulation are studied in depth in the elective, CLAW2203 Stock Markets and Derivatives Law.

CLAW2002
Bankruptcy and Insolvency
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week.
Prerequisites: CLAW2201 or CLAW2001
Prohibitions: CLAW2002
Assessment: Test, Assignment, Tutorial Work, Final Exam.

This unit is concerned with the law relating to the bankruptcy of individuals and corporate insolvency. In relation to bankruptcy, it explores the mechanisms by which formal bankruptcy may occur and, the role of the trustee and creditors. It goes on to examine arrangements with creditors outside formal bankruptcy (debt agreements, personal insolvency agreements). In the case of corporate insolvency the areas examined include: receivers and other controllers, voluntary administration and deeds of company arrangement, schemes of arrangement and winding up. Other issues discussed include group insolvency and cross border insolvency.

CLAW2203
Stock Markets and Derivatives Law
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week.
Prerequisites: CLAW2201 or CLAW2001
Prohibitions: CLAW2003
Assessment: Assignment;Tutorial work and participation; Final examination

This unit begins with a study of the powers of the Australian Securities and Investment Commission with reference to recent ASIC investigations. The functions of the Australian Stock Exchange and those of securities dealers and investment advisers are examined as well as the relationship between broker and client. The market offences of market manipulation and insider trading are explored. Public funding of companies and prospectus provisions are studied along with the liability of officers and independent experts concerning the prospectus. The topic of mergers and acquisitions examines acquisitions, relevant interests, takeover schemes and announcements, and the liability of parties to a takeover. Derivatives will also be studied.

CLAW2204
Banking and Finance Law
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week.
Prerequisites: CLAW1001
Prohibitions: CLAW2004
Assessment: Tests; Assignments

Students are introduced to the regulatory structure and its impact on banking practice. The relationship between banker and customer and the duties of the parties are analysed. Issues relating to risk management and abuse of banking and financial transactions are discussed. Payment instruments such as bills of exchange, cheques and letters of credit are also examined. Students will become familiar with the legal structure, relationships and liabilities of parties in syndicated lending and securitisation.

CLAW2205
Trade Practices and Consumer Law
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week.
Prerequisites: CLAW1001
Prohibitions: CLAW2005, CLAW3005, MKTG3005
Assessment: Test; Assignment; Tutorial work; Final exam

This unit is concerned with the provisions in the Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth) dealing with restrictive trade practices, unconscionable conduct and consumer protection. Topics to be studied in depth include: anti-competitive agreements, misuse of market power, exclusive dealing, resale price maintenance, mergers and acquisitions, misleading or deceptive conduct, unfair practices, product safety and product information, conditions and warranties in consumer transactions, liability of manufacturers and importers and unconscionable conduct. Comparable state legislation is also studied.

CLAW2206
Legal Issues for e-Commerce
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main
Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week.
Prerequisites: Any 8 full semester first year units of study
Prohibitions: CLAW2006
Assessment:
Literature review, Business report, optional essay, optional assignment, optional online participation

Commerce and business in an electronic environment has arrived and is in constant use. This unit focuses on the transactional and financial aspects of electronic commerce. The unit includes detailed coverage of legal aspects of electronic finance - Internet banking and digital cash and cards, electronic trade; contracts and digital signatures, taxation of electronic commerce and electronic property issues; copyright, patents and trade marks for digital property. The unit assumes no previous legal training or knowledge of the electronic media. The unit also covers basic introductory legal skills such as legal research, writing and citation as well as an introduction to electronic commerce, the history and operation of the Internet and major tools used in electronic commerce.

CLAW2207
Legal Ethics and the Professions
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week.
Prerequisites: CLAW1001
Prohibitions: CLAW2007
Assessment: Research Paper, Class work, Examination

This unit begins with an analysis of three major ethical philosophies: utilitarianism, duty based ethics and virtue ethics. Practical models based upon these philosophies will be studied here and applied throughout the unit. The significance of ethics to the major professions in the business world is the primary focus of this unit of study. Case studies will be used to examine the consequences for the stakeholders (those affected directly and indirectly) of decisions made by professionals. The professions studied include: accountants, auditors, business information system managers, lawyers, company officers such as directors and other executives, and marketing managers. The unit aims to assist students understand and apply ethics to their future professional life.

CLAW3201
Australian Taxation System
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: CLAW2201 or CLAW2001
Prohibitions: CLAW3001 Assessment: Tutorial assessment; Mid semester test, Final exam

This unit is an introduction to taxation law. It commences with an overview of the Australian tax system, discusses contemporary tax issues and then deals with specific topics, viz. basis of liability to Australian income tax, concepts of residence and source of income, meaning of income, tax accounting, statutory concepts of income, taxation of fringe benefits, basis of liability to capital gains tax and allowable deductions. It concludes with a study of the general antiavoidance sections.

CLAW3202
Tax Strategies in a Business Environment
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: (CLAW2001 or CLAW2001) and (CLAW3201 or CLAW3001) Prohibitions: CLAW3002 Assessment: Tutorial assessment; Mid semester test, Case Analysis; Final exam

This unit deals with taxation issues in a business environment. In addition to income tax, the Goods and Services Tax is studied. The following topics are included: trading stock, capital allowances, taxation of partnerships and trusts including the application of capital gains tax to interests in these entities, carry forward of losses, taxation of companies, dividend imputation tax, capital gains tax application to shares and other interests in companies, intellectual property, collection of income tax instalments, amendment of assessments, objections and appeals, taxation of non-residents, withholding tax, foreign tax credits, international tax treaties, profit shifting and tax avoidance. The unit emphasises business tax planning issues.

CLAW3203
Research and Reasoning for Business Law
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One three hour seminar per week Prerequisites: (CLAW1001) Assessment: Essay / article (40 per cent); Reflective diary (20 per cent); Assignments, participation etc to be determined by consensus among the students during the first seminar (40 per cent).

The unit will introduce students to some of the fundamentals of legal reasoning and thought, to the basic sources and processes of legal research, and to some basic forms of legal writing. The full range of legal research skills is introduced, including both hard-copy research skills and computer-assisted legal research skills in primary and secondary materials. Students will use a full range of legal databases and other sources. The legal reasoning skills taught include rule-based reasoning, analogical reasoning, factual analysis, synthesizing and distinguishing, critical analysis and the use of policy. Students will be able to apply this knowledge to case studies by organising an argument and communicating that argument in writing (applied) and to critically evaluate legal rules and theories in light of legal norms and wider theories (theoretical). The unit is open to academically successful students. It is particularly suitable for those contemplating honours. It will assist students wishing to increase their legal research, writing and analytical skills.

Honours year units of study

CLAW4101
Commercial Law Honours A
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: By seminar as arranged Prerequisites: By Application- Contact honours coordinator Assessment: May include seminar participation; seminar paper; case analysis; research paper; take home examination
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
Note: Requirements for the Pass degree must be completed before entry to level 4000 honours units of study

Honours study is directed at: (i) increasing students' analytic/constructive skills beyond the level acquired in undergraduate pass level units; (ii) providing a foundation for the conduct of applied research in law; and (iii) conducting research in the form of a research report. These skills are developed through the completion of an additional (fourth) year of study that may otherwise be a full- or a part-time basis, though the former is more common.

CLAW4102
Commercial Law Honours B
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Corequisites: CLAW4101 Assessment: see CLAW4101

This unit of study is part of the Honours program in Commercial Law. The unit covers commercial law issues. The unit is intended to ensure students have a sound grounding in general commercial law areas including the legal system, contract and consumer law, trade practices and competition law and employment and industrial law. The unit will vary depending on the needs and interests of the students taking this unit. While the core will remain the same the focus will vary given the research interests of the students taking the unit. Throughout the unit, legal research skills are integrated into the program. Student will learn to research both primary and secondary materials during the contract law topic. Basic reading and writing skills are emphasised throughout the course. Legal research and study skills will be covered early in the unit.

CLAW4103
Commercial Law Honours C
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Corequisites: CLAW4102 Assessment: see CLAW4101

This unit of study examines the various types of business entities such as partnership, company and joint venture. Several issues are current in company law: the concept of a separate legal entity for the company; directors' duties; ethical issues; independence of auditors; the role and power of the regulator, ASIC; and the disclosure regime. The topic of corporate collapse will be examined in relation to directors' duties and creditors rights. The unit is research based and students will be given research assignments relevant to these topics.

CLAW4104
Commercial Law Honours D
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Corequisites: CLAW4103 Assessment: see CLAW4101

This unit of study is part of the Honours program in Commercial Law. The unit covers a wide range of issues dealing with tax policy. The unit is intended to ensure students develop the ability to read widely in the discipline, critically analyse the material read and apply that knowledge in formulating their own conclusions to the questions posed. The unit will vary depending on the needs and interests of the students taking the unit. While the core will remain the same the focus will vary given the research interests of the students taking the unit. Students will be encouraged and supported to attend relevant seminars given by visiting tax scholars and to keep abreast of current policy initiatives. Throughout the unit, legal research skills are integrated into the program. Student will learn to research both primary and secondary materials during the course. Basic reading and writing skills are emphasised throughout the course. Legal research and study skills will be covered early in the unit.
Econometrics and Business Statistics

ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A
Credit points: 6; Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main; Classes: 3 hours per week; Prohibitions: ECMT1011, ECMT1012, ECMT1013, MATH1915, MATH1905, MATH1905, STAT1021; Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Exams; Assignment

This unit provides an introduction to basic statistics and its applications in economics and business disciplines. Topics include: methods for data management; analysis and interpretation of data; probability; the normal distribution; an introduction to sampling theory and hypothesis testing; and the concepts of regression analysis. A key component is the provision of instruction and experience in the use of computers and statistical software as an aid in the analysis of data. Students are expected to use data resources on the World Wide Web, retrieve data and analyse this data using Excel.

ECMT1020 Business and Economic Statistics B
Credit points: 6; Session: Semester 2; Classes: 3 hours per week; Corequisites: ECMT1010; Prohibitions: ECMT1021, ECMT1022, ECMT1023; Assessment: Two quizzes; Tutorial questions; Mid-semester examination; Assignment; Final exam

Note: Other than in exceptional circumstances, it is strongly recommended that students do not undertake Business and Economic Statistics B before attempting Business and Economic Statistics A.

This unit broadens the knowledge gained in the unit, ECMT1010 Business and Economic Statistics A by introducing further tools (and their applications) for use in economics, finance, marketing and accounting. This unit features practical applications. Possible topics include: further aspects of hypothesis testing including goodness-of-fit models; regression analysis including a brief introduction to logit models, time series and its applications to economics and finance; input-output analysis; index numbers and mathematics of finance. The material is further complemented by mathematical topics including matrices and partial differentiation. In addition, students are expected to use data resources on the World Wide Web, retrieve data and analyse this data using Excel.

ECMT1551 Econometrics Exchange
Credit points: 6; Session: Semester 1, Semester 2; Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Senior units of study

ECMT2110 Regression Modelling
Credit points: 6; Session: Semester 1; Classes: 3 hours per week; Prerequisites: ECMT1010; Prohibitions: ECMT2110; Assessment: Workbooks; Project; Mid-semester exam; Final exam

Students undertaking this unit have some background in basic statistics including an introduction to regression analysis. Using this knowledge as a base, an extensive discussion of basic regression theory and some of its extensions is provided. The unit covers how linear regression models can be applied to data to estimate relationships, to forecast, and to test hypotheses that arise in economics and business. Guidelines for using econometric techniques effectively are discussed and students are introduced to the process of model building. It is essential that the discussion of regression modelling be complemented with practice in analysing data. An important task is the computing component using econometric software.

ECMT2120 Analysis of Discrete Choice Data
Credit points: 6; Session: Semester 2; Classes: 3 hours per week; Prerequisites: ECMT2110 or ECMT2010; Prohibitions: ECMT2021; Assessment: Mid-semester exam, Final exam, Assignment

Data that are qualitative or discrete present particular problems for data analysts. What influences an individual to work part-time rather than full-time, or use public transport rather than drive to work, or to choose one brand of detergent over another? Why do certain firms choose a particular accounting procedure over another? In these examples of modelling choice data, standard linear regression models are inappropriate. This unit considers the specification, estimation and use of statistical models that are necessary to analyse such questions. These may include the logit, probit and multinomial logit models. Special emphasis is placed on illustrating the appropriate application of such models using case studies and data drawn from marketing, accounting, finance and economics.

ECMT2130 Financial Econometrics
Credit points: 6; Session: Semester 2; Classes: 3 hours per week; Prerequisites: ECMT2110 or ECMT2010; Prohibitions: ECMT2030; Assessment: Two assignments; Final exam

Over the last decade econometric modelling of financial data has become an important part of the operations of merchant banks and major trading houses and a vibrant area of employment for econometricians. This unit provides an introduction to some of the widely used econometric models for financial data and the procedures used to estimate them. Special emphasis is placed upon empirical work and applied analysis of real market data. Topics covered may include the statistical characteristics of financial data, the specification, estimation and testing of asset pricing models, the analysis of high frequency financial data, and the modelling of volatility in financial returns.

ECMT2620 Management Science
Credit points: 6; Session: Semester 2; Classes: 3 hours per week; Prerequisites: ECMT1010 and ECMT1020; Prohibitions: ECMT2720; Assessment: Two assignments; Test; Final exam

Management science is an approach to decision making that is suitable in areas where the manager has little experience or where the problem for decision is complex. It provides an effective decision-making approach to problems important enough to justify the time and effort of quantitative analysis. This unit considers modelling in areas that practising managers might encounter in their roles as decision makers. The intended outcome of the unit is to increase the effectiveness of management decision making. The focus throughout is on practical solutions using readily available spreadsheet software. Topics may include resource allocation, capacity planning, logistics, and project planning.

ECMT2630 Managerial Decision Making
Credit points: 6; Session: Semester 1; Classes: 3 hours per week; Prerequisites: ECMT1010; Prohibitions: ECMT2730; Assessment: Assignment; Class Tests; Final Exam

The course is focused on economic and statistical models of decision analysis and their application in large and small business settings, as well as in a public policy framework. It will be shown how use of the models can improve the decision process by helping the decision-maker understand the structure of the decision; incorporate subjective probabilities as a way to portray risk; measure outcomes in a way that is consistent with attitudes toward risk; and understand the value of information. The importance of sensitivity analysis will be emphasised, as well as the need to combine both quantitative and qualitative considerations in decision-making. Cases will be drawn from small business scenarios, the public policy arena, and corporate settings.

ECMT2901 Econometrics Exchange

Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Note: Department permission required for enrolment .

ECMT3110
Econometric Models and Methods
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1 Classes: 3 hours per week
Prerequisites: ECMT2110 or ECMT2010  Prohibitions: ECMT3010
Assessment: Class test; Assignment; Final exam

This unit extends methods of estimation and testing developed in association with regression analysis to cover econometric models involving special aspects of behaviour and of data. In particular, motivating examples are drawn from dynamic models, panel data and simultaneous equation models. In order to provide the statistical tools to be able to compare alternative methods of estimation and testing, both small sample and asymptotic properties are developed and discussed.

ECMT3120
Applied Econometrics
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week
Prerequisites: ECMT3110 or ECMT3010  Prohibitions: ECMT3020
Assessment: Group assignment; GroupProject; Mid-term test; Final exam

Econometric theory provides techniques to quantify the strength and form of relationships between variables. Applied Econometrics is concerned with the appropriate use of these techniques in practical applications in economics and business. General principles for undertaking applied work are discussed and necessary research skills developed. In particular, the links between econometric models and the underlying substantive knowledge or theory for the application are stressed. Topics will include error correction models, unit roots and cointegration and models for cross section data, including limited dependent variables. Research papers involving empirical research are studied and the unit features all students participating in a group project involving econometric modelling.

ECMT3130
Forecasting for Economics and Business
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week
Prerequisites: ECMT2110 or ECMT2010  Prohibitions: ECMT3030
Assessment: Assignments; One test; Final exam

The need to forecast or predict future values of economic time series arises frequently in many branches of applied economic and commercial work. It is, moreover, a topic which lends itself naturally to econometric and statistical treatment. The specific feature which distinguishes time series from other data is that the order in which the sample is recorded is of relevance. As a result of this, a substantial body of statistical methodology has developed. This unit provides an introduction to methods of time series analysis and forecasting. The material covered is primarily time domain methods designed for a single series and includes the building of linear time series models, the theory and practice of univariate forecasting and the use of regression methods for forecasting. Throughout the unit a balance between theory and practical application is maintained.

ECMT3150
The Econometrics of Financial Markets
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: ECMT2130 or ECMT2030  Prohibitions: ECMT3050
Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Final Exam; Assignment

This unit develops the econometric models and methods employed for the analysis of data arising from the financial markets. It extends and complements the material covered in ECMT2130. The unit will cover econometric models that have proven useful for the analysis of both time series and cross-sectional financial data over the last two decades. Modern statistical methodology will be introduced for the estimation of such models. The econometric models and associated methods of estimation will be applied to the analysis of a number of financial datasets. Students will be encouraged to undertake hands on analysis using an appropriate computing package. Topics covered include continuous time diffusions for financial returns, discrete time financial time series, modelling conditional volatility, multivariate financial econometric models, the econometrics of financial derivatives, modelling of high frequency financial data and contemporary asset pricing. The focus of the unit will be in the econometric models and methods that have been developed recently in the area of financial econometrics.

ECMT3160
Statistical Modelling
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: ECMT2110 or ECMT2010  Prohibitions: ECMT3620, ECMT3720, ECMT3110  Assessment: Assignments; Tests; Final exam

This unit provides an accessible foundation in the principles of probability and mathematical statistics that underlie the statistical techniques employed in the fields of econometrics and management science. These principles are applied to various modelling situations and decision making problems in business and economics.

ECMT3610
Management Science Models and Methods
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: ECMT2620 or ECMT2729  Prohibitions: ECMT3710
Assessment: Four assignments; Two tests; Final exam

This unit presents formulation guidelines for management science models to provide practical assistance to managerial decision making. Optimisation methods are developed so the complexity and limitations of optimisation model categories can be accounted for in model selection and in the interpretation of results. Linear programming methods are developed and extended to cover variations in the management context to logistics, networks, and strategic planning. Decision analysis and competitive structures including hierarchy structures complete a rounded program for managerial application. The unit covers a variety of case studies incorporating commercial research processes for decision support.

ECMT4101
Econometrics Honours A
Credit points: 12  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week
Prerequisites: Students who want to take honours in Econometrics have to: (i) qualify for a major in Econometrics, Management Decision Sciences or Management Science; (ii) obtain a credit average in six semester courses taken in the Discipline of Econometrics and Business Statistics at the 2-3000 level; and (iii) obtain a minimum of a credit in ECMT3110. Variations on entry requirements are possible only with permission of the Chair of Discipline. Please see the discipline online homepage for entry requirements in detail. Note that Econometrics and Business Statistics encourages joint honours with other disciplines. Assessment: Dissertation
Note: Department permission required for enrolment .
Undergraduate units of study

Note: Requirements for the pass degree must be completed before entry to level 4000 honours units of study

The honours year provides basic professional expertise in the general area of econometrics through instruction in advanced theory, and experience in independent research. Honours students are required to (a) complete four semester units of instruction, (b) submit a dissertation not exceeding 65 A4 pages of typescript, and (c) attend and participate in Discipline research seminars. The dissertation topic must be approved by the Discipline and progress reports are to be presented every semester. Candidates must enrol in ECMT4101, ECMT4102, ECMT4103 and ECMT4104 to complete the Honours degree. Please consult the discipline website for details before enrolling in honours.

Economics

Junior units of study

ECON1001
Introductory Microeconomics
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2, Summer Main  Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week  Assumed knowledge: Mathematics  Assessment: Online tests, mid semester exam, final exam

Introductory Microeconomics addresses the economic decisions of individual firms and households and how these interact in markets. It is a compulsory core unit for the Bachelor of Economics and Bachelor of Commerce and an alternative core unit for the Bachelor of Economic and Social Science. Economic issues are pervasive in contemporary Australian society. Introductory Microeconomics introduces students to the language and analytical framework adopted in Economics for the examination of social phenomena and public policy issues. Whatever one's career intentions, coming to grips with economic ideas is essential for understanding society, business and government. Students are given a comprehensive introduction to these ideas and are prepared for the advanced study of microeconomics in subsequent years.

ECON1002
Introductory Macroeconomics
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2, Summer Main  Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week  Assumed knowledge: Mathematics  Assessment: 2 in-class tests, Tutorial Assessment, Final Exam

Introductory Macroeconomics addresses the analysis of the level of employment and economic activity in the economy as a whole. It is a compulsory core unit for the Bachelor of Economics (BEC) and for the Bachelor of Commerce and an alternative core unit for the Bachelor of Economic and Social Science. Introductory Macroeconomics examines the main factors that determine the overall levels of production and employment in the economy, including the influence of government policy and international trade. This analysis enables an exploration of money, interest rates and financial markets, and a deeper examination of inflation, unemployment and economic policy.

Senior units of study

ECOS2001
Intermediate Microeconomics
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2  Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week  Prerequisites: ECON1001  Corequisites: ECMT1010  Prohibitions: ECOS2901, ECOS2902, ECOS2903  Assessment: Tutorials, 2 in-class tests, project, Final Exam  Note: Certain combinations of Maths/Stats may substitute for Econometrics - consult the Chair of the Discipline of Economics.

The aim of Intermediate Microeconomics is the development of theoretical and applied skills in economics. It covers applications and extensions of the theory of consumer choice, firm behaviour and market structure. Emphasis is given to the economics of information and choice under uncertainty; industry structures other than monopoly and perfect competition; markets for factors of production; general equilibrium and economic efficiency; market failure and the role of government. This unit provides a basis for the more specialised options that comprise third year economics.

ECOS2002
Intermediate Macroeconomics
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2  Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week  Prerequisites: ECON1002  Corequisites: ECMT1010  Prohibitions: ECOS2002, ECOS2902, ECOS2903  Assessment: 1 Mid Semester exam, Final exam, Tutorial Paper and Performance
This unit of study develops models of the goods, money and labour markets, examines issues in macroeconomic policy. Macroeconomic relationships, covering consumption, investment, money and employment, are explored in detail. Macro-dynamic relationships, especially those linking inflation and unemployment, are also considered. Exchange rate and open economy macroeconomics are also addressed. In the last part of the unit, topics include the determinants and theories of economic growth, productivity and technology, the dynamics of the business cycle, counter-cyclical policy and the relationship between micro and macro policy in the context of recent Australian experience.

ECOS201 Economics of Competition and Strategy

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: ECON1001
Prohibitions: ECOS2201, ECOS3005
Assessment: 2 mid-semester exams, Final Exam

This course introduces new and comprehensive methods for the analysis and formation of business strategy. The unit analyses strategies for developing competitive advantages, including product differentiation, cost advantages and product life cycles; implementing incentives, control, firm boundaries, and internal firm decision-making mechanisms; implementing pricing, auction and signalling practices; assessing industry attractiveness and the regulatory/trade practices environment; and managing industry cooperation and conflict. Students are taught a set of tools that they can bring to bear on new problems. Understanding competitive dynamics and strategic thinking are emphasised. Case studies and problem-solving form an important part of the teaching method.

ECOS206 Managerial Firms: Evolution & Attributes

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: ECON1001
Prohibitions: ECHS2306, ECOS3003, ECON3003
Assessment: 1 mid-semester exam, assignment & presentation, final exam

The large managerial firm, operating in a number of product and geographic markets and controlled by managers rather than owners, plays a major role in modern economies. Although it is now being challenged by new institutions such as LBOs and strategic alliances, the large managerial firm is itself a recent phenomenon which only began to emerge in the 1880s. This unit of study analyses the development of the large managerial firm since the 1880s, distinguishing between firms in standardised mass production industries and those in industries where technology has changed rapidly since the 1970s. It also distinguishes between managerial firms that emerged in the West with those in Japan. In analysing the attributes of managerial firms in different regimes, the unit focuses on two main issues: the nature of corporate competencies, and the role of imperfect information within managerial firms and markets, alliances, and networks. The unit includes detailed analysis of case studies drawn from the USA, Australia, and Japan.

ECOS251 Economics Exchange

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

ECOS252 Economics Exchange

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

ECOS2901 Intermediate Microeconomics Honours

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: ECON1001 and ECON1002 with a Credit average or better in the two units of study combined
Corequisites: ECOS2903 and ECMT1010 Prohibitions: ECON2901, ECOS2001, ECON2001
Assessment: 2 mid-semester exams, Final Exam
Note: Certain combinations of Maths/Stats may substitute for Econometrics. Consult the Chair of the Discipline of Economics.

This unit is comprised of lectures based upon the curriculum for ECOS2001 Intermediate Microeconomics, supported by a seminar for one hour a week. The content of lectures reflect a more analytical and critical treatment of the topics than ECOS2001. The topics, which build on the theory of consumer and firm behaviour and market structure, include game theory, oligopoly, general equilibrium and welfare, externalities and public goods and the economics of information.

ECOS2902 Intermediate Macroeconomics Honours

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: ECOS2901
Corequisites: ECMT1010 Prohibitions: ECON2902, ECOS2002, ECON2002
Assessment: 3 online quizzes, 7 problem sets, mid-semester exam, Final Exam
Note: Certain combinations of Maths/Stats may substitute for Econometrics. Consult the Chair of the Discipline of Economics.

This unit is comprised of lectures based upon the curriculum for ECOS2002 Intermediate Macroeconomics, supported by a seminar for one hour a week. The content of lectures reflects a more intensive treatment of the topics than ECOS2002. Topics covered include: models of the goods, money and labour markets; macro-economic relationships such as consumption, investment, demand for money and labour demand and supply; macro-economic relationships, especially those linking inflation and unemployment; exchange rates and open economy macroeconomics; theories of economic growth; productivity and technological change; the dynamics of the business cycle; and the relationship between micro- and macro-economic policy.

ECOS3001 Capital and Growth

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: One of (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901 or ECOP2011 or ECP2001) and one of (ECOS2002 or ECON2002) or (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) or (ECOP2012 or ECP2002)
Prohibitions: ECOS3001
Assessment: 2 mid-semester exams, Final Exam

This unit is an introduction to economic growth including its causes and consequences. The role of capital, technological progress, and other determining factors of the development of economies are studied from the point of view of alternative economic theories. The potential effects of growth and structural change on welfare, income distribution, and employment are looked at in the same contexts with some consideration of the empirical evidence. The role of alternative economic policies and economic institutions in promoting growth is also discussed.

ECOS3002 Development Economics

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: One of (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2002 or ECON2002) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901) or (ECOS2902 or ECON2902)
Prohibitions: ECOS3002
Assessment: 2 in-class tests, Final Exam

This unit examines the role of the state, rationale for planning and market mechanisms in developing economies, and also the sociocultural preconditions and economic requirements for a market economy. It focuses on a wide range of developmental problems and issues from both microeconomic and macroeconomic points of view. It closely studies the integration process of the traditional segment of a developing society into its modern counterpart in countries selected from Asia, Africa, Latin America, the Caribbean, and the Pacific regions.

ECOS3003
Hierarchies, Incentives & Firm Structure
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: Either (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901)
Prohibitions: ECON3003 Assessment; 2 mid-semester exams, Final Exam

This unit deals with the coordination and motivation problems faced by firms. More specifically this unit examines: whether firms use price or command mechanisms to allocate resources within firms; the problems associated with designing incentive contracts; the principles of efficient contract design and; the real world applications of those principles. The final section deals with the manner in which the coordination and motivation problems faced by firms determines their financial, vertical and horizontal structure.

ECOS3004
History of Economic Thought
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: one of (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901) or (ECOS2002 or ECON2002) or (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) or (ECOP2011 or ECON2901) or (ECOP2012 or ECON2002)
Prohibitions: ECON3004 Assessment; Essay, 1 mid semester exam, final exam

Where do the current beliefs - theories, doctrines, postulates and attitudes - of modern economics come from? If current theories and doctrines have a definite historical beginning, what schools of thought did they supplant? Are there alternative or dissident views which subsisted alongside mainstream economics in the twentieth century - and if so, what are they and where did they originate from? This unit seeks to answer these questions, as well as others. It provides an overview of the development of economic ideas from the seventeenth to the twentieth century, combined with a more intensive focus on the thought of certain key figures in that history. The particular topics covered include: the formation of economics to 1776; Adam Smith; classical economics from Smith to J.S. Mill; the rise of marginalist economics; John Maynard Keynes; and orthodox and heterodox currents in twentieth century economics.

ECOS3005
Industrial Organisation
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: One of (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901) or (ECOS2002 or ECON2002) or (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) or (ECOP2011 or ECON2901) or (ECOP2012 or ECON2002)
Prohibitions: ECON3005, ECON2201 Assessment; 1 Mid semester exam, final exam, problem sets his unit of study examines the nature of inter-firm rivalry in industries with market power. It explores the various ways in which firms can increase their market power by: extracting more surplus from consumers, by colluding with rivals or by excluding entrants. The unit also analyses the international competitiveness of industries in the context of industry assistance and the prevalence of foreign multinationals. Competition policy is also discussed.

ECOS3006
International Trade
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: Either (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901)
Prohibitions: ECON3006 Assessment; 1 Mid semester exam, final exam

This unit of study provides a systematic analysis of the theory of international trade and trade policy. Initially differences between countries are emphasised as the source of trade and the gains from trade. Models that are examined include the Classical-Ricardian model, the Heckscher-Ohlin model and the Specific-Factors model. Next economics of scale and imperfect competition are introduced as sources of trade and gains from trade. The unit concludes with an examination of empirical studies aimed at testing trade theories. The analysis of trade policy begins with a discussion of the instruments of trade policy, in particular, tariffs and quotas and their effect on welfare. This discussion is then extended to the case of imperfect competition and strategic trade policy.

ECOS3007
International Macroeconomics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: One of (ECOS2002 or ECON2002) or (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) Prohibitions: ECON3007 Assessment; Assignments; 1 Mid-semester exam; Final exam

This unit studies macroeconomic theory and policy in a global trading world. The microfoundations of the various sectors are examined in the context of an open economy. The evolution of international money and capital markets is described, the operation of the foreign exchange market is examined, showing how its microstructure affects its macro performance. Theories and tests of the efficiency of international capital markets are surveyed, as well as core theories and tests of exchange rate and asset price determination. The unit develops the macroeconomic implications of monetary and fiscal policies for small and large open economies for different regimes.

ECOS3008
Labour Economics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: One of (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901) or (ECOS2002 or ECON2002) or (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) or (ECOP2011 or ECON2001) and one of (ECOS2002 or ECON2002) or (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) or (ECOP2012 or ECON2002)
Prohibitions: ECON3008 Assessment; 1 Essay, final exam

This unit aims to provide an understanding of labour markets and related issues such as work conditions, pay and employment levels. Labour supply and demand, theories of wage determination, labour mobility and discrimination are examined. It also analyses the role of trade unions and labour market contracts. These topics are applied to current issues in Australian labour markets such as enterprise bargaining, the role of centralised wage fixing systems, training and other labour market programs. Policies designed to improve the functioning of the labour market are examined and particular attention is given to the problem of persistent unemployment.

ECOS3010
Monetary Economics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: one of (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901) or (ECOS2002 or ECON2002) or (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) or (ECOS2002 or ECON2002) or (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) or (ECOP2012 or ECON2002)
Prohibitions: ECON3010 Assessment; 1 Multiple choice exam, written paper, final exam

This unit provides an overview of the main elements of monetary economics, with emphasis upon macroeconomic issues - analysis of economic processes in which money enters the picture in an essential manner. The content primarily concerns economic principles and theory, but there is also considerable focus on the Australian monetary system and monetary policy in particular. The particular topics covered include: functions of money; the concept of 'liquidity'; money demand; determinants of money supply changes; financial crises and the 'lender of last resort' function of central banking; the Reserve Bank of Australia and the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority; term and risk structures of interest rates; alternative theories of the level of the rate of interest; the monetary policy transmission mechanism; monetary policy instrument choice; central bank credibility; policy reaction functions; the global monetary system; and Reserve Bank market operations.

ECOS3011
Public Finance
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: Either (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901)
Prohibitions: ECON3011 Assessment; 1 mid semester exam, 1 essay; final exam

Public Finance is about the taxing and spending decisions of governments. The unit covers a wide range of public finance topics. After an introduction to welfare economics and the role of government in the economy, the unit focuses on the revenue side of the budget:
tax incidence, efficient and equitable taxation, the Australian system of revenue raising, issues of tax reform and the theory and practice of public utility pricing. It then focuses on the expenditure side of the government budget; public goods, externalities, and programs aimed at redistribution. It also introduces techniques of policy evaluation.

ECOS3012
Strategic Behaviour
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: Either (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECON2901)
Prohibitions: ECON3012 Assessment: 1 mid semester exam, online quizzes, final exam

To think and act strategically, one needs to evaluate the effect of one’s actions on the actions of others. As most economic decisions are strategic, such as the decision to lower a price or introduce a new tax, economics, if it is to avoid simplistic models, requires a theoretical framework capable of illuminating strategic behaviour. This unit offers a comprehensive, critical introduction to the theory which purports, not only to satisfy this theoretical need, but also potentially to unify the social sciences: game theory. After examining important concepts of game theory, the unit investigates the repercussions for the theory of bargaining and for the evolution of social institutions.

ECOS3015
Law and Economics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three lectures per week
Prerequisites: Either (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) OR (ECOS2901 or ECON2901) Prohibitions: ECON3015 Assessment: 1 mid semester, final exam

Law and economics examines the economic role of law and legal institutions on the actions of economic agents. The economic analysis of law is founded on models of human behaviour and examines how decision making is affected by different legal regimes. The behavioral approach gives rise to a set of principles that can be applied widely across disparate areas of the law, and is becoming increasingly important world-wide, as such analysis is often utilized in courts and public policy forums. The unit begins with a revision of relevant tools of economic analysis. Subsequently, it studies the economics of various branches of law such as: property; contract; nuisance; accident and liability law; and, criminal law.

ECOS3020
Special Topic in Economics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: (ECOS2001 or ECON2001) and (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) and (ECMT2110 or ECM52010) Prohibitions: ECON3013 Assessment: Assignments, 1 mid term exam, final exam

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Study of a special topic in Economics. Topics will vary from semester to semester according to staff availability and the presence of visitors. If taught in both semesters, the topic in semester 2 will be different to that of semester 1

ECOS3551
Economics Exchange
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: ECON1001 and ECON1002

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Students wishing to undertake a Study Abroad program must enrol in this unit to receive credit for a unit equivalent to an ECON2000-level subject

ECOS3552
Economics Exchange
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: ECON1001 and ECON1002

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Students wishing to undertake a Study Abroad program must enrol in this unit to receive credit for a unit equivalent to an ECON2000-level subject

ECOS3553
Economics Exchange
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: ECON1001 and ECON1002

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Students wishing to undertake a Study Abroad program must enrol in this unit to receive credit for a unit equivalent to an ECON2000-level subject

ECOS3554
Economics Exchange
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: ECON1001 and ECON1002

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Students wishing to undertake a Study Abroad program must enrol in this unit to receive credit for a unit equivalent to an ECON2000-level subject

ECOS3901
Advanced Microeconomics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: (ECOS2901 or ECON2901) and (ECOS2902 or ECON2902) and (ECOS2903 or ECON2903) with a Credit average or better over the three units combined. Corequisites: ECMT2110 or ECM52010 Prohibitions: ECON3901 Assessment: 1 Mid semester exam, final exam

Note: Students intending to proceed to fourth year economics honours must also complete at least one unit of study from (ECOS3001 or ECON3001) to (ECOS3015 or ECON3015) inclusive

Topics in Microeconomic Analysis (Assessment Weight 2/3): advanced developments in microeconomics. Policy Seminars (Assessment Weight 1/3): approximately 6 two hour seminars on Australian and/or international economic policy issues.

ECOS3902
Advanced Macroeconomics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: (ECOS3901 or ECON3901) and (ECMT2110 or ECM52010) Corequisites: ECOS3902 Prohibitions: ECON3902 Assessment: 1 Mid term exam, final exam

Note: Students intending to proceed to fourth year economics honours must also complete at least one unit of study from (ECOS3001 or ECON3001) to (ECOS3015 or ECON3015) inclusive

Topics in Macroeconomic Analysis (Assessment Weight 2/3): advanced developments in macroeconomics. Policy Seminars (Assessment Weight 1/3): approximately 6 two hour seminars on Australian and/or international economic policy issues.

Honours year units of study

ECON4101
Economics Honours A
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Six lectures per week
Prerequisites: The prerequisite for entry to Economics Honours is at least 24 credit points at 3000 level Economics, including Advanced Microeconomics: (ECOS3901 or ECON3901) and Advanced Macroeconomics (ECOS3902 or ECON3902) with a Credit average or better in ECOS3901 and 3902; and Regression Modelling (ECMT2110 or ECM52010) and Special Topic in Economics (ECOS3002).

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Note: Requirements for the Pass degree must be completed before entry to 4000 level honours units of study.

To complete the requirement for Economics (Honours), students need to complete six semester-length options from a list of options offered and complete a thesis. The list of options available may vary from year to year, but usually include advanced macroeconomics, advanced microeconomics, development economics, economic classics, industrial economics, international economics, labour economics, and public economics. Candidates must enrol in ECON4102, ECON4103 and ECON4104 to complete the honours year.

Finance
Senior units of study
FINC2011 Corporate Finance I
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main, Winter Main Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: ECON1001 and ECON1002 and ECMT1010 and (ACCT1001 or ACCT1003) Prohibitions: FINC2001 Assessment: One 3hr exam, Assignments, Mid-semester test
Note: Study in Finance commences in second year.
This unit provides an introduction to basic concepts in corporate finance and their application to (1) valuation of risky assets including stocks, bonds and entire corporations, (2) pricing of equity securities, and (3) corporate financial policy decisions including dividend, capital structure and risk management policies. An emphasis is placed on the application of ideas and current practices in each of these areas.
FINC2012 Corporate Finance II
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: FINC2011 or FINC2001 Prohibitions: FINC2002 Assessment: One 3hr exam, Assignments, Mid-semester test
This unit builds on FINC2011 Corporate Finance I, by extending basic concepts in corporate financing, investing and risk management. The first half of the unit is devoted to current theories of corporate financing and their practical application in corporate investment and capital budgeting. The second half of the unit examines securities and securities markets with an emphasis on pricing, investment characteristics and, importantly, their use by corporations to manage risk. The securities examined include: bonds and related fixed income products; futures; options; and securities denominated in foreign currencies. The goal of the unit is to broaden students' knowledge of corporate finance in preparation for further study in finance in third year.
FINC2013 Introductory Mathematical Finance
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Additional workshops as required. Prerequisites: FINC2011 or FINC2001 Prohibitions: FINC2004 Assumed knowledge: It is recommended that students reach the level of HSC 3 unit mathematics prior to undertaking the unit. It is also recommended but not required that students either undertake the Maths/Stats major or avail themselves of units offered in mathematics and statistics. Other recommended units providing a useful background include ECOS 2001, ECOS 2901 and ECOS 2903. Assessment: One 3hr exam, Assignments, Mid-semester test.
The principle objective of this unit is to introduce students to the basic elements of mathematical finance. Students are exposed to key areas in the modern theory of finance and corporate financial policy with specific emphasis on their development and treatment from mathematical and statistical foundations. The unit provides necessary mathematical background. Topics that are introduced from a more mathematical perspective include: principles of modern financial valuation and analysis; asset pricing theory and market efficiency; theory of portfolio selection and management; and measurement and management of financial risk.
FINC2192 Finance 2 Honours
Credit points: 3 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Weekly seminar Prerequisites: Credit or higher grade in FINC2001 or FINC2002; competitive and by application Prohibitions: FINC2002 Assessment: Assessment of advanced topics covered Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
This unit develops the conceptual and theoretical foundations of modern finance theory. Students are asked to understand and critique existing theories and to see their connections with other disciplines and with financial industry developments.
FINC2551 Finance Exchange
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Note: Department permission required for enrolment
FINC2552 Finance Exchange
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Note: Department permission required for enrolment
FINC3011 International Financial Management
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: FINC2011 or FINC2001 and FINC2012 or FINC2002 or (FINC2013 or FINC2003) or (FINC2014 or FINC2004) Prohibitions: FINC3001 Assessment: Two 2 hr exams; Project; Assignments
Markets are increasingly globalised. There are very few businesses or industries that are not required to deal with issues such as foreign currency, foreign competition and direct investment. This unit is designed to allow students to extend their understanding of basic principles in finance to an international environment. Globalisation of markets introduces risks but also opens up profitable opportunities. Topics covered include: foreign currency valuation and markets; international parity conditions; measuring and managing foreign exposure; international portfolio management; capital budgeting and foreign direct investment; international tax management and international financing strategy.
FINC3012 Derivative Securities
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: (FINC2011 or FINC2001) and (FINC2012 or FINC2002) or (FINC2013 or FINC2003) or (FINC2014 or FINC2004) Prohibitions: FINC3002 Assumed knowledge: Calculus, regression, probability theory, random distributions. Assessment: One Report/sem; Exams; Assignment
Options, futures and swaps are derivatives of underlying securities such as commodities, equities and bonds. These types of securities are increasingly used to manage risk exposure and as a relatively low-cost-way of taking a position in a security or portfolio. They are also being used as part of senior management compensation as a way of attempting to align the interests of shareholders with that of management. This unit is designed to provide an introduction to this important area of finance without requiring a high level of mathematical sophistication. However, a strong quantitative base is an advantage.
FINC3013 Mergers and Acquisitions
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Additional workshops as required. Prerequisites: (FINC2011 or FINC2001) and (FINC2012 or FINC2002) or (FINC2013 or FINC2003) or (FINC2014 or FINC2004) Prohibitions: FINC3003 Assessment: Final exam, Tutorial work, Project
This unit will provide: an understanding of the economic and strategic drivers of corporate restructuring activity and their use in the design and analysis of restructuring transactions. Understanding of the evaluation of outcomes from restructuring transactions, both the theory based explanations and the empirical tests of the theories. It will develop the ability to identify synergies in a restructuring transaction and use Discounted Cash Flow methods to assign a value to these benefits. A detailed understanding of the design and economic impacts of deal structures used to effect corporate restructuring transactions. A detailed awareness of the process of merger arbitrage and its contribution to outcome of restructuring transactions. An appreciation of the regulatory environment for restructuring transactions and the impact of these regulations on the process and outcomes of restructuring transactions.

FINC3014 Trading and Dealing in Security Markets
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: (FINC2011 or FINC2001) and (FINC2012 or FINC2002) or (FINC2013 or FINC2003) or (FINC2014 or FINC2004) Prohibitions: FINC3004 Assessment: Mid-semester exam; Final exam; Tutorial work; Project

This unit is concerned with the processes which turn orders into trades in securities markets, and the forces which mould and affect both order flow and order execution. The unit is an introduction to some fundamental market design and structure ideas. At the end of the unit, students should be able to understand (1) how the international markets for foreign exchange, swaps, bonds and equities are organised, (2) how trading is conducted in these markets and how these transactions are cleared, (3) how the markets are regulated, if they are supervised and what risks different counterparties face in these markets. The unit aims to equip students to independently analyse international investment and financing alternatives and to estimate expected returns and costs taking into account liquidity risk, price volatility and credit risk.

FINC3015 Financial Valuation: Case Study Approach
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hours of lectures per week; One workshop session (not every week) Prerequisites: (FINC2011 or FINC2001) and (FINC2012 or FINC2002) or (FINC2013 or FINC2003) or (FINC2014 or FINC2004) Prohibitions: FINC3005 Assessment: Case study, Workshop work, Exam, Small project

This unit applies all aspects of finance theory to the general problem of valuing companies and other financial assets. This requires a synthesis of the concepts of present value, cost of capital, security valuation, asset pricing models, optimal capital structures and some related accounting concepts. The subject aims to reach a level of practical application that allows students to understand both the theoretical frameworks and institutional conventions of real world corporate valuations.

FINC3017 Investments and Portfolio Management
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: (FINC2011 or FINC2001) and (FINC2012 or FINC2002) or (FINC2013 or FINC2003) or (FINC2014 or FINC2004) Prohibitions: FINC3007

This unit is designed to provide a comprehensive analytical approach to the modern theory of investments. Topics covered include: the valuation of bonds and stocks; mean-variance analysis; Markowitz type portfolio analysis; duration and convexity analysis; term structure of interest rates; option pricing; portfolio insurance; performance evaluation; and forecasting. Basic statistics and probability concepts are reviewed at the beginning to ensure that all students have adequate understanding. Although analytical aspects of investments theory are stressed, there is also an equal amount of emphasis on the intuitive as well as practical aspects of the subject.

FINC3018 Bank Financial Management
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: (FINC2011 or FINC2001) and (FINC2012 or FINC2002) or (FINC2013 or FINC2003) or (FINC2014 or FINC2004) and (ECOS2001 or ECN2001) or (ECOS2901 or ECN2901) and (ECOS2002 or ECN2002) or (ECOS2902 or ECN2902) Prohibitions: FINC3008

The central objective of this unit is to expose students to the basic principles of commercial bank management. The topics that are covered include: the theory and practice of banking from a financial management perspective; banks and the financial services industry; regulatory restrictions and financial management; performance analysis and strategic planning; asset management and liquidity; investment and loan management; liability and deposit management; capital structure and dividend decisions; and financial management implications of electronic banking, international banking, and other developments.

FINC3193 Finance 3 Honours (Corporate Finance)
Credit points: 3 Session: Semester 1 Classes: A weekly workshop/seminar Prerequisites: Credit or higher grade in (FINC2011 or FINC2001) and (FINC2012 or FINC2002) or (FINC2013 or FINC2003) or (FINC2014 or FINC2004) and (FINC2192 or FINC2092) or with the permission of the Discipline of Finance. Prohibitions: FINC3093 Assessment: Seminar presentation; Project; Exam

This unit deals with more advanced aspects of information transfers between interested parties and modelling of corporate issues such as productivity, remuneration and value.

FINC3194 Finance 3 Honours (Securities Markets)
Credit points: 3 Session: Semester 2 Classes: A weekly workshop/seminar Prerequisites: Credit or higher grade in (FINC2011 or FINC2001) and (FINC2012 or FINC2002) or (FINC2013 or FINC2003) or (FINC2014 or FINC2004) and (FINC2192 or FINC2092) or with the permission of the Discipline of Finance. Prohibitions: FINC3094 Assessment: Presentation; Assignment; Exam

The unit considers who trades, why they trade and how trading takes place. It examines how technology and regulatory changes affect trading behaviour. The unit introduces students to market microstructure research. By studying and critiquing the academic literature, students become familiar with the research questions which have examined and research methods used. This allows students to develop the necessary skills to design and undertake their own research projects in the honours year.

Honours year units of study
FINC4101 Finance Honours A
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: (FINC2192 or FINC2092) and (FINC3193 or FINC3093) and (FINC3194 or FINC3094) with the grade of Credit or better in at least two, or with the permission of the Head of Discipline.

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Note: Requirements for the Pass degree must be completed before entry to level 4000 honours units of study.

The honours program in Finance is directed at producing extremely high quality graduates who are capable of undertaking research in finance, either via an advanced research degree at the Master's or PhD level or in the financial community in technical/research-related positions requiring both a high level of analytical skills and an ability to work independently. Graduates are highly sought by investment banking, stockbroking, funds management and management consulting firms. Actual offerings in any year depend on staff availability. With approval, the equivalent of a semester unit can be taken from other disciplines or faculties. Students are required to write a research report in the style of an academic article but with a more extensive literature review. Candidates are encouraged to undertake research of an original nature and of publishable quality. Typically the subject areas relate to securities market micro-structure, investments and corporate finance, as these are the areas in which the Discipline has expertise and supervisory skills. Students who have completed majors in both Finance and Accounting, Finance and Econometrics, Finance and Economics or Finance and Marketing, and who are eligible to undertake fourth year honours programs in at least one discipline area of their two majors, may be eligible to undertake joint honours programs, subject to the approval of the Honours Coordinator in both disciplines. Candidates must enrol in FINC4102, FINC4103 and FINC4104 to complete the honours year.

Junior units of study

GOVT1101
Australian Politics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week Assessment: Essay; Exam; Participation; Paper

This unit introduces students to debates about the nature and limits of Australian democracy, to the major institutions of Australian politics, and to the distribution of power in Australian society. Major institutions and forces such as parliament, executive government, the federal system, political parties and the media are examined as arenas of power, conflict and consensus. Who rules? How? Which groups are excluded?

GOVT1104
Power in Society
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week Assessment: Critical Reading Exercises; Participation; Case Study; Exam

This unit provides an introduction to the study of politics through a focus on the key organising principle of political science: power. Different ways in which power is theorised and structured are considered, not with the intention of presenting a universal theory or theories, but rather to find some connections and extensions amongst a wide variety of experiences of political power. In particular this unit considers the way power operates in Australian society in relation to political decision making. The unit draws on case studies in order to combine the study of key political ideas and concepts with practical examples from our daily lives (e.g. diet, transport, drugs, clothing, etc.).

GOVT1105
Geopolitics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week Assessment: Critical reading and bibliographic assignments; essay; exam; tutorial participation

This unit will examine how the contemporary international political order has emerged by focusing upon the interplay of diplomatic and strategic issues in the post-war world. It will begin with an analysis of the Cold War and its origins, tracing the development of Soviet-American rivalry, its manifestations in Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America, and the different ways in which that rivalry was played out. The collapse of the Soviet Union as both a superpower and a state and the disappearance of the communist bloc will be analysed, before surveying the post-Cold War international scene. Among the issues reviewed in the post-Cold War era will be the question of US hegemony and unilaterlism vs. multilateralism, nuclear proliferation, the continuing tension between the first and the third worlds, questions of civilizational conflict, non-state actors and terrorism, democratisation, and regional conflict.

GOVT1102
World Politics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week Assessment: Assignment; Essay; Exam; Participation

This unit introduces the core content of the field of international relations. The first part of the unit presents the realist, liberal, Marxist and constructivist paradigms of international relations. The second part of the unit discusses the key actors and processes political scientists define in the field, including the state, decision makers, bureaucratic organisations, and classes. The final part of the unit focuses on international security, international political economy, and global problems.

GOVT1609
Ethnicity, Nationalism and Citizenship
Credit points: 6 Session: S1 Intensive, Summer Main Classes: The unit includes 26 hours of lectures and twelve hours of tutorials for each student. Assessment: Essay; exam; and participation.

Note: Department permission required for enrolment in the following sessions: S1 Intensive

This introductory unit considers political identities against the backdrop of rapid political transformation. Lectures will examine the relationships between ethnicity, nationalism and citizenship in the contemporary world. The discussions are based on the seminal works of writers such as Anderson, Brubaker, Gellner, Kohn and Smith. The students will be asked to consider how ethnicity and nationalism affect, in a world of split loyalties and volatile relationships, statehood and citizenship; how the former relate to class, race, nation, state and civilization; and why the end of the cold war-rewritten as a triumph of liberalism-experience a resurgence of ethno-nationalism rather than civic-nationalism. Having debated these issues, the students will consider whether trends in globalization (migration, revolution in communication, diaspora, etc.) make matters better or worse.

Senior units of study

GOVT2111 Human Rights and Australian Politics
Credit points: 6 Session: S1 Intensive, Summer Main Classes: 3 hours per week (May include a combination of lectures and tutorials) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2101 Assessment: Essay; group project; exam; and participation.

This unit introduces students to the notion of human rights, outlines international human rights enforcement mechanisms and the application of human rights standards in Australia. Throughout the course we consider the evolution of human rights in Australia and raise questions about the adequacy of Australia's existing human rights machinery. We examine the reasons behind recent UN criticism of Australian government policies toward the indigenous Australians, women and refugees and assess responses to this criticism. We also consider current legislative changes to combat terrorism and consider the implications of these changes on Australia's civil rights.

GOVT2116 Australian Foreign and Defence Policy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include a combination of lectures and tutorials) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2106 Assessment: Essay; tutorial presentation; group image; exam.

This unit examines Australia's external relations through its foreign and defence policies since federation. It will begin with an overview of the theoretical tools for studying foreign policy and the institutions of Australia's external relations, followed by an historical overview of 'Continuity and Change' in Australia's foreign and defence policies over the past millennium. Key regional and international relationships will be analysed, as will Australia's response to contemporary global issues such as human rights; the War on Terror; the environment; and nuclear affairs. The unit will conclude with a discussion on identity and Australia's place in the world today.

GOVT2119 Southeast Asia: Dilemmas of Development
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include a combination of lectures and tutorials) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: ECHS2303, GOVT2109 Assessment: Essay; tutorial presentation and participation; mid-semester exam; end-of-semester exam.

Until the 1997 East Asian economic/financial crisis, Southeast Asia was acclaimed as one of the most dynamic and rapidly growing regional economies in the Asia-Pacific sphere. Not surprisingly, the region has attracted enormous interest from social scientists and the wider business community in Australia. However, there is limited consensus about the causes for the region's economic performance and socio-political trajectory during the 'boom' and 'post-boom' years. This course aims to place the region's economic experiences and socio-political changes within a broader historical and comparative context. Such an approach allows us to better appreciate the economic continuities, understand the major socio-political dilemmas and changing patterns of development.

GOVT2210 International Risk Analysis
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include one or more of the following: lectures, seminars, tutorials or workshops) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2310 Assessment: Essay; tutorial presentation; exam.

This unit is an introduction to the theory and application of international risk analysis, with special emphasis on the emerging-market economies of the Asia-Pacific region: India, Thailand, Vietnam, China, South Korea, the Philippines, Malaysia, and Indonesia. It will provide students with a comprehensive grounding in the background and development of risk analysis for international enterprise and public sector agencies, and to survey some of the most significant tools, concepts, and problems encountered by risk professionals. Students will then use these tools to undertake a simulation exercises in either country or project risk analysis and consultancy.

GOVT2221 Politics of International Economic Reels
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include a combination of lectures and tutorials) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2201 Assessment: Exam; essay; tutorial presentation; tutorial participation.

This unit will provide an overview of four major theoretical approaches to international political economy and how these apply to understanding the practice of international economic relations throughout the developing world. These theories are: economic nationalism, liberalism, neo-Marxism and poststructuralism. The unit analyses the theory and practice of economic relations by and between states, by applying each of the four main theories to developing country regions. In this way the student becomes acquainted with the theory and practice of economic development.

GOVT2225 International Security in 21st Century
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include a combination of lectures and tutorials) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2205 Assessment: Exam, Participation and Essay.

This unit introduces the theoretical foundations, essential concepts and central issues in the field of international security. It provides students with analytical tools to understand and participate in current debates concerning security and threats. The first part of the unit provides an introduction to the theoretical interpretations of international security. The second part, discusses security phenomena, problems and strategies, including the coercive use of force, deterrence, guerrilla and counterinsurgency, nuclear stability, proliferation of weapons of mass destruction, crisis management, arms races and disarmament, security cooperation and security regimes. The discussion in this part includes a critical review of the dilemmas, strategies, and solutions in each of the issue areas.

GOVT2226 International Organisations
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include a combination of lectures and tutorials) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2206 Assessment: Policy paper; exam; participation.

International Organisations is a survey of both the range of institutions created in response to various economic, security and environmental challenges faced by states and other actors in the global system, and some of the most prominent theories aimed at explaining them. The course will be arranged around a series of case studies of particular issue areas, from international peacekeeping, to the regulation of multinational corporations, and the struggle to slow global warming. More broadly the course will questions whether international organisations are instruments of or rivals to sovereign states, and whether they reflect the hegemony of the West, solutions to international collective problems, or agents of new transnational communities.

GOVT2228 Environmental Politics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include a combination of lectures and tutorials) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2208 Assessment: Essay; final exam; participation; critical reading notebook. Note: This unit is available as a designated 'Advanced' unit for students who are already enrolled in the BA (Advanced) degree program.

This unit analyses the political nature of global and local environmental problems and the connection between these and international and... domestic environmental politics and policy arrangements. It focuses on the effects of epistemic communities, ecological modernisation, international regimes, sovereignty, sustainable development, the role of non-government organisations, environmental policymaking frameworks, participatory environmental governance and stakeholder intervention capacity. Global and Australian environmental case studies will be discussed and related to theoretical perspectives.

GOVT2440
Globalisation and National Governance
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include a combination of lectures and tutorials) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2410 Assessment: Research paper; mid-semester test; participation; exam

It is often argued that we are entering a new era in which the existence of nation-states and the power of national governments to manage economic and social change are rapidly being eroded by globalisation. This unit will appraise the debates about the impact of globalisation and state power erosion. It will pay particular attention to the interplay between domestic institutions and international pressures. There will be scope for comparing national responses to the changing global economic system.

GOVT2445
American Politics and Foreign Policy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One two-hour lecture and one tutorial per week Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2405 Assessment: Tutorial papers; essay; exam.

This unit will be a comprehensive overview of the American political system and the formulation of foreign policy. It will cover the major Federal political institutions: the Presidency, the Congress, and the Supreme Court. The unit will consider how foreign policy is made through the interaction of these institutions and with other elements of civil society. Finally, it will examine the outcome of this process - U.S. foreign policy itself - with special emphasis on the post-Cold War period. We will seek to answer two key questions: (a) 'who rules' in America and (b) what grand strategy, if any, has replaced the Cold War containment of the Soviet Union?

GOVT2557
Public Sector Management
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include a combination of lectures and tutorials) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2507 Assessment: Reading summaries; case study; participation; test.

The organisation and structure of the public sector in Australia and other democracies has been transformed in recent years. This unit traces the outlines of this transformation and the debates that have accompanied it. Where should privatisation stop? How much of government can be 'outsourced' or contracted out? Is permanent employment in the public service a relic of the past? Are there special ethical and public accountability requirements of public management that make it essentially different from the private sector? Topics include public sector human resource and financial management practices; relations between public organisations and the public; corporate governance practices in the public sector; commercialisation, corporatisation and privatisation; and parliamentary oversight and administrative law and their implications for the management process.

GOVT2558
Government, Business and Society
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include one or more of the following: lectures, seminars, tutorials or workshops) Prerequisites: Four junior units of study Assessment: Exam; essay; case study; tutorial participation.

Modern businesses have new roles and responsibilities within the global economy and society. Understanding the relationships between government, business and society is essential for students undertaking a contemporary business education. This unit will provide students with conceptual and practical tools that they can use to examine the role of business in society, to explore the ways in which public policy shapes and constrains business decision-making and to understand the social and ethical responsibilities of business. The unit will introduce students to the political, social, regulatory, and environmental and technological challenges facing businesses and the impact of the demographic diversity of organisations. The unit will draw upon Australian and international case study material.

Ethics and Politics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week (May include one or more of the following: lectures, seminars, tutorials or workshops) Prerequisites: Two GOVT1000 level units of study Prohibitions: GOVT2905 Assessment: Essay; exam; project; participation Note: This unit is available as a designated 'Advanced' unit for students who are already enrolled in the BA (Advanced) degree program.

Making ethical choices is in the core of political life. This unit is designed to analyse and understand how ethics belongs in politics, how we can evaluate and justify political choices, and to gain an understanding of the main ethical issues on a range of political questions. The unit is structured around formal ethical theory and analysis, which can be later used in different settings, from personal to professional ethical dilemmas. Learning takes place by doing - thinking and talking, presenting and evaluating. In order to learn you need to take part and be open to a challenge. The topics examined during the course include: justice, environmental ethics, human and animal rights, immigration, freedom of expression, whistle-blowing, and international aid.

GOVT2801
Applied International Studies
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hour seminar per week Prerequisites: Four core junior BIntS units of study (GOVT1105, GOVT1202, ECOP1001, ECOP1003) Assessment: Short papers; simulation participation; policy brief; media release Note: This unit is only available to students enrolled in the Bachelor of International Studies

This senior core unit is designed to build on the junior core units of the Bachelor of International Studies and to develop a deeper level of knowledge of international politics and economics, and to apply this knowledge to real-life problems in diverse policy environments. The unit introduces students to the relationship between international law and international politics and economics, and the fields of international law that are directly relevant to the unit's simulation topics. Students will apply theory to practice by taking part in simulations on key global 'Issues of the Day'. These will focus on the environment, human rights and humanitarian intervention, terrorism and international security, trade and development. Participation in the simulations will require students to engage in economic and political policy making; analysis of input and output issues such as state and organisational strategies; negotiations; and managing diverse international teams. Skills developed will include decision making under conditions of uncertainty; information literacy; communication and decision making in small and large groups; and the writing of press releases and briefing documents.

GOVT2802
International Studies Practicum
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: This unit is taught on-line
Prerequisites: Four core junior BIntS units of study (GOVT1105, GOVT1202, ECOI1001, ECOI1003)
Assessment: Research project; critical reflection report
Note: This unit is only available to students enrolled in the Bachelor of International Studies Students with a Credit average or above are able to apply for a travel scholarship (up to the value of $10000) from the faculty of Economics and Business.

This senior core unit in the Bachelor of International Studies is designed to provide students with the opportunity to combine theoretical learning with hands-on experience in international studies. Students enrol in the unit in the second semester of their third year, while either studying abroad or engaged as an intern in a government or non-government organisation in Sydney, working on an internationally focussed project. The unit is taught fully on-line, accessed via the Faculty's Blackboard site. The aim of the content and assessment is to develop research and critical reflection skills, culminating in a major research paper.

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: Two senior Government units at the level of Credit or better, or with the consent of the Honours Coordinator
Assessment: GOVT2991 Assessment: Library research assignment; research design assignment; exam; Participation
Note: This unit is available as a designated 'Advanced' unit for students who are already enrolled in the BA (Advanced) degree program.

This unit assists students enrolled in the honours programs to develop the conceptual and practical skills they need to excel in any area of substantial political inquiry. An overview of political inquiry is presented through an examination of the diversity in theoretical and methodological approaches used by those who carry out political research. This includes looking at, for example, institutional, behavioural, discourse and feminist approaches in political inquiry, and the usage of quantitative and qualitative methods. The assessment is based around constructing research projects that can be utilised to answer current political questions.

GOVT3558
Internship in Public Policy and Affairs
Credit points: 18
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Internship
Prerequisites: Consultation with Discipline's Internship Coordinator
Prohibitions: GOVT3508 Assessment: Learning contract; project plan; workplace experience; project report; reflective report
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
Note: Applications in writing and enrolments limited by number of available placements. This unit is available in Semester 1 for Boston University and University of Sydney Student Exchange Agreement students only. All other students can only be admitted to study this unit for Semester 2.

This unit in applied politics provides senior students with an opportunity to complete a research project whilst undergoing a professional placement with a government or non-government organisation, for example Parliament of NSW, Premier's Department, Research Institute for Asia and the Pacific, Community Aid Abroad. The unit includes preparatory coursework in policy-making processes and reflective, professional practice, followed by a placement with an organisational partner on a full-time basis (four days per week for ten weeks) and the completion of a research project on behalf of the partner. Supervision by the organisational partner will take place. Successful completion of the unit of study is dependent on the fulfilment of a contract that will be jointly negotiated between the internship director, supervisory partner and the student. This unit is equivalent to three senior units, i.e. 18 credit points.

GOVT3993
Government 3 Honours Part A
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: Two senior Government units and GOVT2991 (or GOVT2991), each at the level of Credit or better, or with the consent of the Chair of Discipline
Prohibitions: GOVT3991 Assessment: Essays; learning journal; participation
Note: This unit is available as a designated 'Advanced' unit for students who are already enrolled in the BA (Advanced) degree program.

Power is the essential concept of political science, which is the systematic study of politics. Bertrand Russell, perhaps the greatest mind of the 20th Century, said power is the central concept of all the social sciences. Students explore this concept in different parts of political science and survey some debates on power, assessing the advantages and disadvantages of concepts of power. There are three themes in this unit. The first is the distribution of power in society. The second is power in comparative politics and the third is power in international relations. The emphasis is on the nature, sources and use of power.

Government 3 Honours Part B
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: Two senior Government units and GOVT2991 (or GOVT2991), each at the level of Credit or better, or with the consent of the Chair of Discipline
Prohibitions: GOVT3992 Assessment: Thesis prospectus; literature review; participation
Note: This unit is available as a designated 'Advanced' unit for students who are already enrolled in the BA (Advanced) degree program.

This unit assists students to build towards a better fourth year honours dissertation. It considers the construction of a dissertation topic, planning the research, bibliographic searches, and writing the dissertation. The unit devotes a considerable amount of time to exercises designed to help students envisage their honours dissertation and plan fruitful lines of inquiry.

The aim of this unit of study is to understand how international firms win and lose in global competition. Major topics include building corporate capabilities and competencies for competitive advantage; optimal strategies for international business competition; dealing with different market structures and government policies; choosing between equity and non-equity alliances, licensing and joint ventures; understanding the differences in economic, political and legal environments; challenges of operating in emerging economies; managing across borders, including selecting effective types of MNEs and subsidiaries; managerial decision-making and internal MNE organisational design; and management of global networks.
IBUS3103
Global Entrepreneurship and Enterprise
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: One and a half lectures and one tutorial/lab class per week.
Assessment: Group presentation; Individual assignment; Final exam.

Developing entrepreneurial and innovative businesses is very different to managing large established businesses especially in a global context. In addition to exploring the special problems (and advantages) associated with entrepreneurial small and medium enterprises (SMEs), the course will bring together the skills that you have acquired across many disciplines. In this unit, you will develop a funding proposal for a real technology, invention or design and pitch that to a panel of potential investors. Topics include international entrepreneurship theory, opportunity recognition and selection, developing an innovative business strategy, and sourcing appropriate finance (whether angel, venture capital, debt or corporate investment). Central to this course is the integration of theory and practice through workshop sessions, group work, and talks from industry professionals.

IBUS3104
Ethical Issues in International Business
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: One hour lecture and two hour workshop twice per week for 6 weeks.
Prerequisites: 42 credit points
Corequisites: IBUS2101
Assessment: Group presentation; Individual assignment; Final exam.

To be able to succeed in international business, both corporations and individuals need broad decision-making abilities. Business decision-making tools yield more coherent and justifiable results when used with an understanding of the ethical, social and environmental aspects of the process. This applies to various situations in the international business setting including business relations with government, customers, employees, and NGOs. Using a case study approach, this unit is designed to look at these non-financial elements in the decisions made within the international business context. Following the completion of this unit, students will have enhanced skills and knowledge relevant to the development and management of international business organisations.

Undergraduate units of study

IBUS4101
Special Topics in International Business
Credit points: 12
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Three hour seminars per week.
Prerequisites: Completion of requirements for the pass degree, a major in International Business with a minimum Credit average, and approval of the Chair of Discipline.
Corequisites: IBUS4102
Assessment: Student participation in in-class discussion; short essay assignments.

IBUS 4101 studies the recent theoretical and applied literature in international business and management strategy. Topics are organised around four key research themes: (i) the boundaries of the multinational enterprise; (ii) internal organizational design and structure; (iii) location decisions; (iv) and competitive dynamics. Specific topics include the critique of theoretical models in international business, including new institutional economics, internationalization, transaction cost, resource, path dependency, contracting and dynamic capability-learning approaches; the relationship between the new trade theory, increasing return models and theories of the MNE, including location tournament and clustering; the organizational design of non-equity and equity strategic alliances, including the nature of headquarters-subsidiary relations; investment incentives and country impact of foreign direct investment; and competitive and strategic interaction of multinational enterprises. Candidates must enrol in IBUS4101, IBUS4102, IBUS4103, and IBUS4104 to complete the Honours year.

IBUS4102
International Business Research Methods
Credit points: 12
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Three hour seminars per week.
Prerequisites: Completion of requirements for the pass degree, a major in International Business with a minimum Credit average, and approval of the Chair of Discipline.
Corequisites: IBUS4101
Assessment: Assessment of research proposal.

Honours study in International Business is directed at the development of the analytical and conceptual skills required to conduct independent research in the field. The focus of this unit is on understanding research methodologies, the design of a research project and preparation of a research proposal. In addition students undertake Special Topics in International Business (IBUS 4101) and the Seminar in International Business (IBUS 4103). Candidates must enrol in IBUS4101, IBUS4102, IBUS4103, and IBUS4104 to complete the Honours year.

IBUS4103
International Business Seminar
Credit points: 12
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Three hour seminars per week.
Prerequisites: Completion of requirements for the Pass degree, a major in International Business with a minimum Credit average, and approval of the Chair of Discipline.
Corequisites: IBUS4104
Assessment: Student participation in in-class discussion; short-essay assignments.

IBUS 4103 is a seminar required of students undertaking their Honours year in International Business. The seminar builds on the work in IBUS 4101 and considers selected issues of current importance in the field, including work related to the research of members of the discipline and recently published cases. In addition topics may be adjusted to reflect student interests and needs. Because of the focus on current issues, the research of members of the discipline, and the interests of current students, topics covered will vary from year to year. We would normally expect to deal with current issues in the following areas: (i) The link between firm structure and international strategy; (ii) Analysis of changes in the international operating environment; (iii) Current studies of entry modes and alliances; (iv) Issues in international risk management; (v) Issues in cross cultural management; (vi) Ethical issues in international management. In addition to in-class discussion, the seminar will require a series of short papers analysing works of particular interest to individual students. Candidates must enrol in IBUS4101, IBUS4102, IBUS4103, and IBUS4104 to complete the Honours year.

IBUS4104
International Business Thesis
Credit points: 12
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Three hour seminars per week.
Prerequisites: Completion of requirements for the Pass degree, a major in International Business with a minimum Credit average, and approval of the Chair of Discipline.
Corequisites: IBUS4103
Assessment: Assessment of the thesis.

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
Honours study in International Business is directed at the development of the analytical and conceptual skills required to conduct independent research in the field. The primary focus of this unit is the conduct of research and the writing of a thesis of some 15 to 20,000 words. In addition students undertake Special Topics in International Business (IBUS 4101) and the Seminar in International Business (IBUS4103). Candidates must enrol in IBUS4101, IBUS4102, IBUS4103, and IBUS4104 to complete the Honours year.

Marketing

Junior units of study

MKTG1001
Marketing Principles
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week. Prerequisites: MKTG1001 (or MKTG2001) Prohibitions: MKTG2003 Assessment: Group presentation; Tutorial assignment; Two exams

This unit examines the relationships among marketing organisations and final consumers in terms of production-distribution channels or value chains. It focuses on consumer responses to various marketing decisions (product mixes, price levels, distribution channels, promotions, etc.) made by private and public organisations to create, develop, defend, and sometimes eliminate, product markets. Emphasis is placed on identifying new ways of satisfying the needs and wants, and creating value for consumers. While this unit is heavily based on theory, practical application of the concepts to “real world” situations is also essential. Specific topics of study include; market segmentation, strategies; marketing planning; product decisions; new product development; branding strategies; channels of distribution; promotion and advertising; pricing strategies; and customer database management.

MKTG1002
Marketing Research 1
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week. Prerequisites: MKTG1001 (or MKTG2001) Prohibitions: MKTG2003 Assessment: Group project; Tutorial participation portfolio; Individual critique; Exams (mid-semester and final)

Fundamental to marketing is a requirement to understand who your customers are and what they want. Marketing research is the essential activity of discovering information and presenting it in a useful format to marketing decision makers. This unit introduces the skills and knowledge necessary to allow students to accurately formulate research questions and then discover answers ensuring that these are accurate, reliable and timely. Particular focus is given to different approaches to and aspects of data collection, including: qualitative research; secondary data collection; questionnaire design; sampling; experimental design; validity and basic data analysis.

MKTG2010
Marketing Channels and Logistics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week Assessment: Assessment based on Tutorial Discussion, Written Discussion Question Summary, Mid-semester Test, Team Report, Team Presentation, and the Final Exam

This unit of study will introduce students to Marketing Channels and Logistics and demonstrate the range of ways in which these important functions complement each other. For example, Marketing focuses on managing and enhancing perceived value from the customer viewpoint, while Logistics focuses on achieving cost-efficient delivery mechanisms. Companies prosper when customers perceive high value and the company achieves this at lowest cost. The unit will address key marketing channels and logistics topics such as, the roles and interface between the marketing and logistics functions within the firm; value exchange (from both business and customer perspective); delivering value through marketing channels and the retail interface. It will also familiarise students with managing relationships across the distribution chain; the role of logistics in the economy; logistics as value streams; order management and customer service; the management of inventory in logistics processes; and logistics, information technology and information systems.

MKTG2112
Consumer Behaviour
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week. Prerequisites: MKTG1001 (or MKTG2001) Prohibitions: MKTG2002 Assessment: Consumer behaviour audit; Group presentation; Case analyses; Two exams

This unit examines the psychological, social, and cultural aspects of consumer behaviour on the marketing decisions of public and private organisations. Concepts and principles are drawn from disciplines such as cognitive psychology, social psychology, sociology, anthropology, and demography to discover and understand various aspects of consumer behaviour. Specific topics of study include: cultural, demographic and psychographic influences; reference group influences; household decision processes and consumption behaviour; consumer perception and learning; motivation, personality and emotion; consumer attitudes; and purchase decision processes.

MKTG3112
Marketing Communications
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week. Prerequisites: MKTG1001 (or MKTG2001) Prohibitions: MKTG3002 Assessment: Assignment; Quiz; Project; Participation; Exam

This unit of study offers an introduction to and overview of current theory and practice in marketing communications. It will include aspects of advertising in the main media (television, radio, print, outdoor, cinema), sales promotion, personal selling and new media, such as the Internet. It will provide students with a sound theoretical/conceptual foundation as well as the strategic/practical perspectives of Marketing Communications planning and implementation.

MKTG3114
New Products Marketing
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week. Prerequisites: MKTG1001 (or MKTG2001) Prohibitions: MKTG3004 Assessment: Group Presentation; Group project; Two exams

New products and services are crucial to successful growth and increased profits in many industries. The goal is to help students learn how to develop and market new products and services in both the private and public sectors. A product development assignment is carried out to reinforce the material covered and to provide realistic examples of how new products are designed, tested and launched.

MKTG3116
International Marketing
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week. Prerequisites: MKTG1001 (or MKTG2001) Prohibitions: MKTG3006
This unit introduces students to international marketing using the marketing concept. It firstly considers environmental factors and then studies how marketing strategies are affected by those environmental factors. It gives students an awareness and understanding of international marketing concepts and highlights their importance in a rapidly changing global economy. Additionally the unit develops students’ skills in designing and implementing marketing strategies in diverse international contexts.

MKTG3117
Services Marketing
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: MKTG1001 or MKTG2001
Prohibitions: MKTG3007
Assessment: Group project; Group presentation; Participation; Exam

This unit provides an understanding of the concepts and processes specifically applicable to services marketing. Services are by nature different from products, and therefore lead to a set of different marketing challenges faced by service-based organisations such as those in tourism, hospitality, health care, aviation, banking, financial, accounting, medical and legal services industries. The unit focuses on those aspects of services that require differential understanding and execution than in a product-marketing environment. Customer care, relationship marketing, and how to use service as a competitive advantage are the other primary areas of interest covered by the unit.

MKTG3118
Marketing Strategy and Planning
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: MKTG1001 or MKTG2001, MKTG1002 or MKTG2003, and MKTG2112 (or MKTG2002)
Prohibitions: MKTG3201
Assessment: Case study; Web-based strategy simulation; and Final examination.

This course will focus on strategic and managerial aspects of marketing. It will cover the development of innovative, business models; segmentation, positioning and lifecycle strategies; and key aspects of managing and organising marketing activities, and measuring performance. The central theme is how marketing strategy and its management can create superior and sustainable value for both customers and shareholders. Assessment will reflect the Unit’s strategic decision-making approach, requiring students to take on the roles of marketing advisors and managers.

MKTG3119
Public Relations Management
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: MKTG1001 (or MKTG2001) or MKTG2002
Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Tutorial work/participation; Case study; Group/individual project; Presentation; Assignment; Report; Essay; Final examination.

Every organisation in the public and private sector makes use of public relations in some form or another. Indeed, for many organisations and marketing professionals, the marketing function is dominated by a mix of advertising, integrated marketing communications and public relations. This subject develops the theoretical and applied knowledge for students to better understand and use public relations. This subject provides a detailed inspection of communication processes necessary for the management of organizational relationships with publics by public relations practitioners. The subject addresses topics such as issues management, event management, media relations, ethics and public relations in commercial and non-profit entities to explore the foundations of contemporary public relations management.

MKTG3120
Building and Managing Brands
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: MKTG1001 (or MKTG2001)
Assessment: Tutorial work/participation; Mid-semester examination; Group project - presentation and report; Final examination

The most important intangible asset of any organisation is its brand or portfolio of brands. Marketers use an array of internal and external communications approaches to deliver the brand’s overall value proposition and experience to its key stakeholders and target customers, and thereby build brand equity. Names, symbols, and slogans along with their underlying associations, perceived quality, brand awareness, customer base and related proprietary resources form the basis for brand equity. Most brands fail because of the lack of proper market research and analysis that enables the brand’s core values to be articulated, accurate positioning strategies to be developed, and complete alignment to be achieved between internal and external brand building communications. This unit helps students understand the concept of brand equity and brands management by learning how to strategically create, position, develop and sustain brand equity.

MKTG3121
Advertising: Creative Principles
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week
Prerequisites: MKTG1001 or MKTG2001
Assessment: Essay style Final Exam. Two Tutorial Papers. Group Project, which includes a written report and presentation. Participation, which includes attendance at tutorials and lectures, a number of tutorial tasks and contribution to tutorial debate and discussion.

Most organisations use advertising to introduce themselves, their products and services to their existing and potential customers. Advertising is their public face and together with integrated marketing communications and public relations is one of the three pillars of commercial communication. This subject explores the creative material that is developed and produced to contact, inform, educate and influence consumer decisions. Advertising is the point where communication theory is put into practice. Through understanding the creative principles and practices of advertising personnel involved in marketing will be able to commission, evaluate and produce creative material to professional industry standards. The subject addresses topics such as the importance of creativity; messaging issues, determining consumer insights; the creative potential and purpose of different media; developing creative concepts; determining the advertising idea; producing the final creative material and taking it to the marketplace.

Political Economy

Junior units of study

ECOP1001 Economics as a Social Science
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures per week
Assessment: Tutorial participation; mini essay; essay; 2 hour final examination

Economic concerns are central to modern society and politics. Yet economists are deeply divided in their views about how the economy works and how it could be made to work better. This unit of study explores the principal competing currents of economic thought - classical, neo-classical, institutional, Marxian and Keynesian. It looks at how these rival economic theories influence views about economic policy and the future of capitalism. This provides a solid foundation for subsequent study of economics and political economy.

ECOP1002 Economy and Policy
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures per week
Assessment: Tutorial assignments; Tutorial participation; Essay; Final exam

How are national economies changing in response to changes in the global economy? Who is benefiting and who is being disadvantaged? What role does government policy play, and what policy options are there? This unit of study addresses these questions in the context of the Australian economy. It introduces students to Keynesian and institutionalist approaches to economics to explore how government policy addresses issues such as industrial change, international trade and investment, employment, social welfare and income distribution. It gives students a 'hands on' approach to understanding the connections between current economic events and economic theory.

ECOP1003 International Economy and Finance
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures per week
Assessment: Exams; in-class tests; discussion papers
Corequisites: MKTG4101
Assessment: Tutorial participation and presentation; Essay; Final exam

Note: This unit of study is not available to students enrolled in the Bachelor of Economic and Social Sciences.

The world economy has changed dramatically since World War 2, especially with the renewed 'globalisation' from the 1980s. This unit traces the historical patterns of globalisation. It analyses the debates about whether globalisation has been for the better or worse overall, and who would have been the winners and the losers in this process. The unit explores the changing theories that have been used to explain and evaluate global economic integration. The unit concurrently explores the forms, and debates about, the regulation of economic activity on a global scale, addressing the development and changing roles of international agencies (World Bank, International Monetary Fund, World Trade Organisation), and evaluates their capacity to generate global equity and economic stability.

ECOP2011 Economic Foundation of Modern Capitalism
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures per week
Assessment: Tutorial participation and presentation; Essay; Final exam

This unit of study considers the economic foundations of modern capitalism. It explores the central concerns in political economy by looking at classical, Marxian, neo-Marxist and post-Keynesian theories and their applications. It thereby illuminates the connections between the production of goods and services, the distribution of income and economic growth.

the economy is constructed. This unit looks at the institutions of capital, labour, the family and the state that channel economic activity and the importance of class and other social struggles in the historical transformations of those institutions. It examines how governments respond to the imperatives for economic and social order and how the state acts to regulate institutions, and socio-economic relations, to establish stability and maintain capital accumulation. Several illustrative case studies and policy areas are studied.

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

This unit of study introduces students to some of the big debates in the social sciences, through an exploration of the meaning and limits of class concepts in social theory. Structure and agency, fact and interpretation, the politics of theory, and the nature of the Good Society are all considered. The unit is both an enrichment program adding breadth to the range of issues you study in Pass units of study, and an advanced program adding depth to your analytical and writing skills in Political Economy, in preparation for a third year studies and for a final honours year.

ECOP3012
Global Political Economy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: One 2 hour lecture per week
Prerequisites: ECOP1001 and either (ECOP1002 or ECOP1003). Prohibitions: ECOP3002. Assessment: Presentation; Group Report; Essay; Participation.

This unit of study presents a historical and institutional perspective on the development of the capitalist world economy since 1945. The analysis starts with a theoretical introduction covering the determinants of profits and accumulation and the role of external markets in economic growth. It then addresses two key issues in this development: the formation of the international monetary system after 1945 and the crisis of world monetary system following the end of the long boom; and the global role of the United States and the formation of two growth poles: Germany in Europe and Japan in Asia.

Prerequisites: ECOP1001 and either (ECOP1002 or ECOP1003). Prohibitions: ECOP3004. Assessment: Class participation; Minor Essay; Research essay; Final exam.

This unit of study deals with the structural and cultural problems of poorer countries, and their post-colonial experiences. Students are introduced to particular theories explaining economic growth and the obstacles to development. These theories are applied to a range of contemporary issues in developing countries, such as industrialisation, structural adjustment and poverty, human rights, gender, the role of NGOs, development assistance and credit and debt. Case studies include current development issues in countries including India, Cuba and East Timor.

ECOP3017
Political Economy of Human Rights
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour lecture per week
Prerequisites: ECOP1001 and either (ECOP1002 or ECOP1003). Prohibitions: ECOP3007. Assessment: Class participation; Minor Essay; Research Essay; Final exam.

Debates about human rights and democratic legitimacy are linked to structural economic arguments and to cultural and structural debates over the process of socioeconomic change. This unit of study introduces the competing arguments over rights, the distinction between formal and effective rights and the social struggles that have created them. The approach of economic liberalism, emphasising property rights and the role of competition as an arbiter of equal opportunities in society, is discussed. Similarly, a rights analysis of market regulation and social and corporate welfare is pursued, with international and domestic case studies. The unit also includes discussions on indigenous rights and labour rights, the globalisation of capital and citizenship, and structural and cultural arguments over the nature of socioeconomic change.

ECOP3018
Economic Policy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hour lecture per week
Prerequisites: ECOP1001 and ECOP1002. Assessment: Essay, Exam, Bonus marks for class participation.

Some of the most contentious issues in political economy concern the role of government in addressing contemporary economic problems. This unit of study examines the evolution of economic policy in Australia since the end of World War II. It analyses the competing interests and ideologies, their channels of influence, and the context (including international linkages) within which economic policy develops. It builds on the introduction to economic policy issues in ECOP1002 Economy and Policy.

ECOP3019
Finance: Volatility and Regulation
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hour lecture per week
Prerequisites: ECOP1001 and either (ECOP1002 or ECOP1003). Prohibitions: ECOP3009. Assessment: Long essay, Short essay, Final exam.

Foreign exchange, international bond and derivative markets have expanded dramatically over the past 20 years. This unit of study examines reasons for the growth of these markets and their vulnerability to some form of volatility and crisis. Case studies of individual corporate financial crises and national financial crises are considered. The unit also addresses the regulation of financial markets, both on a national and international scale. It looks at the history of regulation, key regulatory and monitoring agencies, and arguments for a new international financial architecture.

ECOP3911
Political Economy Honours III (Part A)
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour lecture per week
Prerequisites: Credit average in 4 intermediate or senior ECOP units including
Undergraduate units of study

(ECOP2911 or (ECOP2901 and ECOP2902)) Prohibitions: ECOP3901
Assessment: Seminar presentation; Essay; Class participation
Note: Third year students who have not completed the prerequisites should consult the Discipline of Political Economy about alternative requirements.

This is one of two units of study which prepare students for commencing the final honours year. It looks at the different ways in which research in political economy may be done. It compares the methodologies of the principal schools of economic thought, concentrating on aspects which distinguish neoclassical and non-neoclassical approaches to the study of economic issues. This is an important step towards the design of useful research in political economy.

ECOP3912
Political Economy Honours III (Part B)
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hour class per week
Prerequisites: Credit average in 4 intermediate or senior ECOP units including (ECOP2911 or (ECOP2901 and ECOP2902)) Prohibitions: ECOP3902
Assessment: Review of Articles; Seminar participation; Literature review; Sources and Methods report; Thesis proposal
Note: Third year students who have not completed the prerequisites should consult the Discipline of Political Economy about alternative requirements.

This is the second unit of study to be taken by students preparing for their final honours year. It emphasises the skills needed for research and dissertation writing. Topics include research materials, bibliographical access, computer software usage, and alternative sources of information for research in political economy. The unit also provides opportunities for discussion of honours dissertation proposals.

Work and Organisational Studies
Junior units of study

WORK1003
Foundations of Work and Employment
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Assessment: Participation, short essay, major essay, exam
Note: This is the compulsory unit of study for the Industrial Relations/Human Resource Management major.

This unit draws on concepts from industrial relations and human resource management to examine the interests and strategies of workers, unions, managers, employers and the state. It explores the relationships between these parties as they seek to manage their environments and workplaces and to exercise control over each other. The unit enables students to understand how and why the organisation, regulation and management of work are changing in Australia and globally. As well as providing an introduction to all aspects of the study of the employment relationship, this is the foundation unit for a major in industrial relations and human resource management.

WORK1551
Industrial Relations & HRM Exchange
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
Senior units of study

WORK2201
Foundations of Management
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 24 credit points of junior units of study
Assessment: Assignment, essay and exam
Note: This is the compulsory unit of study for the Management major.

This unit serves both as a stand-alone unit for students who wish to obtain an overview of management methods and approaches and as the basis of study for advanced and specialised undergraduate units listed in the Management major. It examines management as a process of planning, organising, leading and controlling the efforts of organisational members and discusses how recent trends such as globalisation, economic change and the effects of new technology have led to profound changes in how organisations are managed. It explores these issues with respect to both large and small, public and private, and domestic and foreign organisations.

WORK2202
Labour Market Analysis
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 48 junior credit points including (WORK1003 or WORK1001 or IREL1001)
Prohibitions: IREL2002, WORK2002
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam.

This unit examines the manner in which economists have analysed the operation of the labour market including the generation of employment and unemployment, the determination of wages and the effect of trade unions. The course surveys the major approaches to the study of the labour market including classical, neo-classical, Marxist and Institutionalist approaches. Through an examination of these approaches and how they have endeavoured to explain labour market phenomena the idiosyncrasies of labour as a resource are identified. Recent labour market experience in Australia is used to illustrate the close connection between analytical models of the labour market and public policy.

WORK2203
Industrial Relations Policy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 24 credit points of junior units of study including (WORK1003 or WORK1001 or IREL1001)
Prohibitions: IREL2003, WORK2003
Assessment: Tutorial presentation, essay, participation, journal or exam
Note: This is the compulsory unit of study for the Industrial Relations/Human Resource Management major.

This unit introduces the institutions and processes of Australian industrial relations with an emphasis on laws, institutions and social processes. It combines theoretical and historical understandings of Australian industrial relations with a detailed examination of the current problems and strategies of the key industrial relations players. The topics studied include: the regulatory framework of industrial relations; policies of federal and state governments; the history and policies of unions and employer associations; the practices of Australia's arbitral tribunals; the development of wage determination; and emerging patterns of dispute resolution and bargaining.

WORK2205
Human Resource Processes
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two Lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 24 credit points of junior units of study including WORK1003 (or WORK1002 or IREL1001)
Prohibitions: IREL2005, WORK2005
Assessment: Practical exercise, essay or exam
Note: This is the compulsory unit of study for the Industrial Relations/Human Resource Management major.

Building on the foundation Human Resource Management (HRM) issues and concepts provided in WORK1002, this unit provides an advanced coverage of a select range of human resource management processes and practices. The processes and practices that may be selected for detailed consideration include human resource recruitment and selection; training and development; performance management and motivation; reward and remuneration management; managing workforce diversity; managing commitment, culture and change; international human resource management; and HRM system evaluation. Students are advised to consult the Work and Organisational Studies Discipline beforehand regarding the specific mix of practices to be covered in any given session.

WORK2206
Work: Past and Present
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Lectures and seminar
Prerequisites: 48 junior credit points
Prohibitions: IREL2006, WORK2006
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam.
This unit interprets the developments of work and labour within their social, political and economic context. It looks at issues like like convict labour, the rise of collective movements such as trade unions and political parties and centrally focuses on themes such as ethnic and gender diversity as well as other aspects of culture, community and social formation.

WORK2209 Organisational Analysis and Behaviour

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 40 credit points worth of units of study
Prohibitions: IREL2009, WORK2009
Assessment: Participation, essay and exam

The aim of this unit is to provide an understanding of the actual processes and structures that influence the way people behave in organisations. It examines different approaches beginning with the individual (micro) level through to the organisational (macro) level. It takes students through a range of topics including attitudes, perceptions, organisational citizenship, workaholism, humour at work, rumour/gossip, romance/sex in organisations, bullying and violence, group dynamics, organisational power and politics and organisational culture. At the end of the unit students have developed the ability to reason, debate and critically examine a range of topical organisational issues.

WORK2210 Strategic Management

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 40 credit points worth of units of study
Prohibitions: IREL2010, WORK2010
Assessment: Test, tutorial presentation, case study, exam

The aim of this unit is to critically examine the concept of strategy in the management of organisations. It examines different approaches to strategy and strategic management and traces the development of strategic management as an academic discipline. It takes students though the classical strategic management process as it is presented in most textbooks and it also introduces students to a range of current debates in strategic management. This unit can be taken as a stand alone introduction to strategy or as part of a broader program of study in management.

WORK2211 Human Resource Strategies

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 40 credit points of units of study including WORK1003 (or WORK1002 or IREL1002)
Prohibitions: IREL2011, WORK2011
Assessment: Tutorial paper, participation, essay and exam

This unit examines the links between human resource management and strategic management in different kinds of organisations, both in Australia and overseas. It provides a critical and in-depth analysis of the human resource management theories, paying particular attention to the concepts of strategy, people management and organisational performance. The unit considers contemporary and controversial issues in human resource management, which may include downsizing, outsourcing, knowledge management, governance and social responsibility.

WORK2215 IR and HRM Practice

Credit points: 6
Session: S2 Late Int
Classes: Intensive mode during mid year break and in semester 2
Prerequisites: WORK1003 or (WORK1001 and WORK1002) plus 12 senior credit points in WOS units of study
Prohibitions: IREL2015, WORK2015
Assessment: role play, essay
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

This unit is intended to go some way towards bridging the gap between theory and professional life. The unit examines the theoretical basis of labour negotiation. It goes on to examine the process of bargaining drawing upon both literature and experience of industrial relations and human resource management practitioners. The process of advocacy and role of advocacy in Australian industrial relations is also examined. Much of the unit is devoted to role-play negotiation exercises where students apply the techniques that have been taught. Students also undertake a period of work experience.

WORK2217 International Human Resource Management

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 40 credit points worth of units of study including either (WORK1003 or WORK1001 or IREL1001) OR (IBUS2101 or IBUS2001)
Prohibitions: WORK2017
Assessment: Group presentation, journal and exam

This unit considers the opportunities and challenges associated with managing employees in international and cross-cultural contexts, with specific emphasis on international recruitment, selection, preparation, placement, management development, performance management, reward and remuneration in the international, multi-national and trans-national corporation. Within the context of global labour markets, the unit considers the implications of internationalisation and globalisation for human resource management (HRM), the difference between domestic and international HRM, and the challenges of cross-cultural management. This unit will provide students with a theoretical understanding of IHRM and cross-cultural management, as well as a practical understanding of the issues and challenges associated with managing employees in international, global and cross-cultural contexts.

WORK2218 People and Organisations

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 24 junior credit points
Prohibitions: Assignment, group case study and exam

Contemporary organisations are characterised by a high degree of change. One of the most pervasive, and widely debated, changes in organisations has been the growing use of various forms of teamwork. Contemporary forms of teamwork include project based teams, virtual teams, and self managing teams and are found across a broad spectrum of organisational types- from manufacturing to professional service organisations. This unit of study introduces students to theories about the impact of individual, group and organisational factors on people and organisations and uses these concepts and theories to examine the factors that can make working in and managing teams more effective. As such, People and Organisations is designed to provide students majoring in Business insight into a set of critical issues that will impact their professional and business careers. Because of the increasing significance of teamwork, this unit of study also provides an important foundation for further study in Management and Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management.

WORK2219 Management and Organisational Ethics

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 40 credit points worth of units of study
Assessment: Essay, group project and exam

Ethical issues are occupying an increasingly prominent place in work, organisation and management studies. This unit of study focuses on ethical aspects of management and organisational practice. By applying relevant ethical frameworks, students will be encouraged to enhance their understanding of the role and responsibilities of management, the impact of organisations on employees and the ethical implications of contemporary trends in employment. This unit builds on foundational units of study in Management, Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management.

WORK2220 Managing Knowledge Work

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 40 credit points
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam

Knowledge management is designed to increase the ability of firms to exploit knowledge as a resource. However designing and acknowledging strategies to exploit knowledge does little to advance our understanding of the characteristics of knowledge work or the challenges it throws up for management. This subject aims to ground abstract notions of knowledge and knowledge management within an understanding of the different behavioural and organisational contexts of workplaces. The unit analyses the meaning of knowledge and knowledge work and recognizes the importance of knowledge management as a response to wider changes in contemporary advanced economies.

WORK2221
Organisational Communication
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week
Prerequisites: 40 credit points worth of units of study
Assessment: Participation, group project and exam

Communication is integral to many organisational processes; for instance, effective planning, decision-making, negotiation, conflict management, change management and leadership all rely upon effective communication by organisational actors. At the same time, organisational communication has become more complex due to increasing levels of diversity in the workplace and an increasing reliance on emergent and rapidly changing communication technologies. Drawing on communication research models, theories and case studies, the unit will provide students with insight into how to manage the complexities of contemporary organisational communication. The unit will focus primarily on internal organisational communication and will examine communication processes at various levels: interpersonal (dyadic), group and organisation.

Theories of Work and Organisations
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: (WORK1003 or WORK1001 or IREL1001) and (WORK1002 or IREL1002) and enrolled in Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management or Management major
Corequisites: Enrolment in either Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management or Management major
Assessment: Short essay, long essay and take home exam
Note: Department permission required for enrolment

This unit forms part of the Work and Organisational Studies honours program. It introduces students to the roles of theory in science, particularly social sciences and examines the development of different models of theory development in the social sciences. The unit also examines a selection of different theoretical approaches to explaining work and organisations. This is done so by identifying several different issues or themes that have emerged in work and organisational studies and discussing the manner in which these themes have been studied and the consequent explanations that have emerged.

WORK3922
Researching Work and Organisations
Credit points: 6
Session: Two hours per week
Prerequisites: WORK3921 or IREL3901 or (IREL2901 and IREL2902) and enrolled in Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management or Management major with minimum grade credit in all WORK units. Students must have completed 48 senior credit points of study.
Assessment: Seminar paper, literature review and research proposal or ethics application
Note: Department permission required for enrolment
Note: Enrolment in either an Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management or Management major

This unit seeks to develop the skills, practices and understandings necessary to undertake a research-based thesis in work and organisational studies. Students gain an understanding of the theoretical basis and design requirements of the main qualitative and quantitative approaches to research, as well as the techniques of questionnaire design, interviewing, observation and documentary analysis. There is an emphasis on the development of methodological expertise relevant to the students anticipated dissertation topic and the preparation of a viable research proposal.

Accounting IA
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Dec
Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week
Prohibitions: ACCT1003, ACCT1004
Assumed knowledge: HSC Mathematics
Assessment: Quiz; Mid-semester examination; Tutorial and research assignments; Practice Set; Final examination
Note: Restricted entry
Introduces accounting and the double entry system of financial recording. Students are introduced to the skills necessary to prepare, interpret and analyse financial statements. Examines assumptions underlying the preparation of financial statements for external users. Development of skills necessary to understand, discuss, analyse and write about accounting-related topics. Designed as an introduction to accounting. No prior knowledge of accounting assumed.

ACCT1002
Accounting IB
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Three hours of lectures/tutorials per week. Prerequisites: ACCT1001 Prohibitions: ACCT1003, ACCT1004 Assessment: Homework task and worked examples; Group project; Mid-semester examination; Final examination. Note: Restricted entry

Accounting is about the recording, classification, reporting and interpretation of information to help make economic decisions. Accounting 1A introduces accounting and the double entry system for financial recording. Accounting 1B develops themes and competencies learnt in Accounting 1A. The primary focus of this unit is to enhance students’ conceptual and technical issues relating to management accounting and the information required by internal users to make strategic and operational decisions relating to managing a business. A second theme is the financial accounting information businesses are required to produce to assess a firm’s financial state and performance. Students examine how commercial and ethical issues affect business decisions and how there are present and future consequences that will affect different groups of interest

Business and Economic Statistics A
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: 3 hours per week Prohibitions: ECMT1011, ECMT1012, ECMT1013, MATH1015, MATH1005, MATH1905, STAT1021 Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Exams; Assignment

This unit provides an introduction to basic statistics and its applications in economics and business disciplines. Topics include: methods for data management; analysis and interpretation of data; probability; the normal distribution; an introduction to sampling theory and hypothesis testing; and the concepts of regression analysis. A key component is the provision of instruction and experience in the use of computers and statistical software as an aid in the analysis of data. Students are expected to use data resources on the World Wide Web, retrieve data and analyse this data using Excel.

ECON1001
Introductory Microeconomics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Summer Main Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week. Assumed knowledge: Mathematics Assessment: Online tests, mid semester exam, final exam

Introductory Microeconomics addresses the economic decisions of individual firms and households and how these interact in markets. It is a compulsory core unit for the Bachelor of Economics and Bachelor of Commerce and an alternative core unit for the Bachelor of Economic and Social Science. Economic issues are pervasive in contemporary Australian society. Introductory Microeconomics introduces students to the language and analytical framework adopted in Economics for the examination of social phenomena and public policy issues. Whatever one's career intentions, coming to grips with economic ideas is essential for understanding society, business and government. Students are given a comprehensive introduction to these ideas and are prepared for the advanced study of microeconomics in subsequent years.

ECON1002
Introductory Macroeconomics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Two lectures and one tutorial per week. Assumed knowledge: Mathematics Assessment: 2 in-class tests, Tutorial Assessment, Final Exam

Introductory Macroeconomics addresses the analysis of the level of employment and economic activity in the economy as a whole. It is a compulsory core unit for the Bachelor of Economics (BEC) and for the Bachelor of Commerce and an alternative core unit for the Bachelor of Economics and Social Science. Introductory Macroeconomics examines the main factors that determine the overall levels of production and employment in the economy, including the influence of government policy and international trade. This analysis enables an exploration of money, interest rates and financial markets, and a deeper examination of inflation, unemployment and economic policy.

INF51000
Business Information Systems Foundations
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Three hours per week Prohibitions: ISYS1003, INFO1000, INFO1003, INFO1903 Assessment: Tutorial work/ participation; Individual project; Group project; Final examination

The Information Age, with its focus on information as a key business resource, has changed the way Business Information Systems (BIS) are viewed in organisations. In previous years, people approached BIS primarily as a tool to increase efficiency, either by cutting costs, time or energy spent. In the information age, however, the role of BIS is different it is an enabler of innovation and a tool for getting the right information into the hands of the right people at the right time. This unit focuses on how businesses operate and shows how business information systems support business operations and management. Students are provided with an introduction to BIS theories, frameworks and models to assist in understanding the nature and contribution of BIS in a range of organisational contexts including private, public and not for profit.

MKTG1001
Marketing Principles
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: One lecture and one tutorial per week. Prohibitions: MKTG2001 Assessment: Marketing plan; Group presentation; Tutorial assignment; Two exams

This unit examines the relationships among marketing organisations and final consumers in terms of production-distribution channels or value chains. It focuses on consumer responses to various marketing decisions (product mixes, price levels, distribution channels, promotions, etc.) made by private and public organisations to create, develop, defend, and sometimes eliminate, product markets. Emphasis is placed on identifying new ways of satisfying the needs and wants, and creating value for consumers. While this unit is heavily based on theory, practical application of the concepts to "real world" situations is also essential. Specific topics of study include: market segmentation strategies; market planning; product decisions; new product development; branding strategies; channels of distribution; promotion and advertising; pricing strategies; and customer database management.

FINC2001
Corporate Finance I
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Winter Main Classes: Two hours of lectures and one tutorial per week. Prerequisites: ECON1001 and ECON1002 and ECMT1010 and (ACCT1001 or ACCT1003) Prohibitions: FINC2001 Assessment: One 3hr exam, Assignments, Mid-semester test Note: Study in Finance commences in second year.

This unit provides an introduction to basic concepts in corporate finance and their application to (1) valuation of risky assets including stocks, bonds and entire corporations, (2) pricing of equity securities, and (3) corporate financial policy decisions including dividend, capital structure and risk management policies. An emphasis is placed on the application of ideas and current practices in each of these areas.
GOVT2558
Government, Business and Society
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: 3 hours per week (May include one or more of the following: lectures, seminars, tutorials or workshops)
Prerequisites: 4 junior units of study
Assessment: Exam; essay; case study; tutorial participation.

Modern businesses have new roles and responsibilities within the global economy and society. Understanding the relationships between government, business and society is essential for students undertaking a contemporary business education. This unit will provide students with conceptual and practical tools that they can use to examine the role of business in society, to explore the ways in which public policy shapes and constrains business decision-making and to understand the social and ethical responsibilities of business. The unit will introduce students to the political, social, regulatory, environmental and technological challenges facing businesses and the impact of the demographic diversity of organisations. The unit will draw upon Australian and international case study material.

ECOF3001
Business Strategy
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two lectures per week
Prerequisites: Completed a minimum of 72 credit points in Economics and Business units of study
Assessment: Test; group case study; exam

Many organisations are faced with fast-paced change. The ability of organisations to develop effective strategic responses to these changes has become central to their survival and success. While the traditional focus of the academic study of business strategy has been on the formulation process, more contemporary analyses suggest that, in a context of fast paced change, effective strategy is a product of well developed strategic thinking throughout the organisation and the ability to rapidly and effectively implement strategic change. This unit of study, which acts as a capstone unit for students undertaking a Bachelor of Commerce, focuses on these two key issues. The first section of the unit of study revisits some of the core economic concepts introduced to students in their first year of study and examines how they can be used to analyse the strategic challenges facing commercial organisations. The second section of the unit of study focuses on the implementation and management of strategic change. Drawing on research on organisational change and strategy implementation, it provides students with insights into the process of managing strategic change.

Bachelor of Commerce (Liberal Studies) compulsory junior unit of study
ECOF1001
Communication and Critical Analysis 1A
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two hour seminar per week
Prohibitions: ECOF1002 Assessment: Two essays; Seminar paper; Learning journal; Summary exercise and class participation.
Note: This unit of study is meant for native speakers of English.

This unit aims to enhance oral and written communication skills and in the process provide a greater understanding of the philosophy underlying academic discourse. Weekly classes are oriented around a progressive series of tasks which consider academic texts in context and require learners to understand, analyse and produce spoken and written texts appropriate to the context of academic English. The contextualisation of these tasks is the philosophical aspects of critical analysis. Themes, such as the difference between convention, fact, opinion and preference; deductive and inductive proof; validity and truth; evidence; and the ethics of persuasion, are the basis on which the skills are taught.

Many organisations are faced with fast-paced change. The ability of organisations to develop effective strategic responses to these changes has become central to their survival and success. While the traditional focus of the academic study of business strategy has been on the formulation process, more contemporary analyses suggest that, in a context of fast paced change, effective strategy is a product of well developed strategic thinking throughout the organisation and the ability to rapidly and effectively implement strategic change. This unit of study, which acts as a capstone unit for students undertaking a Bachelor of Commerce, focuses on these two key issues. The first section of the unit of study revisits some of the core economic concepts introduced to students in their first year of study and examines how they can be used to analyse the strategic challenges facing commercial organisations. The second section of the unit of study focuses on the implementation and management of strategic change. Drawing on research on organisational change and strategy implementation, it provides students with insights into the process of managing strategic change.

Law units of study

These units of study are only available to students enrolled in the Combined Law degrees.

Compulsory Law units of study

(For 2007 commencing students and 2006 continuing students only)

All students commencing in 2007 must complete the following units of study. Students who commenced in 2006 and who completed LAWS1006, LAWS1010 and LAWS1008 must complete Year 2 and Year 3 units of study.

Combined Law Year 1 units of study

LAWS1006
Foundations of Law
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Belinda Smith Session: Semester 1 Classes: (1x1hr lec and 2x2hr seminars)/wk Prohibitions: LAWS1000 Assessment: class participation (20%), 1x case assignment (30%) and 1x research essay (50%)
Note: Available to Combined Law candidates only.

This unit of study provides a foundation core for the study of law. We aim to provide a practical overview of the Australian legal system, an introduction to the skills of legal reasoning and analysis which are necessary to complete your law degree, and an opportunity for critical engagement in debate about the role of law in our lives. The course will introduce students to issues such as: the development of judge made and statute law - the relationship between courts and parliament - the role and function of courts, tribunals and other forms of dispute resolution - understanding and interrogating principles of judicial reasoning and statutory interpretation - the relationship between law, government and politics - what are rights in Australian law, where do they come from and where are they going - the development and relevance of international law.

LAWS1012
Torts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Mr Ross Anderson Session: Semester 2 Classes: (1x2hr seminar and 1x1hr seminar)/wk Prerequisites: LAWS1006 Prohibitions: LAWS1005, LAWS1010, LAWS3001 Assessment: 2x class tests (15% each) and 1x2hr open book exam (70%)
Note: Available to Combined Law candidates who commence in 2007.

This is a general introductory unit of study concerned with liability for civil wrongs. The unit seeks to examine and evaluate, through a critical and analytical study of primary and secondary materials, the function and scope of modern tort law and the rationale and utility of its governing principles. Particular topics on which the unit will focus include: (a) The relationship between torts and other branches of the common law including contract and criminal law; (b) The role of fault as the principal basis of liability in the modern law; (c) Historical development of trespass and the action on the case and the contemporary relevance of this development; (d) Trespass to the person (battery, assault, and false imprisonment); (e) Interference with goods (trespass, detinue and conversion) (f) Trespass to land and private nuisance; (g) The action on the case for intentional injury; (h) Defences to trespass, including consent, intellectual disability, childhood, necessity and contributory negligence; (i) Development and scope of the modern tort of negligence, including detailed consideration of duty of care and breach of duty with particular reference to personal and psychiatric injury; (j) Injuries to relational interests, including compensation to relatives of victims of fatal accidents; (k) Defences to negligence.

LAWS1013
Legal Research I
Teacher/Coordinator: Ms Margaret McAleese Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x1hr seminar/fortnight Corequisites: LAWS1006 Prohibitions: LAWS1008 Assessment: 1x assignment
Note: Available to Combined Law candidates only in 2007.

This is a compulsory unit taught on a pass/fail basis. It consists of five classes which meet once a fortnight during first semester. The aim of this course is to introduce you to finding and citing primary and secondary legal materials and introducing you to legal research techniques. These are skills which are essential for a law student and which you will be required to apply in your other units.

Combined Law Year 2 units of study

LAWS1014 Processes of Justice
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Ms Milko Kumar Session: Semester 1 Classes: 2x2hr seminars/wk Prerequisites: LAWS1006 Corequisites: LAWS1006 (for transfer students only) Prohibitions: LAWS1007, LAWS3002, LAWS3004, LAWS1001 Assessment: 1x200wd assignment (35%), class participation (15%) (subject to class size) and 1x2hr exam (50%)
Note: Available to Combined Law candidates who commenced in 2006 or 2007 and are progressing under the new LLB resolutions.

This unit of study aims to introduce students to the procedures that administer justice. It is concerned with the processes relating to civil dispute resolution and criminal justice which are separate to the substantive hearing. The unit will consider the features of an adversarial system of justice and its impact on process. Recent reforms to adversarial process will be explored. The civil dispute resolution part of the unit will cover alternative dispute resolution, the procedures for commencing a civil action, case management, gathering evidence and the rules of privilege. Criminal process will be explored by reference to crime and society, the phenomenon of crime, colonisation and crime, police powers, bail and sentencing. The course focuses on theoretical and practical examples with consideration of ethics, and contextual and theoretical perspectives.

LAWS1015 Contracts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Assoc Prof Elisabeth Peden Session: Semester 1 Classes: 2x2hr seminars/wk Prerequisites: LAWS1006 Prohibitions: LAWS1002, LAWS2000, LAWS2008 Assessment: 1x1hr in-class test (25%), online quizzes (15%) and 1x2hr exam (60%)
Note: Available to Combined Law candidates who commenced in 2006 or 2007 and are progressing under the new LLB resolutions.

Contract law provides the legal background for transactions involving the supply of goods and services and is, arguably the most significant means by which the ownership of property is transferred from one person to another. It vitally affects all members of the community and a thorough knowledge of contract law is essential to all practising lawyers. In the context of the law curriculum as a whole, Contracts provides background which is assumed knowledge in many other units. The aims of the course are composite in nature. The course examines the rules that regulate the creation, terms, performance, breach and discharge of a contract. Remedies and factors that may vitiate a contract such as misrepresentation are dealt with in Torts and Contracts II. The central aim of the course is to provide an understanding of the basic principles of contract law and how these principles are applied in practice so solve problems. Students will develop the skills of rules based reasoning and case law analysis. A second aim is to provide students an opportunity to critically evaluate and make normative judgments about the operation of the law. Successful completion of this unit of study is a prerequisite to the option Advanced Contracts.

LAWS1016 Criminal Law
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Prof Mark Findlay Session: Semester 2 Classes: 2x2hr seminars/wk Prohibitions: LAWS1003, LAWS2001, LAWS2009 Assessment: class participation (10%), 1x in-class problem (10%), 1x research problem (30%) and 1x exam (50%)
Note: Available to Combined Law candidates who commenced in 2006 or 2007 and are progressing under the new LLB resolutions.

This unit of study is designed to introduce the general principles of criminal law in context as they operate in NSW, and to critically analyse these in their contemporary social and political relevance. In order to achieve these goals, the unit will consider a range of theoretical literature as well as critical commentary, and will focus on particular substantive legal topics in problem-centred contexts. Although the topic structure is necessarily selective, it is intended that students will gain a broad understanding of crime and justice issues, as well as of the applications of the criminal law. Students will encounter problem-based learning and will be encouraged to challenge a range of conventional wisdom concerning the operation of criminal justice. This unit of study is designed to assist students in developing the following understandings: (1) A critical appreciation of certain key concepts which recur throughout the substantive criminal law. (2) A knowledge of the legal rules in certain specified areas of criminal law and their application. (3) A preliminary knowledge of how the criminal law operates in its broader societal context. (4) Through following the process of proof in a criminal prosecution and its defense, to understand the determination of criminal liability. The understandings referred to in the foregoing paragraphs will have a critical focus and will draw on procedural, substantive, theoretical and empirical sources. The contradictions presented by the application of legal principle to complex social problems will be investigated.

Combined Law Year 3 units of study

From 2008, students will complete the following units of study: LAWS1018 International Law, LAWS1019 Legal Research II, LAWS1020 The Legal Profession, and LAWS1017 Torts and Contracts II.

Compulsory Law units of study
(Third Year continuing students and transfer students only)
All students who are continuing under old resolutions (commencing their degree prior to 2006) complete the following units of study. Students going into 3rd Year need to enrol in LAWS3003 and LAWS3004. Transfer students going into 3rd Year must complete either LAW2008 OR LAWS2009 AND LAWS3003 and LAWS3004.

LAWS2008 Contracts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Assoc Prof Elisabeth Peden Session: Semester 1, Summer, Dec Classes: 2x2hr seminars/wk Prerequisites: LAWS1006 Prohibitions: LAWS1002, LAWS1015 Assessment: 1x1hr in-class test (25%), online quizzes (15%) and 1x2hr exam (60%)
Note: Department permission required for enrolment in the following sessions: Semester 1
Note: Available to Combined Law candidates who commenced prior to 2006 and are progressing under the old LLB resolutions.

In the context of the law curriculum as a whole, Contracts provides background which is assumed knowledge in many other units. The aims of the unit are composite in nature. The central aim is to provide an understanding of the basic principles of the common law, equity and statutes applicable to contracts. A second aim is to provide students an opportunity to critically evaluate and make normative judgments about the operation of the law. As Contracts is basically a case law unit, the final aim of the unit of study is to provide experience in problem solving through application of the principles derived from decided cases. Successful completion of this unit of study is a prerequisite to the option Advanced Contracts.

LAWS2009 Criminal Law
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Prof Mark Findlay Session: Semester 2 Classes: 2x2hr seminars/wk Prerequisites: LAWS1006 Prohibitions: LAWS1003, LAWS1016 Assessment: class participation (10%), 1x in-class problem (10%), 1x research problem (30%) and 1x exam (50%)

This unit of study is designed to introduce the general principles of criminal law and process as they operate in NSW, and to critically analyse these in their contemporary social context. In order to achieve these goals, the unit will consider a range of socio-legal literature, and will focus on particular substantive legal topics. Although the topic

(4) A preliminary knowledge of how the criminal law operates in its broader societal context. (5) Through following the process of proof in a criminal prosecution and its defense, to understand the determination of criminal liability. The understandings referred to in the foregoing paragraphs will have a critical focus and will draw on procedural, substantive, theoretical and empirical sources. LAWS3003
Federal Constitutional Law

Credit points: 12
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Peter Gerangelos
Session: Semester 1
Classes: 2x2hr seminars/wk
Prerequisites: LAWS1006
Prohibitions: LAWS3000
Assessment: 1x mid-semester assignment/exam (40%) and 1x3hr exam (60%)
Note: Available to Combined Law candidates only.

This unit of study aims to achieve an understanding of the principles of Australian constitutional law. The unit commences with a development of an understanding of Australia’s constitutional independence, parliamentary sovereignty, indigenous rights and the concepts of representative and responsible government. Further topics covered include federalism (including the external affairs power and the relationship between Commonwealth and state laws); economic and financial power and relations (including the corporations power, the trade and commerce power, freedom of interstate trade, and excise); the doctrine of separation of powers and judicial power of the Commonwealth; express and implied constitutional rights; and principles of constitutional interpretation. The unit aims to develop a capacity to evaluate the principles critically, with regard to political theory and the social context within which cases have been decided.

Law, Lawyers and Justice

Credit points: 12
Teacher/Coordinator: Assoc Prof Mary Crock
Session: Semester 2
Classes: 2x2hr seminars/wk
Prerequisites: LAWS1006
Prohibitions: LAWS3002, LAWS1007, LAWS1001
Assessment: class participation (10%), reflective journal (30%) and 1x open book exam (60%)
Note: Available to Combined Law candidates proceeding under the old resolutions.

Law, Lawyers and Justice has a distinct intellectual focus. It is the only unit in the curriculum that concentrates on the regulation of the legal profession and legal practice. Part 1 of Law, Lawyers and Justice examines the nature and structure of the legal profession, historical struggles to regulate the profession, and the current regulatory regime in New South Wales. Part 2 explores specific forms of legal practice, highlights the major cultural and economic forces that challenge attempts to regulate the profession and canvasses alternative ways of organising legal practice and providing legal services. Part 3 investigates the adversary system and considers its advantages and limitations. More specifically, the material in Part 3 addresses how the adversary system moulds lawyers’ behaviour within and outside the judicial process and analyses current regulatory measures aimed at curbing the undesirable aspects of an adversarial culture. Part 4 evaluates the way clients are treated by lawyers and suggests strategies to change their conduct in the interests of both equality and effective communication. Furthermore, it examines lawyers’ duties to their clients and the ways in which the rules and principles of confidentiality, legal professional privilege and conflicts of interest shape the advice and representation lawyers provide for their clients.
Introduction to postgraduate study

Definitions, terminology and other relevant information

Course transfers
In some cases students may be permitted to transfer from one award course to another within the Faculty of Economics and Business. The entry requirements vary for each award course and students are advised to check the entry requirements detailed in this handbook. Some of the units of study that students have completed under the old award course may be credited to the new one (depending on whether the course is related) and this will be assessed at application stage. Applications should be submitted to the Student Information Office (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/sio/).

Credit and waivers of pre or corequisites for previous study

Credit
Students admitted to the postgraduate coursework programs may apply for credit based on units of study previously completed at the University of Sydney or other equivalent tertiary institutions. Credit is approved for individual units of study, not for years of study. Students need to apply to the Student Information Office (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/sio/) with original academic transcript and detailed unit of study/course outlines.

Waivers of prerequisites or corequisites
The Faculty may waive the requirement for a student to complete a pre or corequisite if relevant study has been undertaken previously. In order for a pre or corequisite to be waived, students must apply to the Student Information Office (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/sio/) for special permission to enrol in the unit of study they wish to undertake (and which pre or corequisite they would like waived). Waivers of pre or corequisites allow students to enter into more advanced areas of study, bypassing the need to repeat foundation material. Students should note, however that waivers of pre or corequisities do not reduce the total number of units of study required to complete the program. Students should also note that if the pre or corequisite they are seeking a waiver for is a compulsory unit for their program/major and they wish to be exempt from completing it altogether, students must seek a variation to course requirements (see below).

Varying course requirements
In certain circumstances, the Faculty may waive a course requirement to enable students to pursue study of particular interest to them (ie. undertake a unit not prescribed for their program). Students should make an appointment to discuss their proposed plan with the Postgraduate Program Adviser (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/program_advice/) or the Academic Adviser (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/pgadvisers/) for their program. Students must have written approval from the Faculty permitting a variation of course requirements to avoid problems when they are assessed for graduation.

Deferral
Students who are offered a place in an award course and cannot commence their enrolment in the semester for which they applied must notify the Faculty that they wish to defer prior to the commencement of semester. Students are able to defer for a maximum of one year. Applications for deferral should be submitted to the Student Information Office (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/sio/).

Non-award study
Students who wish to undertake units of study outside of their award course requirements may do so on a non-award basis. Students may study award and non-award units of study concurrently as long as they do not exceed a standard full-time workload (24 credit points per semester). Students should note that non-award study is undertaken on a full-fee paying basis at the current yearly rate. Students should contact the Student Information Office (http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/sio/) regarding procedures for applying for non-award study.

Upgrades
The Faculty of Economics and Business offers three levels of postgraduate coursework programs;

Graduate certificates: These programs require students to complete three or four units of study depending on the award course.

Graduate diplomas: These require between five and eight units of study depending on the award course.

Master's degrees: These require the completion of between 8 and 12 units of study depending on the award course.

Students may only submit an application to upgrade once they have completed a minimum of three units of study with a credit average overall. If a student has completed more than three units of study, their credit average will be calculated across all units of study completed at the time the application is assessed. If a grade of between 60 and 64.9 is achieved, applications will automatically be referred to an academic review panel for assessment. Students should ensure they check entry requirements for each course. Students must not graduate with a graduate certificate and/or diploma if they intend to upgrade to a higher level award course. Students who do not meet the requirements to upgrade will be able to graduate from the award course they have completed. Students with a credit average in the Graduate Certificate may be eligible to upgrade to the Master's program.

Graduate certificates: These require between five and eight units of study depending on the award course.

Graduate diplomas: These require between five and eight units of study depending on the award course.

Master's degrees: These require the completion of between 8 and 12 units of study depending on the award course.

The numeric code of a unit of study indicates the level of the unit of study. In the Faculty of Economics and Business, postgraduate units of study are divided into foundation and advanced units of study.

Foundation units of study

Units of study with numeric codes between 5000 and 5999 are foundation units of study. These units of study are generally completed in the early stages of a course and contain introductory material for the particular subject area. For example ACCT5001 Accounting Principles introduces the student to foundational accounting principles.

Students admitted to the Master of Business Information Systems, Master of Commerce (and combined programs), Master of Economics, Master of International Business (and combined programs) and Master of Professional Accounting are automatically assessed for up to four units of credit for foundation level units, based on their previous study. Students enrolled in other programs of study (and those enrolled in the aforementioned program who have been granted the maximum four units of credit) may be eligible for waivers of prerequisites if they have covered foundation material previously, however should note that waivers do not reduce the total number of units required to complete the program.

Advanced units of study

Those units of study with numeric codes between 6000 and 6999 are advanced units of study, and those with numeric codes between 7000 and 7999 are advanced honours units of study. Advanced units of study are more specialised units and sometimes require the completion of the general foundation units of study. Advanced units of study tend to focus on a more specialised area within the particular subject area. Students enrolled in a pass degree can only enrol in 5000 and 6000 level units of study. Students enrolled in some honours degrees can also enrol in 7000 level units of study. Course requirements indicate which units of study must be completed in order to fulfill degree requirements. Students should refer to the specific information on their degree for further information.

The following table shows an illustrative program of unit of study levels in a normal degree progression.

Unit of study definitions

Credit points

Credit points refer to the value of the contribution each unit of study provides to meeting the total course requirements. For example, for the Master of Commerce students must successfully complete 72 credit points in total to be awarded the degree. In terms of units of study, this would mean that students would need to successfully complete 12 x 6 credit point units of study in order to be awarded the Master of Commerce.

Each unit of study has a credit point value assigned to it. The majority of units of study on offer by the Faculty are worth 6 credit points. Some advanced units of study are also worth 12 credit points and are equivalent in workload and assessment to 2 x 6 credit point units of study.

Prerequisites

Prerequisites are necessary requirements that need to be completed successfully before students can enrol in another particular unit of study that has the prerequisite.

Examples of prerequisites include the following:

• a particular unit or units of study which are required to be completed successfully before the student can attempt another unit of study e.g. ACCT5001 Accounting Principles is a prerequisite for ACCT6001 Intermediate Financial Reporting
• a particular grade average in particular units of study which must be obtained in order to enrol in higher level units/units of study e.g. ECON6901 Microeconomics Analysis 2 requires students to have completed ECON6001 Microeconomics Analysis 1 with a Distinction average or better
• the completion of a certain number of credit points before students can enrol in certain units of study at a higher level e.g. to enrol in IBUS6013 Entrepreneurial Restructuring and Renewal students must have completed 12 credit points before they can enrol in this unit

Corequisites

A corequisite refers to a unit of study which must be taken in the same semester or year as a particular unit of study (unless already completed). For example, IBUS6001 International Business Strategy is the corequisite for IBUS6004 International Business Alliances.

Assumed knowledge

For some units of study, a student is assumed to have passed a relevant unit of study or have particular knowledge of a subject area. Although students are usually advised against taking a unit of study which they do not have the assumed knowledge for, they are not prevented from enrolling in the unit of study.
For example, students enrolling in INFS6018 Business Intelligence Systems, would find it beneficial for their study in the unit to have already completed the unit of study INF6017 Strategic Information and Knowledge Management.

Prohibition

Prohibitions or prohibited combinations of units refers to when two or more units of study contain a significant overlap of content. Enrolment by students in any one such unit of study prohibits their enrolment in any other unit of study identified as a prohibited unit.

For example, Students who completed GOVT6317 Politics of Consultation would not be able to enrol in GOVT6300 Deliberation and Public Engagement as it is a prohibited unit of study because both units cover similar material.

Core units of study

Core units of study are the units of study which are compulsory and must be completed for the award of the particular degree. Core units of study are specified under the course requirements for each particular postgraduate coursework program. For example, under the Master of Commerce students choose between 4 and 6 core units of study from a list of 14 core units of study options.

Compulsory units of study

Compulsory units of study are units of study which must be completed as requirements for a particular degree or area of specialisation (major). For example, under the Master of International Business the units of study IBUS6001 International Business Strategy, IBUS6002 Cross-Cultural Management, IBUS6003 Managing International Risk and IBUS6004 International Business Alliances are compulsory.

Elective units of study

Elective units of study are units which students choose from a range of options determined by the award course in which they are studying. Elective units of study can be chosen as individual options or as part of majors.

For details of the units of study available for 2007 enrolment, students should refer to the tables of postgraduate units of study chapter in this handbook.

Overview of postgraduate coursework programs offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business
Postgraduate Business coursework programs

The Business programs exemplify our integrated, cross-disciplinary approach to postgraduate economics and business education. The core of the programs is thematic and integrated across disciplines. It is designed to ensure that all postgraduate students have a range of useful business-related skills in place to complement their specialisation. The core seeks to develop skills and competencies in business communication, strategic thinking, quantitative and qualitative analysis and effective group work and leadership, and to enhance student understanding of the nature and role of business in diverse economic, political and social contexts. Integrating specialist business education within its strategic and operational context, the core of these programs integrates the development of technical and specialist skills with the development of a broader professional capability.

Duration of course
Full-time: A typical full-time student will undertake 4 units of study per semester, completing the 8 units in 2 semesters (1 year).

Part-time: Students undertake 1 or 2 units per semester, typically completing the program in 2 to 4 years.
Master of Business Information Systems

MBIS

The Master of Business Information Systems is designed to meet the needs of students with a pre-existing knowledge of business who want to better understand the contribution business information systems (BIS) can make to their role as a manager within an organisation. The degree is designed to provide students with the flexibility to develop their expertise both within and across a number of streams to meet their specific career needs and aspirations.

The aim of the Master of Business Information Systems (MBIS) is to combine theory and practice to equip graduates with the skill set necessary to effectively manage and derive strategic value from information and information related technologies in both public and private sector contexts. The course covers the complete information systems lifecycle from consideration of the contribution of BIS to business strategy, through the design and implementation of appropriate solutions to the delivery of the associated benefits. The MBIS incorporates an integrative project that requires students to draw together and apply material from the units of study they have studied.

The MBIS has been accredited by the Australian Computer Society (ACS) until 2008. Having completed a minimum of six 6000-level INFS units of study as part of the MBIS requirements students will satisfy the educational requirements for professional level accreditation with the Australian Computer Society.

Course requirements

To be awarded the Master of Business Information Systems, students must successfully complete a total of 12 units of study (72 credit points), comprising:

- 2 core units of study (12 credit points) listed under Core units of study
- 2 units of study each from two of the Business Information Systems (BIS) streams; this would be 4 units of study (24 credit points) in total
- 2 additional elective business information systems (BIS) INFS coded units of study from the remaining BIS streams or other approved INFS elective units of study (12 credit points in total)
- 4 elective units of study (24 credit points) selected from other postgraduate coursework units of study offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business

Core units of study

The following units of study are compulsory for the award course:

- INFS5000 Business Information Systems
- INFS6020 BIS Innovation, Transformation and Change

Business Information Systems (BIS) streams

Students select 2 units of study (12 credit points) from 2 of the BIS streams listed in the following table (in total 4 units of study or 24 credit points) for the degree:

- BIS Strategy and Innovation stream
  - INFS6002 BIS Strategy
  - INFS6016 Technology-Enabled Business Innovation

Information Management and Business Intelligence stream

- INFS6013 Risk Management and BIS Assurance
- INFS6017 Strategic Information Design and Management
- INFS6018 Business Intelligence Systems

BIS Management stream

- INFS6001 BIS Management
- INFS6014 BIS Project Management

Business Process Management stream

- INFS6012 Business Process Integration
- INFS6015 Business Process Management

Elective units of study

Students must complete 2 business information systems (BIS) elective units of study and 4 additional non-BIS elective units of study as indicated below:

(i) Business Information Systems (BIS) electives

Students must select two BIS elective units of study (12 credit points). These must be selected from the INFS units of study listed in the table Business Information Systems (BIS) streams not taken as part of the stream choices and the following unit of study:

- INFS6101 Special Topic in Business Information Systems

(ii) Other non-BIS elective units of study

Students must select an additional four elective units of study (24 credit points). These elective units of study can be chosen from other postgraduate coursework units of study offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business. See the Tables of postgraduate units of study section in this handbook for further details of available units of study.

Guide to enrolment

Due to the fact that it is a prerequisite or assumed knowledge is required for many other INFS units of study, students should enrol in the core unit INFS5000 Business Information Systems in their first semester of study. Students should ensure that they initially enrol in units of study. A student may take any of the BIS units of study in any semester (BIS or other elective units of study may be completed in any order, depending upon prerequisite requirements). For details of prerequisite/ corequisite requirements, students should refer to the Table of Postgraduate units of study chapter in this handbook. Students would normally complete the core unit of study INFS6020 BIS Innovation, Transformation and Change in the final semester/s of their enrolment because of its prerequisite requirements.

Students should plan their degree carefully using the course planner available at the back of this handbook.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for students enrolled in the Master of Business Information Systems on a full-time basis completing 4 units of study per semester.

Entry requirements

For entry into this degree, students must have completed a bachelor's degree, graduate diploma/certificate or equivalent from a recognised tertiary institution with a minimum credit (65 per cent) average.

Duration of course

Full-time: A typical full-time student will undertake 3 or 4 units of study per semester, completing the 12 units in 3 to 4 semesters (1.5 to 2 years).

Part-time: Students undertake 1 or 2 units per semester, typically completing the program in 3 to 6 years.

Business Information Systems majors can also be completed under the Master of Commerce (including combined degrees) and the Master of Business. For further information, please refer to the relevant chapters in this handbook.
Postgraduate Commerce coursework programs

The Commerce programs draw on the strengths of the Faculty of Economics and Business to assist students to develop the advanced skills and knowledge required for a high-level position in industry, commerce and government. These programs offer specialised education in one or two of the following areas: accounting, banking, business and society, business decision sciences, business information systems, business law, business statistics, economics, entrepreneurship, employment relations and human resource management, finance, governance, international business, marketing, organisational analysis and strategy, quantitative finance, strategic management, supply chain and logistics management, taxation and transport management.

Master of Commerce

MCom

Course requirements

To be awarded the Master of Commerce, students must successfully complete a total of 12 units of study (72 credit points), comprising:

- 4 to 6 core units of study (24 to 36 credit points) selected from Table A. Core units of Study
- A major in one of the subject areas listed in Table B (4 units of study or 24 credit points)
- Either a second major (4 units of study or 24 credit points each) in one of the subject areas listed in Table B (different to that chosen as a first major); OR elective units of study (12 to 24 credit points) selected from the subject areas listed in Table B

Table A. Core units of study

Students must complete at least 4 core units (24 credit points) of study for all programs. Students are automatically assessed for credit for core units of study (maximum of four) at the time of application for admission to the Master of Commerce. Core units of study are to be selected from the following list:

- ACCTS001 Accounting Principles
- ACCTS002 Managerial Accounting and Decision Making
- CLAWS001 Legal Environment of Business
- ECMT50001 Principles of Econometrics
- ECMT5020 Data Analysis and Interpretation
- ECONS001 Microeconomic Theory
- ECONS002 Macroeconomic Theory
- FINC5001 Capital Markets and Corporate Finance
- INFSS000 Business Information Systems
- GOVT5001 Business, Government and Society
- MKTG5001 Marketing Principles
- MKTG5002 The Psychology of Business Decisions
- WORK5002 Introduction to HRM
- WORK5003 Management and Organisations

Table B. Commerce subject areas

Students in the Master of Commerce (including combined programs) must select their major/s and electives from the list of the following subject areas. A major consists of 4 units of study (24 credit points) not including core units of study. For the Graduate Diploma in Commerce students select their 4 elective units of study (24 credit points) from the following subject areas. For details of the units of study which may be studied under each subject area, please refer to the section Postgraduate Commerce subject areas for majors and electives in this chapter of the handbook.

- Accounting
  - Banking
  - Business and Society
  - Business Decision Sciences
  - Business Information Systems
  - Business Law
  - Business Statistics
  - Economics
  - Employment Relations and Human Resource Management
  - Entrepreneurship
  - Finance
  - Governance
  - International Business
  - Marketing
  - Organisational Analysis and Strategy
  - Quantitative Finance
  - Strategic Management
  - Supply Chain and Logistics Management
  - Taxation
  - Transport Management

Guide to enrolment

Although not always necessary, students would normally complete all their required core units of study first (unless they have received credit for them). Students should refer to the Commerce subject areas for majors and electives for the particular requirements for the major/majors which they intend to complete. Students should ensure they complete core units of study which are the prerequisites of particular majors or elective units of study they intend to undertake in their first semester of enrolment. However, providing that specified prerequisites/corequisites for the relevant elective units of study are met, a student may take one or more elective units of study in the first two semesters of study, and one or more core units of study in subsequent semesters of study.

Students who have received credit for foundation units of study would be able to study more advanced compulsory or elective units of study in their first semester/s of enrolment.

Students should plan their degree carefully using the course planner available at the back of this handbook.

Students who intend to meet specific professional body accreditation requirements should check the information listed under the heading Accreditation program requirements as this may impact on the choice of major/s and electives.

Accreditation program requirements

Australian Computer Society (ACS) accreditation program

Students planning to satisfy the entry requirements of the ACS should include in their award course a prescribed set of units of study, including a major in Business Information Systems. The required units of study are listed below:

- The core unit of study Business Information Systems (INFS5000) from Table A. Core units of study
- A major in Business Information Systems consisting of 4 INFS 6000 level units of study (24 credit points)
- At least 2 additional INFS 6000 level elective units of study

Entry requirements

For entry into this degree, students must have completed a bachelor’s degree, graduate diploma/certificate or equivalent from a recognised tertiary institution with a minimum credit (65 per cent) average.

Duration of course

Full-time: A typical full-time student will undertake 3 or 4 units of study per semester, completing the 12 units in 3 to 4 semesters (1.5 to 2 years).

Part-time: Students undertake 1 or 2 units per semester, typically completing the program in 3 to 6 years.

Taxation
- CLAW7001 Taxation Honours A
- CLAW7002 Taxation Honours B

Transport Management
- TPTM7011 Transport Management Honours A
- TPTM7012 Transport Management Honours B

Guide to enrolment

Students must initially complete the requirements for the Master of Commerce pass degree. Students then enrol in both the honours dissertation units of study and two additional elective units of study. The elective units of study usually come from the same subject area as the dissertation units of study and major they have completed. Students should consult with the relevant discipline before choosing elective units of study. Electives cannot be additional core units of study.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Master of Commerce (Honours) on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester.
Entry requirements

For entry into the Master of Commerce (Honours) students must complete the Master of Commerce with a minimum average of 75 per cent across 4 units of study in their chosen Table B major. Students should refer to the information listing under the Master of Commerce section in this handbook for details of these requirements.

Please note: Enrolment in the Master of Commerce (Honours) is subject to supervisor availability.

Duration of course

Full-time: Full-Time students typically complete 3 or 4 units of study per semester, completing the 16 units in 4 to 5 semesters (2 to 2.5 years).

Part-time: Students undertake 1 or 2 units of study per semester, typically completing the program in 4 to 8 years.

Master of Commerce and Master of Facilities Management

MCom/MFM

The Master of Commerce/Master of Facilities Management award course is a path-breaking initiative in cross-disciplinary postgraduate education between the Faculty of Economics and Business and the Faculty of Architecture. Guide to enrolment
Although not always necessary, students would normally complete all their required core Master of Commerce and compulsory international business units of study prior to commencing any elective units of study. Students should refer to the Commerce subject areas for majors and electives for the particular requirements for the major/majors which they intend to complete. Students should ensure they complete core units of study which are the prerequisites of particular majors or elective units of study they intend to undertake in their first semester of enrolment. However, providing that specified prerequisites/corequisites for the relevant elective units of study are met, a student may take one or more elective units of study in the first two semesters of study, and one or more core units of study in subsequent semesters of study.

Students should plan their degree carefully using the course planner available at the back of this handbook.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Master of International Business and Master of Commerce on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester. (Please Note. MCom refers to the Master of Commerce and MIB refers to the Master of International Business.)

Entry requirements
For entry into this course, students must have either met the entry requirements as for the master’s degree OR have completed a bachelor’s degree, graduate certificate or equivalent from a recognised tertiary institution (a standard acceptable to the Faculty) and at least three years of relevant work experience.

Duration of course
Full-time: A typical full-time student will undertake 4 units of study per semester, completing the 8 units in 2 semesters (1 year).

Part-time: Students undertake 1 or 2 units per semester, typically completing the program in 2 to 4 years.

Graduate Certificate in Commerce

GradCertCom

Course requirements
To be awarded the Graduate Certificate in Commerce, students must successfully complete a total of 4 units of study (24 credit points), comprising:

• 4 core units of study (24 credit points) selected from Table A. Core units of study under the Master of Commerce section in this handbook.

Guide to enrolment
Full-time students select four core units of study and enrol in them for one semester and part-time students select at least one per semester.
Economics postgraduate coursework programs

Master of Economics

MEc
The Master of Economics provides advanced training in theoretical and applied aspects of modern economics, econometrics and financial economics. It is one of the largest programs of its type in Australia and a leading supplier of graduates to both the private and public sectors. In addition, this coursework program provides students with the necessary foundations in economics and econometrics to proceed to a PhD within Australia or abroad. The Master of Economics is offered jointly by the Disciplines of Economics, Econometrics and Business Statistics, and Finance. There are two intakes per year for the Master of Economics, with classes commencing in March and July. Every effort is made to make this program accessible to part-time students.

Course requirements
To be awarded the Master of Economics, students must successfully complete a total of 12 units of study (72 credit points), comprising:

- 3 compulsory foundation units of study (18 credit points) listed under Master of Economics foundation units of study. (Students who wish to complete a major in Financial Economics must complete an additional foundation unit of study; that is, a total of 4 core units of study or 24 credit points)
- 4 compulsory units of study (24 credit points) listed under Master of Economics compulsory units of study
- At least one area of specialisation (one major), consisting of 3 units of study (18 credit points), from the subject areas of economics, econometrics and financial economics (taken from units of study listed under Master of Economics subject areas for majors and electives)
- A second major (18 credit points) or elective units of study (taken from units of study listed under Master of Economics subject areas for majors and electives)

Master of Economics foundation units of study
Students must complete the following three core units of study (18 credit points):

- ECMT5001 Principles of Econometrics
- ECON5001 Microeconomic Theory
- ECON5002 Macroeconomic Theory

The following foundation unit of study is necessary for students who wish to study the major or elective units from the Financial Economics subject area:

- FINC5001 Capital Markets and Corporate Finance

Please note: Foundation units of study cannot be counted towards a major.

Master of Economics compulsory units of study
Students must complete all of the following four units of study (24 credit points):

- ECMT6002 Econometric Applications
- ECON6001 Microeconomic Analysis 1
- ECON6002 Macroeconomic Analysis 1
- ECON6003 Mathematical Methods of Economic Analysis

Please note: The compulsory units of study maybe counted towards majors, please refer to the information listed under Master of Economics subject areas for majors and electives for further details of units of study available under these subject areas.

Master of Economics subject areas for majors and electives
Students select their major/s and electives from the following subject areas:

- Economics
- Econometrics
- Financial Economics

For details of the units of study available under each of these subject areas, students should refer to the information listed under the heading Master of Economics subject areas for majors and electives.

Guide to enrolment
Students would normally complete all their required foundation units of study first (unless they have received credit for them), as foundation units of study are usually the prerequisites for particular majors and elective units of study. However, providing that specified prerequisites/corequisites for the relevant elective units of study are met, a student may take one or more compulsory or elective units of study in the first semester/s of study, and one or more foundation units of study in subsequent semesters of study.

Students who have received credit for foundation units of study would be able to study more advanced compulsory or elective units of study in their first semester/s of enrolment.

Students should plan their degree carefully using the course planner available at the back of this handbook.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for students enrolled in the Master of Economics on a full-time basis completing 4 units of study per semester (with no credit) beginning in semester 1 of a year.

The Faculty of Economics and Business website illustrates units of study progression sequences for specific majors. This information can be accessed at http://www.econ.usyd.edu.au/course/FH050.

Entry requirements
For entry into this degree, students must have completed a bachelor’s degree, graduate diploma/certificate or equivalent from a recognised tertiary institution with a minimum credit (65 per cent) average.

Duration of course
Full-time: A typical full-time student will undertake 3 or 4 units of study per semester, completing the 12 units in 3 or 4 semesters (in 1.5 to 2 years).

Part-time: Students undertake 1 or 2 units per semester, typically completing the program in 3 to 6 years.
Master of Economics (Honours)

The Master of Economics can be awarded with honours. To be considered for the award of honours, a superior performance is required in the core units of study and in addition, two specific honours units of study must be completed.

To be awarded the Master of Economics (Honours), students must successfully complete a total of 12 units of study (72 credit points), comprising:

- 3 compulsory foundation units of study (18 credit points) listed under Master of Economics foundation units of study
- 4 other compulsory units of study (24 credit points) listed under Master of Economics compulsory units of study
- At least one area of specialisation (one major), consisting of 3 units of study (18 credit points), from the subject areas of economics, econometrics and financial economics (See the information under Master of Economics subject areas for majors and electives)
- Any 2 honours level units of study (12 credit points) (These units of study may count towards the required major)
- A second major or elective units of study (taken from the units of study listed under Master of Economics subject areas for majors and electives)

Honours units of study

Honours students select their two compulsory honours units of study from the following (Please Note: Honours units of study can be counted as part of a major):

- ECMT6901 Econometric Modelling*
- ECON6901 Microeconomic Analysis 2
- ECON6902 Macroeconomic Analysis 2
- FINC6005 Advanced Asset Pricing

*ECMT6901 will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Guide to enrolment

All students enrol in the Master of Economics. They obtain an Honours award if they meet the requirements for Honours as shown above.

Students would normally complete all their required foundation units of study first (unless they have received credit for them). If the specified prerequisites/corequisites for the relevant units of study are met, a student may take one or more compulsory, major or elective units of study in the first semester/s of study. Once students have successfully met the entry requirements for honours units, they then complete two of the four honours units of study (listed above) and major/s and electives in any order depending upon prerequisite requirements. (See Entry requirements for details).

Students should plan their degree carefully using the course planner available at the back of this handbook.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for students enrolled in the Master of Economics (Honours) on a full-time basis completing 4 units of study per semester (with 4 core credits totalling 24 credit points from previous study) beginning in semester 1 of a year.

Entry requirements

Students must be admitted to the Master of Economics (with entry requirements shown under the Master of Economics). Students can enrol in any of the units that are required for an Honours award, if they have achieved a minimum Distinction (75 per cent) grade average in selected units of study as outlined below:

- For ECON6901 Microeconomic Analysis 2, students must have a Distinction grade for ECON6001 Microeconomic Analysis 1
- For ECON6902 Macroeconomic Analysis 2, students must have a Distinction grade for ECON6002 Macroeconomic Analysis 1
- For ECMT6901 Econometric Modelling students must have a Distinction grade average for ECMT5001 Principles of Econometrics and ECMT6002 Econometric Applications
- For FINC6005 Advanced Asset Pricing students must have completed FINC5001 Capital Markets and Corporate Finance or FINC6000 Quantitative Finance

Duration of course

Full-time: Students typically complete 3 or 4 units of study per semester, completing the 12 units in 3 to 4 semesters (1.5 to 2 years). Some units may be available through Summer School, which may make it possible to complete the 12 units in 14 months.

Part-time: Students typically complete 1 or 2 units per semester, completing the program in 3 to 6 years.

Master of Economics subject areas for majors and electives

Some prerequisites are specified in the major structures below, but students should note that units of study may have additional prerequisites and are advised to check unit of study prerequisites before enrolling. Information on prerequisites and unit of study availability in 2007 can be found in the Tables of postgraduate units of study.

Economics

To obtain an Economics major, students must complete the following:

(i) 2 compulsory units of study:
- ECON6001 Microeconomic Analysis 1
- ECON6002 Macroeconomic Analysis 1

(ii) at least 1 of the following elective units of study:
- ECON6006 Market Structure and Strategic Behaviour

Please note: The units of study marked with * will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Please note: ECON6901 and ECON6902 are honours units of study.

Econometrics

To obtain an Econometrics major, students must complete the following:

(i) 1 compulsory unit of study:
- ECMT6002 Econometric Applications

(ii) at least 2 of the following elective units of study:
- ECMT6003 Applied Business Forecasting
- ECMT6005 Applied Discrete Choice Modelling*
- ECMT6006 Applied Financial Econometrics
- ECMT6510 Management Decision Making
- ECMT6901 Econometric Modelling*

Please note: The units of study marked with * will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Please note: ECMT6901 is the honours unit of study.
Financial Economics

To obtain a Financial Economics major, students must complete the following:

(i) 1 core unit of study for the major:
   - FINC5001 Capital Markets and Corporate Finance

Please note: The core unit of study FINC5001 Capital Markets and Corporate Finance does not count towards the major but is the prerequisite unit of study for most of the FINC 6000 level units of study in this major.

(ii) 2 compulsory units of study:
   - ECMT6006 Applied Financial Econometrics
   - ECON6021 Financial Economics

(iii) Plus at least 1 of the following elective units of study:
   - ECON6008 International Money and Finance
   - FINC6000 Quantitative Finance
   - FINC6001 Intermediate Corporate Finance
   - FINC6003 Broking and Market Making

   - FINC6013 International Business Finance
   - FINC6014 Fixed Income Securities
   - FINC6015 Global Trading
   - FINC6016 Financial Instruments and Markets
   - FINC6017 Mergers and Acquisitions
   - FINC6018 Numerical Methods of Finance
   - FINC6019 Financial Modelling
   - FINC6021 Corporate Valuation

Please note: FINC6005 is the honours unit of study.

Please note: Majors will not appear on the student's testamur.

Graduate Diploma in Economics

GradDipEc

The Graduate Diploma in Economics is designed to provide training in theoretical and applied aspects of modern economics and econometrics to those with a degree in another discipline. This program is offered jointly by the Disciplines of Economics, Econometrics and Business Statistics, and Finance. A graduate of this award course is prepared for a career as a professional economist or for further studies in economics or econometrics and business statistics. Every effort is made to make this program accessible to part-time students. There are two intakes per year for the Graduate Diploma in Economics, with classes commencing in March and July.

Course requirements

To be awarded the Graduate Diploma in Economics, students must successfully complete a total of 8 units of study (48 credit points), comprising:

- 3 compulsory foundation units of study (18 credit points) listed under Graduate Diploma in Economics foundation units of study
- 5 elective units of study (30 credit points) chosen from elective units of study listed under Graduate Diploma in Economics elective units of study

Graduate Diploma in Economics elective units of study

Students must select five electives (30 credit points) from the following list of elective units of study:

- ECMT6002 Econometric Applications
- ECMT6003 Applied Business Forecasting
- ECMT6005 Applied Discrete Choice Modelling*
- ECMT6006 Applied Financial Econometrics
- ECMT6510 Management Decision Making
- ECON6004 Regulating e-Business
- ECON6008 International Money and Finance
- ECON6024 Venture Capital
- FINC5001 Capital Markets and Corporate Finance
- FINC6000 Quantitative Finance
- FINC6001 Intermediate Corporate Finance

Please note: The units of study marked with * will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Guide to enrolment

Students would normally complete most of their required foundation units of study prior to commencing any elective units of study as foundation units of study tend to be the prerequisites for most of the elective units of study. However, providing that specified prerequisites/corequisites for the relevant elective units of study are met, a student may take one or more elective units of study in the first two semesters of study, and one or more core units of study in subsequent semesters of study.

Students should plan their degree carefully using the course planner available at the back of this handbook.

The table below shows an illustrative program of study for students enrolled in the Graduate Diploma in Economics on a full-time basis completing 4 units of study per semester.

Entry requirements

For entry into this course, students must have met the entry requirements as for the master's degree OR have completed a bachelor's degree, graduate certificate or equivalent from a recognised tertiary institution (at a standard acceptable to the Faculty).

Duration of course

Full-time: A typical full-time student will undertake 3 or 4 units of study per semester, completing the 8 units in 2 or 3 semesters (in 1 to 1.5 years).

Part-time: Students undertake 1 or 2 units per semester, typically completing the program in 2 to 4 years.
Master of Economics (Social Sciences) with Honours

MEc(Social Sciences)

This is a specialist program to facilitate access to a research orientation in Political Economy. Candidates should possess a good undergraduate degree with a Credit average in Political Economy or Economics (candidates with a good undergraduate degree in other areas may be admitted to a semester of preliminary studies). Students enrol in senior honours units of study and complement the preparatory study with enrolment in postgraduate units of study of their choice, before proceeding to a dissertation. Exceptional performance in the program facilitates the possibility of enrolment in a PhD program.

Course requirements

To be awarded the Master of Economics (Social Sciences), students must successfully complete a total of 9 units of study (72 credit points), comprising:

- 2 core units of study (12 credit points) as listed under Core units of study
- A 25,000 to 30,000 word dissertation (3 units of study worth 12 credit points each – a total of 36 credit points) as listed under Dissertation units of study
- 4 elective units of study (24 credit points) selected from the units of study/subject areas listed under Elective units of study

Core units of study

These units of study are compulsory:

- ECOP6030 Research in Political Economy Part A
- ECOP6031 Research in Political Economy Part B

Dissertation units of study

These units of study are compulsory:

- ECOP6025 Dissertation Proposal
- ECOP6026 Dissertation Part A
- ECOP6027 Dissertation Part B

Elective units of study

Specific Master of Economics (Social Sciences) Political Economy elective units of study

Students must select at least two units of study (12 credit points) from the following list:

- ECOP6120 Special Topic in Political Economy
- ECOP6006 Theories of Social Formations
- ECOP6008 Issues in Political Economy*

Please note: Units of study marked with * will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Other elective units of study

Students choose up to two elective units of study (12 credit points) from either the following units of study:

- ECOP6010 International Trade Regulation
- ECOP6011 USA-EUROPE-JAPAN: Trade and Investment
- ECOP6016 China in the World Economy

AND/OR from the following subject areas:

- Education
- Geography
- Government and International Relations
- Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management
- Philosophy
- Political Economy
- Psychology
- Social Anthropology

Guide to enrolment

Students would complete all their required core units of study either prior to commencing or at the same time as the dissertation units of study. Students must complete the Dissertation proposal unit of study before commencing the Dissertation component of their course. Provided that specified prerequisites/corequisites for the relevant elective units of study are met, these units of study can be completed at anytime during the subsequent semesters of study. Progression in this course relies on the students’ ability to maintain a high level of performance in the units of study completed.

Students should plan their degree carefully using the course planner available at the back of this handbook.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for students enrolled in the Master of Business Information Systems on a full-time basis, completing between 4 and 2 units of study per semester.

Guide to enrolment

Although not always necessary, students would normally complete all of their required core units of study during the first semester/s (unless they have received credit for them), as many of these units are prerequisite units for the elective unit of study options. Students would normally complete their compulsory and especially their elective units of study after they have completed their core units, however, providing that specified prerequisites/corequisites for the relevant elective units of study are met, a student may take elective or compulsory units of study in the first semester/s of study, and core units of study in subsequent semesters of study.

Students who have received credit for core units of study would be able to study more advanced compulsory or elective units of study in their first semester/s of enrolment.

Students should plan their degree carefully using the course planner available at the back of this handbook.

The following table below shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Master of International Business on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester.

Postgraduate International Business and Law coursework programs

Master of International Business and Law

MintBus&Law

In an age of globalisation, issues relating to international business and law are of great importance to managers and business professionals around the world. The Master of International Business and Law is a unique program which draws together the interdisciplinary strengths of the Faculty of Economics and Business and the Faculty of Law. Units of study offered in this course are accessible to students without legal or business backgrounds, making it an ideal entry path for those seeking to broaden their career into fields such as international trade and taxation law.

Course requirements

To be awarded the Master of International Business and Law, students must successfully complete a total of 8 units of study (48 credit points), comprising:

From the Faculty of Economics and Business (International Business):

- 2 core units of study in international business (12 credit points) selected from the units listed under International business core units of study
- 2 elective units of study in international business (12 credit points) selected from the units listed under International business elective units of study

From the Faculty of Law:

- 2 compulsory units of study in law (12 credit points) as indicated under Compulsory law units of study
- 2 elective units of study in law (12 credit points) as indicated under Elective law units of study

International business core units of study

Students must select two units of study (12 credit points) from the following:

- IBUS6001 International Business Strategy
- IBUS5002 Cross-Cultural Management
- IBUS5003 Managing International Risk
- IBUS6004 International Business Alliances

International business elective units of study

Students must select two units of study (12 credit points) from the following:

Please note: The units of study marked with * will NOT be offered for 2007 enrolments.

Compulsory law units of study

Students must complete the two compulsory units of study (12 credit points) in Law as specified below:

- LAWS6059 International Business Law
- LAWS6252 Legal Reasoning and the Common Law System

Please note: In order to develop an understanding of what is involved in studying law and the standards that the Law Faculty expects from its students, the Faculty of Law requires that international students attend the Law Faculty’s orientation bridging course prior to the commencement of study and enrol in LAWS6252 Legal Reasoning and the Common Law System either prior to (as an intensive unit of study) or within their first semester of study. This is also strongly recommended for local students without a common law background. LAWS6252 is the prerequisite for all elective LAWS units of study in this program and MUST be completed prior to attempting to enrol in any electives. For further details, including intensive session offering, contact the Faculty of Law (http://www.law.usyd.edu.au).

Elective law units of study

Students select their two elective Law options (12 credit points) from the following units of study:

Part-time: Students undertake 1 or 2 units per semester, typically completing the program in 1 to 2 years.
Postgraduate Logistics Management coursework programs
Graduate Certificate in Marketing

GradCertMktg.

The Graduate Certificate in Marketing is relevant for qualified professionals who wish to complete a short program to update their skills and knowledge in Marketing. If a Credit average is attained in this award course, students may apply to upgrade to the Graduate Diploma in Commerce. This course is available to local students only as Marketing Principles must be completed prior to enrolment in elective units of study (the course is therefore available as a part-time program only).

Course requirements

To be awarded the Graduate Certificate in Marketing, students must successfully complete a total of 4 units of study (24 credit points), comprising:

- 1 core unit of study (6 credit points) listed under Core units of study
- 3 elective units of study (18 credit points) chosen from those listed under Elective units of study

Core unit of study

Students must complete the following core unit of study (6 credit points) prior to enrolling in any of the elective units of study in this program:

- MKTG5001 Marketing Principles

This core unit of study is the prerequisite for all other MKTG 6000 level units of study.

Elective units of study

Students must select their elective options from the following units of study:

- MKTG6001 Marketing Research Concepts
- MKTG6003 Marketing Strategy
- MKTG6004 New Product Development
- MKTG6005 Marketing Communications
- MKTG6006 Creative Communications in Marketing
- MKTG6007 Consumer Behaviour
- MKTG6013 International and Global Marketing
- MKTG6015 Electronic Marketing
- MKTG6016 Brand Management
- MKTG6017 Retail Marketing*
- MKTG6018 CRM – Customer Relationship Management*
- MKTG6019 Marketing in the Asia-Pacific Region
- MKTG6020 Business Marketing
- MKTG6101 Special Topics in Marketing 1*
- MKTG6103 Services Marketing

Please note: The units of study marked with * will NOT be available for 2007 enrolments.

Guide to enrolment

Students would normally complete the core unit of study in their first semester of enrolment and the elective units of study in the following semester/s. If students complete the core unit of study in Summer/Winter School or do not have to take the prerequisite unit of study Marketing Principles due to previous studies, then they may commence elective units of study within their first semester of study.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Graduate Certificate in Marketing (without taking MKTG5001 in Summer School or having the requirements to complete it waived).

Postgraduate Public Affairs courses

The Public Affairs courses provide focused and in-depth scrutiny of relationships between business, government, non-government organisations and their internal and external stakeholders.

They aid the analysis and understanding of:

- The framework and systems where interactions occur;
- The issues of principle and strategy that arise;
- The factors that affect the organisation's ability to operate efficiently and effectively in its internal and external environment;
- The strategic management of issues, responses and the role of the media;
- The ongoing importance of clear and precise communication; and
- Corporate citizenship and corporate social responsibility

Graduates of these courses are well equipped to work within public or corporate affairs either within government, non-government or business, media and consulting firms.

Master of Transport Management and Master of Urban and Regional Planning

MTM/MURP
The Master of Transport Management/ Master of Urban and Regional Planning award course is a path-breaking initiative in cross-disciplinary postgraduate education between the Faculties of Economics and Business and Architecture. Integrating specialised study in urban and regional planning and transport management with carefully tailored study in key areas of urban and transport planning, the program offers urban and regional planners a specially crafted and cohesive program of study that draws together knowledge from the fields of land use and transport planning, urban design, transport policy, environmental management and transport economics. Although built around a core of essential knowledge, the program also allows students scope to undertake advanced study in one or more areas of urban, regional and transport planning. Students will be prepared for careers in local government traffic and planning as well as regional and national planning organisations as well as private consultants engaged in transportation and traffic management.

Course requirements
To be awarded the Master of Transport Management and Master of Urban and Regional Planning, students must successfully complete units of study totalling 96 credit points, comprising:

Guide to enrolment

There is no particular order in which core and elective units of study must be completed in this degree. However, students should complete core units of study which are prerequisites for elective units of study in the first semester/s of enrolment to allow students flexibility in choosing elective options in the subsequent semester/s. Students may also complete certain core and elective units of study in Summer or Winter School.

Students should plan their degree carefully using the course planner available at the back of this handbook.

The following table shows an illustrative program of study for a student enrolled in the Graduate Certificate in Transport Management on a full-time basis undertaking four units of study per semester.

   1.1 An applicant for admission to candidacy for the Graduate Certificate in Transport Management must have met the work requirements of the Faculty.

2. Units of study
   2.1 The units of study which may be taken for the Graduate Certificate in Transport Management are set out under the tables of postgraduate units of study in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook, together with:

      2.1.1 credit point value;
      2.1.2 the units of study with which they are mutually exclusive;
      2.1.3 the semesters in which they are offered;
      2.1.4 corequisites/prerequisites/assumed learning/assumed knowledge; and
      2.1.5 any special conditions.

3. Requirements for the Graduate Certificate in Transport Management
   3.1 To qualify for the award of the Graduate Certificate in Transport Management, a student must successfully complete units of study amounting to a total of 24 credit points, comprising:

      3.1.1 3 core units of study (18 credit points) as specified in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook; and
      3.1.2 1 elective unit of study (6 credit points) as specified in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook.

4. Award of Graduate Certificate in Transport Management
   4.1 The Graduate Certificate in Transport Management will be awarded in the pass grade.

[Section 2]

Note: These resolutions apply to all postgraduate award courses offered by the Faculty of Economics and Business.

Resolutions of the Faculty of Economics and Business

1. Details of units of study
   1.1 The units of study in the award courses as approved by the Faculty of Economics and Business are listed in the tables of postgraduate units of study in the Faculty of Economics and Business Handbook.

2. Enrolment in more/less than minimum load
   2.1 A student may not enrol in less than one unit of study per semester.
   2.2 A student may not enrol in more than 24 credit points in any one semester.

3. A student may not enrol in more than two units of study in summer school or one unit of study in winter school, unless granted permission by the Faculty.

4. A student may not enrol in units of study additional to the award course requirements must enrol as a non-award student.
3. Cross-institutional study
3.1 The Faculty of Economics and Business may permit a student to complete a unit of study at another university or institution and have that unit of study credited to the student's award course.
3.2 Approval for cross-institutional study is at the discretion of the Faculty of Economics and Business and is conditional on a student satisfying Faculty of Economics and Business requirements.
3.3 Students may not complete a unit of study at another university or institution if a comparable unit is available at the University of Sydney during the same period.
3.4 Students should consult the Faculty of Economics and Business Student Information Office for more information on Faculty of Economics and Business requirements.

4. Restrictions on enrolment
4.1 A student who has successfully completed a unit of study towards the requirements of an award course may not re-enrol in that unit of study.
4.2 A student may not enrol in any unit of study which overlaps substantially in content with a unit of study already completed, or for which credit has been granted towards the award course requirements.

5. Discontinuation of enrolment
5.1 A student wishing to totally discontinue their enrolment in an award course must lodge an application to discontinue the award course with the Faculty of Economics and Business Student Information Office by the relevant HECS census date.

6. Suspension of candidature
6.1 A student wishing to suspend their enrolment in an award course must lodge an application to suspend their enrolment with the Faculty of Economics and Business Student Information Office by the relevant census date.

7. Re-enrolment after an absence
7.1 A student wishing to return to study after a 'leave of absence' should notify the Faculty of Economics and Business Student Information Office in writing three months prior to the commencement of the semester.

8. Satisfactory progress
8.1 A student who fails to achieve a minimum Pass grade for at least half of the enrolled units of study in any given year will be asked to show good cause as to why re-enrolment in the Faculty of Economics and Business should be allowed to continue.
8.2 Where the Faculty of Economics and Business permits the re-enrolment of a student whose progress was deemed unsatisfactory, the Faculty of Economics and Business may place restrictions on the number and type of units of study in which the student may re-enrol in that year and may also require the completion of particular units of study in a specified time. If a student does not comply with these conditions the student may again be asked to show good cause.

9. Time limits
9.1 A student must complete all the requirements for a master's degree within six calendar years.
9.2 A student must complete all the requirements for a graduate diploma within four calendar years.
9.3 A student must complete all the requirements for a graduate certificate within two calendar years.

10. Assessment policy
10.1 Examination and assessment are conducted in accordance with the policies and directions of the Academic Board.
10.2 The Faculty of Economics and Business does not award Pass Concessional (PCon) grades, nor does it recognise Pass Concessional grades awarded by other faculties.
10.3 The Faculty of Economics and Business does not hold supplementary examinations.
10.4 The Faculty of Economics and Business may allow a further assessment in a unit of study, in accordance with the Faculty of Economics and Business policy on special consideration. A student who is absent from a further assessment may be deemed to have failed that assessment.

11. Embedded sequences
11.1 A student may upgrade to a higher award course in an embedded sequence with credit for all units of study completed within a lower award course in the sequence, irrespective of whether the lower award has been conferred and subject to meeting the entry requirements for the higher award course.

12. Credit transfer policy
12.1 At the discretion of the Faculty of Economics and Business, a student may be granted credit for up to four (4) units study towards a 12-16 unit master's degree if the student has completed units of study of a substantially similar nature at the University of Sydney or another institution.
12.2 With the exception of embedded sequences, credit will not be granted towards an eight (8) unit master's degree, graduate diploma or graduate certificate, however, the requirement to complete a unit of study may be waived if the Faculty of Economics and Business is satisfied that a student has undertaken equivalent study. In such cases, the student will be required to complete an alternative unit of study as prescribed by the Faculty.

13. Award of the degree with honours
13.1 Honours degrees shall be awarded according to the classes specified in the following table:

<table>

Students must enrol in intensive sessions at the Student Information Office and should note that if they withdraw from intensive LAWS units after close of business on the first day of classes they will be charged the full fee for the unit.

Economics and Business units of study

Accounting

Foundation units of study

ACCT5001

Accounting Principles

- Credit points: 6
- Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
- Classes: One three hour class per week
- Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Final examination; Group assignments

This unit provides an introduction to the concepts underlying financial accounting. It is designed for both accounting and non-accounting majors. The unit aims to introduce students to the skills required to prepare, interpret and analyse financial statements with an emphasis on the effects of accounting choice.

ACCT5002

Managerial Accounting & Decision Making

- Credit points: 6
- Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
- Classes: One three hour class per week
- Assessment: ACCT5001 Assessment; Quiz; Group project - case study; Group presentation; Seminar contribution; Final examination

ACCT5002 Managerial Accounting and Decision Making introduces students to the context and processes of management accounting work, considering the role of management accounting technologies in financial resource management. It is argued that management accountants support and inform the ways in which organizational resources are committed to various portfolios, projects, and possible futures, given the crafting of an organization's relationship with its environment. In this unit of study, students will be introduced to the external and internal environments of management accounting work. The main categories of resources available to shape an organization's strategy and financial performance will be outlined (including those acquired through strategic alliances and outsourcing), along with various management accounting technologies accounting for the combination, allocation and performance of these resources.

Advanced units of study

ACCT6001

Intermediate Financial Reporting

- Credit points: 6
- Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
- Classes: One three hour class per week
- Prerequisites: ACCT5001
- Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Final examination; Case study; Class presentation.

This unit is intended to provide an understanding of the contemporary Australian financial reporting environment. Particular attention is paid to accounting theory and concepts, mandatory reporting practices and reporting policies that reflect either a choice from among several mandated alternatives, or those areas where regulation has not occurred. The unit is intended for those who will be involved in the preparation or use of company financial statements. The unit provides an understanding of accounting techniques, both in terms of technical method and their relative impact on corporation's financial statements. The emphasis throughout is on both the 'techniques' and the related explanations for their use.

ACCT6002

International Accounting

- Credit points: 6
- Session: Winter Main
- Classes: Intensive
- Prerequisites: ACCT5001
- Assumed knowledge: ACCT6001
- Assessment: Workshop activities; Seminar presentation; Group assignment; Final examination

Many of the topics in an international accounting course have a domestic counterpart. However, new factors and complications arise in the international arena. Some of these are (1) diversity of laws, practices, customs, cultures, and competitive circumstances; and (2) risks associated with fluctuating exchange rates, differential rates of inflation, and unstable property rights. International accounting discusses issues from the perspective of companies that have internationalised their finance and/or their operations. It has a comparative aspect, comparing accounting across countries. It deals with corporate reporting and disclosure across national boundaries. It also deals with the harmonization of the worldwide diversity in financial reporting, in particular, convergence around International Financial Reporting Standards. It discusses foreign currency translation, a consolidations issue that arises from multinational operations. Finally, it aims to introduce the key issues relevant for undertaking cross-border analysis of financial statements.

ACCT6003

Financial Statement Analysis

- Credit points: 6
- Session: Winter Main
- Classes: One three hour class per week
- Prerequisites: ACCT5001 and FINC5001
- Assessment: Group case studies; Final examination.

This unit helps students to develop an understanding of the techniques of financial statement analysis in various contexts, for example: equity investment; credit evaluation; risk analysis; prediction of corporate failure; analysis of supplier/customer health; competitor analysis; regulatory overview or intervention; and valuation for takeover/restructuring. A primary purpose of this unit is to develop an understanding of these techniques, as well as the inherent difficulties in their application. Topics covered include analysis of business performance and disclosure, the analysis of earnings quality, cash flow assessment, credit worthiness and accounting-based valuation methods.

ACCT6005 Management Control Systems

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: One three hour class per week
Assessment: Continuous assessment and final examination.

This unit of study examines the design and operation of ‘management control systems’ (MCS), considering also the role of management accounting technologies in this. In doing so, a variety of research-based readings and theoretical frames are mobilised to help understand this important facet of organisational functioning and application of management accounting work. Topics to be covered include: typologies of MCS; arguments relating to the fit and effectiveness of MCS; the connection between strategy and MCS; the role of performance measures in MCS; MCS and hybrid organisational spaces; MCS and the management of intellectual capital; MCS and the New Economy; and the evolution of MCS.

ACCT6006 Advanced Managerial Accounting

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: One three hour class per week
Prerequisites: ACCT5002
Assessment: Seminar assignments; Seminar participation; Mid semester examination; Final examination.

This unit examines a number of advanced topics in managerial accounting as they relate to the use of management accounting for decision making. The topics are biased towards those that are relevant and even contentious to contemporary practice and include: the potential inconsistencies between management accounting and strategic decision making and control, yield management and value pricing issues, the theory of the firm and outsourcing, issues in managing joint ventures and strategic alliances, what we can learn from Japanese management techniques and innovation in management accounting practice. An overview of each topic area is provided before exploring the topics more deeply by examining current research and/or working through case studies to provide insights into commercial practice.

ACCT6007 Contemporary Issues in Auditing

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2, Summer Dec
Classes: One three hour class per week
Prerequisites: ACCT6001
Assessment: Mid Semester examination; Individual project; Group presentation; Final examination.

This unit seeks to improve students’ understanding of the function, nature and procedures of commercial auditing in the context of corporate financial reporting. It has particular regard to auditing business, legal and economic foundations. Recurrent reference is made to several practical and policy matters of contemporary importance to auditing and auditors, especially as they relate to the function of auditing in ensuring the quality of corporate financial statements and the role of auditors in corporate governance. Matters related to modern cases like Enron, WorldCom, HIF, One.Tel, Parmalat, China Aviation Oil and Daewoo are also discussed.

ACCT6010 Advanced Financial Reporting

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main
Classes: One three hour class per week
Prerequisites: ACCT6001
Assessment: Case studies; Mid-semester examination; Blackboard contribution; Final examination.

This unit is intended to provide students with a detailed understanding of more complex financial reporting issues. Some of the topics examined include: group accounting issues such as the practical application of the control test; multiple subsidiaries; foreign currency translation; consolidated cash flow reporting; segment reporting; accounting for joint ventures and associates; related party and corporate governance disclosures. The unit builds on the knowledge base acquired from earlier accounting studies with strong emphasis on the application of technical skills. The unit has a substantial case component, using current examples to illustrate both appropriate technical solutions in accordance with accounting standards and guidelines, as well as the forces which determine the choice of solution from among otherwise acceptable alternatives. The course material will help develop student’s ability to read and analyse financial reports and an understanding of the financial statement implications of certain management decisions relating to organisational structure, investments and financing choices.

ACCT6014 Designing Accounting Systems

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: One three hour class per week
Prerequisites: ACCT5001

The unit of study issues associated with the design of accounting systems and associated business processes in order to harness the capabilities of contemporary business applications software in a cost-effective and secure manner. The course reviews the history of financial applications software; software design issues and challenges; why financial accounting systems fail; designing a chart of accounts; designing business processes for financial information; maintaining audit trails for accounting systems; records management and compliance.

ACCT6015 Extended Performance Reporting

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: One three hour class per week
Assessment: Mid session multiple choice questions; Final session multiple choice questions; Group assignment; Individual presentations.

In the last decade, there has been a myriad of new reporting models (e.g. balanced scorecard, social and environmental, intellectual capital, intangible asset monitor, triple bottom line, etc) being promoted and practised. This unit will review the issues associated with these new reporting models and highlight current and possible future issues. These new reporting models claim to enhance understanding of organisational performance to a variety of stakeholders. These new models are based on new performance measurement technologies and technical practices that arguably improve decision making. This unit of study is designed to provide a critical analysis of the issues surrounding the management and measurement of organisational performance and these new reporting models. The approach of the unit of study is not to seek to impose a ready-made model but to explore the key underlying issues associated with the emergence of these new reporting models. Through this process hidden assumptions can be exposed, new possibilities explored and competing transparencies opened up. A theme of the unit is that in order to improve external performance reporting, information on both economic and non-economic performance should be reported. This enables private, public and third sector organisations to think about how to provide an account of their value creation and sustainability performance. It should be pointed out that economic performance should not be limited to those indicators that are currently provided by, or can be derived from, the traditional financial reporting framework. Economic performance can be improved via the reporting of Intellectual Capital (IC) information. Also a mix of social and environmental performance information can better illustrate sustainability performance. Although there are significant bodies of research on reporting value creating activities and non-economic performance (e.g. the intellectual capital, balanced scorecard (BSC), and corporate social and environmental (CSE) reporting literatures), the focus of these bodies of research has been about various perspectives on how reporting could be improved with little discussion of overlaps, redundancies and differences across these new models.

ACCT6116 Corporate Collapse

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: One three hour class per week
Prerequisites: ACCT5001
Assumed knowledge: ACCT6001
Assessment: Case studies - oral and written presentation; Class participation; Final examination.
This unit seeks to identify the organic characteristics of corporate crises with a view to providing insight to the nature, pattern, and development of, and the signals heralding, the managerial, organisational and financial factors contributing to corporate distress, sometimes resulting ultimately in collapse. Further, implications for regulations and governance of corporate affairs are explored. Historical and current cases are examined. Matters related to historical cases such as Insull and Kreuger in the US and Royal Mail in the UK, and modern cases like Enron, WorldCom, HIH, One.Tel, Parmalat and James Hardie are discussed. The unit adopts a forensic accounting and managerial analysis of corporate events. Forensic, insofar as many of the insights into the accounting and managerial practices used come from the dissection, an autopsy, of failed companies. Because of the ineffectiveness of many corporate governance mechanisms in place, frequently such insights are discoverable only after the failure or distress has arisen.

ACCT6118
Public Sector Accounting
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Assessment: One three hour class per week
Assumed knowledge: ACCT5001
Assessment: Class presentation; Class participation; Assignment; Final examination.

This unit of study is intended to familiarise students with the main features of accountability arrangements in the public sector. It explores the way in which public sector accounting differs from practices commonly adopted in the private sector, and explores issues arising from the wider use of accrual accounting and accrual budgeting by general government agencies and by state owned corporations. It refers to both local and international developments in budgetary arrangements, and international developments in financial reporting for different tiers of government. Topics examined include the design of performance indicators for public sector agencies, and the conduct of performance audits.

ACCT6119
Public Sector Accounts & Accountability
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Assessment: One three hour class per week
Assessment: Class presentation; Class participation; Assignment; Final examination.

The objective of the unit of study is to examine accounting, auditing and accountability in the context of the public sector and other non-government organisations (NGOs). Emphasis will be on public sector organisations in an Australian and international context. However, this generalist unit will explore some aspects of NGOs. The focus of the unit will be to examine significant changes in the past two decades that have impacted on public sector accounting and reporting. It is essentially a course which locates accounting within its social, cultural and political context, and focuses on contemporary matters in resource budgeting, financial management and performance facing the public sector. This unit also introduces students to the research literature, which is used to frame analysis and discussion. The unit complements GOVT6327 Managing Public Expenditure. However, it can be taken as a stand alone subject by those interested in the contemporary context of the public sector.

ACCT6101
Special Topic in Accounting
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Study of a special topic in postgraduate Accounting. Topics will vary from semester to semester. Please check with the Discipline of Accounting for further details.

BANK6002
Bank Management
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: ECON5001 and ECON5002

The unifying theme in this subject is the application of modern finance theory to financial decision making in the management of banks and non-bank financial institutions. The subject of bank and financial institution decision-making is approached from a risk perspective. The course objectives are: (i) To provide students with an understanding of the modern model of financial institutions; (ii) Identify the main types of risk confronted by financial institutions; (iii) Apply relevant techniques to measure and manage those risks; (iv) To provide students with an understanding of international bank management; (v) To provide students with an understanding of international financial services.

BANK6003
Global Supervision of Bank Risks
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: ECON5001 and ECON5002

This course is aimed at students who wish to obtain a greater understanding of the central issues and principles underpinning recent developments in the global regulation and supervision of banking/financial institutions.

This unit provides an introduction to Business Information Systems (BIS) and the organisational contexts in which they operate. An understanding of BIS is important to the work of all business professionals and this unit has been designed for both BIS and non-BIS majors. BIS play an important role in organisations as both a tool to support business processes and activities, and as an enabler of business innovation. This unit will help you to understand how information is used to meet organizational objectives; the complex and changing information environment from the perspective of stakeholders; and the management issues associated with making effective use of BIS. These are explored with reference to enterprise-wide systems and small to medium systems in business and government. You will learn how to use conceptual frameworks and systems documentation tools to analyse practical problems in the operations of information systems and identify new opportunities for business value creation through innovative applications of various BIS.

Advanced units of study

INF56001 BIS Management

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main
Classes: Three hours per week
Assessment: Group assignments; Mid-semester exam; Final exam
Note: This unit of study may be offered in intensive mode

This unit introduces you to the organisational foundations of information systems and their emerging strategic role. You will develop an understanding of real-world systems and their relationship to organisations, management and business processes. The unit provides you with a solid understanding of the technology underlying information systems and how various information technologies work together to create infrastructure for electronic commerce and electronic business. You will explore the role of information systems in capturing and distributing organisational knowledge and in enhancing management decision making. Finally, you will have the opportunity to explore the special management challenges and opportunities created by the pervasiveness and power of information systems.

INF56002 BIS Strategy

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INF5500 or INF6000
Assessment: Class participation, Examination, Individual assignments and Group projects

In this unit, you will explore current issues and theoretical concepts in information technology strategy and management. A key aim of the unit is to provide you with a detailed understanding of concepts, tools and methodologies that can be of assistance to organisations in their design, implementation and enactment of IT strategies and governance of value-adding IT resources. The focus will be on users and IT strategy and management in context rather than on more technical aspects. Your understanding will be enhanced through active participation in case studies, which are an essential element of the unit.

INF56004 BIS Change Management

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Three hours per week

Many BIS implementations require organisational change, or are part of broader change initiatives, and this unit aims to equip you with the ability to operate as a change agent to lead and manage that process. You will be exposed to the factors that need to be considered to fully understand an organisation's specific context and provided with the knowledge, methodologies and techniques to successfully manage the change related aspects of a BIS implementation within that context. Topics covered by this unit include the roles of change, approaches to change - including Strategic Change, Business Process Reengineering and Total Quality Management and managing the end-to-end change process - including overcoming organisational resistance.

INF56012 Business Process Integration

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INF5000 or INF6000

This unit will provide you with an overview of integrated enterprise systems using packaged software solutions (via the SAP R/3 enterprise resource planning system). It offers practical experience in using the SAP R/3 system so as to familiarize you with all the modules and their functionality. You will learn how enterprise resource planning integrates functions within business and you will gain a thorough understanding of the information flows in procurement, production planning, production control, inventory control, sales and distribution, financial accounting and cost controlling.

INF56013 Risk Management and BIS Assurance

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INF5000 or INF6000

This unit will introduce you to the concepts and practices relating to the protection and assurance of business information systems. Business information and information related systems are valuable assets to organisations and are of critical importance in meeting regulatory obligations. Therefore the risk of disruption, theft or destruction to information systems has business value and compliance implications. This unit provides you with the opportunity to investigate key concepts, strategies and methodologies that will assist you in identifying, analysing and evaluating potential risk areas and critical control needs throughout the information system lifecycle. Your knowledge will be expanded in a multi-level approach that examines tools and technologies for safeguarding business information resources, the key stakeholders and institutional arrangements for business information systems assurance. The theoretical and conceptual material covered in seminars is reinforced through problem based learning.

INF56014 BIS Project Management

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INF5000 or INF6000

This unit will introduce you to the end to end project management lifecycle from project planning and initiation through implementation to benefits realisation. You will be exposed to both the technical and behavioural aspects of project management infrastructures, techniques and methodologies - including PMBOK, PRINCE2 and OPM3. You will be introduced to concepts and will critically analyse their application in specific project contexts. In addition you will learn how to use the standard project management tool Microsoft Project. Major topics covered in the unit include project plan development, execution and control along with consideration of the change management implications of the project for its host organisation.

INF56015 Business Process Management

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INF5000 or INF6000
Assumed knowledge: INF5612

This unit will introduce you to concepts of Business Process Management (BPM) and capabilities to discover, analyse, design, deploy and optimize end to end business processes. You will obtain a detailed understanding of strategies, methods, tools and technologies associated with BPM. You will also develop practical skills by modelling and re-designing business processes using commercial software. Business processes that stretch across organizational boundaries and the management of such processes are the central themes of this unit.

INF56016 Technology Enabled Business Innovation

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Three hours per week
This unit will assist you to develop knowledge and skills in innovative, technology-enabled business models and strategies from a management perspective. It will enable you to better understand and apply the concepts, strategies, tools and technologies necessary for undertaking business innovation. From basic knowledge of business models and essential business processes this unit will increase your awareness and understanding of stakeholders, their capabilities and their limitations in the strategic convergence of technology and business. It will increase your insights into the technology and infrastructure required to support commerce in the 21st Century and will support development of your capabilities to analyse, develop and evaluate innovative technology-enabled business strategies and models.

INFS6017
Strategic Information & Knowledge Mgmt
Credit points: 6 Session: Winter Main Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INFS5000 or INFS6000

In this unit you will be exposed to a sociotechnical change perspective to the study of information, content and knowledge management. The unit provides you with the opportunity to investigate the systems that enable the acquisition, storage and distribution of business and government information. The major emphasis is on the ways that organisations generate, communicate and leverage value from their information and knowledge assets. Different views of information such as "information as evidence" and "information as asset" will be presented, and you will explore the tensions arising from the interplay of these two views. Your knowledge will be expanded in a multi-level approach that examines digital information products, information users and institutional arrangements for information and knowledge management.

INFS6018
Business Intelligence Systems
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: INFS5000 or INFS6000 Assumed knowledge: INFS6017

One of the key business challenges for any organisation today, is to convert large volumes of data, coming from various internal and external sources, into relevant information and then into actionable business intelligence. This applies equally to small as well as large companies, traditional and online business. Business intelligence solutions are widely used in customer relationship management, human resources, financial analysis, supply chain management, sales and marketing campaigns, manufacturing etc. This unit introduces fundamental BI concepts including data warehousing and data mining multidimensional modelling and enterprise data management. The main emphasis is placed on the enterprise context of business intelligence tools and methodologies and their use in decision making. The unit also examines how business intelligence relates to Business Performance Management, Business Processes Management, Knowledge Management and Change Management in an enterprise. A common commercial software platform will be used to demonstrate the role of systems in business intelligence.

INFS6020
BIS Innovation Transformation and Change
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: (INFS5000 or INFS6000) and 36 credit points of INFS units

This unit is intended to consolidate your knowledge and skills in applications of Information Systems so you can better assist business to improve its organisational effectiveness. The unit serves as a capstone to the Master of Business Information Systems and is structured around a semester long project designed to allow you to demonstrate your ability to apply and synthesise BIS concepts in a real world setting. You will consider the information systems lifecycle from inception through implementation to operation, identifying opportunities, developing strategies and designing processes, procedures and management practices to enable an organisation to fully realise the business benefits of information systems. You will be provided with the opportunity to locate assignments within the particular context most suited to your past experience or future aspirations. As such this unit will prepare you for the challenges of effectively utilising Information and Information Systems for strategic business advantage in your role as a manager within an organisation.

INFS6101
Special Topic in Business Info Systems
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: INFS5000 or INFS6000
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

This unit provides the opportunity for students to complete intensive study in an area of Business Information Systems. In the absence of formal classes, students are required to research and write a short dissertation under the guidance of a staff member in an area of contemporary business information systems.

INFS7001
Business Information System Honours A
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Average of 75% required in 4 units in the major

This unit of study is the first of a two-part, supervised writing of a dissertation of 12 - 15,000 words to be submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Commerce with Honours.

INFS7002
Business Information System Honours B
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Average of 75% required in 4 units in the major

Business Law
Foundation units of study

CLAW5001
Legal Environment of Business
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Three hours of classes per week which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or workshops (Summer session: Two three hour classes per week which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or w. Assessment: Mid-semester exam; Major assignment and presentation; Class performance; Final Exam

This unit is concerned with the legal environment in which businesses operate. Essential principles of business law are introduced to lay a foundation for the study of more advanced business law units. The unit begins with an introduction to the Australian legal system and then focuses on the fundamental principles of the law of contract, tort and relevant legislation. Topics dealt with in contract law include formation of contracts, terms, factors affecting the validity and enforcement of contracts, terminating contracts and remedies for breach of contract. Basic elements of the law of torts, in particular negligent misrepresentation and including torts involving unlawful interference with business are also examined. The unit concludes with an overview of key statutory provisions that impact on the common law.

CLAW6002
Corporations Law
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: One three hour class per week which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or workshops (Summer session: Two three hour classes per week which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or workshops Prerequisites: CLAW5001 Assessment: Test; Assignment; Exam
This unit examines the law relating to modern corporations. After examining the background to the present legislative and administrative framework, the topics discussed include: the concept of corporate personality; business planning and company formation; how companies are managed; the role of members; the obligations of directors; company reporting and disclosure; company finance; contracting by companies and corporate liability; and an introduction to the external administration of companies in financial difficulty.

CLAW6006
Insolvency Law
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours of classes per week which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or workshops Prerequisites: CLAW6002 Assessment: Assignment, Classwork, Final Exam

When a person (an individual or a corporation) is unable to pay their debts, the law provides a regime for determining the competing interests of stakeholders such as creditors. The unit examines the law relating to the bankruptcy of individuals and corporate insolvency. In relation to bankruptcy, it looks at the procedures for formal bankruptcy (creditors' and debtors' petitions) and the role of the trustee and creditors. Also explored are the arrangements with creditors outside bankruptcy (debt agreements and personal insolvency agreements). The unit then deals with the main regimes of corporate insolvency: receivers and other controllers, schemes of arrangement, voluntary administration and deeds of company arrangement and winding up. Further issues discussed include cross border insolvency and corporate group collapse.

CLAW6007
Issues in Law and International Business
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours of classes per week which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or workshops Prerequisites: CLAW5001 Assessment: Mid-semester examination; Individual/group assignment; Final examination

Globalisation enables successful businesses to tap into the international economy to find new and bigger markets for their goods and services. Entering the global marketplace also means greater risk, as businesses deal with new customers, and are forced to operate in unfamiliar legal environments where the "normal" rules of business often don't apply. This unit is aimed at providing students with an understanding of how the global economy is regulated (if at all), and to provide the tools needed to use international business law to minimise the risks of doing business in the global economy. Questions the unit addresses include: What is international business law and what do I need to know? What institutions ensure a level playing field for my business? How do I make an agreement to sell my goods to foreign customers? How do I protect those goods in transit? How do I ensure payment for goods and services I provide? How do I build a business in a foreign market through local agents and distributors? What considerations apply to entering and borrowing from foreign capital markets? How can I safely do business online in the global virtual economy? What if things go wrong? And how do I fight foreign disputes by my rules and in my court?

CLAW6008
Legal Entities for Small Business
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours of classes per week which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or workshops Assesessment: Class participation, Quiz, Exam, Final Examination

Operators of small businesses need to be aware of the different forms through which they can run their business. This unit covers the different forms. The unit covers corporations, partnerships, sole traders, trusts and unincorporated associations. The legal requirements of these entities are taught and a comparison of the different entities leads to the ability to select the appropriate entity for a given business. An introduction to legal reasoning and research is provided at the start of the unit so that all students are competent to study the unit.

CLAW6013
Financial Services Regulation
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours of classes per week which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or workshops Assessment: Research essay, Class participation, Final examination

Financial services include: deposit taking, superannuation, insurance, financial advice, investments, the provision of credit and payment systems. Australia has a globally influential regulatory system. This course provides a comprehensive overview of the legal and regulatory structure of financial services. It looks at the objectives of regulation and strategies to achieve those objectives. In this it examines legislation, case law and self-regulatory codes of practice. The course looks first at the overall framework of regulation and general issues and then takes up particular market segments. Common themes include the function of licensing, the role of disclosure, creation of a culture of compliance, the role of regulators. The emphasis in this course is on the retail market.

CLAW6015
Special Topic in Business Law B
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: This special elective will be taught by a leading international tax scholar: John Prebble, BA, LLB (Hons) Auckland; BCL Oxon; JSD Cornell; Inner Temple. Professor and former Dean of Law at the Victoria University of Wellington. Session: S2 Late Int Classes: As announced by the teacher Prerequisites: CLAW5001 and (CLAW6006 or CLAW5002) Prohibitions: LAW6886 Assessment: Research Essay Note: Department permission required for enrolment. Note: This unit will be offered in intensive block mode.

Tax jurisdiction: This unit of study examines income tax law from the perspective of a number of schools of jurisprudence. A significant theme is that income tax law may be seen as qualitatively different from other areas of law and that jurisprudential theory can shed light on the reasons for and the nature of this difference. The course gives some time to the political and social policy aspects of income tax law yet its main thrust is in legal theory. The course considers a range of theories and theorists including natural law; Kelsen and other positivists, autopoiesis or systems theory, and Lon Fuller's writings on fictions, Epstein, Rawls, Hayek and Unger. Theory is considered through the lens of reports of decided cases, mainly cases that turn on the distinction between capital and revenue. Cases are drawn primarily from the United Kingdom and Australia and also the United States.

CLAW6026
Concepts of Australian Taxation
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: One 3 hour class per week which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or workshops. Summer session: Two 3 hour classes per week May which may include one or more of the following: lectures; seminars; tutorials or workshops Prerequisites: CLAW5001 Prohibitions: CLAW5002 Assessment: Mid-semester exam; Major assignment; Class performance; Final exam

The purpose of this unit is to cover the main concepts of taxation such as income, deductions, tax accounting, residence and source capital gains tax, depreciation and trading stock, taxation of partnerships trusts and companies, international tax and tax avoidance. This unit has professional recognition and is the gateway unit for CLAW6001 Business Tax Planning, as well as many taxation units offered by the Law School.

CLAW6027
Research and Writing in Law and Business
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One three hour seminar per week Prerequisites: CLAW5001 Assessment: Essay / article (40 per cent); Reflective diary (20 per cent); Assignments, participation etc to be determined by consensus among the students during the first seminar (40 per cent)

Research and writing are the most critical skills taught in the curriculum. As part of the commitment to training its graduates to be leaders in the profession this unit is offered to give students the skills they will need to research, analyse and communicate solutions to complex problems. The aim of the unit is to teach students to research sources, analyse them, and either apply this knowledge to a fact patterns by organising an argument and then communicate that argument in writing (applied) or critically evaluate legal rules and theories in light of legal norms and wider theories (theoretical). The unit will introduce students to some of the fundamentals of reasoning and thought, to the basic sources and processes of research, and to some basic forms of writing. The reasoning skills taught include rule-based or syllogistic reasoning, analogical reasoning, factual analysis, synthesizing and distinguishing, critical analysis and the use of policy. The full range of research skills is introduced, including both hard-copy research skills and computer- assisted legal research skills in primary and secondary materials.

CLAW7001
Business Law Honours A
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Average of 75% required in 4 units in the major Assessment: Since the thesis is the only component of the unit of study, it would be double marked by members of the discipline. Conceptual clarity, depth and completeness of research, and originality of approach and conclusions would have approximately equal weight in determining the final mark.

This unit of study is the first of a two-part, supervised writing of a dissertation of 12 - 15,000 words to be submitted in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Commerce with Honours.

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Average of 75% required in 4 units in the major Assessment: Since the thesis is the only component of the unit of study, it would be double marked by members of the discipline. Conceptual clarity, depth and completeness of research, and originality of approach and conclusions would have approximately equal weight in determining the final mark.

This unit of study is the first of a two-part, supervised writing of a dissertation of 12 - 15,000 words to be submitted in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Commerce with Honours.

The unit develops the basic principles of data description and analysis, the idea of using the concept of probability to model data generation, and the statistical concepts of estimation and statistical inference, including hypothesis testing. It then develops these concepts and techniques in the context of the linear regression model to show how econometric models can be used to analyse data in a wide range of potential areas of application in economics, business and the social sciences. The unit combines theory and application. The emphasis is upon the interpretation of econometric estimation results and requires software for hands-on experience.

ECMT5020
Data Analysis and Interpretation
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week Prohibitions: ECOF5805 Assessment: Two assignments; Mid-semester test; Final exam.

This unit develops the basic principles of data description and analysis. Students are expected to be able to understand the different forms that data can take, the different forms of analysing data and the different ways that data can be used to support arguments. Emphasis is on analysing, interpreting and the presentation of results for existing types of data. The different forms of data (written, spoken and observed) examined include: documents such as official government reports, company document s and consultant reports; the spoken word including transcripts of interviews; and responses to questionnaires. The data analysis focuses on the use of both qualitative and quantitative data as well as univariate and bivariate data. Some of the techniques covered in this unit are basic descriptive measures of data, hypothesis testing and regression analysis.

Advanced units of study

ECMT6002
Econometric Applications
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: ECMT5001 Prohibitions: ECMT5002 Assessment: Assignments; Mid-Semester Test; Final exam

This unit illustrates how econometric methods can be applied to economic data to solve problems that arise in economics and business. Econometric theory provides the techniques needed to quantify the strength and form of relationships between variables. Applied econometrics is concerned with the strategies that need to be employed to use these techniques effectively; to determine which model to specify and whether the data are appropriate. Guidelines for undertaking applied work are discussed. Case studies drawn from economics, marketing, finance, and accounting are also discussed. The unit includes a major econometric modelling project.

ECMT6003
Applied Business Forecasting
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 hours per week Prerequisites: ECMT5001 Assessment: Examination, Case studies, Assignments, Mid-semester

The unit introduces statistical models and tools for decision analysis and their application in managerial settings. It will be shown how use of such models and tools can improve the decision process by helping the decision-maker: understand the structure of the decision, incorporate subjective probabilities as a way to portray risk, measure outcomes in a way that is consistent with attitudes toward risk, and understand the value of information. The importance of sensitivity analysis will be emphasised, as well as the need to combine both quantitative and qualitative considerations in decision-making. There will be strong emphasis throughout the unit on hands-on application of decision analysis tools. Cases will be drawn from small business scenarios, the public policy arena, and corporate settings. Decision-making software will be used extensively.

ECMT6006
Applied Financial Econometrics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: ECMT5001 Assessment: Final exam; Assignments
This unit provides an introduction to some of the widely used econometric models designed for the analysis of financial data, and the procedures used to estimate them. Special emphasis is placed upon empirical work and applied analysis of real market data. The unit deals with topics such as: the statistical nature of financial data; the specification, estimation and testing of assets pricing models; the analysis of high frequency financial data; and the modelling of volatility in financial returns. Throughout the unit, students are encouraged (especially in assignments) to familiarise themselves with financial data and learn how to apply the models to these data.

ECMT6510
Management Decision Making
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week

Economics

Foundation units of study

ECON5001
Microeconomic Theory
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Three lectures per week Assessment: 1 Mid semester exam, final exam

This unit presumes no prior exposure to economics and aims, by the end of the unit, to bring a proficiency equivalent to that of students with an intermediate level microeconomics unit in an Honours degree program. Many economic principles developed in this unit are routinely used in several other units in the program. Microeconomics studies how economic agents make choices in a variety of environments. The unit covers theory and applications of the principles of consumer choice, of firm behaviour, and of strategic interaction among economic agents. Equipped with these theories of decision making, students can address a range of interesting and important questions. Examples are: What market strategy should a firm adopt with its competitors?; How might one create a market to deal with externalities such as pollution?; What are the implications of different kinds of taxes?; What compensation scheme will provide the right incentives to work?

ECON5002
Macroeconomic Theory
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Three lectures per week Assessment: Online quizzes, 1 mid semester exam, final exam

This unit presumes no prior exposure to economics and aims, by the end of the unit, to bring a proficiency equivalent to that of students with an intermediate level macroeconomics unit in an Honours degree program. Many economic principles developed in this unit are routinely used in several other units in the program. Macroeconomics studies aggregate economic behaviour. The unit covers theories of the engines of long-run economic growth, of unemployment, of money, inflation, the interest rate and the exchange rate, as well as consumption, saving and investment behaviour. The unit also studies a number of applications of the theory and addresses contemporary macroeconomic problems and policy.

ECON5003
Economics for Accountants
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Three lectures per week Assessment: 2 mid semester exams, final exam
Note: NOTE: This unit of study is ONLY available to students enrolled in the Master of Professional Accounting degree

The broad aim of this unit is to provide an introduction to economic analysis that is useful in the business world. The unit develops vital microeconomic and macroeconomic principles, using case studies to enhance understanding. Particular emphasis is given to explaining how economic agents make choices in a variety of environments. The unit covers situations where strategic interactions are important and investigates the macro-environment in which businesses operate.

Advanced units of study

ECON6001
Microeconomics Analysis 1
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three lectures per week Assessment: 1 Mid semester exam, final exam
Note: Students enrolled in award courses other than the Master of Economics must seek written permission from the Discipline of Economics to enrol in this unit.

This unit is an introduction to modern microeconomic theory and as such has three purposes: (i) to introduce students to the major ideas of modern microeconomics and to develop their understanding of these ideas; (ii) to develop students’ facility with analytic economic models; and (iii) to develop students’ ability to solve economic problems with the ideas, techniques, and models available to professional economists. Topics covered include (i) individual decision-making by economic agents, (ii) the determination of prices and resource allocation in competitive general equilibrium models, (iii) strategic behaviour by firms under imperfect competition, and (iv) contracting with imperfect information.

ECON6002
Macroeconomics Analysis 1
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three lectures per week Assessment: 1 mid semester exam, final exam
Note: Students enrolled in award courses other than the Master of Economics must seek written permission from the Discipline of Economics to enrol in this unit.

This unit is aimed at providing students with a sound and comprehensive knowledge of modern macroeconomic theory, an ability to formulate and solve problems analytically, and a general appreciation of how policymakers can use the analysis in practice. Topics covered include (i) micro-foundations of macroeconomics, focusing on consumption, investment, money demand, and credit rationing; (ii) equilibrium macroeconomics, focusing on the conventional prototype as well as on recent stochastic macroeconomic models; and (iii) disequilibrium macroeconomics, concepts, issues, and models.

ECON6003 Mathematical Methods of Econ Analysis
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three lectures per week
Assessment: Assignments; 1 Mid-semester exam; Final exam.

This unit is an introduction to mathematical economics. It has three purposes. First, to introduce students to the mathematical concepts and methods that are central to modern economics. Second, to give a set of economic applications of the mathematical methods. Third, to develop the students’ ability to formulate logical arguments with the degree of precision and rigour demanded in modern economics. The mathematical topics covered include introductory analysis and topology, convex analysis, linear algebra, calculus of functions of several variables, optimisation, and introduction to dynamic programming and dynamical systems. The particular economic applications presented may vary from year to year, but usually include demand theory, production theory, and growth theory.

ECON6004 Regulating e-Business
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 3 hours which may include one or more of the following: lectures, seminars, tutorials, or workshops
Assessment: Group participation, 1 group project, final exam.

The growth of e-business has been accompanied by calls for governments to act on behalf of existing businesses, workers, consumers, and marginal groups. There are dangers from the threats of disruption by unauthorised or malicious intervention, from the harmful effects of global monopolies, from the possibilities for tax evasion, from the danger of invaded privacy, and from inappropriate, immoral, or illegal activity. Governments in the United States, Europe, Asia, and Australia have adopted very different approaches to these issues. Managers need to be aware of legal structures and commercial regulations as well as the development and delivery of e-business solutions, and their responses need to adjust to achieve their firm’s goals.

ECON6006 Market Structure and Strategic Behaviour
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three lectures per week
Prerequisites: ECON5001 or ECOF5806 Assessment: 2 mid semester exams, final exam.

The purpose of this unit is to examine the nature of inter-firm rivalry in industries with market power. The unit begins with an exploration of the various ways in which firms can increase their market power by extracting more surplus from consumers by colluding with rivals or by excluding entrants. The topics for this part of the unit include price discrimination, product differentiation, advertising, research and development, preemption, and mergers. The unit also attempts to explain the various contractual and ownership linkages that exist between various stages of production. The latter involves a discussion of exclusive territories agreements, resale price maintenance, exclusive dealing, franchising and divisionalisation.

ECON6008 International Money and Finance
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three lectures per week
Prerequisites: ECON5002 Assessment: 2 mid semester exams, 1 essay.
Final Exam

This unit covers the following topics: overview of the International Monetary System; foreign exchange markets, spot and future markets; swaps and options; arbitrage; covered and uncovered interest parity; exchange rate determination; forecasting exchange rate movements; exchange rate intervention; and the role of central banks.

ECON6016 Trade and Development
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three lectures per week
Prerequisites: ECON5001 or ECON5002 Assessment: 1 mid semester exam, seminar paper & presentation, final exam

This unit is designed to highlight the relation between trade and development from an institutional and structural perspective, with appropriate modifications of received general economic principles, theories and policies. It closely studies the integration process of traditional segment of a developing society into its modern counterpart in countries selected from Asia, Africa, Latin America, the Caribbean, and the Pacific regions. It examines role of the state and international institutions (like the International Monetary Fund, World Bank, World Trade Organization, etc.), rationale for trade, planning and market mechanisms in developing economies, and also socio-cultural preconditions and economic requirements for a market economy. It focuses on a wide range of developmental problems and issues (such as foreign aid, debt, investment, technology transfer etc.) from both national and international points of view.

ECON6021 Financial Economics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three lectures per week
Prerequisites: ECON5001 Assessment: 1 mid semester exam, online quizzes, final exam

This unit provides students with an understanding of the economic foundations of financial theory and the economic framework upon which that theory is based. Much of the work covered is an application of both microeconomic and macroeconomic theory to the special problems encountered in the study of the financial side of an economy. The relevance of these foundations is illustrated with empirical research using Australian and international data.

ECON6023 International Trade
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three lectures per week.
Prerequisites: ECON5001 Assessment: 1 mid semester exam, written report, final exam

This course develops the modern theory of international trade and commercial policy and examines some empirical applications. Topics covered include competitive trade theory; comparative advantage and theories of international trade patterns; the gains from trade; empirical evidence and methodology; imperfectly competitive trade theory and economies of scale, differentiated products, and technology; analysis of the effects of tariffs and trade quotas upon trade under competitive and imperfectly competitive market structures; the formation and design of regional trade agreements and the strategic behaviour of multinational enterprises. It will be suitable for those with an interest in international trade and business issues as well as those who may wish to pursue PhD research in these areas. It will be taught at a graduate level and so presumes knowledge of advanced undergraduate microeconomics.

ECON6024 Venture Capital
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three lectures per week.
Prerequisites: ECON5001 Assessment: Assignments; Mid-semester exam; Final exam.

As a source of private equity, venture capital (VC) plays a crucial role in the development of new business ventures and the promotion of innovation. Over the last twenty years, the VC industry has boomed. This course investigates how VC firms operate, analysing the key strategic issues they face during the fundraising, investing and exit stages of the VC cycle. Topics covered include: the determinants and types of VC fundraising, the organisational structure of VC firms and how venture capitalists are compensated. Next, the VC firm’s investment decision is examined, as it is its relationship with the investee company. The role of VC in the broader economy is also discussed. Regarding the exit stage of the VC cycle, the design of exit strategies (e.g. initial public offerings) is analysed. Finally, we introduce some of the ethical issues which venture capitalists face.

ECON6025
Strategic Decision Making
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: Three lectures per week
Prerequisites: ECON5001 or ECOFS506  Assessment: 2 mid semester exams, final exam, tutorial assignments, participation Decision makers face two types of uncertainty: uncertainty about the state of nature (how much oil is in an oilfield) and uncertainty about the strategic behaviour of other decision makers (how many oil wells they will drill). This unit of study focuses on strategic uncertainty and the uses decision makers can make of the concepts of game theory to guide their decisions. Game theory studies situations where a) agents have conflicts of interests and b) agents can take actions that directly affect their payoffs and the payoffs of others. A very broad range of applications from business and economics fit the above description and therefore can be studied by the methods of game theory. Applications include, firm pricing and output decisions, market entry and exit, hold-up, collusion, bargaining, auctions, and signalling.

ECON6026
Strategic Business Relationships
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: Two hours of lectures and one seminar per week  Prohibitions: ECOF5802  Assessment: Assignment; Presentation; In-class Test; Final Exam

This unit studies how strategic business relationships create sustainable competitive advantages for firms and nations. Business relationships are dynamic learning networks that result from strategic decision-making. They include internal relationships within the firm as well as external relationships. With internal business relationships, the focus is on organisational design issues, including employee-manager interaction, and manager-shareholder relations. External relationships include formal contracts and informal agreements with suppliers, buyers, distributors, lenders, competitors and partners. Resource and capability-based views of the firm provide the conceptual framework for analysing the foundations of sustainable competitive advantage and the role of effective relationships in building this advantage. Agency and transaction cost approaches help explain the operation of these relationships. Throughout the unit, we distinguish between the knowledge-based sectors of the economy and the more traditional sectors, and we consider how the form of business relationships varies between countries.

ECON6101
Special Topic in Economics
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2  Classes: Three lectures per week  Prerequisites: ECON6001 and ECON6003  Assessment: Depends on topic
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Study of a special topic in postgraduate Economics. Topics will vary from semester to semester according to staff availability and the presence of visitors. If taught in both semesters, the topic in Semester 2 will be different to that in Semester 1.

ECON6901
Microeconomics Analysis 2
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Three lectures per week  Prerequisites: ECON6001 with a Distinction grade  Assessment: Assignments; Mid-semester exam; Final exam

The main focus of this unit is strategic interaction among economic agents with particular attention to problems involving incomplete information. The topics covered are at the heart of modern microeconomics. The central tool of analysis is game theory and the unit generally covers non-cooperative games of complete and incomplete information and cooperative games. Many applications to economic problems are discussed. Although the particular applications presented may vary from year to year, typical examples are: auctions; bargaining; oligopoly; hidden information; signalling; hidden action; coalitions and the core; Shapley value; social choice; and mechanism design.

ECON6902
Macroeconomics Analysis 2
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Three lectures per week  Prerequisites: ECON6002 with a Distinction grade  Assessment: Assignments; Mid-semester exam; Final exam

The goal of this unit is to present a coherent framework for thinking about fundamental issues in macroeconomics in a national and international context. This framework provides microeconomic foundations and involves inter-temporal analysis which assumes a basic understanding of dynamic programming. Various dynamic modelling strategies - finite and infinite horizon models, OLG models - are compared with reference to issues such as Ricardian equivalence. The role of international capital markets in uncertain open economies is studied, and asset pricing and investment in global macroeconomic equilibrium using Arrow-Debreu contingent claims is explained. The roles of money, the implications of imperfections such as nominal rigidities, and the connections to modern growth theory are developed in this general framework.

ECON7001
Economics Honours A
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2  Prerequisites: Average of 75% required in 4 units in the major

This unit of study is the first of a two-part, supervised writing of a dissertation of 12 - 15,000 words to be submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Commerce with Honours.

ECON7002
Economics Honours B
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2  Prerequisites: Average of 75% required in 4 units in the major

This unit of study is the second of a two-part, supervised writing of a dissertation of 12 - 15,000 words to be submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Commerce with Honours.

Finance
Foundation units of study
FINC5001
Capital Markets and Corporate Finance
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2  Classes: Three hours per week  Assessment: Assessment details to be confirmed

This unit provides an introduction to basic concepts in corporate finance and capital markets. It is designed to equip students to undertake further studies in finance. After reviewing some very basic ideas in finance and financial mathematics, the unit provides a thorough treatment of the valuation of equity, debt and companies. The unit then examines issues related to pricing in capital markets and ends with a discussion of theory and practice related to capital structure and dividend policy.

Advanced units of study
FINC6000
Quantitative Finance
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2  Classes: Three hours per week  Prohibitions: FINC5002  Assessment: Mid Semester exam; Major project; Final exam

The principle objective of this unit is to provide students with an advanced mathematical treatment of basic theoretical and analytical concepts in corporate finance. Students are exposed to key areas in the modern theory of finance and corporate financial policy with specific emphasis on their development and treatment from rigorous mathematical and statistical foundations. Upon completion of the unit, the students should have acquired a theoretical and practical understanding of basic principles underpinning financial valuation and analysis; utility theory and choice under uncertainty; theory of portfolio selection; asset pricing theory and market efficiency; and the pricing of derivative contracts and instruments.

FINC6001 Intermediate Corporate Finance
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: FINC5001

This unit extends some of the fundamental concepts introduced in FINC5001 Capital Markets and Corporate Finance, and develops a rigorous framework for the analysis and understanding of key aspects of corporate financial decision making. Fundamental concepts in corporate finance are extended to more complex settings. The unit extends prior work on portfolio theory and examines more advanced approaches to asset pricing and capital budgeting. New topics are covered in relation to derivative securities and real options applications in capital budgeting. The issues of the cost of capital, corporate capital structure, and corporate dividend policy, are extended to cover the interaction of corporate and personal taxation, agency problems, and information signaling.

FINC6003 Broking and Market Making
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: FINC5001 or FINC5002

Broking and Market making is a unit of study that specialises in these particular areas of the financial services industry. Financial intermediaries have a crucial role for the function of capital markets and they are also the most likely employers of finance students. In this unit we start with the theory on: what the functions of brokers and market makers are, what their sources of income are, how they help to make market more efficient and when their actions lower market quality. We then move on to investigate the academic research literature that specialises on issues important to these financial intermediaries. Starting with the rich literature on dealer markets, we will particularly focus on recent research on price formation, information dissemination and trading in limit order book markets that are becoming the market design of choice. We will also look in detail at the recent phenomena of fragmentation of markets, order preferencing and internalisation.

FINC6005 Advanced Asset Pricing
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: FINC5001 or FINC5002 or FINC6000

This unit covers the fundamentals of asset pricing and valuation, relevant time series representations of financial variables, arbitrage restrictions, interest rate and foreign exchange derivatives, exotic and path dependent options, value at risk, as well as some exemplifying case studies.

FINC6007 Financial Strategy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: FINC5001

This unit aims to provide a much richer set of insights about how to use financial, competitive and corporate strategies to enhance the cash-flow of the firm and hence its value. The theoretical underpinnings of the approach come from treating executives as the agents of the principal, namely shareholders. These financial and corporate strategies include getting the structure of the organisation right and correctly measuring the value-added by the enterprise after deducting all inputs including capital inputs. It is also crucial to gain an understanding of the foundations of strategy, which come from the "Game Theory."

FINC6009 Portfolio Theory and its Applications
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: FINC5001 or FINC5002 or FINC6000

This unit is an introduction to mathematical optimisation techniques in the presence of uncertainty. Utility-independent approaches to the modelling of risk and return, proceeding to Markowitz, Capital Asset Pricing and Arbitrage Pricing Models.

FINC6010 Derivative Securities
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: FINC5001 or FINC5002

This unit provides an introduction to the rapidly-growing area of options, futures and swaps. These securities are all derived from fundamental securities such as equities and bonds. The unit examines the nature of each of these securities in turn before a thorough treatment of the pricing and use of these securities for investment management and risk management purposes.

FINC6013 International Business Finance
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: FINC5001

In our highly globalised and integrated world economy, understanding vital international dimensions of financial management is becoming increasingly essential for firms and businesses. This unit seeks to provide a greater understanding of the fundamental concepts and the tools necessary for effective financial decision making by business enterprises, within such a global setting.

FINC6014 Fixed Income Securities
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: FINC5001

This unit covers the basic concepts and issues in fixed income securities, bond portfolio analysis and closely related financial instruments in risk management. The unit begins with the basic analytical framework necessary to understand the pricing of bonds and their investment characteristics (introducing fundamental concepts such as duration, yield and term structure). Sectors of the debt market including treasury securities, corporate bonds, mortgage-backed securities, and convertible bonds are analysed. The use of derivatives and a selection of special topics in Fixed Incomes are also discussed.

FINC6015 Global Trading
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: FINC5001 Assessment: Mid-semester exam; Assignment; Class participation; Final exam.

Global Trading is concerned with the processes which turn orders into trades in securities markets, and the forces which mould and effect both order flow and order execution. This unit of study is an introduction to fundamental market design and structure ideas. The increased worldwide emphasis on capital markets and stock exchanges have brought the market microstructure specialisation of financial economics into the limelight. Global Trading will provide insights into how we with the help of securities market microstructure can gain a better understanding of today's global financial markets; to be able to make better financing and investment decisions, to understand when, where and how to transact in financial instruments and how to make better use of the ever increasing flow of market information. As we increase our intuitive familiarity with today's diverse financial markets we are able to develop successful trading strategies in different instruments and across many markets, today and in the future.
FINC6016
Financial Instruments and Markets
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: FINC5001  Assessment: One three hour theory exam; Project; Mid-semester exam

This unit provides students with an introduction to Australian financial markets and an evaluation of the institutions, instruments and participants involved in the industry. The main markets evaluated include the equity, money, bond, futures, options, and foreign exchange markets. The relationship between the economic environment and these markets is examined. The unit is designed to meet the ASIC "Generic knowledge" requirements under Policy Statement 146 for the licensing of Product Advisers (subject to approval). This unit also provides an overview of a number of other units which are offered in the postgraduate program.

FINC6017
Mergers and Acquisitions
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: FINC5001  Prohibitions: ACCT6011  Assessment: One three hour final exam; Project; Class participation and homework

Mergers and acquisitions have become perhaps the most important activity of investment banks today. They are fundamental tools for businesses to secure growth. To analyse mergers and acquisitions, most tools from modern financial economics are needed. The unit commences with a review of how existing businesses are valued; continues to analyse capital structure decisions and management incentive issues, corporate control, and then moves on to look at the motives for mergers and acquisitions. Some acquisitions are motivated by value improvements created by correcting incentive problems, many bad acquisitions however are motivated by bad incentives that decreased value.

FINC6018
Numerical Methods in Finance
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: FINC5002 or FINC6000  Quantitative Finance  Assessment: Mid Semester exam; Major project; Final exam
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Knowledge of standard numerical solution techniques is essential for those working in the quantitative finance area. By applying these techniques, a quantitative analyst can obtain efficient and accurate numerical solutions to problems that often render closed form solutions unnecessary. The aim of this unit is to provide an introduction to these techniques, along with a careful analysis of the situations in which they are appropriate.

FINC6019
Financial Modelling
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: FINC5002 or FINC6000  Quantitative Finance  Assessment: Laboratory task; Group assignment; Final exam

It is important for practitioners of finance, at all levels, to be able to evaluate the applicability of a range of models for a given problem and to effectively implement and use the model that is selected. This unit will present methods for model design, implementation and evaluation in the context two fundamental financial models; the discounted cash flow valuation model and the portfolio selection model. Spreadsheet engineering methods for designing, building, and testing spreadsheet models and for performing model-based analysis will be presented. There will be a concise coverage of optimization, sensitivity analysis and simulation featuring a strong spreadsheet orientation and a modeling emphasis.

FINC6021
Corporate Valuation
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: FINC5001  Assessment: One three hour theory exam; Project; Mid-semester exam

This subject unit applies all aspects of finance theory to the general problem of valuing companies and other financial assets. This requires a synthesis of the fundamental concepts of present value, cost of capital, security valuation, asset pricing models, optimal capital structures, derivative pricing and some related accounting concepts. The subject aims to reach a level of practical application that allows students to understand both the theoretical frameworks and institutional conventions of real world corporate valuations. Basic valuation concepts from accounting will be reconciled with the finance theory on which firm value ultimately stands. Students will be asked to make extensive use of Excel or similar software in valuation exercises.

FINC7001
Finance Honours A
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2  Prerequisites: Average of 75% required in 4 units in the major

This unit of study is the first of a two-part, supervised writing of a dissertation of 12 - 15,000 words to be submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Commerce with Honours.

Government and International Relations

Foundation units of study

GOVT5001
Business, Government and Society
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Two hour seminar per week  Prohibitions: GOVT6001  Assessment: Case Analysis Memorandum; On-line participation; Research Paper
Note: This is a core unit of study for the Commerce programs and a compulsory prerequisite for the Business and Society major in the Business and Commerce programs.

"Business, Government and Society" is a foundation unit aiming to examine all internal and external environmental factors in the non-market environment of the modern business organisation. Business is the collection of private, commercially oriented organisations whereas Society is the groupings of people that set the context in which Business operates. Understanding the relationship between business and society is vital for managing in the large corporation. Business is part of the social, ethical and political context contributing to affluence and education, societal awareness, social entitlements, environmental and ethical standards. However, Business is often criticised for following, not leading, social change and corrupting, not enhancing, social ethics. What, then, is the role of modern business in society? This unit demonstrates that Business is both impacted on, and responsive to, issues in Society. The impacts occur through changes in social values and ethics, stakeholder demands, regulatory change and globalisation. Further, Business responds to societal changes through media ownership, corporate sport, the supply and pricing of drugs, production of clean automobiles and broader pressures for Free Trade, regulatory review and public affairs. The way Business manages these impacts, and responds in a socially acceptable way, will determine its corporate reputation and market success.

Advanced units of study

GOVT6103
Australia in Diplomacy, Defence & Trade
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Agency Reports and Ministerial Briefing Paper; Group Project
This unit examines Australia’s external relations through its foreign, defence and trade policies from federation until today. It will begin with an overview of the theoretical tools for studying foreign policy and the institutions of Australia’s external relations. Following an examination of ‘Continuity and Change’ in Australia’s foreign, defence and trade policies over the past millennium, key regional and international relationships will be analysed and the questions of national borders and international legal obligations examined. The latter weeks of the unit will consider Australia’s response to contemporary global issues such as human rights; the War on Terror; the environment; nuclear affairs; and multilateral versus bilateral trade. It will conclude with a discussion on identity and Australia’s place in the world today.

GOVT6116
International Organisations
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Short written exercises; Exam; Participation.
This unit aims to introduce students to how states and other actors in the international arena cooperate to build institutions as a response to common problems. After completing the unit students should be able to analyse contemporary international organisations to see how they work, whose interests they serve, and to what degree they attenuate or enhance the power of sovereign states.

GOVT6117
International Politics of Human Rights
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1a Classes: Intensive mode, 4 days, 10am to 5pm Assessment: Literature Review; Research project; In-class tests
This unit introduces students to the notion of human rights, outlines international human rights enforcement mechanisms and the application of human rights standards globally. Throughout the course we consider the evolution of human rights and consider questions about the adequacy of existing human rights machinery. We examine criticisms by a range of commentators of the UN and other international rights institutions and discuss alternatives for protecting international human rights. We also look at the role played by Non-Government Organisations in advancing and protecting human rights throughout the world.

GOVT6118
Europe in World Affairs
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2b Classes: Intensive mode (4 weeks) Assessment: Two Projects; Two essays; Participation
This unit examines the problems of transition in European politics in three key areas: the shift towards advanced capitalist democracy in the southern Mediterranean; the steps towards transnational unity (through the EC) by northern European nations; and the slow process of economic and political reform in eastern Europe. Different theoretical approaches are used to examine these phenomena and include perspectives that stress the role of the world economy, political institutions and social movements.

GOVT6119
International Security
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Two essays
This unit reviews developments in international security since before World War I, to recent events like September 11 and its aftermath. The principal focus is on developments since the end of the Cold War and the collapse of Communism. The unit takes account of traditional notions about the causes of war and the conditions of peace, as well as changes in the structure and process of contemporary international relations.

GOVT6121
Northeast Asian Politics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week
This unit explores the strategic relationship between the great powers in Northeast Asia, potential arenas of conflict, China and India’s rise, Sino-Japanese tensions, North Korea as a potential nuclear weapon’s state, inter-Korean relations and the US alliance system. Are we seeing the beginnings of a new security dilemma as Asia’s rising powers extend their political and economic influence upsetting the established order? Will they challenge US strategic pre-eminence in the region ushering in a new age of super power competition, or can the region work together towards common security objectives?

GOVT6123
Globalisation and Governance
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Short papers; Essay; In-class test
It is widely believed that we are entering a new era in which the transborder flows of capital, goods, ideas, and people are rapidly transforming human society. ‘Globalisation’, many claim, threatens the autonomy of nation-states and erodes the power of national governments to provide social protection and promote the nation’s economic prosperity. This unit examines not only the causes and mechanisms of this process, but also assesses its social, economic, and political impacts. The views of radicals, transformationalists, skeptics, and institutionalists are compared and criticised. While globalisation is often viewed as a singular process, trending towards a global society, this unit offers a distinctive approach. Globalisation has uneven and highly differentiated impacts, whether harmful or beneficial, and this unevenness is closely associated with the nature of institutions of governance, at both the domestic and international levels.

GOVT6125
Politics of the World Economy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Option A: Essay; Final Exam, Policy Brief, Participation; Option B: Three Policy Briefs, Final Exam, Participation.
The objectives of this unit are to introduce students to the various approaches to the key institutions and processes in the areas of production, trade, and finance at the global and regional levels. After completing the unit, students should be able to analyse current international political-economic developments in their historical context and form an informed opinion on contemporary issues. This unit introduces students to the key theoretical approaches and contemporary issues in the discipline of international political economy and the political structuring of the present global economy. The unit focuses on how inter-state cooperation and competition mediated through the main multilateral economic institutions (the WTO, BIS, IMF and World Bank) both constrain and allow global market forces to expand. This is a unit on international politics not international economics. The unit’s survey nature means that students are introduced to numerous different issues from the spread of multinational production to offshore banking.

GOVT6127
Research Essay
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Permission required from Postgraduate Coursework Coordinator Assessment: 10000 word Essay
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

This unit consists of a 10,000 word research essay under the guidance of a supervisor from the Discipline. Normally it involves deeper study of a subject which the student has already covered in one of her or his units of study. Entry into this unit is not automatic, and depends partly on the Discipline’s ability to supervise the proposed topic and student’s existing knowledge in the area.

GOVT6133
American Politics and Foreign Policy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Book Review, Major Essay, Final Exam, Class Participation

This unit will examine the domestic politics and foreign policy of the United States of America in its role as world hegemon. The US will be considered as a historically and culturally distinctive liberal democracy, and how this ideal has influenced relations with the world. Themes will include the interplay of state, regional and national identifications, the divided and separated powers of the political system, foreign policy formulation and implementation and major problems in contemporary American foreign relations.

GOVT6135
Global Environmental Politics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Policy review; report; essay

This unit examines the environment as a political and policy issue. Although relatively recent, the environment has become a full-fledged public policy issue exerting influence in local, national and international arenas. The unit will first focus on the specific features of the policy that influences the capability of contemporary societies to enhance the management of environmental resources and of public goods in general. Second, it discusses the development of environmental policy in Western countries, with a particular emphasis on the European Union. Third, a grid for the analysis of environmental policy will be presented, with a discussion of the main actors (political, institutional and socio-economic) involved in it and of the factors (interests and ideas) influencing their positions. Fourth, the unit briefly discusses environmental conflicts and consentual approaches used for tackling them.

Asia Pacific Politics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Option A: Essay, Policy brief, Final exam, Participation; Option B: Three Policy briefs, Final exam, Participation.

This unit is organised around the upsurge in regional economic and security cooperation within East Asia and the more nebulous Asia Pacific in the last 15 years. It also looks at academic efforts to define East Asia and the Asia Pacific as regions. The first part of the unit covers the domestic similarities in East Asia and what these mean for East Asian and Asia-Pacific regionalism. The second part of the unit covers efforts to develop regional institutions like APEC and ASEAN and the role of these institutions in spurring regionalism. While the Asia Pacific and its sub-regions are the focus of the unit, both domestic and global economic and political forces are fully integrated into discussions. The unit provides critical insights into the reasons for the upsurge in regional economic and security cooperation, its likely trajectory and how East Asia and the Asia-Pacific are defined.

GOVT6139
Research Design
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2a Classes: Intensive Assessment: Comparative methods paper; draft research proposal; participation

This unit will provide students with the fundamentals for constructing and conducting effective research projects in the social sciences. An overview of social science inquiry will be presented through an examination of the diversity in theoretical and methodological approaches used in research. This will include a focus on both primary research, using interviews and questionnaires, and secondary research, using statistical databases, content analysis and textual analysis. Both quantitative and qualitative methods will be covered in the unit, as will an overview of ethical practices associated with research design. The assessment will be based around constructing practical research projects that can be utilised in both university and workplace-based research.

GOVT6146
International Risk Analysis
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Simulation Exercise; Short Assignment; Examination; In Class Assignments

This unit is an introduction to the theory and application of international risk analysis, with special emphasis on the emerging-market economies of the Asia-Pacific region: India, Thailand, Vietnam, China, South Korea, the Philippines, Malaysia, and Indonesia. Risk is an increasing function of modern commercial and non-commercial life, and understanding how to identify, measure, assess, and predict risk, as well as develop risk mitigation strategies is of growing importance, especially to commercial and government enterprises who operate in increasingly complex multi-jurisdictional environments. This unit will provide students with a comprehensive grounding in the background and development of risk analysis for international enterprise and public sector agencies, and survey some of the most significant tools, concepts, and problems encountered by risk professionals. Students will then use these tools to undertake a simulation exercises in either country or project risk analysis and consultancy.

GOVT6147
Foundations of International Relations
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Essay; Exam; Tutorial Paper.
This unit will examine the major theoretical approaches to understanding international relations: liberalism; realism; Marxism; the international society ('English') school; constructivism; and, post-modernist and critical theory. It will include the contributions of writers in the classical tradition like Thucydides, Machiavelli, Hobbes and Kant; and those of the 'moderns' like Carr, Morgenthau, Waltz, Keohane, Nye, Bull, Cox and Wendt. The Unit will also examine the significance for international relations theory of the end of the Cold War. The Unit will conclude with an evaluation of the major 'images' of international relations ('End of History', 'Clash of Civilizations', 'Back to the Future', 'Coming Anarchy', etc.) that have figured in analyses of the post-Cold War world.

GOVT6156
Governance and Civil Society
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Seminar participation; Case study; Research essay
This unit provides an overview of contemporary debates about policy making in democratic states, such as Australia. It examines how 'governance' is constituted by the interaction between the state and civil society. Governance is an emerging area of interest for both government and non-government organisations, and this unit analyses the way these social, economic and political organisations interact to both create public policy agendas and lead to social and political change. The unit covers the configurations of policy communities, political networks and social movements which shape both representative and participatory democratic practice. There is a particular emphasis on understanding the strategies that different political actors adopt.

GOVT6157
Corporate Citizenship
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: 1 essay; 1 case study report; exam; class participation
This course examines the concept and practice of corporate citizenship - how business takes greater account of its social, environmental and financial impact and relates to stakeholders beyond shareholders. The first part of the course introduces students to the historical and contemporary contexts of corporate citizenship. The second part examines companies' approaches to corporate citizenship in five key dimensions - economic, social, employees, environment and human rights. The third part focuses on current issues around social reporting and accountability and the role of government in corporate citizenship.

GOVT6207
Islam and the Modern World Order (D)
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Distance Education Assessment: Essays
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
This unit analyses the major issues confronting Muslims today. Among the themes are the universal claims of the faith and reinterpretation in a rapidly changing world: nationalism and the nation-state; modernisation, revivalism, separatism; democracy; Muslim economics and international imperatives; social change, science and technology and the modern media; gender relations; Muslim law and international influences; human rights; terrorism; international relations.

Special Topics in International Studies
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2b Classes: Intensive sessions, 9am-5pm: 7 hours per day, Friday and Saturday for three weeks Assessment: Literature Review; Group Project Research and Report; Group Project Presentation; In-class test
State Security and Human Rights: This unit focuses on the interrelationship between state security and international human rights in the Post September 11 environment. Using a comparative approach to politics, it encourages students to identify similarities and differences in the response of western liberal governments to the threat of terrorism and to examine how these responses have influenced human rights practices, especially civil and political rights - in each country under review.

GOVT6224
Politics of the World Economy (D)
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Distance Education Assessment: Final essay; two Policy briefs; Final exam
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.
This unit introduces students to the key theoretical approaches and contemporary issues in the discipline of international political economy and the political structuring of the present global economy. It focuses on how inter-state cooperation and competition mediated through the main multilateral economic institutions (the WTO, BIS, IMF and World Bank) both constrain and allow global market forces to expand. This is a unit on international politics not international economics. The unit's survey nature means that students are introduced to numerous different issues from the spread of multinational production to offshore banking. The objectives of the unit are to introduce the various approaches to the key institutions and processes in the areas of production, trade and finance at the global and regional levels. After completing the unit, students should be able to analyse current international political-economic developments in their historical context and form informed opinions on contemporary issues.

GOVT6300 Deliberation and Public Engagement
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 2 Prohibitions: GOVT6317 Assessment: Capstone project

This unit is equivalent to two units of study and provides postgraduate students with an opportunity to participate in an international program of the study of deliberation and public engagement. It will be taught simultaneously in two different countries: the US and Australia. It offers a unique combination of an intensive face-to-face introductory workshop which is followed by 10 weeks of online learning led by a team of international scholars, including phone-facilitated scholar-practitioner dialogues, while students undertake a capstone project which is presented during a final intensive face-to-face workshop. In summary, it combines scholarly understanding of different approaches with practical, hands-on applications.

GOVT6301 Government and Business Ethics
Credit points: 6 Session: Summer Dec Classes: seminars Assessment: Short paper; Long essay; Coursework; Reflective journal

You don't have to be sick to get better. We can all learn more about ethics. Most of us, most of the time want to do the right thing. When the pressure is on, it is not always easy to remember that or to figure out what the right thing is. This unit equips students to identify, analyse, and reflect on ethics in professional life.

GOVT6304 Development and World Politics
Credit points: 6 Session: Summer Main Classes: Seminars

This unit will explore some of the questions concerning capacity-building to reduce poverty in countries in the 'South'. These will include: What is 'capacity-building'? What has been the experience of the international development community? What capacities are needed to reduce world poverty? Is 'capacity-building' for poverty eradication primarily about organisations, institutions, governance or other matters? Is there a consensus about what to do? How do international policy-makers decide between alternatives? The unit will also include an analysis of how much has been learned about capacity and development over the last fifty years and how much of that learning has been applied. Further, the unit will examine some policies that governments and non governmental actors have adopted in the past and might adopt in the future. Finally, the unit will pose the question as to what role might individuals take.

GOVT6311 Issues in Public Policy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2a Classes: Three hours per week

Issues relating to the size and composition of the population are central to political debate in many countries. Reports abound of declining fertility and a rapidly ageing population while appropriate levels of immigration are hotly contested. This unit will provide an opportunity for students to engage in comparative policy analysis, to explore the rich contemporary literature on fertility, ageing and immigration and to situate Australian policy approaches to these issues within an international context. The unit will commence with some discussion of comparative social policy analysis, policy transfer (how do governments learn from one another? who besides 'official actors' helps to spread new ideas about public policy?) and an introduction to each of the substantive policy areas.

GOVT6312 Issues Management
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours per week Assessment: Seminar presentation; In-class contribution; Research paper

This course examines the generation and resolution of internal and external issues and crises in public and private organisations. Issues and crises can both be internal and external in scope. Private organisations must develop techniques for anticipating legislative change and government action; public organisations need to be sensitive to the policy environment to be successful. Topics to be discussed include agenda-building, symbol utilizations, the processing of issues, containment strategies and the role of the mass media and interest groups.

GOVT6313 Leadership in Theory and Practice
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Short essay; Long essay; Coursework; Reflective journal

'The leader points the way.' Eleanor Roosevelt. Leadership is a story that resolves these questions: What is a leader? What kinds of leaders are there? Is democratic leadership different from other kinds? Is leadership in a local community similar to that in national politics or international politics? Are leaders made or born? Is leadership generic? Is it the same in Europe and Asia? What is the difference between a leader and a manager? This unit reviews and evaluates theories of leadership. Participants' experiences and perceptions of leadership are an important part of the unit.

GOVT6314 Terrorism, Trade and Security
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours per week Assessment: Short critical writing exercises (3); Policy briefs (2); Longer case study; Class participation.

The topics covered in this unit include: the concept of terrorism (as defined politically, judicially and internationally); the history of terrorism, terrorism in comparative perspective (piracy and organised crime); the use of terror in insurgency campaigns; terrorist networks and terrorism case-studies; state sponsored terrorism; the impact of terrorism on trade; terrorism and international, regional, and domestic security; and counter-terrorism strategies.

GOVT6316 Policy Analysis
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Case study; Essay; Policy Monitoring Report

This unit focuses on the nature of public policy and the processes by which it is produced. Relevant issues are common to all nation states, although they take specific forms in each individual country. First, the unit takes an overview of public policy - dealing with basic themes such as 'What is policy?' through to different approaches to understanding the policy process. These include policy cycles, rationality, interest groups, institutions, and socio-economic interests. Second, it maps out and examines the main components of public policy making: actors, institutions and policy instruments. Third, it focuses on aspects of policy-making processes which often attract a high level of attention from analysts. These include problem definition, agenda setting, decision-taking, policy implementation, policy evaluation and crisis policy-making. Fourth, it examines wider issues in terms of the state and who ultimately holds power over the making and shaping of public policy. Fifth, it focuses specifically on Australia. It examines key issues surrounding Australian policy processes, as well as specific case studies in terms of economic policy and indigenous affairs. Finally, it examines the 'bigger pictures' of long term policy trends, and the extent to which national policy making capacities and processes have been affected by globalisation. Assessments offer a large element of flexibility, allowing students to concentrate on areas of particular interest.

GOVT6317 Politics of Consultation
Credit points: 6 Session: Winter Main Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Paper; Consultation Process; Report.

This unit analyses the politics of consultative processes through the application of theories of deliberative democracy-i.e., theory-in-action. It could be accurately sub-titled: Public Participation in Political Decision-Making. The unit is problem-based and experiential. An independent, action-learning approach is adopted and this involves planning, participating, reviewing and evaluating. There is a high degree of interactivity as well as individual critical reflection. Grades are awarded for individual work only but much of the preparation for this written work involves group activity. Students need a flexible approach to learning.

GOVT6318 Crises, Disasters and Public Management
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Assessment: Case Study, 1500 words, Project, 2500 words, Essay, 2000 words.

Crisis and disasters encompass a range of phenomena. They include natural disasters (hurricanes, floods and tsunamis), terrorist bombings (Bali, New York, Madrid, London), corporate failures (Enron, Worldcom), threats to human and animal welfare (Sars, Foot and Mouth, BSE), critical incidents (rail crashes, aviation accidents, mass shootings), environmental degradation (rain forests, ozone layer), and policy failures (UK Poll Tax, Australian Wheat Board). Some of these are 'sudden' crises which arrive on agendas without warning, while others are 'creeping' crises - the build-up of many months and often years of problems. The common denominator is that they pose a threat to prevailing patterns of organisational, social, economic and political interaction. It is for this reason that governments and public authorities are at the forefront of dealing with crises and disasters. This Unit of Study focuses on the causes and consequences of crises and disasters, as well as the strengths and weakness of different public policy responses to managing these extra-ordinary phenomena. Teaching and learning is via a combination of lectures, seminars, role play workshops and video case studies.

GOVT6319 Governance and Public Policy Making
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hour seminar per week Assessment: Seminar participation; Policy brief; Seminar paper.

This unit introduces key concepts in the study of governance and public policy making. It includes an examination of the changing relationship between the state, business and civil society and addresses critical issues such as corruption, transparency, accountability and participation.

GOVT6320 Strategic Management and Public Affairs
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hours per week Assessment: In-class participation; Case Analysis Memorandum; Case Study Report

An examination of the internal relation in a public or private corporation between the Public Affairs Manager and the corporate strategic management and planning processes. Includes analysis of relations between the Public Affairs Manager and line management; Public Affairs Manager and CEO relations; Public Affairs Manager and corporate planning; as well as the Public Affairs Manager's role in monitoring, forecasting, goal setting and implementing strategic policy and business plans.

GOVT6331 International Public Management
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours per week Assessment: Seminar presentation; Seminar paper; Seminar participation; Essay.

This unit uses international literature to provide an overview of the most significant current international trends in public sector management; evaluate the merits of these developments through explicit comparison and past experience and best practice in Australian organizations; explore the applicability of specific techniques to the local context; critically analyse the forces that have driven the global public management move (such as international agencies and private corporate interests); and encourage students to master both general, system-wide developments as well as best practice specific to their areas of expertise.

GOVT6332 Honours Dissertation Part 1
Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Prerequisites: Completion of 4 postgraduate units - 75% or above average and written permission from Postgraduate Coursework Coordinator
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

This is part of a 40,000 word dissertation for the Master's Honours degree in Public Policy. Entry into this unit is not automatic, and depends partly upon the Discipline's ability to supervise the proposed topic. Candidates must have completed, or be concurrently enrolled in, the Honours core unit, GOVT6332 Research Design. If enrolled full-time, this unit is taken concurrently with GOVT6333. If enrolled part-time, GOVT6333 is taken in the subsequent semester.

GOVT6337 Work & Family:International Perspectives
Credit points: 6 Session: Summer Main Classes: Intensive Assessment: Seminar participation; Case study; Essay

Balancing work and family responsibilities is a major public policy challenge for modern societies. Declining fertility, ageing, and changes in the labour market have brought the issue to the forefront of political and policy debate. This unit explores research, theory and practice in the areas of 'work/family' and more broadly 'work/life' balance, looking at how individuals, governments, unions and businesses are addressing the issues. The curriculum locates Australian experience in the context of broader international developments - including the USA, UK, Scandinavia and selected Asian countries.

GOVT6339 Internship in Public Policy and Affairs
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Prerequisites: Before undertaking an internship, students should have completed three GOVT 6000 level units including the core units GOVT6316 Policy Analysis and GOVT6319 Research Design (or their equivalents) Assessment: Self-directed study module; project plan; research project; reflexive report.
This unit provides masters students with an opportunity to complete a research project while undergoing a professional placement with a government or non-government organisation. It includes preparatory coursework via a study module in policy-making processes, project management and reflective, professional practice. This independent, self-directed learning will be followed by a placement with an organisational partner (20 days or 140 hours) and the completion of a research project on behalf of the partner. Supervision is undertaken by the organisational partner and the internship coordinator. Successful completion of this unit is dependent on the fulfilment of a learning contract that will be jointly negotiated between the internship coordinator, workplace partner and the student. During the completion of the internship, the student will also be required to attend the University for regular supervisory meetings with the internship coordinator. Enrolment in this unit is strictly limited by the number of available placements and students must complete an enrolment application form that is assessed by an external panel.

managing anti-globalization protests and consumer boycotts, terrorism risk, and executive risk and risk management and a short introduction to financial risk and risk management. The unit will also introduce students to the various analytical approaches involved in designing risk identification systems, reporting and monitoring protocols, and how risk is able to be assessed, prioritized and effectively managed. The unit will emphasize a problem case based approach to learning using workshops and simulation exercises.

IBUS6004 International Business Alliances

Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Three hours of lectures/seminars per week  Corequisites: IBUS6001  Assessment: Group Assessment; Participation; Final Exam

Collaboration to achieve competitive advantage is one of the most commonly recommended cross border strategies. However, international alliances can take many different forms, and they can serve many different purposes. Managing international alliances raises a series of different issues for the alliance partners to manage. This unit examines the issues raised and considers the reasons for success and failure of international alliances. It looks at the forms that partnerships can take, it examines the methods for choosing among potential partners, it examines the potential forms of collaboration and the level of resources each may require. Managing the partnership for maximum advantage, avoiding possible risks, and deciding how and when to end the partnership, all are further issues that managers must consider. The unit considers these questions in the framework of general theoretical approaches, and pays particular attention to discussion of individual cases.

IBUS6005 Ethical Issues in International Business

Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: One lecture and two hour workshop per week  Assessment: Group Assessment; Participation; Final Exam

International business decisions are not only based on economic variables. Ethical, social and environmental considerations also play an important role in the decision-making process. This unit of study looks at the managerial decisions and processes from this perspective using a case approach. The aim is to gain an understanding of how values inform international business decisions and how corporations can align their business decisions with chosen values. Skills in negotiations, analysis and management will be developed.

IBUS6006 Comparative International Management

Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Two lectures and one seminar per week  Assessment: Group Assessment; Participation; Final Exam

The triad regions, Japan, the United States, and the European Union, together are the homes of almost all of the world's largest 500 corporations. They account for a large majority of world exports. They provide most of the world's outward flows of foreign direct investment, and in addition they are the recipients of most of inward FDI flows. However, they are very different, in firm structure, in regulatory environment, and in the relations between private firms and government agencies. Dealing with them as competitors, customers, suppliers, or partners requires international managers to be aware of these differences and to vary their strategy accordingly. This unit examines the structure and operations of triad firms, and the ways that government agencies frame the operating environment in each region. We took first at the ways firms in each region seek competitive advantage, and how governments have supported them. We then look at a series of cases where firms have moved from their home region into another, at the ways in which they have attempted to transfer their competitive advantage, and at the reasons for their successes and failures. In addition to the specific knowledge of the habits and tendencies of Japanese, United States, and European firms, the techniques of analysis developed in this unit are applicable to a wide range of competitive situations across the global economy.

IBUS6011 Foundations of Entrepreneurship

Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: Three hours of lectures/seminars per week  Prerequisites: IBUS6001  Assessment: Group Assessment; Participation; Final Exam

For small open economies such as Australia's, opportunity identification and exploitation are often critical to firms' long term growth and survival. Developing entrepreneurial and innovative businesses is very different to managing large established businesses. In addition to exploring the special problems (and advantages) associated with entrepreneurial businesses, the course will bring together the skills you have acquired across many disciplines. Topics include entrepreneurship theory, opportunity recognition, structuring a business proposition and investment proposal, venture capital, and execution planning. Central to this course is the integration of theory and practice through workshop sessions, group work, and talks from industry professionals.

IBUS6012 International Entrepreneurship

Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Three hours of lectures/seminars per week  Prerequisites: 12 credit points or equivalent credit  Assessment: Group Presentation; Individual Assignment; Final Exam

Entrepreneurial business opportunities do not always relate to early-stage or start-up businesses. Later-stage business investments, whether buying existing businesses or turning around failing enterprises, are a significant and growing focus of entrepreneurial activity. This course explores the process of acquiring and reinvigorating established businesses and how to secure private equity funds (leveraged buy-outs) or corporate funding. The focus is on opportunity evaluation, management and revitalisation rather than financial structuring. You will have the opportunity to apply the functional skills learned in core finance, marketing, and management courses to real opportunities. As well as being of interest to those wishing to acquire and manage their own business, the course is appropriate for those working in 'big' business and the financial markets.

IBUS7001 Honours Dissertation Part A

Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Prerequisites: An average of 75% across IBUS6001, IBUS6002, IBUS6003, IBUS6004 and permission from the Chair of International Business

This unit is the first of a two-part, supervised writing of a dissertation of 12 - 15, 000 words to be submitted in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of Master of International Business or Master of Commerce with Honours.

IBUS7002 Honours Dissertation Part B

Marketing

Foundation units of study

MKTG5001
Marketing Principles
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1a, Semester 2a, Summer Main Classes: Three hours per week Assessment: In-class quizzes; Final exam; Team assessment.

This unit introduces students to the basic principles and language of marketing theory and practice. Marketing principles are examined in relation to a wide variety of products and services, in both commercial and non-commercial domains. A strong emphasis is placed on strategy planning and the marketing decision process. Students learn via the analysis of case studies drawn from the Asia-Pacific region, as well as the USA. The unit is presented in four sections. These are: (a) introduction to marketing and the marketing management process, (b) strategic issues in marketing - focusing on the preliminary analyses that are required before a marketing decision can be made, (c) the marketing mix - a detailed look at the components that make up a marketing plan, and (d) marketing planning, implementation and control processes. Students gain practical experience in analysing marketing situations and developing a comprehensive marketing plan.

MKTG5002
The Psychology of Business Decisions
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prohibitions: MKTG6022 Assessment: Mid-semester examination, group and individual project presentation, assignment, final examination

Given limitations in their ability to process information, humans adopt a variety of heuristics or "rules of thumb" when making judgements or decisions regarding business problems, product choice and consumption options, and in their personal lives. The evolution of these heuristics over time has ensured that they produce generally good outcomes across a variety of contexts. However, they also lead to systematic, and sometimes substantial, errors in certain cases. This unit of study will help students understand biases in human decision making, and how they influence business and consumer decisions in everyday life. For each decision domain, the psychological heuristic is contrasted with the logical rule for producing an optimal outcome.

Advanced units of study

MKTG6001
Marketing Research Concepts
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: MKTG5001 Assessment: Group research project; Individual essay; Short individual report; Final exam

This unit provides an introduction to marketing research and an overview of the industry. The major components of marketing research projects are discussed and students gain an insight into understanding and structuring research problems. The unit also gives an overview of primary, secondary and internal sources of data as well as advanced methods and techniques of research.

MKTG6003
Marketing Strategy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1b, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: MKTG5001 Assessment: In-class participation; Case study; Final exam

A survey of marketing strategy and planning. Topics include: environmental and situational analyses; SWOT analysis; alternative identification and evaluation; marketing research to inform strategic decision making; selection of alternatives and implementation of strategy; the role of the marketing mix elements in marketing strategy; sustainable and non-sustainable advantages; competitive intelligence; the strategic role of quality; monitoring customer satisfaction; problem and opportunity identification.

MKTG6004
New Product Development
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: MKTG5001 Assessment: Mid-semester exam; Group presentations; In-class quizzes; Final exam; Group project

This unit is the first second of a two-part, supervised writing of a dissertation of 12 - 15, 000 words to be submitted in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of Master of International Business or Master of Commerce with Honours.

MKTG6004
New Product Development
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: MKTG5001 Assessment: Mid-semester exam; Group presentations; In-class quizzes; Final exam; Group project

New products and services are crucial to successful growth and increased profits in many industries. Students are introduced to the development and marketing of new products and services in both the private and public sectors. A product development assignment is carried out to reinforce the material covered and to provide realistic examples of how new products are designed, tested and launched.

MKTG6005
Marketing Communications
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: MKTG5001 Assessment: In-class participation; Individual assignments; Mid-semester exam; Group project; Final exam

This unit provides a theoretical and practical perspective on the role of marketing communications in the marketing process, planning and implementation. The unit focuses on the role of different media (television, radio, print, outdoor, cinema, Internet) and covers various aspects of advertising and promotions management including: mass media advertising, in-store advertising, sales promotion, public relations, sponsorships, and personal selling.

MKTG6006
Creative Communications in Marketing
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1a, Semester 2 Prerequisites: MKTG5001 Assessment: Individual participation; One individual assignment; One midterm exam; One group project; One final exam

The nineties saw a shift in the focus of creative communication decisions from the traditional advertising agencies to specialist creative services providers. Alternative ways to produce, implement and monitor creative communications have been developed. This unit explores changes that have taken place and focuses on new principles of developing and evaluating creative communications, which traditional advertising agencies have been slow to recognise and respond to. Topics include: developments in media/ modes of delivery; implications of the shift from ownership towards access; the role of the visual in cross marketing; attitudinal monitoring; and issues related to client relationship.

Consumer Behaviour
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1b, Semester 2, Summer Main Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: MKTG5001 Assessment: In-class participation; Individual assignments; Mid-term exam; Group project; Final exam

This unit explores the processes that govern why consumers buy (and don't buy), and what possessions mean to them. Students learn to understand biases in human decision making, and how they influence business and consumer decisions in everyday life. For each decision domain, the psychological heuristic is contrasted with the logical rule for producing an optimal outcome.

International and Global Marketing
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Late Classes: Three hours per week Prerequisites: MKTG5001 Assessment: In-class participation; International business theatre; Individual case analysis report; Final exam

This unit introduces students to international marketing using the marketing concept. It firstly considers environmental factors and then studies how marketing strategies are affected by those environmental factors. It aims to give students an awareness and understanding of... international marketing concepts and highlight their importance in a rapidly changing global economy. Additionally it aims to develop student skills in designing and implementing marketing strategies in diverse international and global contexts.

Electronic Marketing
Credit points: 6
Session: Winter Main
Classes: Intensive
Prerequisites: MKTG5001
Assessment: Presentation of e-marketing plan; In-class participation; Case analysis; E-marketing plan and website Final exam

This unit introduces students to emerging interactive technologies. The primary focus is on the Internet and its impact on every aspect of marketing strategy. At present, every function within marketing is fundamentally changed by these interactive technologies. Consequently, there is a clear need for marketing students and practitioners to understand how these new technologies can be combined with traditional marketing techniques. An objective of this unit is to equip students with a working knowledge of the principles and techniques of electronic marketing. Additionally it explores the similarities and differences between using the traditional and new technologies in the marketing context.

Brand Management
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2a
Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: MKTG5001
Assessment: Individual participation; Individual assignment; Midterm test; Group project; Two hour written exam

The most important intangible asset of any business is its brand. The company’s name, symbols and slogans along with their underlying associations, perceived quality, name awareness, customer base and related proprietary resources form the basis for brand equity. Most new brands that are introduced, fail because of the lack of proper market research and analysis about positioning. The core of successfully establishing a brand lies in accurate positioning strategies. This unit helps students understand the concept of brand equity and the management of brand assets by learning to strategically create, position, develop and protect brand equity.

Marketing in the Asia-Pacific Region
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2b
Classes: Block intensive
Prerequisites: MKTG5001
Assessment: Two individual assignments; Two team assignments; Exam

Over 75% of students currently enrolled in Marketing are likely to pursue careers where their exclusive or major focus will be the Asia Pacific region. This course is intended to encompass both perspectives that will be of interest to such students (the external view, where companies are entering Asia Pacific markets, and the internal view, where marketers are looking to improve existing positions in these markets). The specific learning outcomes of this unit of study include (but are not limited to): (a) an awareness of major environmental characteristics of Asia Pacific economies and how these impact development of marketing strategies, (b) the ability to develop a potentially successful marketing plan for implementation in the region., and (c) knowledge of likely pitfalls (and how to avoid or minimise them) for the implementation of marketing plans in specific markets in the region.

Assessment: May include: Written report; Topic seminar; Final exam.

Business marketing is concerned with the marketing of products and services to other businesses and institutions. It involves selecting, developing and managing customer relationships in line with the skills, resources, strategy and objectives of both the supplier and customer companies. Traditionally, business marketing was approached using the ‘4P’s framework. This unit exposes students not only to the traditional view but contrasts that approach with the interactions, relationships and networks approach to business marketing. The unit aims to develop students into more complete marketers, capable of operating within the dynamic business marketing environment.

Classes: Three hours per week
Prerequisites: MKTG5001
Assessment: Individual assignment; Quiz; Group presentation; Final exam; Class discussion; Participation.

Today's economy is dominated by service industries. Service industries account for almost 80 per cent of Australia's GDP and will generate virtually all the growth in new jobs. It is acknowledged that there are significant differences between services marketing and goods marketing. Unfortunately, most traditional marketing texts primarily focus on the marketing of physical goods. While these texts obviously provide valuable learning and insight, they are inadequate in preparing students for the marketing skills required in today's dynamic and service-based economies. This unit is designed to prepare students for senior marketing roles in today's "new" economy. It explores the unique characteristics of services organisations and distinctive marketing approaches required for success.

This unit of study will build upon students' existing understanding of research methods, paradigms, and underlying philosophies. It is intended to introduce PhD students in the Faculty of Economics and Business to a broad range of methodological skills typically used in marketing research. Specific topics will vary from one year to the next. This unit may be taught by current members of academic staff or by international scholars visiting the Faculty of Economics and Business. The learning in this unit of study will provide students with some of the basic research skills needed for conducting academic research, for learning new research methods not directly related to their PhD thesis, and for learning how to publish research in top international journals. The research report comprising the major component of student assessment will be evaluated according whether it can be published in: (a) a top international journal, (b) top regional journal, (c) an international refereed conference proceedings, or (d) a national conference proceedings. Students will be strongly encouraged to submit the final research report for publication after the unit has been completed.

This unit aims to introduce students to competing perspectives on business regulation, then to familiarise students with the main elements of governance and regulation as they affect international business and, in particular, international trade.
This unit of study analyses the modern economic development of the People's Republic of China (PRC) and its role in the international economic system, including the World Trade Organisation. It examines the internal political economy of the PRC; the political economy of transition; and China's transformation into a major centre of foreign direct investment and global exports. The unit deals with the factors that led to the open door policy and to the quick acceptance by the USA and the rest of the capitalist world of this new policy orientation by the PRC authorities. The unit also focuses on imbalances in payments flows, the sustainability of the process, and the implications for the policy making capacity of China and the rest of the world. In the course students will learn the differential impact of China's transformation on the USA, East Asia and Japan, and the European Union. The unit assesses the impact of China's economic development on other transition economies. The policy of free trade agreements of China will also be studied. An understanding of these issues is important for people concerned both with investment and trade with China and the global political economic implications of China's emerging market economy under socialism.

ECOP6030
Research in Political Economy Part A
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Assessment: Seminar Presentation; Participation in seminar program; Essay (25 per cent of the assessment for ECOP6030 and ECOP6031 together)

This unit of study is one of two units which students are required to complete in preparation for the dissertation required. It covers differences of methodology between people undertaking research in political economy. To do so it compares the methodologies of the prominent schools of thought in the discipline, as that reflects the tradition of classical political economy, and then concentrates on three aspects of approach which fundamentally distinguish non-neoclassical schools from the neoclassical.

ECOP6031
Research in Political Economy Part B
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Assessment: Research project (25 per cent of the assessment for ECOP6030 and ECOP6031 together)

This unit of study is the second of two units which students are required to complete in preparation for the dissertation required. It comprises a ten-week program on research materials, covering bibliographic access, software usage etc., and alternative sources of information as research inputs. The unit concludes with an additional three weeks of sessions on presentation and discussion of dissertation proposals.

Long Essay/Project
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Assessment: 10000-12000 word essay or project. The essay/project will be on a topic of the student's choosing, possibly related to the student's professional activity.

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

A sizeable piece of written work is considered an essential component of postgraduate education, and it is seen as the culmination of the Masters' program. The essay / project is of 10 to 12 thousand words, on a topic of the student’s choosing, possibly related to the student's professional activity. The essay / project is completed in one semester, and is supervised by a permanent member of staff.

Developments in Infrastructure Provision
This unit of study is not available in 2007
Credit points: 6

This unit offers a critical appreciation of the theories and practices that currently govern the production and management of Australia's public infrastructure. Over recent decades the nation's infrastructure has been the subject of sweeping changes. The results of this change are complex and diverse, generating both profitability on the one hand but production breakdowns, public debate, academic controversy and social and political protest on the other. This unit covers the theoretical and policy background to the transformation, the new management models that have been applied, and on-going problems in infrastructure provision.

Transport and Logistics Management

Advanced units of study

TPTM6115
People, Work and Organisations
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Block/Intensive mode 5 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Class test; Group case analysis; Final exam (open book)

The aim of this unit is to provide an integrated approach to both micro and macro aspects of organisational behaviour particularly related to the transport and logistic industries. The unit examines actions at three different levels of analysis: the individual, the group and the organisation and is divided into three parts. Part 1 covers the strategic thinking and the general environment affecting the work place. It also examines the fundamentals of individual at work. Part 2 focuses on work teams, power and conflict, and leadership in organisations. Part 3 attends to organisational structure, culture and strategic change management. The integration of these 3 parts would provide participants with the knowledge and skills to manage his/her organisation effectively particularly in the transport and logistic industries.

TPTM6130
Transport and Logistics Economics
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Block/Intensive mode 7 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Mid-term short answer test; Group research report; Class presentation; Final exam (closed book)

Transport and Logistics Economics provides an essential set of skills for the management of the transport system in the private and public sector and across all modes in the freight and passenger sectors, both domestically and globally. This Unit of Study provides an introduction to transport issues that benefit from an understanding of key economic ideas. The course does not require a previous background in economics. The course is divided into five modules: M1 institutional reform ownership and competition; M2 - travel demand and choice, M3 - costing and performance, M4 pricing, and M5 infrastructure planning, financing and management. We use case studies to highlight the role of economics in the management of transport systems. We do, however, believe that some aspects of the unit must concentrate on identifying relevant theory before the selection of case study approaches can be fully appreciated. By design we will be selective in topics and methods, preferring to equip participants with insights into some key methods rather than a superficial overview of a wider range of theories and methods. The specialised rigour will provide appropriate training for tackling other topics, in other units, in more detail beyond these three modules. The material is of special relevance to majors in transport and logistics.

TPTM6155
Logistics Management
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main
Classes: Block/Intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm or 5 days 9am-5pm (depending upon offering session)
Assessment: Group research project; Group presentation; Individual work; Final exam (closed book)

The field of logistics management and enterprises exists today in an ever-changing business context. In addition to operationalising a logistics management system, practitioners are facing many complex challenges such as logistics planning, the use of logistics as a marketing tool, distribution accounting as well as the need for people-based management skills, use of third parties and technology. This unit provides a sound grounding in the terms, concepts, techniques and principles that underlie logistics and supply chain management. There is also a focus on understanding the major issues faced by business logistics managers and methods for analysing these issues, as well as the impact of logistics management on current and future trends in business such as advances in computers and information technology. Logistics management is discussed from a managerial, practice-oriented perspective, with both an operations management and a marketing orientation.

TPTM6160
Aviation Management and Logistics
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Block/Intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Written assignments; Lecture participation; Final report; Final exam

The aviation industry is changing rapidly with resulting commercial opportunities in airlines and airports. Participants in this course will develop an understanding of the economics of operating airlines and airports and the implications of competitive strategies for the development of hubs and networks. Airline topics include finance, and marketing, the formation and management of alliances, yield/traffic management, travel sales and distribution. The growth in air traffic in the region is placing strains on airport capacity and the course covers forecasting, airport planning, externalities of airports, pricing airport use, investment decisions, and the role of the private sector in airport development and operation. The course involves individual work.

TPTM6170
Strategy and Supply Chain Management
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Main
Classes: Block/Intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Individual research report; Group project; Final exam

This course examines competitive strategy in relation to the management of the supply chain. Increased competitiveness of markets has forced organisations to review both their cost structures and their value delivery processes. Organisations rarely compete as a stand-alone entity. They are typically part of an increasingly inter-dependent network and consequently the management focus extends beyond its own performance to that of its supply networks. Key components of supply chain strategy include cost-effective responsiveness to improve customer service.

TPTM6180
GIS for Transport Planning and Logistics
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Block/Intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Tutorial exercises; Group project; Group and individual presentation; Final exam

Decision making in transport planning, marketing and logistics requires access to a wider range of information than has been traditionally used in these areas. This requirement represents one of the practical limitations of the traditional process that Geographical Information Systems (GIS) can address. This unit introduces basic concepts and the potential benefits and barriers of GIS. Students are equipped with general GIS procedures and techniques for applications in planning and marketing. Practical work is based on the use of the TransCAD GIS software package. Case studies in transport planning, marketing and logistics are the focus of GIS software demonstration and computer laboratory work. No prior knowledge of GIS is assumed. Students will learn both the theory and practice of GIS, through a project-based approach. The expected learning outcome from the unit is to give students the ability to conduct and evaluate a GIS case study in terms of conceptualisation; implementation of a data model; the use of GIS tools and techniques; benefits and barriers of the implemented system; and making a proposal for further improvements. This unit will appeal to all students interested in the spatial impact of decisions.

TPTM6190
Logistics Systems
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Block/Intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm
Prerequisites: TPTM6495
Assessment: Written assignments; Class participation; Presentation; Final report; Final exam

Logistics Systems is a fast-paced advanced course in logistics. It involves design and management of logistics systems. It prepares students for logistics management positions in manufacturing, transportation and distribution firms. The application of analytical techniques to selected aspects of distribution management is explored in the course. Attention will be given to areas of inventory control, vehicle routing and scheduling, facility location, network planning, and development of information systems. Mathematical models in these areas will be discussed in terms of their ability to represent the problem and usefulness to the managers. Cases will be used to demonstrate the nature of decision making and the problems that managers face in logistics and supply chain systems. Class discussion will take place about the repercussions of alternative decisions.

Maritime Logistics

Credit points: 6
Session: Winter Main
Classes: Block/intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Written assignments; Class participation; Presentation; Final report; Final exam

The growth of international trade and the globalisation of production have considerably increased the impact of international and maritime logistics. Trade growth has resulted in a rapid increase of shipping value and tonnage led by containerized trade. Containers and intermodal transportation have improved the efficiency of global supply chains allowing for an efficient, quicker and more economical flow of cargo. This course is designed to familiarize students with the special characteristics of the maritime industry in general and the container shipping industry in particular. The course includes topics such as international trade and maritime logistics, maritime logistics in the supply chain context, port requirements, liner alliances, fleet management, routing and scheduling, intermodal transport, security, and technology in maritime logistics.

Intelligent Transport & Logistic Systems

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: Block/intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Business model; Short answer paper (group assignment); Multiple choice test; Individual assignment; Group assignment; Individual essay

In this rapidly changing world, it is increasingly critical that transportation and logistics professionals have knowledge and expertise of how advanced/intelligent technologies can enhance the safety, security, sustainability and efficiency of their operations. To this end, this Unit of Study will provide students with knowledge and understanding of the rapidly developing fields of Intelligent Transport Systems (ITS), including intelligent vehicle systems (typically called Telematics) and supply-chain and other intelligent logistics systems. The Unit includes closely related material on Information and Communications Technology (ICT), especially wireless communications, location-based services and distributed information processing in advanced intelligent networks. Most IT&LS systems rely heavily on advanced sensor devices and interfaces - human and inter-system - and these are discussed with their respective strengths and limitations. Applicable modelling and analysis techniques are discussed and demonstrated in tutorial exercises and assignments. The Unit aims to prepare the student for a role in transport and logistics systems project design and performance assessment, including the ability to communicate effectively with specialist development agencies.

International Logistics

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Block/intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Group research project; Group presentation; Class participation; Final exam

The trend toward an integrated global economy and global competitive arena is forcing companies to design products for the global market and to rationalise their production and distribution activities so as to maximise corporate resources. As a result, logistics in international operations has gained strategic importance. This unit takes a very strategic view of international logistics and deals with logistics from inland origin to final destination covering broad issues of system design and those associated with aspects of international transport, and location and distribution. It takes into account various issues in international operations such as differences in cultures, infrastructure, and transportation systems. The unit integrates concepts with examples of company practices in Australia and elsewhere.

Innovations in Logistics & Supply Chains

Credit points: 6
Session: Winter Main
Classes: Block/intensive mode 5 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Group research paper; Group presentation; Class participation; Final exam

The global marketplace drives Australian logistics and supply chain businesses to look for radically new ways of doing business and be innovative. Much of the documented experience on innovation typically comes from product innovation and innovations in highly technological areas. This unit takes a different focus and examines innovation practices and processes in logistics and supply chains. Based on real Australian logistics and supply chain cases the objective of this unit is to identify key management principles, introduce underlying theory and capture the success factors for innovative practices in logistics and supply chain management. This unit will provide opportunity for students to research, to critically evaluate and to discuss logistics innovation.

TPTM6310

Project Management in Supply Chains

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Block/intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm
Assessment: Individual laboratory assessment; In-class test; Group participation; Examination (closed book)

This course focuses on project management for logistics and supply chain management. A further significant skill obtained from this unit is the practical knowledge of Microsoft Project as a software tool commonly used by project managers. Front-end planning is critical to project success. Planning consumes only a fraction of project monies yet locks in major decisions with profound ramifications for the whole of project life and the end results to the changes in supply chains. Project success is based on the ability of project managers to lead their teams to finish their project on time, on (or under) budget and to the specified quality. Logistic projects are used extensively throughout this course to cover the PMBOK topics of planning, scope management, time, cost and quality management. A detailed analysis of risk management for logistics projects is provided in the latter section of the course.

Research Project

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Prerequisites: Completion of at least three TPTM units with an average grade of distinction or higher.
Assessment: Proposal; Interim report; Final report; Final presentation
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

This unit provides the opportunity for students to investigate a particular topic / area in the transport / logistics field through a one semester long independent research project conducted under the supervision of an academic staff member at ITLS. Students may choose from a list of topics or they can propose their own topic, reflecting their personal / professional interests. Special permission to undertake this unit is required from the Postgraduate Coordinator in Logistics or Transport Management.

Land Use and Transport Planning

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Block/intensive mode 6 days, 9am-4pm
Assumed knowledge: Basic statistical concepts
Assessment: Four individual assignments; Class presentations; Class participation

Land Use and Transport Planning introduces the conventional four-step travel forecasting procedure, plus land-use forecasting, as currently applied in urban areas throughout the world. The main topics include an overview of the transport planning system, land-use models (Lowry and simulation models), network construction, data requirements, trip generation models, trip distribution models, mode choice models, highway paths and assignment, transit paths and assignment, validation and acceptance testing, and forecasting. The course will also include practical demonstrations using transport forecasting software. The course will be of particular value to students majoring in transport, logistics, marketing and urban planning. The focus is on the application of statistical models in real world settings.

Traffic Systems Control and Management
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Block/intensive mode 6 days, 8am-5pm  Corequisites: TPTM6450  Assumed knowledge: Basic calculus and algebra  Assessment: Homework assignments; Class presentations; Pop quizzes; Class participation

Ensuring the safe and efficient movement of passengers and goods on our streets and highways is a critical component of urban economic development and quality of life. Meeting this challenge is the central mandate for traffic engineering professionals. In this unit, students will gain a strong understanding of the major roles, responsibilities and technical expectations of such professionals, which are required by both public and private sector employers in this field. Initially, we define a framework/context for traffic engineering and management, which forms the basis for subsequent modules. We then focus on those characteristics and limitations of the users of the road traffic system (humans and vehicles), which underpin engineering considerations. We then gain theoretical and practical understanding of basic traffic variables (speed, density, flow) and analytical techniques such as gap acceptance, queueing theory, capacity analysis and shockwave analysis. Following this, we will see how to design key system elements (alignments, intersections, cross-sections) for a variety of road users including cars, trucks, buses, cyclists and pedestrians. Finally, we will consider the critical issue of road safety - how we go about identifying and rectifying problems in the road network. Student learning will be assessed through tutorial/exam-style questions to assess basic understanding and analysis skills and two group-based projects typical of those conducted by traffic engineers to gain an appreciation of how these principles are applied in practice. The course will be of particular value to students majoring in transport, logistics and urban planning and design.

TPTM6425
Survey Design and Management
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: Block/intensive mode 7 days, 8am-4pm  Corequisites: TPTM6495  Assumed knowledge: Basic statistical concepts  Assessment: Two quantitative assignments; Class Presentations; Pop quizzes; Class participation

This unit introduces students to the concepts of designing and implementing data collection procedures, particularly through surveys of human populations. The unit introduces simple sample designs, and covers the design of data-collection instruments, protocols for undertaking surveys of human populations, pilot surveys and pre-tests, survey ethics, survey administration, coding and archiving of data, computation of sampling errors and population statistics, response rates and other measures of survey quality, and validation of survey data. The unit also includes discussion of applications of advanced technology to surveys, such as Internet surveys, surveys using GPS devices, and other remote sensing techniques. The unit is of particular value to students majoring in transport, logistics, marketing and urban planning.

TPTM6440
International Freight Transportation
Credit points: 6  Session: Winter Main  Classes: Block/intensive mode 5 days, 9am-5pm  Assessment: Take-home exam; Individual written assignment; Group written assignment

This unit seeks to give students an understanding of the dynamics of the express, air freight and shipping business. The course will discuss underlying drivers of international trade flows and the demand for capacity in different freight transport modes, as well as industry structure, regulatory environment and market access. Building on this background the course will highlight the implications for profitable air cargo and shipping operations. Particular focus will be given to fleet and network planning, revenue and cost management.

TPTM6450
Transport Policy, Decision Making, Env’t
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: Block/intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm  Assessment: Homework assignments; In class debates; Class participation

This unit introduces students to the basic concepts of transport policy and decision making, with focus on transport sustainability. After the transportation planning and decision making processes are described, the course will focus on policies and strategies aimed toward sustainable transport systems. Topics covered will include market-based vs. regulatory strategies, and problems and possible solutions related to air-quality, energy dependence, noise, health (crashes + community design), mobility, and global warming.

TPTM6470
Logistics and the Environment
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: Block/intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm  Prerequisites: TPTM6155  Assessment: Individual research project; Group project; Group presentation; Class participation

On the one hand environmental related laws and legislations are forcing organisations to be responsible for their waste, and on the other hand waste disposal costs are increasing rapidly. Considering this evolving business environment, many world class companies have realised that reverse logistics practices, combined with source reduction processes can be used to gain competitive advantage. The focus of this unit is on the relationship between reverse logistics planning and environmental impact. It introduces students to the basic concepts of reverse and lean logistics practices, discusses the role of government regulations concerning product take back policies, and international environmental standard such as ISO 14000, and explores the impact of legislations and policies on logistics practices and reverse logistics network design. The unit is of particular value to students majoring in logistics, marketing and urban planning.

TPTM6495
Analysis Tools for Transport & Logistics
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1, Semester 2  Classes: Block/intensive mode 6 days, 9am-5pm  Assessment: Individual assignment; Computer exam; Group assignment; Final exam

Quantitative analysis is a key activity in developing successful business strategies in the areas of transportation and logistics management. Successful business strategies are generally based on information collected in systematic studies of market behaviour and the preferences of players within the market. Such information is used to make predictions of market requirements, so that business strategies can be evaluated before they are actually implemented. It is therefore important that students majoring in transport and logistics understand the principles of quantitative analysis and know how to do conduct their own quantitative analysis of the market place. This unit of study provides an introduction to the theory and principles of quantitative analysis of transport and logistics markets through lectures, tutorials, and practical assessments requiring the analysis of various types of data. Classes and assessments are designed so that the student will learn how to undertake quantitative research in a practical manner relevant to the transportation and logistics sectors.

Work and Organisational Studies

Foundation units of study

WORK5002
Introduction to HRM
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2a, Winter Main
Classes: Two hours per week
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam

This unit introduces students to competing perspectives on the nature, meaning and implications of Human Resource Management (HRM) and highlights the distinction between functional, normative and critical approaches to understanding HRM. The unit also provides an understanding of the key functions and processes associated with the practice of HRM, including: human resource planning, job analysis and work design; staff recruitment and selection; training and development; performance management and motivation; managing rewards and remuneration; equal opportunity and diversity management; international dimensions of HRM; and evaluating the effectiveness of HRM policies and practices. Opportunities are provided throughout the unit for consideration of case studies relating to particular issues.

WORK5003
Management and Organisations
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Two hours per week

This unit aims to introduce students to the nature and context of management. It explores the functions and processes of management and encourages students to critically reflect on management theory and practice. It can be taken as a standalone unit for students enrolled in various specialist masters programs and also prepares students for further study in strategic management, organisational analysis and strategy and human resource management.

Advanced units of study

WORK6000
Employment Relations
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: Two hours per week
Prohibitions: WORK5001
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam

This unit provides an overview of the major issues in understanding the regulation of paid work at a time of immense change in the nature of employment and in the processes affecting it. The unit begins by providing students with a range of conceptual tools and competing points of view about rights, rules and conflicts at work. Attention then turns to the social, economic and political context of employment relations, focusing on the role of key institutional parties such as unions, employer associations and government as well as upon employees and managers themselves. The unit combines theoretical and historical understandings of employment relations with a detailed examination of the current problems and strategies of these key players.

WORK6001
Organisational Analysis
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Dec
Classes: Two hours per week
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam

This unit introduces students to the behaviour of people when acting as members of an organisation. The aim of the unit is to provide an understanding of the actual processes and structures that influence organisational behaviour, by drawing on ideas from psychology, sociology, management and anthropology. Topics covered include: individual perceptions; values and attitudes; motivation and job design; organisational citizenship and workaholism; communication and the role of rumour and gossip; romance at work; the function of workplace humour; group behaviour and dynamics; workplace bullying and violence; conflict and stress; leadership; organisational power and politics; and organisational culture.

WORK6002
Foundations of Strategic Management
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2, Summer Late
Classes: Two hours per week
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam

This unit provides a crucial examination of the concept of ‘strategy’ in the management of organisations beginning with an examination of different approaches to strategy and strategic management and the development of strategic management as an academic discipline. The unit then explores the classical strategic management process with the aim of equipping students with skills to be able to understand and complete a strategic plan. It also considers current issues in strategic management, such as the influence of management theorists and gurus; corporate mergers and acquisitions; downsizing; the relationship between strategic planning and firm performance; and the relationship between corporate governance and strategic orientation.

WORK6012
Employment Relations Policy
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2
Classes: Two hours per week
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam

The aim of this unit is to provide an understanding of the institutions and processes of employment relations with an emphasis on laws, institutions and social processes. It combines theoretical and historical understandings of employment relations in Australia with a detailed examination of the current problems and strategies of the key employment relations players. Topics covered include: the regulatory framework, state and federal governments policies, union policy, employer policy, the practices of Australia’s arbitral tribunals, the development of wage determination, and emerging patterns of dispute resolution. Overarching themes include individualisation and decentralisation of employment relations policy in Australia and whether there are more suitable alternatives.

WORK6017
Human Resource Strategies
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2, Winter Main
Classes: Two hours per week
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam

This unit examines the links between human resource management and strategic management in different kinds of organisations, both in Australia and overseas. The unit provides a critical and in-depth analysis of alternative perspectives on human resource management, paying particular attention to the concepts of strategy, people management and organisational performance. The unit also considers... contemporary and controversial issues in human resource management, which may include downsizing, outsourcing, knowledge management, governance and social responsibility.

WORK6020 Honours Dissertation

Credit points: 12 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Assessment: Production of a 25,000 word dissertation

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Available only to students who have been admitted to the Master of Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (Hons) combined coursework and research program. Students are required to undertake a supervised research project on an approved topic of special interest in the field of work and organisational studies over two consecutive semesters and to produce a 25,000 word written report on the project. Students contemplating enrolment in this unit should first seek approval from the Work and Organisational Studies Postgraduate Coursework Coordinator. Students must complete WORK5001 and WORK5002 prior to undertaking this unit.

WORK6022 Special Topic in WOS

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Assessment: 10,000 word research essay or case study report

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

This unit provides students who have achieved Distinction grades or better in WORK units of study with an opportunity to undertake supervised reading and research on an approved topic of special interest in the field of work and organisational studies. This unit centres on supervised individual reading and research rather than on class-based learning. Students contemplating enrolment in this unit should first seek approval from the Work and Organisational Studies Postgraduate Coursework Coordinator. Approval depends on the nature of the proposed topic area and the availability of appropriate staff expertise.

WORK6026 Organisational Change and Development

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1a Classes: Two hours per week Assessment: Continuous: Essay and exam

This unit seeks to develop diagnostic and prescriptive skills in relation to the management of organisational change while also encouraging the adoption of a critical perspective of the field. Part 1 (Organisational Change and the Nature of Organisations) introduces the fields of organisational change, explains its relevance to organisation performance and strategy and examines key change management models. Part 2 (Diagnosis and Intervention) examines the utility of key organisational change models and techniques and identifies factors that may impact on the effectiveness of the change management process. Part 3 (Key Areas of Intervention) analyses the application of organisational change practices and initiatives to a number of specific organisational issues.

WORK6030 Performance and Rewards

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hours per week Assessment: Continuous: Case study reports and/or exam.

This unit examines the processes and practices associated with contemporary performance and reward management. Results-based, behaviourally-based and competency-based methods of performance management are examined, along with processes of performance review, planning and developing. Coverage of reward management issues includes: job- and person-based approaches to building base pay structures; methods for rewarding individual performance; work group incentives such as gainsharing, goal-sharing and team pay; methods of rewarding employees for organisational performance, including employee share ownership; and performance-related rewards for executives. The unit also examines approaches to developing strategically integrated performance and reward management systems.

WORK6031 Recruitment and Selection

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2b Classes: Intensive Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam

This unit examines the purpose and importance of recruitment and selection as a key human resource management function. Specific themes covered include the relationship between recruitment and other human resource management functions, especially staff selection, internal and external sources of recruitment, recruitment methods (advertising, agencies, headhunting), outsourcing as an alternative to recruitment, assessing recruitment effectiveness, legal issues in recruitment, and recruitment and workforce diversity.

WORK6034 Human Resource Development

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1b Classes: Intensive Assessment: Continuous: Essays, group work, case studies and/or exam

This unit examines the theories, practices and debates associated with contemporary human resource development (HRD). The unit begins with an exploration of different conceptions of learning and skill. The process of HRD is examined, with a focus on needs assessment and the delivery and evaluation of learning. The relationship between HRD and other areas of HRM is explored, particularly work organisation, performance management, remuneration and enterprise governance. The role of organisational learning and knowledge management are examined in terms of changing conceptions of organisational structure and performance. A second section of the unit places HRD in the context of the wider environment. Australian policy debates are examined and HRD systems in other countries are introduced and comparisons drawn. The likely success of skills-led models of societal, industry and enterprise development in the context of globalisation and the knowledge economy are discussed. A third section of the unit explores the relationship between HRD and careers. The causes and consequences of changing career structures, the breakdown of internal labour markets and the development of new forms of organisation are examined. Particular attention is given to the issues of executive development and succession planning.

WORK6108 International Dimensions of HRM

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Two hours per week Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam

This unit considers the opportunities and challenges associated with managing people in international and cross-cultural contexts, with specific emphasis on international recruitment, selection, preparation, placement, management development, performance management, reward and remuneration. The unit considers the implications of internationalisation and globalisation for human resource management (HRM), the different levels of international business activity, the difference between domestic and international HRM, the challenges of cross-cultural management, models of cross-cultural management, and specific international HR processes, including selection, development, performance management, remuneration and regulation. The unit provides students with a practical understanding of the issues and challenges associated with managing employees in international, global and cross-cultural contexts.

WORK6111 Management Consulting

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours per week Assessment: Continuous: Essay, group presentation, group project

This unit explores the role, influence and activities of management consultants in Australia and overseas. It examines management consultants as developers and disseminators of management knowledge and practice and their role as change agents. The main themes covered in the subject include: the consulting industry in Australia and overseas; consultant roles and the consultant-client relationship; consultants and organisational change; knowledge intensive firms and the management of expertise; the diffusion of management knowledge and fashion in a global economy; consulting as an occupation and career; managing a consultancy.

WORK6115
Managing Diversity at Work
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Two hours per week
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam.

This unit examines the ways in which organisations manage a heterogenous workforce and the legal and ethical issues associated with the management of workforce diversity. While drawing on international literature in the field, the primary focus is on the Australian experience, including the so-called ‘program’ approach and the complaint mechanism found in the anti-discrimination statutes. As well as encouraging the development of diagnostic and prescriptive skills in diversity management, students also have the opportunity to develop a critical perspective on the growing literature in this field.

WORK6116
Employment and the Law
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 2  Classes: Two hours per week
Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam.
Note: This unit is not available for students enrolled in the Master of Labour Law Relations

This unit provides an overview of the scope and nature of employment law in Australia, the intersections between the common law of employment and statutory interventions such as industrial awards, enterprise agreements and Australian Workplace Agreements, the legal underpinnings of the award and enterprise bargaining system, the relationship between award prescriptions and the common law employment ‘contract’, and changes in legal interpretations of the nature of the employment contract. The unit also considers the nature of non-arbitral statutes affecting the employment relationship and the importance of Australia’s international obligations in respect of employee and trade union rights.

WORK6118
Managing Communication in Organisations
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1  Classes: Two hours per week
Prohibitions: ECOF6030, ECOF6040  Assessment: Continuous: Essays, case studies and/or exam.

This unit of study is designed to introduce students to the theory and practical application of the management of communication in organisations. Advances in technology have had a dramatic impact on communication in recent years and this course will pay particular attention to the impact of these technologies and the implications for management. By the end of this course students will have a good understanding of organisational communications theory including a comprehensive knowledge of the differing styles, channels and content of communication. In addition, they will have a sound understanding of the technological channels available to manage communication and the associated benefits and challenges that this brings to contemporary organisations. A significant amount of the course will be devoted to practical applications of communication strategies including case study analysis and experiential learning using virtual discussion boards.

WORK6119
The Innovative Firm
Credit points: 6  Session: Semester 1b  Classes: Two hours per week
Assessment: Essay; Final examination

The aim of this course is to examine long run changes in the organisation and management of business enterprises. Against a background of an introduction of business history, the major themes to be covered include business strategy, marketing, employment relations, financing, governance and technology. While there is no precise chronological period, the main concentration will be on the growth of large-scale corporations from the nineteenth century to the present day. A major preoccupation of the course is to explore the factors that make an innovative firm. Some of these factors include the nature of the market, the regulatory environment, new technology and business leadership. The course will employ historical case studies and a comparative methodology and will also evaluate the way in which firms are classified as innovative by business and corporate historians.

communication and team communication. Based on your understanding of communication principles (e.g. audience, purpose, situation, channel, media, feedback, noise), you will learn how to design strategic communications (written and spoken) to get your message across clearly, concisely and convincingly. You will apply principles of strategic communication to case studies, written messages, meetings, reports and presentations. All students who enrol in this unit will be required to attend three supplementary Learning Centre sessions on report writing and presentations. Students who require additional support to develop their written English skills (to be determined by a diagnostic task) will be offered additional workshops and support by the Learning Centre. On-line writing resources will be made available to all students.

ECOF6050 Strategic Business Relationships
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Two hours of lectures and one seminar per week Prohibitions: ECOF5802 Assessment: Assignment; Presentation; In-class Test; Final Exam
Note: Please Note: This unit of study is ONLY available to students enrolled in either the Master of Business or Graduate Diploma in Business programs.

This unit studies how strategic business relationships create sustainable competitive advantages for firms and nations. Business relationships are dynamic learning networks that result from strategic decision-making. They include internal relationships within the firm as well as external relationships. With internal business relationships, the focus is on organisational design issues, including employee-manager interaction, and manager-shareholder relations. External relationships include formal contracts and informal agreements with suppliers, buyers, distributors, lenders, competitors and partners. Resource and capability-based views of the firm provide the conceptual framework for analysing the foundations of sustainable competitive advantage and the role of effective relationships in building this advantage. Agency and transaction cost approaches help explain the operation of these relationships. Throughout the unit, we distinguish between the knowledge-based sectors of the economy and the more traditional sectors, and we consider how the form of business relationships varies between countries.

ECOF6060 The Global Context of Business
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week Prohibitions: ECOF5803 Assessment: Examination; Case study; Group project
Note: Please Note: This unit of study is ONLY available to students enrolled in either the Master of Business or Graduate Diploma in Business programs.

The unit introduces students to new and topical ways of thinking about the interconnection between the global economic, political and social contexts. It will integrate theories and case studies to present you with a multi-disciplinary understanding of the global context within which business operates.

ECOF6070 Business Decision Making

Note: Please Note: This unit of study is ONLY available to students enrolled in either the Master of Business or Graduate Diploma in Business programs.

The course will provide an in depth understanding of the quantitative tools and data analysis techniques that are used by management when making decisions. The conducting of surveys and the role of survey data within the decision making process will also be explored. Students will gain decision-making skills that are used when faced with complex business problems or choice situations, and the basic modelling of decision-making in contemporary business organizations. The unit commences with approaches to modelling and structuring decisions by breaking a decision situation down into its basic elements, including values, objectives, random events and inter-relationships. The unit continues with coverage of some of the main quantitative tools and techniques using in decision-making, including the use of

Master of Business core units of study

ECOF6030 Management Communication
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week Prohibitions: ECOF6040 Assessment: Individual writing tasks; Group project (meeting, presentation, report); Individual report; Individual presentation
Note: Please Note: This unit of study is ONLY available to students enrolled in either the Master of Business or Graduate Diploma in Business programs.

In this unit you will be introduced to a framework for analysing and evaluating management communication at dyadic, group and organisational levels. The unit emphasises the dual role of communication in the way effective managers (i) perform key managerial activities, such as organising, coordinating and leading; and (ii) promote positive relationships internally (with superiors and subordinates) and externally (with other relevant stakeholders). Two important influences on contemporary managerial (and organisational) communication practices are emphasised: cross-cultural decision trees, influence diagrams and probabilistic modelling. The role of empirical observation and data analysis in decision-making is also covered, along with sensitivity analysis for decision models. The last part of the unit deals with the design and implementation of surveys and their role in the decision-making process. Throughout the models and methods will be taught in context of a variety of actual decision problems that arise in business.

ECOF6080
Business Economics and Strategy
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three Lectures per week Prohibitions: ECOF5808 Assessment: Assignments; Mid-semester exam; Final exam.

An understanding of economics is important for any general business degree. The aim of this unit of study is to introduce students to economic concepts that can be used to help understand both the context for business and the analysis and development of business strategies. The unit of study addresses three main areas: the macroeconomic context for business, economic concepts underpinning competitive strategies, and economic concepts that relate to the internal functioning of organizations. As such it complements material covered in ECOF6060 The Global Context and ECOF6050 Strategic Business Relationships. It also provides an important grounding for students wishing to do electives in Economics as well as units of study addressing issues of strategy offered by other disciplines.

ECOF6090
Leadership and Business
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: Three hours per week Prohibitions: ECOF5807 Assessment: Continuous: Essays and case studies of leadership.

This unit of study is designed to encourage students to consider the role and significance of "leadership" in the context of the various facets of business that they will study on the MBus program. The unit will be divided into three key sections. Part I: Leadership in Theory examines major theories of leadership and assesses their applied value. Part II: Leadership in Practice: The Good, the Bad and the Ugly looks at a number of important issues that impact on the effectiveness of leadership in a variety of organizational types and situations. Part III of the unit: Does Leadership Matter? provides a review what has been learnt on the unit and considers whether leadership is really of any consequence to organisational performance.

ECOF6100
Logistics & Business Information Systems

Competitive advantage grows fundamentally out of the value supply chains are able to create for their end buyers. This unit of study develops value chain concepts from a supply chain introduction and offers a balanced development of a high level understanding of general value chain structures, as well as an operational understanding of special issues. Special issues include lean value chain - focusing strategically on value-adding and non-value adding activities; cost analysis of value chains - focusing on cost drivers and activity based costing; quick response value chains - focusing on electronic data interface and vendor managed inventories; and value chain performance management - focusing on supply chain operations reference and the balanced scorecard; understanding business of information; information systems security and control. The unit also focuses on challenging students to identify, describe, analyse and evaluate how IT is changing the nature of organisational operations and industry competition. The unit is particularly suitable as a support unit for majors in management, marketing, business information systems, and accounting as well as international business.

ECOF6110
Corporate Governance, Law and Ethics
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Three hours per week Prohibitions: WORK6033, GOVT6301, ECOF5809 Assessment: Research essay; Class presentation; Final examination

Note: Please Note: This unit of study is ONLY available to students enrolled in either the Master of Business or Graduate Diploma in Business programs.

This unit explores the relationship between business law and ethical reasoning and action in contemporary corporate governance and professional practice. As well as equipping students with an understanding of current legal requirements regarding business and professional conduct, the unit endeavours both to sensitize students to the range of ethical issues that today's managers and business professionals may face, and to provide a range of ethical frameworks that may assist them in addressing and resolving ethical conflicts. Students will have the opportunity to think critically about the underlying principles and assumptions that are the foundation of ethics in business and the professions. The unit uses case studies to examine legal and ethical dilemmas and decisions in key fields of business and professional practice, including business law, corporate governance, auditing and accounting, marketing and advertising, and information technology. Particular attention is also paid to the legal and ethical dimensions of corporate failure, and corporate social responsibility and sustainability.

This unit provides an overall picture of the contemporary Chinese legal system. The unit seeks to develop an understanding of the unique character of Chinese law by tracing its role through major social epochs - its imperial origins, the reforms of the Nationalist regime, the eras of revolutionary and radical transformations, and its role in a socialist market economy. The nature and function of law in contemporary China is explored through examination of the development of various legal regimes, including constitutional and administrative law, the civil and criminal law systems, the legal profession and court system, real property law, foreign investment law and intellectual property law. Candidates enrolled in the Shanghai Winter School will observe a mediation and will visit a Chinese court to observe a trial. The Winter School in Shanghai will take place in November and December on the campus of the East China University of Politics and Law in Shanghai, People's Republic of China. The lectures are given in English by Chinese Professors. Following the lectures, candidates must sit an examination in Shanghai. The essay component of this unit is undertaken on return to Australia and must be submitted by the end of February.

This unit introduces candidates to the preferred method of resolving international commercial disputes. It has two primary aims, to: (a) outline key principles in the law of international commercial arbitration (ICA), and discuss a range of cutting-edge legal issues; and (b) nurture a sophisticated understanding of the historical development, and likely future path, of ICA systems in relation to other forms of dispute resolution in trans-border contexts. Related, secondary aims are to develop: (c) ability to discuss or argue arbitration law issues with colleagues; and (d) familiarity with key reference materials, expertise in the selection of relevant research and skills in effective legal writing in this field. Introductory classes consider how ICA relates to litigation and ADR, survey some of the most important transnational and Australian "legislative" instruments, and introduce major trends: (i) ICA's rebirth in the 1950s and 1960s, its formalisation over the 1980s, and possible counter-tendencies particularly since the mid-1990s, and (ii) tensions between global harmonisation and local or regional variation. Part 2 of the unit examines these trends in more detail, including ICA's forays into new fields, and developments in the Asia-Pacific region. Part 3 revisits some key legal principles and other topics currently being scrutinised by the UN, including ICA's relationship with mediation. Part 4 discusses other hot topics in ICA, to be agreed upon. The unit ends with practice in drafting and critically analysing arbitration agreements or Rules of arbitral institutions or in participating in arbitration proceedings (assessed as part of class participation). This unit aims to introduce candidates to a wide variety of areas of Indonesian law, with a focus on topical issues. These include Indonesia's place within the civil law tradition, the judiciary, human rights, constitutional reform, Indonesia's legal pluralism and some aspects of commercial law, including intellectual property. By the end of the unit, candidates should have an understanding of: - Indonesia's legal system and some of the reasons for its dysfunction, with a focus on the judicial system - Indonesia's legal pluralism, including some aspects of Islamic law - particularly family law - Recent constitutional and institutional reform in Indonesia - Aspects of doing business in Indonesia

The goal of the unit is to provide a comparison of the corporate tax systems of a number of countries of economic and cultural significance to Australia. The goal has both practical and policy aspects. The unit will provide a basic introduction to the corporate tax systems of Australia's major trading partners which will assist candidates in assessing the likely outcomes of proposed corporate dealings both within the countries selected for comparison and between them. A comparative framework provides an opportunity for identifying the available options for taxing corporate income and assessing the appropriateness of those options or a combination thereof. This enables an assessment of the options selected by various countries, including incompatibility of options, and may identify areas of corporate taxation which may be the subject of appropriate reform. The unit will examine: - theoretical framework and defining entities subject to corporation tax; - taxation of corporate income where derived; - taxation of corporate income where distributed; - treatment of gains/losses on the disposal of shares; - corporate formation, reorganisation and liquidation; and - international taxation of corporate income.

Comparative Income Tax examines the key structural features of the income tax (tax unit, income, capital gains, fringe benefits, deductions, tax rates, tax accounting, tax expenditures and presumptive taxes). The unit will consider both the policy options in the design of the income tax and the legal implementation of those options. The unit will be primarily issues based, drawing on both developed and developing country examples. The comparative framework for analysis provides an opportunity for identifying the available options for taxing income and assessing the appropriateness of those options or a combination thereof. As part of this more general analysis, the unit will identify cultural, constitutional and administrative issues that shape the design of income tax laws. The unit will not consider corporate tax as this is the subject of Comparative Corporate Taxation nor international tax as this is the subject of Comparative International Taxation. Candidates should gain an understanding of the key design features of the income tax and differences taken by countries in income tax law design.

Assessment: classwork (30%), 5000wd essay (70%)

A major issue in contemporary corporate governance debate is whether national governance systems can be expected to converge into a new international governance system, comprising best practices from diverse systems. While many commentators support this position, others take the view that major underlying legal and cultural differences between jurisdictions will ultimately prevent such convergence. This unit will examine recent trends in comparative corporate governance and discuss the interplay of governance techniques in a number of different jurisdictions, such as the US, Germany, Japan and Eastern Europe. It will also explore different approaches to fundamental governance issues such as directors' duties and disclosure.

This unit follows on from LAWS6063 International Trade Regulation (which is usually offered each year, and sometimes twice a year (once on a weekly basis and once on an intensive basis) building on the understanding gained there of the law of the World Trade Organization and examining some further topics on the law of the WTO with some references to bilateral or regional trade treaties. The dominant part of the unit is an extension of the consideration of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (‘GATT’) by considering the exceptions for restrictions for health, environmental, technical regulations and quarantine reasons and considering the escape clauses providing for Safeguards, Anti-dumping Duties and Countervailing Duties (including the way these escape clauses are implemented in domestic law, mostly using examples from US law). We extend the consideration of the MFN rule by considering the exception for free trade areas and customs unions (incorporating some limited consideration of particular Free Trade Agreements). Similarly we extend the introduction to the General Agreement on Trade in Services (‘GATS’) by considering some specific service sectors, and extend the introduction to the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property (‘TRIPS’) by considering the scope of exceptions under the TRIPS. We extend the consideration of the nature of the WTO system by considering its interaction with law in other areas, time permitting considering interaction with environmental law, human rights law or competition law.

The object of this unit is to examine the design principles, operation, compliance and administration of consumption type value-added taxes (known commonly as either VAT or GST). The unit will consider the major foundational principles of VAT and their operation in practice. In assessing the basic features of VAT, and will consider the different ways in which these have been given effect in different jurisdictions, focusing in particular on the European Union, New Zealand, Australia, and Canada, but also considering a range of other jurisdictions and the model VATs drafted by the IMF. For candidates interested in Australian goods and services tax (GST), this unit will provide an in depth understanding of the policies underlying VAT/GST and of the options for VAT treatment that have been adopted in other jurisdictions, enabling you to compare the Australian treatment and identify areas of potential conflict. For international candidates, the principles discussed will be of a generic and comparative nature, and will be readily transferable to the operation of VAT in your country of residence. Topics examined include: - Different options and methods for taxing consumption; - The history, spread and prevalence of credit-invoice systems of VAT; - Different forms of VAT/GST and the relationship between VAT and other tax bases; - Rate differentiation - use of multiple rates, including zero; - Administration of VAT, including registration, invoices, assessment and collection. - The taxable person and concepts of enterprise/business/taxable activity; - The treatment of Government entities and charities; - The taxable transaction - the concept of supply and distinctions between supplies of goods and services; - Taxable supplies, exemption with credit (zero-rating/GST-free), and exemption without credit (input taxation); - The taxable amount - consideration, valuation, and calculation of output tax; - Input tax - the entitlement to deduction/credit or input tax; - International issues, including the place of supply, the treatment of imports and exports, and the use of reverse charge mechanisms; - Special rules for supplies of financial services and insurance and the options for taxing, exempting, or zero-rating such supplies; - Specialised regimes for small traders, e-commerce, gambling, tour operators etc. - The treatment of capital and second hand goods; - The treatment of real property; - Anti-avoidance provisions.

The unit is designed as a detailed study of maritime law from what might be said to be a commercial law, as opposed to a public law, perspective. The nature of the business of shipping and related activities are examined by reference to fundamental commercial arrangements and relationships - the business of shipping, ownership and deployment of ships, chartering and use of ships, carriage of goods by sea and limitation of liability. The unit will provide a detailed introduction to these areas as a foundation for practice in Australia and overseas and as a basis for further academic research. The core topics of the unit will be the law of charterparties and the carriage of goods by sea. A constant theme of the unit will be the international character of the commercial relationships involved and the importance of private and intentional law considerations at all times. Whenever possible relevant comparative law analysis will be discussed.

LAW6852 Doing Business in China

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Ms Vivienne Bath Session: S2 Intensive Classes: block/intensive mode 4-5 days (9am-5pm). See timetable. Prerequisites: LAWS6252 or law degree from a common law jurisdiction Corequisites: LAWS6167 and LAWS6243 for MIL and GradDiplLaw candidates Assessment: 1x2000wd assignment (30%) and 1xtake home exam (70%)

This unit aims to provide an introduction to the legal and practical aspects of doing business in China. The unit will commence with an overview of the Chinese legal, political and economic system and will then move on to an examination of the system of commercial regulation in China, including contracts, land use, regulation of private and state-owned businesses and Chinese companies and securities laws. The unit will focus on Chinese contract law and the foreign investment regime and the related structuring and regulatory issues related to foreign participation in the Chinese market. Areas covered will discuss the principal issues relating to the establishment of a corporate or other presence in China and the related negotiation process, including taxation and foreign exchange controls. The unit will conclude with an examination of methods of resolution of disputes arising under contracts entered into in China. More specialized topics which may be covered include intellectual property, labour law and regulation of financial institutions.

This unit covers the legal system of the People's Republic of China. It will address Chinese legal history and tradition and the development of modern Chinese law, and will look at the Chinese court system and dispute resolution, constitutional and administrative law, the civil and criminal systems and other specific areas such as land law, labour law and intellectual property. The unit will also look at the influence of international law on the Chinese domestic legal system and China's developing role in international law. Practical aspects of the implementation of a legal system in China and attitudes towards the rule of law will also be considered. The research paper will address Chinese law or a comparative analysis of Chinese law and the legal systems of one or more other countries.

LAW6870 Advanced Customs Law

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Mr Alan Bennett Session: Semester 2 Classes: (1x2hr lec)/wk. Prerequisites: (LAWS6825 for MBL and MinBusLL candidates without a recent and thorough undergraduate course in Australian income taxation) and (LAWS6252 for MinBusLL and MBL candidates who do not hold a qualification in accountancy or have not completed a legal studies unit as part of a degree in business or commerce within a common law jurisdiction) Assumed knowledge: It is recommended that candidates who are not working in the tax area and have not taken an undergraduate tax unit in Australia in the past five years undertake LAWS6126 or LAWS6825 before enrolling in this unit. If in doubt, please consult the Taxation Program Coordinator.

Assessment: class assignments (35%) and 1xfinal assignment (65%)

The unit studies Australian customs law and regulation. The introductory sessions examine the Kyoto convention (which sets out the basic requirements of a modern customs law) and some of the Annexes to the WTO Agreement (which provide the platform for many of Australia’s Customs laws for example, valuation and dumping). The unit then examines the principal Australian laws and cases regulating imports and exports including: tariff classification; customs valuation; prohibited imports and exports; seizure and forfeiture provisions; customs powers generally and administrative remedies; anti-dumping; and, the various laws which govern what markings must be on imported goods. Australia’s free trade agreements with the US, Thailand, Singapore and New Zealand are also examined with particular emphasis on the rules of origin qualifying goods for eligibility for the concessional duty rates under these FTAs.

LAWS6879
Japanese Law
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Luke Nottage (Co-ordinator)
Session: S1
Intensive Classes: block/intensive mode classes held in Japan.
Prerequisites: (LAWS6252 for MIntBus&L candidates)
Corequisites: (LAWS6167 and LAWS6243 for MIL and GradDiplLaw candidates)
Assessment: 1x6000wd research essay (70%) and 2x1000wd reflective notes (one due by 5 Feb, the other by 28 Feb) (10% each) and class participation (10%)

Note: further information is available at www.kyoto-seminar.jp or contact Dr Luke Nottage by e-mail at laken@law.usyd.edu.au or telephone 9351 0210

This intensive unit held in Japan’s former capital introduces candidates to the rapidly evolving legal system of one of Australia’s major partners in trade, investment and security issues. Japanese law is set in broad comparative, historical and socio-economic context. Topics encompass an overview of Japanese legal history and legal institutions, criminal justice, civil justice, business law (including financial markets regulation), gender, and Japan’s “peace Constitution”. It will also involve Japanese and international candidates in Japan, with the total number capped at around 60. Dr Nottage will hold a preliminary meeting for University of Sydney candidates prior to their departure for Tokyo. The unit is taught in English by experts in these different fields of Japanese law from Australia and Japan, thanks to the support of the Australian Network of Japanese Law (www.law.usyd.edu.au/anjel) and the Japanese government. Assessment of University of Sydney candidates is by Dr Nottage, in consultation with other lecturers if necessary. Candidates may join in field trips to courts and the Bar Association in Kyoto and to a major company in the region, as well as a farewell dinner, for a fee of 3000 yen (approximately AS$40) payable to Ritsumeikan University upon arrival in Kyoto. Ritsumeikan University will also assist in securing accommodation for the week in Kyoto, but such costs (and travel costs and arrangements) are the responsibility of the candidate.

Law units of study available to Master’s and Graduate Diploma in Commerce students

Students must enrol in intensive sessions at the Student Information Office and should note that if they withdraw from intensive LAWS units after close of business on the first day of classes they will be charged the full fee for the unit.

LAWS6119
Taxation of Partnerships & Trusts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Ms Karen Rooke
Session: Semester 1
Classes: (1x2hr lec/wk)
Prerequisites: (LAWS6825 for MBL candidates without a recent and thorough undergraduate course in Australian income taxation) and (LAWS6252 for MBL candidates who do not hold a qualification in accountancy or have not completed a legal studies unit as part of a degree in business or commerce within a common law jurisdiction)

Assumed knowledge: It is recommended that candidates who are not working in the tax area and have not taken an undergraduate tax unit in Australia in the past five years undertake LAWS6825 before enrolling in this unit. If in doubt, please consult the Taxation Program Coordinator.

Assessment: 1xexam (70%) and classwork (30%)

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

The object of this unit is to examine the policy and practical issues that arise in Australia by virtue of the rules for the taxation of income derived through unincorporated entities. The focus is on partnerships, corporate limited partnerships, trusts, unit trusts, deceased estates, corporate unit trusts and public trading trusts. The goals of the unit are to develop a detailed understanding of the policies, technical rules and practical problems involved in the taxation of these arrangements. Upon successful completion of this unit a student should have an advanced understanding of the technical rules underlying the taxation of partnerships and trusts in a variety of forms and in a variety of commercial situations. The unit covers: - problems of taxing entities; - problems of taxing entities, partnerships and trusts contrasted with companies; - classification of entities for tax purposes; - taxation of partners; - taxation of trusts other than unit trusts and their beneficiaries; - taxation of unit trusts and their beneficiaries; - taxation of limited partnerships.

Comparative International Taxation
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Assoc Prof Lee Burns
Session: S1
Late Int Classes: block/intensive mode 4-5 days (9am-5pm). See timetable.
Prerequisites: (LAWS6825 for MBL candidates without a recent and thorough undergraduate course in Australian income taxation) and (LAWS6252 for MIntBus&L and MBL candidates who do not hold a qualification in accountancy or have not completed a legal studies unit as part of a degree in business or commerce within a common law jurisdiction)

Corequisites: (LAWS6167 and LAWS6243 for MIL and GradDiplLaw candidates)
Assessment: 1x4000wd assignment (40%); 1x2hr lec/wk research paper (60%)

Note: compulsory for MIntTax candidates

Comparative International Taxation is a detailed study of the basic principles of international taxation (residence, source, relief from international double taxation, anti-deferral rules, withholding tax, transfer pricing, thin capitalisation, and tax treaties). The unit is taught from a global perspective with the emphasis being on comparative analysis (focussing particularly on Anglo, US and continental European approaches, and also developed and developing country approaches).

The unit examines the core issues in developing international tax rules and identifies different approaches countries have taken in dealing with these issues. As part of this study, recent trends in international tax rule development will be identified (particularly in the context of globalization) and critiqued. Candidates should gain an understanding of the different approaches that countries have taken in the development of their international tax rules.

Comparative Corporate Taxation
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Peter Harris Session: S1 Late Int Classes: block/intensive mode 4-5 days (9am-5pm). See timetable. Prerequisites: (LAW6825 for MBL and MIntBus&L candidates without a recent and thorough undergraduate course in Australian income taxation) and (LAW6252 for MBL and MIntBus&L candidates who do not hold a qualification in accountancy or have not completed a legal studies unit as part of a degree in business or commerce within a common law jurisdiction). Assumed knowledge: It is recommended that candidates who are not working in the tax area and have not taken an undergraduate tax unit in Australia in the past five years undertake LAWS6128 or LAWS6825 before enrolling in this unit. If in doubt, please consult the Taxation Program Coordinator. Assessment: 1xexam or essay (70%) and classwork (30%).

The goal of the unit is to provide a comparison of the corporate tax systems of a number of countries of economic and cultural significance to Australia. The goal has both practical and policy aspects. The unit will provide a basic introduction to the corporate tax systems of Australia’s major trading partners which will assist candidates in assessing the likely outcomes of proposed corporate dealings both within the countries selected for comparison and between them. A comparative framework provides an opportunity for identifying the available options for taxing corporate income and assessing the appropriateness of those options. This enables an assessment of the options selected by various countries, including incompatibility of options, and may identify areas of corporate taxation which may be the subject of appropriate reform. The unit will examine: - theoretical framework and defining entities subject to corporation tax; - taxation of corporate income where derived; - taxation of corporate income where distributed; - treatment of gains/losses on the disposal of shares; - corporate formation, reorganisation and liquidation; and - international taxation of corporate income.

Note: It is not possible to cover all aspects of GST in one unit. Candidates seeking a complete picture of Australia’s GST should also undertake LAWS6828.

The object of this unit is to introduce the basic design, operation, compliance, administration, and working principles of the Australian goods and services tax (GST). The unit will commence with a brief examination of the design features common to value-added type consumption taxes, of which Australia’s GST is an example. The unit will proceed to examine the main foundational principles of Australia’s GST and its operation in practice. In assessing the Australian legislation, comparisons will be drawn with case law and statute from other jurisdictions to assist in understanding how Australia’s GST might be interpreted. On successful completion of this unit you should have an understanding of the policies underlying GST, a detailed knowledge of the technical workings of the basic Australian GST rules and procedures, and an awareness of current practical problems involved in GST. Topics examined will cover the key concepts required to understand the operation of GST, including: - introduction to GST - basic design features and underlying policies of GST; - status of the tax; - person, concepts and the obligation to register for GST; - liability for tax on supplies - types of supply & limits on the concept of supply: consideration, including non-monetary consideration, nexus, & value; - entitlement to input tax credits; - liability for tax on importations; - tax invoices, attribution to tax periods, adjustment events & adjustments for change of use; - basic principles of GST-free and input taxed supplies; - introduction to international issues in GST, including the treatment of cross-border transactions and importations; - introduction to real property transactions; - introduction to the treatment of financial supplies; - compliance & administration, including anti-avoidance.

1. Goals of the unit This unit examines the basic elements of Australia’s income tax (including fringe benefits tax and capital gains tax) and analyses their impact on operations and structuring of businesses. 2. Intended audience The main audience for this unit is participants without a recent and thorough undergraduate course in Australian income tax. So, the majority of participants are from two groups: - foreign graduate candidates who have studied their domestic tax system, and who now wish to acquire a detailed knowledge of the operation of the Australian tax system, and - Australian graduate candidates from law, commerce, accounting and other disciplines who have not studied income tax and who want to come to grips with the principal impacts of the Australian tax system on their clients. So this unit is both (a) an entry course, designed to serve as the precursor to enrolling in the more specialised units offered in the Tax Program, and (b) a course for practitioners and others who do not seek to be tax specialists but want to improve their general understanding of the tax ramifications of commercial operations. 3. Outcomes Upon successful completion of the unit, participants will have: - a sound basic understanding of the operation of the Australian income tax law for business, whether conducted directly or via a partnership, trust or company, - the ability to apply Australian tax law to a broad range of common commercial transactions, and - an awareness of the commercial consequences of the Australian income tax rules on a range of common domestic commercial transactions, - the ability to recognise common income tax issues which would arise in domestic and international commercial transactions, an awareness of the commercial consequences of the Australian income tax rules on a range of common international trans-actions, an awareness of the impact of tax law and tax outcomes on decision-making by businesses operating in, into or from Australia. 4. Unit outline Topic 1. The main elements of the tax system (1 hour) Topic 2. Assessability of business revenue (6 hours) Topic 3. Treatment of business costs (8 hours) Topic 4. Timing rules for revenue and expense recognition (2 hours) Topic 5. Trading forms, capital raising and cost of servicing invested capital (3 hours) Topic 6. Cross-border issues (4 hours)

Psychology units of study

These units of study are only available to students enrolled in Organisational Coaching programs.

PSYC4721
Theories & Techniques of Coaching Psych
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: One 3 hour lecture per week. Assessment: Written papers (essay, journal or case study) and exam.

This unit outlines the emergence of Coaching from its roots in personal development, sports coaching, management consulting, clinical and counselling psychology, and details the fundamental models and techniques of coaching. Theories and techniques will be evaluated by reference to empirical research and conceptual analysis. Drawing on a broad base of established Behavioural Science, primary attention will be paid to cognitive-behavioural and solution-focused theories and techniques of behaviour change and their application to coaching clients. We will also evaluate key popular psychological approaches to coaching and personal development. Each weekly seminar has a lecture component and an experiential learning component. The experiential learning component requires students to evaluate each week's topic in relation to their own personal life experience and to participate in group discussion and coaching practice.

PSYC4722
Fundamentals of Coaching Practice
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Block teaching. Corequisites: PSYC 4721. Assessment: Written papers (essay, journal or case study) and exam.

This unit teaches the Fundamentals of coaching, and lays the foundations for sound contemporary practice. Drawing on established approaches (e.g. Egan, 1974; Whitemore, 1992) students will be trained in the core micro skills of coaching. The unit details key coaching strategies in relation to common applications of coaching; workplace coaching, executive coaching, and personal or life coaching. Core issues relating to mental health problems and coaching practice are addressed, and we explore the essentials of professional practice development/ marketing and Ethical (ICF) practice. Each seminar has a lecture component and an experiential learning component. The experiential learning component requires students to evaluate each topic in relation to their own personal life/ work experience and to participate in group discussion. This unit is run in a block teaching format.

PSYC4723
Socio-cognitive Issues in Coaching Psych
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: Block teaching with some evening tutorials. Prerequisites: PSYC 4721 and 4722 and either 4724 or 4728. Assessment: Written papers (major and minor essay) and exam.

The aim of this unit is to give students an understanding of key socio-cognitive issues related to coaching and behaviour change. The focus of the unit is on critical appraisal of theory and the relation of theory to practice and research. Topics covered in this unit include models of self-regulated behaviour, personality type, the relationships between emotion, cognition and behaviour, and the roles of learnt resourcefulness, learned optimism, psychological mindedness, self-reflection and insight in behaviour change. The unit also critically evaluates contemporary understandings and assessments of emotional intelligence. Current topics and research methods in coaching psychology are also examined. Each weekly seminar has a lecture component and an experiential learning component. The experiential learning component requires students to evaluate each topic in relation to their own personal life/ work experience and to participate in group discussion. This unit is run in a block teaching format.

PSYC4724
Coaching Practice: Co-Coaching & Groups
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: One 3 hour lecture per week. Prerequisites: PSYC 4721 and 4722. Assessment: Written papers (case study and learning journal) and exam.

Students will consolidate the theory and skills acquired in PSYC4721 and PSYC4722 through a semester-long coaching practicum. Using real-life issues in a supportive and confidential environment, students will coach each other in a structured solution-focused personal coaching program based on the material taught in previous units of study. This unit gives students experience in being both a coach and a client. A key component of this course will be feedback from the lecturer on students' coaching styles, skills and other relevant issues. As such this unit provides students with the opportunity to embed and develop their coaching skills. Case studies and case presentations will form part of the unit.

PSYC4725
Assessment and Selection
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One 2 hour lecture per week. Prerequisites: PSYC 4721 and 4722 and either 4724 or 4728. Assessment: Take home exam, Selection Case Study and Design of assessment program.

This unit will introduce students to some of the major assessment instruments used in coaching psychology. This unit does not accredit students to administer any of the instruments examined in this unit of study. Rather the unit focuses both on critical evaluation of assessment instruments and on fostering an understanding of where each may be best utilised. Assessment instruments include: NEO 4; 16PF; Myers Briggs Type Inventory; the DISK; Human Synergistics; BarOn EQI; WAIS; MPI; Self-directed Search; Strong Interest Inventory; Multi-factor Leadership Questionnaire.

PSYC4727
Coaching in Organisations
Credit points: 6 Session: S1 Intensive Classes: Four Day Seminars: Block Teaching. Prerequisites: PSYC4721 and PSYC4722 and PSYC4724. Assessment: A written coaching proposal (3,000 words) (50%), take home exam and written assignment (1,000 words) (35%), in-class exam (short answer and multiple choice) (15%).

Executive and management coaching have emerged as key factors in the enhancement of performance within organisations and corporations. This unit examines key issues in contemporary executive and management coaching and equips students with the knowledge and skills to provide world-class executive and management coaching. The emphasis is on critical evaluation of theory and application to practice. Although primarily focused on solution-focused and cognitive-behavioural approaches to executive coaching, psychodynamic (e.g. Kibburg) and systems (e.g. O'Neill) approaches are also considered. The course covers issues in senior executive coaching, coaching middle management, establishing manager-as-coach programs and coaching in the workplace.

PSYC4729
Groups, Teams and Systems
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One 3 hour lecture per week. Prerequisites: PSYC 4721 and 4722 and either 4724 or 4728. Assessment: Written papers (major essay, minor essay) and exam.
Coaching always takes place within the context of human systems, be they family, social networks, or workplace organisations. This unit of study considers both the theory and practice of coaching in human systems. At the theoretical level, students undertaking this unit will consider the major theoretical advances which aid our understanding of groups and complex human systems. These will include systems theory and complexity theory as well as major research findings in group and team dynamics. Students will also consider the practical implications of these theoretical approaches to coaching within organisations. Issues surrounding self organisation, leadership and control, and the management of change in complex adaptive systems will also be discussed. Students will design and facilitate a small group coaching program. This unit is run in a block teaching format.

PSYC4730
Personal and Work/Life Coaching
Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: One 2 hour lecture per week.
Prerequisites: PSYC (4721 and 4722 and either 4724 or 4728)
Assessment: Written papers (Essays or case studies) and exam.

This unit of study considers both the theory and practice of coaching adults in relation to work/life issues. Self-directed career development and imposed career transitions are important issues increasingly faced by adults. In addition, work/life balance is recognised as being an important factor in creating and maintaining well-being. Thus personal (or life) coaches have a major role to play. This unit of study details the role of the personal coach, and gives students an introduction to major theoretical perspectives on work/life balance, and career development theory and practice. Students will study key psychological theories of adult development as they relate to personal (or life) coaching practice. The perspectives covered include Work Adjustment Theory, Trait and Type Theory, and Life Span Theory. The course will focus on coaching clients through important work/life transitions, with an emphasis on understanding individual differences in relation to gender, age and personality.

Master of Commerce and Master of Facilities Management units of study

DESC9047
Strategic Facility Management
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr. David Leifer
Session: S1 Intensive
Classes: Lectures Assessment: Two assignments 50% each

This unit is an introduction to facility management: It is a management discipline, and as such relies on the central topics of business finance, information systems, and of course management per se. The teaching proceeds from an examination of the purpose of organisations and how the facility assists (or hinders) it achieving its goals. Indeed, explaining this understanding is the subject of the first coursework assignment. Attendees are introduced to research methods, in that they will be required to manipulate modern sources of information to fulfill the assignment. In this first half of the unit we will scrutinise what we mean by ‘facilities’, and look at the capital expenditures (CAPEX) and operating expenditures (OPEX) that the provision and operation of facilities involve. We shall consider the procedures necessary to obtain this information, and how to identify those areas that have ‘elasticity’ and are therefore amenable to management initiatives. In the second half of the unit we will consider the overlap between the human resource and the facility, and the implications for the facility manager. In this regard, occupational health and safety issues are germane. The second coursework assignment will require attendees to formulate a strategic facility plan as an extension of the work done for the first. This unit directly corresponds with AFM competencies AFM 1: manage facilities, improve facility performance, manage risk; AFM 2: develop strategic facility response, manage facility portfolio; and AFM 3: develop strategic facility response. This unit indirectly corresponds with AFM competencies AFM 1: manage delivery of services, manage projects; AFM 2: manage finance; AFM 3: change management.

Operational Facility Management
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr. David Leifer
Session: S2 Intensive
Classes: Lectures Assessment: Two assignments 50% each

This unit reviews and develops the learning achieved in DESC9047 Strategic Facility Management. The first part of the unit looks at external constraints on corporate priorities. This includes the theoretical issues influencing why an organisation locates where it does. It considers the legislative planning framework that might constrain free choice. In the second part of the unit consideration is given to involving the workforce in the facilities management process, and an example will be presented for use by participants in their coursework assignment. The fundamentals of workplace ergonomics are introduced. The third part of the unit will take an overview of four of the major facility operational areas that are amenable to management; Security, Cleaning, Energy, and Repairs and Maintenance, which between them consume the major portion of facilities costs. Finally the establishment of management practices, policies and procedures will be discussed, and the basis for the second coursework assignment set. This unit directly corresponds with AFM competencies AFM 1: manage facilities, improve facility performance, manage risk; AFM 2: manage finance, manage facility portfolio; AFM 3: manage facility portfolio. This unit indirectly corresponds with AFM competencies: AFM 1: manage delivery of services, implement procurement outsourcing; AFM 2: develop strategic facility response, manage facility portfolio; AFM 3: develop strategic facility response.

Financial and Managerial Accounting
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr David Leifer
Session: S1 Late Int
Classes: Lectures Assessment: Two assignments (50% each)

Facilities management is a subset of business management: As such, no ‘management’ can be exercised without first matching the need for resources against the resources available. This necessarily involves the financial and accounting information systems of the organisation, and the ‘tools’ necessary to extract information in order to make informed decisions. Students will learn how to interpret the standard historical information regarding organisations via the balance sheet, profit and loss statement, and cash flow forecast. Students will gain an appreciation of the underlying assumptions behind these performance measures and will learn how to interpret this information in order to recognise good and poorly performing businesses. Students will also gain an appreciation of accounting as a forward-looking managerial tool for controlling the conduct of an organisation. This will include an understanding of the budgeting process and how it can be utilised to achieve the Facility Management mission. This unit directly corresponds with AFM competencies AFM 1: manage facilities, improve facility performance; AFM 2: manage facility portfolio; AFM 3: facilitate communication. This unit indirectly corresponds with AFM competencies AFM 1: manage risk; AFM 2: manage finance, develop strategic facility response.

The ability to manage depends upon the availability of appropriate information. Collecting, storing, and maintenance of information have resourcing costs. Information needs have to be assessed, and systems produced to ensure that the correct data is collected, stored correctly, and up-dated. Contracts are supported by a large body of law and precedents decided by courts. This body of knowledge needs to be understood in general terms. Initially facility managers must identify and define the services that are needed, and that their employers are willing to have available. Initially facility managers must identify and define the services that are needed, and that their employers are willing to have available. Facility managers then have to assess the best means of having those services delivered. The advantages and disadvantages of in-house and outsourced servicing need to be considered. An understanding of workplace relations will be essential as most FM tasks are labour intensive. Dealing with direct in-house labour demands more of the facility manager than out-sourced labour. Whatever the decisions on in-sourcing or out-sourcing, work specifications need to be developed, and means of performance measurement derived. Allocating the responsibility for supervision and policing of the work has to be defined. Project management is a specific form of establishing, programming, and coordinating an activity having a specific start point and end point. This unit will develop the student’s ability to ascertain and document the scope of a project, schedule a program, and understand the difficulties in directing it. This unit directly corresponds with AFM competencies AFM 1: manage facilities, improve facility performance; AFM 2: manage facility portfolio; AFM 3: develop strategic facility response, facilitate communication. This unit indirectly corresponds with AFM competencies AFM 1: manage delivery of services, manage risk; AFM 2: manage finance; develop strategic facility response.

Energy Management in Buildings

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr David Leifer
Session: S2 Intensive
Classes: 5 days intensive
Assessment: Two assignments (50% each)

The objectives of this unit are to give students an understanding of energy consumption issues in buildings through both design and operation and to give students an awareness of energy auditing, and current energy conservation techniques. This unit is primarily concerned with the management and control of electrical power delivered via the grid. We start with the commercial electricity sales environment; the rental of transmission lines, the rental of the Utility company’s infrastructure, the Non-Fossil Fuel Obligation, and Tariff structures. We will concentrate on the processes and the considerations involved in undertaking an energy audit, which will also be the basis of assignment 1. The options for demand management, including outsourcing will be examined. Passive energy design, which “locks in” future energy usage will be presented. Active energy systems and their fundamentals: lighting, air conditioning, hot water, ventilation, vertical transportation, and machinery, will be reviewed. Finally methods of assessing energy performance including computer simulation will be covered.

Service Provision

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr. David Leifer
Session: S1 Intensive
Classes: Lectures
Assessment: Two assignments (50% each)

This unit deals with facilities services delivery. The objectives of this unit are to give students tools to assess the financial viability of carrying out facility management tasks through in-house or out-sourced labour and to expose students to the range of service contracts available. Initially facility managers must identify and define the services that are needed, and that their employers are willing to endorse to sustain the facilities for which they are responsible. Facility managers then have to assess the best means of having those services delivered. The advantages and disadvantages of in-house and outsourced servicing need to be considered. An understanding of workplace relations will be essential as most FM tasks are labour intensive. Dealing with direct in-house labour demands more of the facility manager than out-sourced labour. Whatever the decisions on in-sourcing or out-sourcing, work specifications need to be developed, and means of performance measurement derived. Allocating the responsibility for supervision and policing of the work has to be defined. If in-house, work needs to be programmed and resourced. If out-sourced, then various forms of contracting will need to be considered, and a tendering process undertaken. Change management is needed in moving from one form of servicing to another. This unit directly corresponds with AFM competencies AFM 1: manage delivery of services, implement procurement outsourcing; AFM 2: manage workplace relations; AFM 3: manage change. This unit indirectly corresponds with AFM competencies AFM 1: manage facilities, improve facility performance, manage risk; AFM 2: manage finance, develop strategic facility response, manage workplace portfolio; AFM 3: develop strategic facility response.

Risk Management
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr David Leifer Session: S2 Intensive Classes: 24 hrs in intensive mode Assumed knowledge: DESC9047, DESC9010 Assessment: Two assignments weighted 50% each. The first being formative, the second summative.

At the end of the unit successful students will: have an ability to undertake a workplace risk identification study; have an understanding of the process of prioritising risk; have an ability to generate and assess risk management options and lead the discussion in the selection of the most appropriate management strategy; understand the procedure necessary to assess risk, and the options available to control it; be aware of the obligations on organisations with respect to OH&S in their workplaces; understand the policies and procedures that their organisation need to put in place to satisfy the legislation.

Upon completing this unit, students will: be able to undertake an analysis of the areas of risk related to their organisation’s workplaces having an impact on their missions and goals; understand the process for assessing risk in terms of ‘best practice’; demonstrate their ability to present appropriate risk management options; be aware of the Occupational Health and Safety regulations and will understand the impact of these on their workplaces; and be able to implement OH&S management procedures. Student workload effort expected: contact hours: 24 hrs in intensive mode; class preparation: 6 hours per week; assessment preparation: 24 hours per semester.

Master of Transport Management and Master of Urban and Regional Planning units of study

PLAN9018 Planning Report
Credit points: 12 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Nicole Gurran, Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Independent study + 7 meetings. Prerequisites: 48 credit points Prohibitions: ARCH9031, ARCH9060, ARCH9045, ARCH9046, PLAN9010, PLAN9011 Assessment: Report of between 10000 and 15000 words.

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Note: Submit an Independent Study Approval form, signed by your proposed supervisor, with your request to enrol. This unit is for Masters of Urban & Regional Planning students only. MURP students taking the Urban Design stream should enrol in ARCH9060 Urban Design Report.

The planning report is a substantial piece of research conducted over one semester. It takes the form of a report (between 10000 and 15000 words) on an approved urban and regional planning subject of your choice. Please note however that students electing to do a stream in the MURP program should select a topic relevant to their chosen stream.) The planning report is therefore an opportunity to advance your knowledge and skills in a particular area and so develop a "professional edge". The objective of the planning report is to allow you to develop research and analytic skills by undertaking an in depth study of your own selection. The expected learning outcomes of the report include the ability to: think critically about a planning problem and develop an appropriate research methodology or analytical approach to address it; identify and access appropriate sources of information, research and literature relevant to urban and regional planning issues; undertake primary and secondary research relevant to the problems in planning practice; present your findings in a way that demonstrates academic and professional competence. A planning report generally includes: a literature review to delineate a planning problem or gap in knowledge; a statement of research aims or objectives, as well as research questions; an explanation of research methods; presentation and analysis of data; discussion of conclusions. Permission to continue the Planning Report is subject to a satisfactory research proposal which must be approved by your supervisor by week 3 of semester. Planning reports are due at the end of the first week of exams for the semester in which you are enrolled. The assessment is based solely on the submission of your planning report.

PLAN9045 Economic Tools and Community Development
Credit points: 6 Session: S2 Intensive Classes: Intensive mode Assumptions: Students will be assessed on the basis of their ability to apply economic methods in undertaking practical projects. Assessment will be based on a student's ability to: critically analyse regional economic impact and project evaluation documents; undertake a literature review using a variety of sources; use the internet as a research tool; apply the main concepts of input-output analysis, economic and project evaluation (including discount rate, net present value, internal rate of return); and consider intangible items in economic evaluation.

This specialisation unit is concerned with: project and program evaluation; economic and social impact analysis; regional planning and development; and assessment of benefits and costs, and justification for public funding. On completion of the unit students should be able to: critically review a cost-benefit analysis, a feasibility study, economic impact analysis and a social impact analysis; generate an economic development strategy for a region; analyse a regional planning policy; understand the social and economic impacts of tourism; apply theoretical concepts and methods to practical problem; think creatively and critically about planning issues; use the available computer and information technology; and apply technical skills in a sound and useful manner.

PLAN9048 Environmental Design and Planning
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Mr Payne and Mr Forwood Session: S2 Late Int Classes: 4 days intensive Assessment: One report, 6000 - 7000 words (100%)

The unit teaches knowledge and skills relevant to designing and planning the built environment. It engenders capability with designing buildings, places and urban form, having regard to a range of environmental design, planning and sustainability considerations. The unit covers a range of related concepts and topics: designing for user comfort, quality built environments, and sustainability; key environmental design factors (air flow and ventilation; natural and artificial lighting; solar provisions; noise; energy efficiency, waste management etc); urban ecology and landscapes; natural environments and urban systems; innovative hydraulic systems; sustainable architectural and urban design; social dimensions of environmental design; lighting public places for safety, amenity and enclosure; designing secure and manageable public places; implementing ESD with instruments, guidelines and approvals; and environmental studies and development approval. The key attributes engendered by the unit are: to be able to use concepts and methods in a sound and creative manner; to be able to solve relevant design problems; to be able to apply appropriate technical skills and knowledge; and to be able to produce appropriate reports and designs.

PLAN9061 Planning Procedures
Credit points: 6 Session: S1 Intensive, S2 Intensive Classes: Four day intensive Prohibitions: PLAN9020, PLAN9044 Assessment: There are three written assessment items. These are based on current case studies in the Sydney metropolitan area, and may be used for a portfolio of professional work.

Note: Enrolment numbers limited by teaching resources. If your attempt to enrol online is unsuccessful please contact the Faculty of Architecture Student Administration Centre. Permission required in Semester One unless enrolled in Urban and Regional Planning.

This unit aims to prepare you for professional practice as a strategic or development assessment planner. It focuses on social, economic and environmental principles for contemporary planning practice; and the legal frameworks for land use planning and environmental management in NSW. By the end of this unit of Study you will: understand the social, economic, and environmental principles underpinning contemporary planning practice; appreciate key legal and institutional processes for environmental planning in Australia and internationally; be familiar with the various planning state, regional, and local planning instruments in NSW, and understand when and how they apply to planning proposals; be able to assess the social, economic, and environmental impacts of basic planning proposals, and identify appropriate processes to address these; justify these recommendations in professional planning reports; understand the techniques, requirements and techniques for public participation in environmental planning and assessment; understand the ethical responsibilities of land use planners, including respect for diversity and the importance of social equity in guiding decision making processes and assessing planning proposals. This unit is a core subject in the urban and regional planning program, and a required subject for several other degree programs in the Faculty. The unit relates directly to PLAN9062 Planning Law, and unless students have extensive experience or knowledge of planning practice in Australia, Planning Procedures must be undertaken prior to enrolling in Planning Law or during the same semester. Student workload: the unit is delivered intensively over 4 days. Class preparation: 3 hours prior to each class; Assessment preparation: 60 hours per semester.

PLAN9062 Planning Law
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Adj A/Prof Mary-Lynne Taylor Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: 2hrs/lec/wk Co-requisites: PLAN9025 or PLAN9023 Assessment: Three written reports

This unit aims to develop an understanding of planning law that enables competent professional practice in addressing a range of complex planning issues. Students will be able to prepare reports on practical planning issues that demonstrate: knowledge of how planning intentions are implemented through policies, instruments and controls; knowledge of how planning law shapes practice; knowledge of instrumental arrangements and environmental planning procedures; knowledge of the main characteristics of well-reasoned and well-structured documents; awareness of the importance of evidence and argument in preparing planning proposals, for example, about planning instruments and development applications; and a general understanding of techniques for community consultation. Student workload effort expected: contact hours: 2 hours per week; class preparation: 2 hours per week; assessment preparation: 60 hours per semester.

PLAN9063 Foundations of Environmental Planning
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Mr Martin Payne Session: Semester 1 Classes: 2 hrs/wk Prohibitions: PLAN9027 Assessment: Three reports and graphics, based on group work on a project, with individual submissions. Each equivalent to 2,000-2,500 words in length.

The unit is primarily concerned with concepts relating to planning for natural and built environments. It emphasises conceptual knowledge, with examples and case studies to demonstrate the application of concepts in practice. Students are encouraged to think independently, creatively and critically in developing understanding and practical knowledge about environmental planning. The unit is in three modules. Module one: Concepts of the environment and environmental planning, deals with different environmental concerns and adapting issues (defence, sanitation, security, material wellbeing, hazards, civic functions, urban places, natural environments etc); the emergence of government with environmental reforms; types of environmental studies, plans and planning instruments; and urban form, access, densities and the distribution of activities. (2) Environmental Assessment: environmental impacts, social, economic, natural etc; theory and practice of environmental planning; recognise the limitations with impact assessment, and possible remedies; environmental studies and assessment statements; the structure of environmental arguments and impact statements; procedures for preparing and assessing impact statements; political and economic factors influencing environmental assessment; case study- review of a major EIS. (3) Urban Development: environmental studies, metropolitan planning and the roles of governments; infrastructure planning and urban form; differing perspectives on planned and natural environments; various roles of planning in managing urban growth and protecting the environment; and case study: planned metropolitan growth. On completion, each student will understand the flexible and evolving forms of environmental planning; be able to review an environmental impact statement; and be able to prepare basic urban development plans.

PLAN9064 Land Use and Infrastructure Planning
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Mr Martin Payne Session: Semester 2 Classes: Lectures and workshops Prohibitions: PLAN9028

The unit is primarily concerned with concepts relating to planning for natural and built environments. It emphasises conceptual knowledge, with examples and case studies to demonstrate the application of concepts in practice. Students are encouraged to think independently, creatively and critically in developing understanding and practical knowledge about environmental planning. The unit is in three modules. PLAN9065 History and Theory in Urban Planning
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Prof Ed Blakely and Mr Martin Payne Session: S2 Intensive Classes: 5 days intensive Prohibitions: PLAN (9027 and 9028) or PLAN (9063 and 9064) Assessment: Assignment one: 25%, assignment two: 30%, assessment three: 40%, readings: 5%

Students will learn about: the roles of governments in metropolitan planning and implementing urban development policies; planning for a range of infrastructure and for key urban activities; implementation arrangements for public and private sector agencies; and types of metropolitan plans and their relations with other instruments and policies. Each student will be able to: prepare a policy analysis on a planning issue that supports proposals and related actions; prepare a well organised report and make a short oral presentation on their analyses and proposals; conceptualise complex urban development situations; critically review and interpret literature, instruments, policies, plans etc; and conduct 'field' investigations, and construct sound, contextual and practical knowledge (especially using stories and arguments).

PLAN9066 History and Theory in Urban Planning
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 2 hrs/wk Prohibitions: PLAN9031 Assessment: Three essays, each of 2,000-2,500 words in length.

The unit enables students to understand how the main concepts and practices of urban planning and development have evolved; appreciate different perspectives about the roles and purposes of planning; undertake basic historical research about urban planning and development issues; and prepare basic stories and arguments about practical planning issues. Students will be able to: critically review and interpret planning documents; construct and present basic arguments, orally and in documents; access and engage with key literature and other sources of knowledge; and use basic conceptual frameworks about planning arguments and stories. Contribution of unit of study to its program: this is an introductory, core unit. Student workload effort expected: contact hours two per week; class preparation two per week; assessment preparation 50 hours per semester.

PLAN9069

Urban Design and Development Control

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 1
Classes: 2 hrs/wk
Prohibitions: PLAN9051

Assessment: Three reports, with supporting graphics, each of 2,500 words in length.

By the completion of this unit students will be expected to: understand the nature, history, and evolution of development controls; have fundamental notions of good urban design; critically examine development controls and make inferences about the type and quality of urban design they are likely (or not) to produce; develop skills to mentally overlay development controls over the built environment; judge the correspondence between urban design strategies and development controls; It is expected that: each student will demonstrate critical skills for assessing the soundness of policies, regulations, norms, and codes; each student will be able to prepare case studies, which demonstrate understanding of various forms of development controls, and the ability in apply these urban design proposals; and that each student will be able to prepare basic reports on urban design proposals and development control issues. Student workload effort expected: Contact hours two hours per week; class preparation two hours per week; assessment preparation 50 hours per semester.
Postgraduate research award courses

General information

The Faculty offers two higher degree by research programs, the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) and the Master of Philosophy (MPhil). These award courses are awarded on the basis of a research thesis only, although some candidates may be required to undertake specific coursework units as part of their candidature.

Before making a formal application for admission to a research program, it is important that students contact the Postgraduate Coordinator for Research in the Discipline concerned. The postgraduate coordinators for research are the academics with responsibility at the discipline level for research student matters. Prospective students should contact the Research Student Administration Coordinator at the Student Information Office for information about the facilities for research and to obtain an information package.

In order for an application for admission to be successful, the Faculty has to determine whether a prospective student has the potential to successfully complete the proposed research program. In addition, the Postgraduate Coordinator for Research must certify to the Faculty:

1. that the proposed course of study and research is appropriate and acceptable,
2. that the student has the necessary training and ability to pursue the proposed course of study and research, and
3. that there are sufficient supervisory and other resources and facilities available to enable candidate to be completed successfully within the time limits.

Thus, a 1,500 words research proposal should normally accompany applications for admission. Furthermore, prospective students need to demonstrate in their application that they have the necessary academic background in the field of study they wish to pursue. The minimum academic requirement for entry to a research program is the equivalent of an Australian bachelor’s degree with first or upper second class Honours. Alternative requirements which may be considered include a master’s coursework degree with good grades (typically a Distinction average or better), a master’s research degree (if applying for a PhD), or extensive relevant professional experience.

The Faculty has excellent research facilities to assist postgraduate candidates. The Postgraduate Research Centre is a Faculty facility available to research students. This area consists of both lock-up carrels and open workstations. It also has printing, photocopying, phone and kitchen facilities.

The Research Centre is located in the Economics and Business Building and access is available for research students 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The Fisher library contains significant collections relevant to the work of the Faculty. There are 400 computer terminals connected to the campus broadband network. In addition to these, postgraduate students may obtain 24 hour access to the Computer Laboratory in the Merewether Building. Email accounts and world wide web access are also available. Available for research are a number of computer packages, securities price files, company annual reports, historical records, legal services and stock exchange services.

All new candidates in the MPhil and PhD programs take part in the Faculty’s Research Induction Program and Philosophy of Research Program during the second semester during the first year of their candidature. These programs are designed not only to help new students adjust to the demands of research candidature, but also to facilitate contact between students and staff. Some disciplines also have additional orientation and introductory programs and workshops for their students.

Master of Philosophy

MPhil

The Faculty has agreed that a probationary period of 6 months for an MPhil should be seen as usual practice. Continuation of candidature is conditional upon satisfactory progress being maintained throughout each year. Formal processes to monitor progress on an annual basis are in place. Candidature is for a minimum of 1.5 years full-time or 3 years part-time, and for a maximum of 2 years full-time or 4 years part-time.

Master of Philosophy in Economics and Business

1. Award of the degree

1.1 The degree of Master of Philosophy in Economics and Business shall be awarded in one grade only.

2. Eligibility for admission

2.1 An application for admission to candidature for the degree of Master of Philosophy in Economics and Business shall except as provided for in Part 9, section 47 of the University of Sydney (Amendment Act) Rule 1999 (as amended), be a graduate of the University of Sydney with first-class or second class (division I) honours in the area of study in which the candidate intends to undertake the degree.

3. Areas of study

3.1 There shall be one area of study for the degree in each of the Disciplines located within the Schools of the Faculty:

3.1.1 Accounting
3.1.2 Business Law
3.1.3 Business Information Systems
3.1.4 Econometrics and Business Statistics
3.1.5 Economics
3.1.6 Finance
3.1.7 Government and International Relations
3.1.8 International Business
3.1.9 Marketing
3.1.10 Political Economy
3.1.11 Transport and Logistics Studies
3.1.12 Work and Organisational Studies

4. Method of Progression

4.1 An applicant for admission to candidature for the degree of Master of Philosophy in Economics and Business shall proceed by thesis. A candidate may be required to complete additional work as specified by the Postgraduate Research Coordinator or the Supervisor.

5. Credit

5.1 It may be deemed that time spent or work done towards any other postgraduate degree in the University of Sydney by a candidate before admission to candidature for the degree of Masters of Philosophy in Economics and Business to be time spent or work done after admission, provided that the candidate has ceased to be a candidate for the other degree.

6. Probationary admission

6.1 A candidate may be accepted by the Faculty on a probationary basis for a period not exceeding twelve months and, on completion of this probationary period, the Faculty shall review the candidate’s work and shall either confirm the candidate’s status or terminate the candidature.
6.2 In the case of a candidate being accepted on a probationary basis, the candidature shall be deemed to have commenced from the first date of the probationary period.

7. Time limits

7.1 A candidate shall engage in the University of Sydney either in full-time study for not less than three semesters or in part-time study for not less than six semesters.

7.2 A full-time candidate shall complete the requirements for the degree within two years from the date of first enrolment. In exceptional circumstances the Faculty may consider extending this period by one further semester.

7.3 A part-time candidate shall complete the requirements for the degree within four years from the date of first enrolment. In exceptional circumstances this period may be extended by two further semesters.

8. Supervision and progress

8.1 A full-time member of the academic staff of the relevant discipline shall be appointed to act as supervisor of the candidate. An associate supervisor may also be appointed.

8.2 Postgraduate Research Coordinator shall report to the Faculty the thesis or essay subject approved in respect of each candidate.

8.3 The Faculty will assess the candidate’s progress toward the completion of the requirements of the degree on an annual basis.

9. Requirements for the degree

9.1 A candidate shall carry out an original investigation on a topic approved by the Faculty and write a thesis of up to 50,000 words embodying the result of this investigation.

9.2 A candidate shall lodge with the Registrar three copies of the thesis.

9.3 The thesis may be submitted for examination in a temporary binding which should nonetheless be strong enough to withstand ordinary handling and postage. The degree will not, however, be awarded until the candidate has caused at least two copies of the thesis, containing any amendments or corrections that may be required, to be bound in permanent form.

9.4 A thesis shall be accompanied by a certificate from the supervisor stating whether, in the supervisor’s opinion, the form and presentation of the thesis is satisfactory.

9.5 The candidate shall state in the thesis, generally in a preface, and specifically in notes, the sources from which the information was derived, the extent to which the work of others has been used, and the portions of the thesis claimed as original.

9.6 The candidate shall not lodge as the thesis any work previously submitted for a degree of this or any other university, but as such work may be incorporated in the thesis, provided that the candidate indicates the work so incorporated.

10. Examination

10.1 The Faculty shall appoint at least two examiners for the thesis, of whom one would normally be external.

10.2 The examiners shall report to the Faculty which shall determine the result of the examination.

10.3 The Faculty shall ensure that the result is in accordance with University policy as stipulated in the University’s publication Postgraduate Studies Handbook.

11. Termination

11.1 The Faculty may call upon any candidate to show cause why that candidature should not be terminated by reason of unsatisfactory progress towards completion of the degree and where, in the opinion of the Faculty, the candidate does not show good cause, terminate the candidature.

Doctor of Philosophy

PhD

The University’s Academic Board has agreed that a probationary period of 12 months for a PhD should be seen as usual practice. This probationary period may be waived in some cases based on prior enrolment in and/or completion of a master’s degree by research. Some candidates may be required to first enrol in the MPhil and transfer to the PhD after completion of that degree or after at least one semester’s satisfactory progress. Continuation of candidature is conditional upon satisfactory progress being maintained throughout each year. Formal processes to monitor progress on an annual basis are in place. Candidature is for a minimum of 3 years full-time or 6 years part-time, and for a maximum of 4 years full-time or 8 years part-time. The award course resolutions for the Doctor of Philosophy are available on the University of Sydney web site.

Areas of study

Accounting

The Discipline’s research profile is diverse, reflecting its pioneering contribution to the decision-usefulness debate, extant research paradigms and emerging research areas. Thus, members of the Accounting Discipline are actively pursuing research into:

- The role of accounting information in decision making in private sector and public sector settings
- The role of “fundamentals” in explaining market value and takeovers;
- Analysing corporate collapses and identifying the role of accounting;
- Directors’ obligations and accountability;
- The economic impact of and corporate responses to accounting regulation;
- The role of accounting in corporate governance regimes;
- International accounting;
- Inflation accounting;
- Extended Reporting— including environmental and social reporting and accounting for intellectual capital;
- Accounting history;
- Public sector accounting and accountability
- Human judgment and decision making.

Business Information Systems

The overall imperative of the Discipline of Business Information Systems is business innovation through the application of information technology to business processes. Our research and teaching is centred on the analysis and understanding of the entirety of an organisation’s strategies, information management, decision-making and business processes and the subsequent innovation, improvement and broader business leadership through application of information technologies. Within this context, the Business Information Systems discipline has a strong research agenda with a commitment to practice-based, industry-relevant inquiry, with particular strengths in:

- Information systems strategy;
- Decision support and business intelligence systems;
- Information policy and knowledge management;
- IS assurance and control;
- Management of enterprise systems and business processes.

The integration of the Discipline within the broader grouping of Accounting, Business Information Systems and Business Law underpins the interdisciplinary character of our approach and the interdependence of business information systems, financial reporting, decision support systems and the regulatory/legal context of business information.

Business Law
The Discipline of Business Law has particular research expertise in contracts, sale of goods and employment; corporations, corporate governance, and business ethics; consumers, marketing, electronic commerce and internet law; business torts; international business laws; intellectual property and personal property; financial services, capital markets, banking and finance (including off shore financial laws), and money laundering; taxation (personal, entities and consolidated groups), taxation administration, and taxation policy; and trade practices.
Within the Discipline there is an emphasis on regulation, risk and compliance, governance and ethics. The Business Law discipline has a cross disciplinary focus and a number of members of staff have high level expertise in other disciplines such as accounting, financial crime, history and jurisprudence. Much of our research is comparative and international, including Asian business laws. We welcome cross disciplinary proposals.

Econometrics and Business Statistics
Members of the Discipline of Econometrics and Business Statistics have expertise in the quantitative modelling, analysis and testing of various problems and issues arising in the contexts of economics, business, finance and the social sciences. Research is undertaken at both the theoretical and the empirical levels, the latter using a wide range of micro- and macro-data sources. The general areas of active research in the Discipline of Econometrics and Business Statistics are:

• Applied econometrics and business statistics
• Bayesian econometrics and statistics
• Computational econometrics and statistics
• Econometric theory
• International trade
• Life-cycle decisions of households and retirement
• Management decision sciences

Information on specific areas of current research within these general areas is available upon request from the Postgraduate Coordinator.

Economics
The Discipline of Economics has specialists in many areas of theoretical and applied economics. Particular strengths include:

• Auctions
• The economics of crime
• Development
• Finance
• Game theory
• Growth
• Health
• History of economic thought
• Housing
• Industrial organisation
• International trade
• International macroeconomics
• Labour economics

Finance
The Discipline of Finance provides PhD supervision in both theoretical and applied research in finance. The main research strengths of the Finance Discipline are in security market microstructure, corporate finance, and quantitative finance. There is also some capacity to supervise topics in behavioural finance and financial decision theory. Through links to the Securities Industry Research Centre (SIRCA), the Capital Markets Co-operative Research Centre (CMCRC) and the Sydney Futures Exchange (SFE), the discipline has access to exceptionally rich financial databases and provides opportunities to undertake industry linked research. These links also provide generous scholarship opportunities for exceptional students.

Trading and Dealing in Securities Markets (Microstructure)
The Finance Discipline has considerable expertise in security market microstructure which looks at how securities markets actually operate and examines ways of increasing their efficiency. Research in market microstructure also assists in understanding the behaviour of security prices and in designing improved experiments with applicability to all areas of finance.

Corporate Finance
The Finance Discipline offers excellent opportunities for research in all areas of corporate finance, capital budgeting, valuation, the cost of capital, capital structure, dividend policy, takeovers, and financial distress.

Quantitative Finance
The Finance Discipline has a growing capacity to offer topics in quantitative finance which traditionally has involved the application of advanced mathematical techniques to the pricing of derivative securities. The Discipline’s capacity to offer topics in quantitative finance extends beyond derivatives covering broader aspects of mathematical and econometric modelling in finance.

Other Research Activities
The Discipline of Finance in association with SIRCA, the CMCRC, and the SFE, has attracted considerable research funding, amounting to many millions of dollars. This money is used to fund generous scholarships and research infrastructure. The Discipline runs an active seminar and research workshop series which attracts distinguished scholars both from Australia and abroad.

Competitive Entry
Entry to the Finance Discipline's PhD program is highly competitive. Several hundred students make enquiries to the PhD coordinator each year but only five to ten places are available annually.

Government and International Relations
As one of the most productive political science disciplines in the country with the largest PhD program in the Faculty, the Discipline of Government and International Relations is well placed to facilitate research in many areas. Such areas include:

1. Risk and security
   - International security
   - International conflict
   - Terrorism
   - Political analysis of business and investment risk
   - "Social risk" i.e. social security and welfare

2. Democracy and Democratisation
   - Comparative democratic politics
   - Democratisation
   - Democratic theory
   - Applied democratic theory
   - Human rights
   - Electoral systems and parties
   - Political theory
   - Politics and ethics

3. Globalisation and Governance
   - Political and economic impacts of globalisation
   - International political economy
   - International politics
   - Politics of international economic relations
   - International organisations (UN, World Bank)
   - Government/business relations
   - Domestic responses to international pressures
   - International politics of the environment
   - International relations theory
   - Political change and development
   - Regional politics – east and south east Asia, former communist countries, Europe

4. Public Policy
   - Public sector management
   - Substantive policy areas: media, social welfare
   - Gender and public policy
   - Media
   - Australian politics
   - Leadership

International Business
The field of international business studies includes:

- Multinational and transnational business activities;
- Strategic and managerial processes that cross national boundaries;
- Cross-cultural management;
- Joint ventures, strategic alliances and mergers and acquisitions;
- International risk management;
- The interactions of international business organisation with their economic, political and cultural environments.

Research expertise is available in a wide range of topics relevant to these areas.

Political Economy

In addition to individual supervision, the Discipline of Political Economy offers a sustained program of additional training to its research students, including a Research Proposal Writing Workshop and two annual conferences at which candidates present their work. This training is undertaken in the first year and in the final stages of enrolment. All students enrolled in a research degree in Political Economy are required to participate in these programs.

Areas of research
Staff in the Discipline of Political Economy work in a range of areas, but particular areas of focus are:

Economic and political economy theory

• Marxist and feminist political economy
• Keynesian, post-keynesian and institutionalist
• Methodology and sociology of the economics discipline
• Environmental and ecological economics

International political economy

• Global economic integration
• International trade, finance and investment
• Global labour markets
• International migration
• Human rights and global citizenship
• Development
• Independent states and indigenous politics

Economic and social policy

• Comparative employment and welfare regimes
• The Australian economy and economic policy
• Economic inequality
• Industry and trade policy
• Higher education
• Urban and regional development
• Criminal justice

Work and labour markets

• Care work
• Gender and work
• Migrant workers

Transport and Logistics Management

Areas of doctoral and master’s research available at ITLS include:

• Freight infrastructure and operations: Ports, railroads and carriers
• Supply chain management
• Logistics and freight management
• Information and pricing management in logistics
• Optimisation in supply chain operations
• Transport economics and management
• Competition and competitive strategy
Postgraduate research award courses

- GPS and GIS applications in transport and logistics
- Health and environmental impacts of travel choices
- Traffic safety
- Traffic systems
- Understanding and changing travel behaviour
- Travel-demand forecasting
- Transport survey methods
- Ownership and performance travel choice and demand modelling
- Transport and spatial development
- Transport data issues
- Transport policy
- Tourism
- Organisational analysis and human resource management
- Emergency evacuation and management

The following is an indicative list of recent projects by mode:

Automobiles and road transport
Dimensions of automobile demand
Estimating demand for toll roads and value of travel time savings
The role of roads in the community
Elasticities of demand for transport fuel

Aviation
Strategic planning for airports
Performance measurement of airports
Value of travel time savings for air travel
Economic significance of Sydney airport
Strategic alliances in international aviation
Traffic forecasting

Bus and coach
Performance benchmarking in the bus and coach industry
Monitoring of demand responsive bus services
Comparative safety of school bus travel
Determination of commercial and non-commercial bus route services
Bus priority schemes in urban areas
Service provision for the transport disadvantaged

Choice analysis
Valuation of externalities
Stated choice methods and design of designs
Integrated SP and RP modelling
Development in discrete choice modelling

Freight and logistics
Agile supply chain
Economic reward and on-road performance in the long distance trucking industry
Supply chain alliance in freight distribution
Maritime
Strategic development options for Australian ports
Investment priorities for Korean ports
Productivity and labour market rigidities in Australian container terminals
Dynamics and development of intra-Asian trades

Rail
Market forecasts for high speed rail
Total factor productivity estimates for Australia's railways
Community benefits from rail passenger services
Pricing of new country rail services
Future of urban rail

Transport modelling and planning
Strategies to reduce greenhouse gas emissions
Redesign of Sydney's strategic travel model system
Interactive agency choice experiments
Development of a dynamic transport planning tool for emergency evacuations under Australian conditions

Travel behaviour
Work design and telecommuting
Standardising household travel surveys

Using GPS devices to measure travel behaviour
Development of synthetic household travel data
Research covers all transport modes including urban transport (both private and public), road, rail, aviation and freight. Below are examples of completed Masters / Doctoral Research themes:

- Valuation of environmental impacts of transport projects
- Bicycle demand model
- The strategic role of travel packages and their impacts on consumer demand: An application to a new high speed rail service
- Strategic alliance partner choice in international aviation
- Total factor productivity of the NSW railways
- An investigation of the current and desired modes of management education with particular emphasis on organisational development
- Airport competition and choice in South-East Asia
- Modelling freight transport mode choices: An interactive mode approach
- An examination of the potential of airport capacity management in the Asia Pacific region
- Development of a risk taking modelling framework for road safety

Your Application
Your application for admission should include:
1. a completed application form;
2. a maximum of a 1,200 word personal statement on your career goals and why you believe a research degree will be useful to you;
3. a brief indication of the ITLS faculty members you would like to have as research advisors and why (maximum 150 words);
4. a brief list of possible thesis topics or areas of interest (maximum 150 words)
5. 2 reference forms completed by your academic referees
6. an original official transcript giving a complete list of tertiary courses studies and results obtained
7. an original or University certified copy of your testamur or graduation diploma

Copies are acceptable only if they are certified by the issuing institution. Documents not in English must be accompanied by an official translation.

For details on application requirements specific to ITLS, please refer to the ITLS website: www.itls.usyd.edu.au.

The Sydney Summer and Winter Schools

The Summer School
The Summer School is a full fee-paying, intensive program offering high quality undergraduate and postgraduate units of study from most faculties. These units of study are the same as those offered in Semesters One and Two, but are taught as an intensive program over summer. Some classes commence in December, others commence in January and continue into February (including the exam week). Some units of study run for seven weeks others are shorter. Students can take a maximum of two units of study.

The Winter School
The Winter School is held every July during the academic year. The Winter School is a smaller, more intensive three week program.

Advantages
Attending classes at Sydney University during summer offers many advantages. You can

• use this time to accelerate your academic career and to finish your degree sooner
• devote your full attention to a single area of study
• take courses that might be outside your normal degree
• reduce your workload throughout the rest of the year
• repeat units of study in which you may have been unsuccessful
• combine study with a field trip in Australia or a tour overseas.

For high school graduates, you can

• sample a university program
• get a head start on your degree.

How to apply
Applications will only be accepted online. Our website is www.summer.usyd.edu.au

Some units have limited places and fill very quickly. All places are filled strictly on a first in first served basis so it is recommended that you apply early.

Applications open on 27 September 2006.
Applications close on 15 December 2006.

Census dates – Summer School 2007
Students can withdraw from their unit of study without academic penalty and receive a full refund until the census date. However, a late withdrawal fee may apply. As classes start throughout December to February there are three census dates for the Summer School. These are based on when the class commences.

*42 Summer Dec: Allows for a unit to run for 3–9 weeks, provided that the 20 per cent criterion is met.
44 Summer Late: Last exam must be held by 1 March.

Withdrawal and Refund policy

• For classes commencing in December 2006, students withdrawing from a Summer School unit of study from 28 November 2006 to 2 January 2007, will receive a refund of tuition fees but will be liable for a $500 late withdrawal fee.

• For classes commencing after 4 January 2007, students withdrawing from a Summer School unit of study from 16 December 2006 to 12 January 2007, will receive a refund of tuition fees but will be liable for a $500 late withdrawal fee.

• For classes commencing after 12 January 2007, students withdrawing from a Summer School unit of study from 16 December 2006 to 6 February 2007, will receive a refund of tuition fees but will be liable for a $500 late withdrawal fee.

• Students may withdraw from their Summer School unit(s) of study up until 4pm on the last day of the Teaching Period for that particular unit of study. However, there may be an academic penalty (please refer to our website). The Teaching Period for purposes of this policy is defined in hours of published classes from the first day through to the last day of classes, excluding any final examination or assessment.

• Students withdrawing from a Summer School unit of study after 4pm on the relevant census date will receive no refund of their tuition fee.

Transferring between Summer School units
There will be no penalty if a student changes between units of study in the Summer School before the commencement of class. However NO transfers will be allowed after the commencement of the class.

Summer School scholarships
Merit scholarships
Only four merit scholarships are available and are automatically awarded to the top four students who achieve the highest results in their Summer School unit of study.

Educational/Financial Disadvantage scholarships
Partial or full Summer School scholarships are available to local undergraduate students for the Summer School with a good academic record. To be eligible for consideration you will need to provide evidence of long-term and serious educational disadvantage based on two or more criteria, one of which must be financial hardship. Please check our website for further details. Applications close on 27 October 2006.

Preliminary

1. Commencement and purpose of Rule

1.1 This Rule is made by the Senate pursuant to section 37(1) of the University of Sydney Act 1989 for the purposes of the University of Sydney By-Law 1999.

1.2 This Rule comes into force on 1 January 2001.

1.3 This Rule governs all coursework award courses in the University. It is to be read in conjunction with the University of Sydney (Amendment Act) Rule 1999 and the Resolutions of the Senate and the faculty resolutions relating to each award course in that faculty.

Rules relating to coursework award courses

1. Definitions In this Rule:

1.1 award course means a formally approved program of study which can lead to an academic award granted by the University.

1.2 coursework means an award course not designated as a research award course. While the program of study in a coursework award course may include a component of original, supervised research, other forms of instruction and learning normally will be dominant. All undergraduate award courses are coursework award courses.

1.3 credit means advanced standing based on previous attainment in another award course at the University or at another institution. The advanced standing is expressed as credit points granted towards the award course. Credit may be granted as specific credit or non-specific credit.

1.3.1 specific credit means the recognition of previously completed studies as directly equivalent to units of study;

1.3.2 non-specific credit means a 'block credit' for a specified number of credit points at a particular level. These credit points may be in a particular subject area but are not linked to a specific unit of study; and

1.3.3 credit points means a measure of value indicating the contribution each unit of study provides towards meeting award course completion requirements stated as a total credit point value.

1.4 dean means the dean of a faculty or the director or principal of an academic college or the chairperson of a board of studies.

1.5 degree means a degree at the level of bachelor or master for the purpose of this Rule.

1.6 embedded courses/programs means award courses in the graduate certificate/graduate diploma/master's degree by coursework sequence which allow unit of study credit points to count in more than one of the awards.

1.7 faculty means a faculty, college board, a board of studies or the Australian Graduate School of Management Limited as established in each case by its constitution and in these Rules refers to the faculty or faculties responsible for the award course concerned.

1.8 major means a defined program of study, generally comprising specified units of study from later stages of the award course.

1.9 minor means a defined program of study, generally comprising units of study from later stages of the award course and requiring a smaller number of credit points than a major.

1.10 postgraduate award course means an award course leading to the award of a graduate certificate, graduate diploma, degree of master or a doctorate. Normally, a postgraduate award course requires the prior completion of a relevant undergraduate degree or diploma.

1.11 research award course means an award course in which students undertake and report systematic, creative work in order to increase the stock of knowledge. The research award courses offered by the University are: higher doctorate, Doctor of Philosophy, doctorates by research and advanced coursework, and certain degrees of master designated as research degrees. The systematic, creative component of a research award course must comprise at least 66 per cent of the overall award course requirements.

1.12 stream means a defined program of study within an award course, which requires its completion as a program of study specified by the award course rules for the particular stream, in addition to the core program specified by award course rules for the award course.

1.13 student means a person enrolled as a candidate for a course.

1.14 testamur means a certificate of award provided to a graduate, usually at a graduation ceremony.

1.15 transcript or academic transcript means a printed statement setting out a student's academic record at the University.

1.16 unit of study means the smallest stand-alone component of a student's award course that is recordable on a student's transcript. Units of study have an integer credit point value, normally in the range 3–24.

1.17 undergraduate award course means an award course leading to the award of an associate diploma, diploma, advanced diploma or degree of bachelor.

2. Authorities and responsibilities

2.1 Authorities and responsibilities for the functions set out in this Rule are also defined in the document Academic Delegations of Authority. The latter document sets out the mechanisms by which a person who has delegated authority may appoint an agent to perform a particular function.

2.1 The procedures for consideration of, and deadlines for submission of, proposals for new and amended award courses will be determined by the Academic Board.

Division 1: Award course requirements, credit points and assessment

3. Award course requirements

3.1 To qualify for the award of a degree, diploma or certificate, a student must:

3.1.1 complete the award course requirements specified by the Senate for the award of the degree, diploma or certificate concerned;
Division 2: Enrolment

7. Enrolment restrictions

7.1 A student who has completed a unit of study towards the requirements of an award course may not re-enrol in that unit of study, except as permitted by faculty resolution or with the written permission of the dean. A student permitted to re-enrol may receive a higher or lower grade, but not additional credit points.

7.2 Except as provided in section 7.1, a student may not enrol in any unit of study which overlaps substantially in content with a unit that has already been completed or for which credit or exemption has been granted towards the award course requirements.

7.3 A student may not enrol in units of study additional to award course requirements without first obtaining permission from the relevant dean.

7.4 Except as prescribed in faculty resolutions or with the permission of the relevant dean:

7.4.1 a student enrolled in an undergraduate course may not enrol in units of study with a total value of more than 32 credit points in any one semester, or 16 credit points in the summer session; and

7.4.2 a student enrolled in a postgraduate award course may not enrol in units of study with a total value of more than 24 credit points in any one semester, or 12 credit points in the summer session.

Division 3: Credit, cross-institutional study and their upper limits

8. Credit for previous studies

8.1 Students may be granted credit on the basis of previous studies.

8.2 Notwithstanding any credit granted on the basis of work completed or prior learning in another award course at the University of Sydney or in another institution, in order to qualify for an award a student must:

8.2.1 for undergraduate award courses, complete a minimum of the equivalent of two full-time semesters of the award course at the University; and

8.2.2 for postgraduate award courses, complete at least 50 per cent of the requirements prescribed for the award course at the University.

These requirements may be varied where the work was completed as part of an embedded program at the University or as part of an award course approved by the University in an approved conjoint venture with another institution.

8.3 The credit granted on the basis of work completed at an institution other than a university normally should not exceed one third of the overall award course requirements.

8.4 A faculty has authority to establish embedded academic sequences in closely related graduate certificate, graduate diploma and master's degree award courses. In such embedded sequences, a student may be granted credit for all or some of the units of study completed in one award of the sequence towards any other award in the sequence, irrespective of whether or not the award has been conferred.

8.5 In an award course offered as part of an approved conjoint venture the provisions for the granting of credit are prescribed in the Resolutions of the Senate and the faculty resolutions relating to that award course.

9. Cross-institutional study

9.1 The relevant dean may permit a student to complete a unit or units of study at another university or institution and have that unit or those units of study credited to the student's award course.

9.2 The relevant dean has authority to determine any conditions applying to cross-institutional study.

Division 4: Progression

10. Repealing a unit of study

10.1 A student who repeats a unit of study shall, unless granted exemption by the relevant dean:

10.1.1 participate in the learning experiences provided for the unit of study; and

10.1.2 meet all examination, assessment and attendance requirements for the unit of study.

10.2 A student who presents for re-assessment in any unit of study is not eligible for any prize or scholarship awarded in connection with that unit of study without the permission of the relevant dean.

11. Time limits

11.1 A student must complete all the requirements for an award course within ten calendar years or any lesser period if specified by resolution of the Senate or the faculty.
Division 5: Discontinuation of enrolment and suspension of candidature

12. Discontinuation of enrolment
12.1 A student who wishes to discontinue enrolment in an award course or a unit of study must apply to the relevant dean and will be presumed to have discontinued enrolment from the date of that application, unless evidence is produced showing:
12.1.1 that the discontinuation occurred at an earlier date; and
12.1.2 that there was good reason why the application could not be made at the earlier time.
12.2 A student who discontinues enrolment during the first year of enrolment in an award course may not re-enrol in that award course unless:
12.2.1 the relevant dean has granted prior permission to re-enrol; or 12.2.2 the student is reselected for admission to candidature for that course.
12.3 No student may discontinue enrolment in an award course or unit of study after the end of classes in that award course or unit of study, unless he or she produces evidence that:
12.3.1 the discontinuation occurred at an earlier date; and
12.3.2 there was good reason why the application could not be made at the earlier time.
12.4 A discontinuation of enrolment may be recorded as 'Withdrawn (W)' or 'Discontinued – not to count as failure (DNF)' where that discontinuation occurs within the time-frames specified by the University and published by the faculty, or where the student meets other conditions as specified by the relevant faculty.

13. Suspension of candidature
13.1 A student must be enrolled in each semester in which he or she is actively completing the requirements for the award course. A student who wishes to suspend candidature must first obtain approval from the relevant dean.
13.2 The candidature of a student who has not re-enrolled and who has not obtained approval from the dean for suspension will be deemed to have lapsed.
13.3 A student whose candidature has lapsed must apply for re-admission in accordance with procedures determined by the relevant faculty.
13.4 A student who enrols after suspending candidature shall complete the requirements for the award course under such conditions as determined by the dean.

Division 6: Unsatisfactory progress and exclusion

14. Satisfactory progress
14.1 A faculty has authority to determine what constitutes satisfactory progress for all students enrolled in award courses in that faculty, in accordance with the policies and directions of the Academic Board.

15. Requirement to show good cause
15.1 For the purposes of this Rule, 'good cause' means circumstances beyond the reasonable control of a student, which may include serious ill health or misadventure, but does not include demands of employers, pressure of employment or time devoted to non-University activities, unless these are relevant to serious ill health or misadventure. In all cases the onus is on the student to provide the University with satisfactory evidence to establish good cause. The University may take into account relevant aspects of a student's record in other courses or units of study within the University and relevant aspects of academic studies at other institutions provided that the student presents this information to the University.
15.2 The relevant dean may require a student who has not made satisfactory progress to show good cause why he or she should be allowed to re-enrol.
15.3 The dean will permit a student who has shown good cause to re-enrol.

16. Exclusion for failure to show good cause
The dean may, where good cause has not been established:
16.1 exclude the student from the relevant course; or 16.2 permit the student to re-enrol in the relevant award course subject to restrictions on units of study, which may include, but are not restricted to:
16.2.1 completion of a unit or units of study within a specified time;
16.2.2 exclusion from a unit or units of study, provided that the dean must first consult the head of the department responsible for the unit or units of study; and 16.2.3 specification of the earliest date upon which a student may re-enrol in a unit or units of study.

17. Applying for re-admission after exclusion
17.1 A student who has been excluded from an award course or from a unit or units of study may apply to the relevant dean for re-admission to the award course or re-enrolment in the unit or units of study concerned after at least four semesters, and that dean may readmit the student to the award course or permit the student to re-enrol in the unit or units of study concerned.
17.2 With the written approval of the relevant dean, a student who has been excluded may be given credit for any work completed elsewhere in the University or in another university during a period of exclusion.

18. Appeals against exclusion
18.1 In this Rule a reference to the Appeals Committee is a reference to the Senate Student Appeals Committee (Exclusions and Re-admissions).
18.2.1.1 A student who has been excluded in accordance with this Rule may apply to the Appeals Committee.
18.2.1.2 A student who has applied for re-admission to an award course or re-enrolment in a unit of study after a period of exclusion, and who is refused re-admission or re-enrolment may also apply to the Appeals Committee.
18.2.2 The Appeals Committee shall comprise:
18.2.2.1 three ex officio members (the Chancellor, the Deputy Chancellor and the Vice-Chancellor and Principal); and 18.2.2.2 the Chair and Deputy Chairs of the Academic Board;
18.2.2.3 two student Fellows; and
18.2.2.4 up to four other Fellows.
18.2.3 The Appeals Committee may meet as one or more subcommittees providing that each subcommittee shall include at least one member of each of the categories of:
18.2.3.1 ex officio member;
18.2.3.2 Chair or Deputy Chair of the Academic Board;
18.2.3.3 student Fellow; and
18.2.3.4 other Fellows.
18.2.4 Three members shall constitute a quorum for a meeting of the Appeals Committee or a subcommittee.
18.2.5 The Appeals Committee and its subcommittees have authority to hear and determine all such appeals and must report its decision to the Senate annually.
18.2.6 The Appeals Committee or a subcommittee may uphold or disallow any appeal and, at its discretion, may determine the earliest date within a maximum of four semesters at which a student who has been excluded shall be permitted to apply to re-enrol.
18.2.7 No appeal shall be determined without granting the student the opportunity to appear in person before the Appeals Committee or subcommittee considering the appeal. A student so appearing may be accompanied by a friend or adviser.
18.2.8 The Appeals Committee or subcommittee may hear the relevant dean but that dean may only be present at those stages at which the student is permitted to be present. Similarly, the dean is entitled to be present when the Committee or subcommittee hears the student.
18.2.9 If, due notice having been given, a student fails to attend a meeting of the Appeals Committee or subcommittee scheduled to consider that student's appeal, the Appeals Committee or subcommittee, at its discretion, may defer consideration of the appeal or may proceed to determine the appeal.
18.2.10 A student who has been excluded in accordance with these resolutions and has lodged a timely appeal against that exclusion may re-enrol pending determination of that appeal if it has not been determined by the commencement of classes in the next appropriate semester.

Division 7: Exceptional circumstances

19. Variation of award course requirements in exceptional circumstances
19.1 The relevant dean may vary any requirement for a particular student enrolled in an award course in that faculty where, in the opinion of the dean, exceptional circumstances exist.
Division 8: Award of degrees, diplomas and certificates

20. Classes of award
20.1 Undergraduate diplomas may be awarded in five grades – pass, pass with merit, pass with distinction, pass with high distinction or honours.
20.2 Degrees of bachelor may be awarded in two grades – pass or honours.
20.3 Graduate diplomas and graduate certificates may be awarded in one grade only – pass.
20.4 Degrees of master by coursework may be awarded three grades – pass, pass with merit or honours.

21. Award of the degree of bachelor with honours
21.1 The award of honours is reserved to indicate special proficiency. The basis on which a student may qualify for the award of honours in a particular award course is specified in the faculty resolutions relating to the course.
21.2 Each faculty shall publish the grading systems and criteria for the award of honours in that faculty.
21.3 Classes which may be used for the award of honours are:

21.3.1 First Class
21.3.2 Second Class/Division 1
21.3.3 Second Class/Division 2
21.3.4 Third Class

21.4 With respect to award courses which include an additional honours year:
21.4.1 a student may not graduate with the pass degree while enrolled in the honours year;
21.4.2 on the recommendation of the head of the department concerned, a dean may permit a student who has been awarded the pass degree at a recognised tertiary institution to enrol in the honours year in that faculty;
21.4.3 faculties may prescribe the conditions under which a student may enrol part-time in the honours year;
21.4.4 a student who fails or discontinues the honours year may not re-enrol in it, except with the approval of the dean.

22. University Medal
22.1 An honours bachelor's degree student with an outstanding academic record throughout the award course may be eligible for the award of a University Medal, in accordance with Academic Board policy and the requirements of the faculty resolutions relating to the award course concerned.

23. Award of the degree of master with honours or merit
23.1 The award of honours or pass with merit is reserved to indicate special proficiency or particular pathways to completion. The basis on which a student may qualify for the award of honours or the award with merit in a particular degree is specified in the Faculty Resolutions relating to that degree.

24. Transcripts and testamurs
24.1 A student who has completed an award course or a unit of study at the University will receive an academic transcript upon application and payment of any charges required.
24.2 Testamurs may indicate streams or majors or both as specified in the relevant faculty resolutions.

Division 9: Transitional provisions

25. Application of this Rule during transition
25.1 This Rule applies to all candidates for degrees, diplomas and certificates who commence candidature after 1 January 2001.
25.2 Candidates who commenced candidature prior to this date may choose to proceed in accordance with the resolutions of the Senate in force at the time they enrolled, except that the faculty may determine specific conditions for any student who has re-enrolled in an award course after a period of suspension.
University of Sydney (Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)) Rule 2004

Please also see the University of Sydney (Authority Within Academic Units) Rule 2003 (as amended).

Part 1 – Preliminary

Part 2 – Admission to candidature

Part 3 – Supervision

Part 4 – Candidature

Part 5 – Submission of thesis

Part 1 – Preliminary

1. Citation and commencement

1.1 Citation

This Rule is made by the Senate of the University of Sydney pursuant to section 37(1) of the University of Sydney Act 1989 for the purposes of the University of Sydney By-law 1999.

1.2 Commencement

This Rule commences on the day after it is made in accordance with Chapter 2 of the University of Sydney By-law 1999.

2. Purpose

2.1 This Rule:

2.1.1 repeals and replaces Part 10, Division 4 of the University of Sydney (Amendment Act) Rule 1999 in its entirety; and

2.1.2 deals with matters relating to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Part 2 – Admission to candidature

3. Heads of department

3.1 A head of department may delegate to a specified member of the academic staff his or her responsibilities under these Rules by countersigning a specific recommendation in respect of a particular candidature or by making, and forwarding to the Registrar, a written statement of delegation of those powers.

4. Admission to candidature

4.1 An applicant for admission as a candidate for the degree shall, except as provided in 4.2 and 4.3 below, hold or have fulfilled all the requirements for:

4.1.1 the degree of master, or

4.1.2 the degree of bachelor with first or second class honours.

4.2 A faculty may admit as a candidate for the degree an applicant holding the degree of bachelor without first or second class honours after the applicant has passed a qualifying examination at a standard equivalent to the bachelor’s degree with first or second class honours, provided that a faculty may exempt an applicant from the qualifying examination if the applicant has obtained a high distinction or distinction in the highest course available in the subject or subjects relevant to the proposed course of advanced study and research.

4.3 The Academic Board has endorsed an interpretation of the qualifying examination as including completion of a period of relevant full-time or part-time advanced study and research towards a master’s degree in the University of Sydney, at such a standard as would demonstrate to the satisfaction of the faculty that the candidate is suitably prepared in the particular field of study to undertake candidature for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

4.4 The Academic Board may, in accordance with this Rule, admit as a candidate for the degree an applicant holding qualifications which, in the opinion of the faculty concerned and of the Academic Board, are equivalent to those prescribed in 4.1 or 4.2 above and such candidate shall proceed to the degree under such conditions as the Academic Board may prescribe.

4.5 An applicant for admission to candidature shall submit to the faculty concerned:

4.5.1 a proposed course of advanced study and research, approved by the head of the department in which the work is to be carried out, to be undertaken by the applicant in a department of the University, and

4.5.2 satisfactory evidence of adequate training and ability to pursue the proposed course.

4.6 The faculty may require a candidate, as part of the evidence of the candidate's training and ability to pursue the proposed course, to pass a special examination.

4.7 A reference in this section to a department includes a reference to one or more departments, one or more schools, an interdepartmental committee and an interschool committee.

5. Probationary acceptance

5.1 A candidate may be accepted by a faculty on a probationary basis for a period not exceeding one year and upon completion of this probationary period, the faculty shall review the candidate's work and shall either confirm the candidate's status or terminate the candidature.

5.2 In the case of a candidate accepted on a probationary period under 5.1 above, the candidature shall be deemed to have commenced from the date of such acceptance.

6. Control of candidature

6.1 Each candidate shall pursue his or her course of advanced study and research wholly under the control of the University.

6.2 Where a candidate is employed by an institution other than the University, the faculty or college board may require a statement by that employer acknowledging that the candidature will be under the control of the University.

7. Other studies during the candidature

7.1 A candidate may be required by the head of department or the supervisor to attend lectures, seminar courses or practical work courses or to undertake courses and, if required, the assessment for such courses, subject to the approval of any other head of department concerned.

8. Credit for previous studies

8.1 A candidate who, at the date of admission to candidature, has completed not less than six months as a candidate for the degree of master in any faculty or board of studies of the University of Sydney, may be permitted by the faculty concerned to be credited for the whole or any part of the period of candidature completed for the degree of master as a period of candidature completed for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, provided that the period of candidature for the degree of master for which credit is sought shall have been a course of full-time or part-time advanced study and research under a supervisor appointed by the faculty or board of studies concerned and directly related to the candidate’s proposed course of advanced study and research for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

8.2 A candidate who, at the date of admission has completed not less than six months as a candidate for a higher degree in another university or institution may be permitted by the Academic Board, on the recommendation of the faculty concerned, to be credited for the whole or any part of the period of candidature completed as a period completed for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy of the University of Sydney, provided that:

8.2.1 at the date of admission to candidature for the higher degree of the other university or institution concerned the candidate shall have fulfilled the requirements of admission to candidature set out in section 3 above; and

8.2.2 the period of candidature for the higher degree of the other university or institution concerned for which credit is sought shall have been a course of full-time or part-time advanced study and research under a supervisor appointed by the other university or institution concerned and directly related to the candidate’s proposed course of advanced study and research in the University of Sydney; the candidate shall have abandoned candidature for the higher degree of the other university or institution concerned for which credit is sought;

8.2.4 the amount of credit which may be so granted shall not exceed one year; and

8.2.5 no candidate who has been granted credit shall present a thesis for examination for the degree earlier than the end of the second year after acceptance.

8.3 The Faculty of Medicine may grant credit not exceeding one year to a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in that Faculty who has submitted documented evidence of having previously completed supervised study towards the degree of Doctor of Medicine of the University of Sydney.

Part 3 – Supervision

9. Appointment and qualifications of supervisors and associate supervisors

9.1 The faculty or college board, on the recommendation of the head of department concerned, shall appoint a suitably qualified supervisor and associate supervisors for each candidate to take primary responsibility for the conduct of the candidature and to be responsible for the progress of the candidature to the head of department and the faculty or college board concerned in accordance with policy established by the Academic Board.

Part 4 – Candidature

10. Location

10.1.1 Subject to the annual approval of the supervisor, head of department and faculty or college board, the candidate shall pursue the course of advanced study and research either:

10.1.1.1 within the University including its research stations and teaching hospitals;

10.1.1.2 on fieldwork either in the field or in libraries, museums or other repositories;

10.1.1.3 within industrial laboratories or research institutions or other institutions considered by the faculty or college board concerned to provide adequate facilities for that candidature; or

10.1.1.4 within a professional working environment;

10.1.2 and shall attend at the University for such consultation with the supervisor and shall participate in such departmental faculty or college seminars as shall annually be specified.

10.2.1 A candidate pursuing candidature outside Australia must also complete a minimum of two semesters of candidature within the University [but not necessarily immediately before submission, not necessarily as a continuous two-semester period] before submission of the thesis.

10.2.2 The corresponding period for candidates for whom the minimum length of candidature is four semesters is a minimum of one semester.

10.3 When recommending the detailed annual conditions for each candidate’s particular course of advanced study and research the supervisor and head of department must indicate whether they are satisfied that the proposed supervision arrangements will be satisfactory.

11. Progress

11.1 At the end of each year each candidate shall provide evidence of progress and attend a progress review interview to the satisfaction of the supervisor and head of department concerned and any Departmental or Faculty Postgraduate Review Committee.

11.2 On the basis of evidence provided and the interview, the head of department shall recommend the conditions of candidature to apply for the following year and may require the candidate to provide further evidence of progress at the end of one semester or such other period as the head of department considers appropriate.

11.3 If a candidate fails to submit evidence of progress or if the head of department concerned considers that the evidence submitted does not indicate satisfactory progress, the faculty or college board may, on the head's recommendation, call upon that candidate to show cause why that candidature should not be terminated by reason of unsatisfactory progress towards completion of the degree and where, in the opinion of the faculty or college board, the candidate does not show good cause the faculty or college board may terminate that candidature or may impose conditions on the continuation of that candidature.

Part 5 – Submission of thesis

12. The thesis

12.1.1 On completing the course of advanced study and research, a candidate shall present a thesis embodying the results of the work undertaken which shall be a substantially original contribution to the subject concerned.

12.1.2 The candidate shall state, generally in the preface and specifically in notes, the sources from which the information is derived, the animal and human ethical approvals obtained, the extent to which the work of others has been made use of, and the portion of the work the candidate claims as original.

12.2 A candidate may also submit in support of the candidature any publication of which the candidate is the sole or joint author. In such a case the candidate must produce evidence to identify satisfactorily the sections of the work for which the candidate is responsible.

12.3 Except where the candidature has been governed by an approved cotutelle agreement, a candidate may not present the thesis as the result of work which has been presented for a degree or diploma at this or another university, but the candidate will not be precluded from incorporating such in the thesis, provided that, in presenting the thesis, the candidate indicates the part of the work which has been so incorporated.

12.4 Theses shall be written in English, except that:

12.4.1 in the case of a candidature governed by an approved cotutelle agreement, the thesis may be written in English or in another language; and

12.4.2.1 in the Faculty of Arts, in the case of language departments, theses may be written either in English or in their target language as determined by the department, unless a department has specified by means of a Faculty resolution that it will consider applications to submit the thesis in a language other than:

12.4.2.1 English; or

12.4.2.2 a target language of the department.

12.4.2.2 Such applications should be made in writing; and approved by the head of department concerned and the Dean of the Faculty, before the commencement of candidature.

12.4.2.3 In considering applications a head of department shall take into account arrangements for supervision and examination.

12.5 A candidate shall submit to the Registrar four copies of the thesis in a form prescribed by resolution of the Academic Board and four copies of a summary of about 300 words in length.

12.6 The thesis shall be accompanied by a certificate from the supervisor stating whether, in the supervisor's opinion, the form of presentation of the thesis is satisfactory.

13. Earliest date for submission

13.1 Except as provided below, a candidate may not submit a thesis for examination earlier than the end of the sixth semester of candidature.

13.2 A faculty or college board may permit a candidate holding any of the following qualifications of the University of Sydney or from such other institution as the faculty or college board may approve, to submit a thesis for examination not earlier than the end of the fourth semester of candidature:

13.2.1 a degree of master completed primarily by research;

13.2.2 both the degrees of Bachelor of Dental Surgery with honours and Bachelor of Science (Dental) with honours;

13.2.3 both the degrees of Bachelor of Medicine with honours and Bachelor of Science (Medical) with honours; or 13.2.4 both the degrees of Bachelor of Veterinary Science with honours and Bachelor of Science (Veterinary) with honours.

13.3 Notwithstanding 13.1 and 13.2 above, a faculty may, on the recommendation of the head of department and supervisor concerned, permit a candidate to submit a thesis for examination up to one semester earlier than prescribed if, in the opinion of the faculty, evidence has been produced that the candidate has made exceptional progress in his or her candidature.

13.4.1 Notwithstanding 13.1, 13.2 and 13.3 above, the Chair of the Academic Board may, on the recommendation of the dean of the faculty in which the candidate is enrolled, permit a candidate to submit a thesis for examination earlier than prescribed if, in the opinion of the Chair of the Academic Board, evidence has been produced that the candidate has made exceptional progress in his or her candidature.

13.4.2 The Chair of the Academic Board may take advice from the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee and shall report any applications under this provision and the action taken to the next meeting of the Academic Board.

14. Latest date for submission
14.1 Except as provided in 14.1 to 14.3 below, a candidate shall submit the thesis for examination not later than the end of the eighth semester of candidature.

14.2 A candidate whose candidature has been part-time throughout shall submit the thesis for examination not later than the end of the 16th semester of candidature.

14.3 The time limits set out in 14.1 to 14.2 above, apply to candidates who commence candidature after 31 December 2000. Candidates who commenced candidature prior to this date may choose to proceed in accordance with the Rules in force at the time when they commenced candidature.

14.4 The relevant dean may permit a candidate to submit the thesis for examination after a period of time greater than the maximum periods specified.

15. Examination
15.1 The procedures for examination shall be prescribed by the Academic Board.

Applying for a course

Domestic applicants for undergraduate courses and programs of study

For the purpose of admission and enrolment ‘domestic applicant’ refers to citizens and permanent residents of Australia and citizens of New Zealand. If you are in this group and wish to apply for admission into an undergraduate course, you would generally apply through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC). The deadline for application is the last working day of September in the year before enrolment. Go to the UAC website for more information.

Note that some faculties, such as Pharmacy, the Sydney Conservatorium of Music and Sydney College of the Arts, have additional application procedures.

Domestic applicants for postgraduate courses and programs of study

For the purpose of admission and enrolment ‘domestic applicant’ refers to citizens and permanent residents of Australia and citizens of New Zealand. Application is direct to the faculty which offers the course that you are interested in. Application forms for postgraduate coursework, postgraduate research and the master’s qualifying or preliminary program and for non-award postgraduate study can be found at http://www.usyd.edu.au/studentcentre.

Please note that some faculties use their own specially tailored application forms for admission into their courses. Please contact the relevant faculty.

International applicants for all course types (undergraduate and postgraduate)

‘International applicants’ refers to all applicants other than Australian citizens, Australian permanent residents and citizens of New Zealand. In the majority of cases international applicants apply for admission

Client Services, Information and Communications Technology (ICT)
Client Services are responsible for the delivery of many of the computing services provided to students. Students can contact Client Services by phoning the ICT Helpdesk on 9351 6000, through the IT Assist website (http://www.itassist.usyd.edu.au) or by visiting the staff at one of the University Access Labs.

The access labs on the Camperdown and Darlington campuses are located in:

- Fisher Library (Level 2);
- Carslaw Building (Room 201);
- Education Building (Room 232);
- Christopher Brennan Building (Room 232);
- Engineering Link Building (Room 222); and
- Pharmacy and Bank Building (Room 510).

Other labs are available at the Law, Westmead Hospital and Cumberland campuses.

The labs provide students free access to computers including office productivity and desktop publishing software.

Services are available on a fee for service basis which include Internet access, printing facilities and the opportunity to host their own non-commercial website.

Each student is supplied with an account, called a 'Unik ey' account, which allows access to a number of services including:

- free email (http://www-mail.usyd.edu.au);
- access to the Internet from home or residential colleges (http://www.itassist.usyd.edu.au/services.html);
- student facilities via the MyUni student portal (http://myuni.usyd.edu.au), including exam results, enrolment variations and timetabling; and
- free courses in basic computing (such as MS Office; basic html and excel) that are run by Access Lab staff in the week following orientation week. To register contact the Access Lab Supervisor on +61 2 9351 6870.

Financial Assistance Office
The University of Sydney has a number of loan and bursary funds to assist students experiencing financial difficulties. Loan assistance is available for undergraduate and postgraduate students enrolled in degree and diploma courses at the University. The assistance is not intended to provide the principle means of support but to help enrolled students in financial need with expenses such as housing bonds and rent; phone and electricity bills; medical expenses; buying textbooks and course equipment. Loans are interest free and are repayable usually within one year. Bursaries may be awarded depending on financial need and academic merit and are usually only available to local full-time undergraduate students. Advertised bursaries, including First Year Bursaries, are advertised through the MyUni student portal in January each year. For details of types of assistance and online resources provided by the service see the Financial Assistance website via your MyUni student portal or the Services for Students website.

Freedom of Information
The University of Sydney falls within the jurisdiction of the NSW Freedom of Information Act, 1989. The act:

• requires information concerning documents held by the University to be made available to the public;
• enables a member of the public to obtain access to documents held by the University; and
• enables a member of the public to ensure that records held by the University concerning his or her personal affairs are not incomplete, incorrect, out of date or misleading.

(Note that a ‘member of the public’ includes staff and students of the University.)

It is a requirement of the act that applications be processed and a determination made within a specified time period, generally 21 days. Determinations are made by the University’s Registrar.

While application may be made to access University documents, some may not be released in accordance with particular exemptions provided by the act. There are review and appeal mechanisms which apply when access has been refused.

The University is required to report to the public on its freedom of information (FOI) activities on a regular basis and to produce two documents: a Statement of Affairs (annually) and a Summary of Affairs (every six months). The Statement of Affairs contains information about the University, its structure, function and the kinds of documents held. The Summary of Affairs identifies the University’s policy documents and provides information on how to make an application for access to University documents.

Further information and copies of the current Statement and Summary may be found at http://www.usyd.edu.au/arms/foi

(Grievances) Appeals
You may consider that a decision affecting your candidature for a degree or other activities at the University has not taken into account all relevant matters.

In some cases the by-laws or resolutions of the Senate (see the University Calendar) provide for a right of appeal against particular decisions; for example, there is provision for appeal against academic decisions, disciplinary decisions and exclusion after failure.

A document outlining the current procedures for appeals against academic decisions is available at the Student Centre, at the SRC, and on the University’s policy online website (click on ‘Study at the University’, then click on ‘Appeals’ – see the Academic Board and Senate resolutions).

The Study Abroad and Exchange unit assists both domestic and international students who wish to enrol for study abroad or exchange programs.

International Student Support Unit

The International Student Support Unit assists international students through the provision of orientation, counselling and welfare services to both students and their families. ISSU aims to help international students cope successfully with the challenges of living and studying in an unfamiliar culture, to achieve success in their studies and to make the experience of being an international student rewarding and enjoyable. For details of orientation activities, counselling and welfare services provided to both students and their families and online resources, see the MyUni student portal or the Services for Students website http://www.usyd.edu.au/issu. International students also have access to all University student support services.

Koori Centre and Yooroang Garang

Islander people in all aspects of tertiary education at the University of Sydney. The Cadigal Special Entry Program assists Indigenous Australians to enter undergraduate study across all areas of the University.

As well as delivering block-mode courses for Indigenous Australian students, the Koori Centre teaches Indigenous Australian Studies in various mainstream courses. In addition the Centre provides tutorial assistance, and student facilities such as: computer lab, Indigenous research library and study rooms for Indigenous Australian students across the University.

In particular the Koori Centre aims to increase the successful participation of Indigenous Australians in undergraduate and postgraduate degrees, develop the teaching of Aboriginal Studies, conduct research in the field of Aboriginal education, and establish working ties with schools and communities.

The Koori Centre works in close collaboration with Yooroang Garang: School of Indigenous Health Studies in the Faculty of Health Sciences at the University's Cumberland Campus. Yooroang Garang provides advice, assistance and academic support for Indigenous students in the faculty, as well as preparatory undergraduate and postgraduate courses.

Learning Centre

The Learning Centre helps students develop the generic learning and communication skills that are necessary for university study and beyond. The centre is committed to helping students achieve their academic potential throughout their undergraduate and postgraduate studies. The centre’s program includes a wide range of workshops on study skills, academic reading and writing, oral communication skills and postgraduate writing and research skills. Other services include an individual learning program, faculty-based workshops, computer-based learning resources, publications of learning resources and library facilities. For details of programs, activities and online resources provided by the centre see the website via your MyUni student portal or the Services for Students website.

MyUni Student Portal

The MyUni student portal is the starting point and 'one-stop' environment for students to access all their web-based University information and services. MyUni automatically tailors what a student sees based on their login-in and offers students the option of further personalising content. Most importantly, MyUni allows students to complete tasks online that would previously have required attendance in person. The following are examples of MyUni services and information:

- support services for students in health, counselling, child care, accommodation, employment and wellbeing;
- student administration systems for obtaining exam results, enrolment and variations, timetabling, email services and links to courses and units of study information;
- links to the University’s e-learning systems;
- library services;
- important messages and student alerts;
- information technology and support services;
- information for local, indigenous and international students; and
- campus maps, with descriptions of cultural, sporting and campus facilities.

Part-time, full-time

Undergraduate students

Undergraduate students are usually considered full-time if they have a student load of at least 0.375 each semester. Anything under this amount is considered a part-time study load.

Note that some faculties have minimum study load requirements for satisfactory progress.
Postgraduate students (Coursework)
For postgraduate coursework students part-time or full-time status is determined by credit-point load. Enrolment in units of study which total at least 18 credit points in a semester is classed as full-time. Anything under this amount is a part-time study load.

Please note that classes for some coursework programs are held in the evenings (usually 6–9pm).

Postgraduate students (Research)
Full-time candidates for research degrees do not keep to the normal semester schedule, instead they work continuously throughout the year with a period of four weeks recreation leave. There is no strict definition of what constitutes full-time candidature but if you have employment or other commitments that would prevent you from devoting at least the equivalent of a 35-hour working week to your candidature (including attendance at the University for lectures, seminars, practical work and consultation with your supervisor) you should enroll as a part-time candidate. If in doubt you should consult your faculty or supervisor.

International students
Student visa regulations require international students to undertake full-time study. International students on visas other than student visas may be permitted to study part-time.

Policy online
In addition to the resolutions covering specific courses there are a number of University policies that apply to students. These include:

• The code of conduct for students
• Academic honesty in coursework
• Student plagiarism: Coursework assessment and examination of coursework

All of these policies can be accessed from the University’s Policy online website.

Privacy
The University is subject to the NSW Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998 and the NSW Health Records and Information Privacy Act 2002. Central to both acts are the sets of information protection principles (IPPs) and health privacy principles which regulate the collection, management, use and disclosure of personal and health information. In compliance with the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act the University developed a Privacy Management Plan which includes the University Privacy Policy. The Privacy Management Plan sets out the IPPs and how they apply to functions and activities carried out by the University. Both the plan and the University Privacy Policy were endorsed by the Vice-Chancellor on 28 June 2000.

Further information and a copy of the plan may be found at http://www.usyd.edu.au/arms/privacy.

Any questions regarding the Freedom of Information Act, the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act, the Health Records and Information Privacy Act or the Privacy Management Plan should be directed to:

Student Identity Cards
The student identity card functions as a library borrowing card, a transport concession card (when suitably endorsed) and a general identity card. The card must be carried at all times on the grounds of the University and must be shown on demand.

Student Services
The University provides personal, welfare, administrative and academic support services to facilitate your success at University. Many factors can impact on your wellbeing while studying at university and student services can assist you in managing and handling these more effectively. For details of services and online resources provided see your MyUni student portal or the Services for Students website: http://www.usyd.edu.au/stuserv.

The Sydney Summer School
Most faculties at the University offer units of study from undergraduate degree programs during summer. There are also some units of study available for postgraduate coursework programs from some faculties. As the University uses its entire quota of Commonwealth supported places in first and second semester, these units are full fee-paying for both local and international students and enrolment is entirely voluntary. However, Summer School units enable students to accelerate their degree progress, make up for a failed unit or fit in a unit which otherwise would not suit their timetables. New students may also gain a head start by completing subjects before they commence their degrees. Units start at various times from late November and run for up to six weeks (followed by an examination week). Notice of the units available is on the Summer School website and is usually circulated to students with their results notices. A smaller Winter School is also run from the Summer School office. It commences on 3 July and runs for up to three weeks (followed by an examination week). It offers mainly postgraduate and a few undergraduate units of study.

Information can be found on the Summer School website: http://www.summer.usyd.edu.au.

The University of Sydney Foundation Program (USFP)
The University of Sydney offers its foundation program to international students as a preparation for undergraduate degrees at several Australian universities. The Foundation Program is conducted by Taylors College on behalf of Study Group Australia and the University of Sydney. The Foundation Program allows both first and second semester entry to undergraduate courses at the University of Sydney and other universities within Australia.

Fax: +61 2 9267 0531
Timetabling Unit
The Timetabling Unit in the Student Centre is responsible for producing students’ class and tutorial timetables. Semester One timetables are available from the Wednesday of O Week through the MyUni website.

University Health Service
The University Health Service provides a full experienced general practitioner service and emergency medical care to all members of the University community. You can consult a doctor either by appointment or on a walk-in basis (for more urgent matters only). The Health Service bills Medicare or your overseas student health care provider (Worldcare or Medibank Private) directly for the full cost of most consultations.

International students

The following information is for international students studying onshore on an Australian Student Visa.

Full-time study
International students must maintain full-time enrolment at all times (a minimum of 18 credit points). However, in the following limited circumstances, part-time study is permitted:

- students studying in Australia on a different type of visa that does not carry study restrictions;
- students in their final semester who are required to take additional units to complete their course;
- cross-institutional students enrolled full-time at their home institution;
- students enrolled in an approved joint delivery program that involves enrolment at two institutions.

Satisfactory academic progress
The University is required to report to the Department of Immigration and Multicultural Affairs (DIMA) any International Student who fails to maintain satisfactory academic progress. This may result in automatic visa cancellation. It is important that International Students contact the International Office if they are experiencing academic difficulties.

Distance/web-based study
International students studying onshore in Australia are not permitted to enrol in distance or web-based courses. However, a small number of web-based units within a course taught largely in face-to-face mode are allowed. Contact the faculty to discuss enrolment options.

Work permits
International students with a work permit are permitted to work for up to 20 hours during semester and full-time during the University’s official vacation periods. Contact the International Office for more information.

Change of address
International Students must notify the University of their residential address within seven days of arrival and notify any change of address within seven days. This may be done via the University’s MyUni Web portal.

Course transfers
Sponsored students will need permission from their sponsors before transferring courses. Australian Government sponsored students (AusAID, Endeavour) and Asia Development Bank (ADB) sponsored students should contact the International Office in the early stages of considering a course transfer.

Suspension/discontinuation
The University is required to report to DIMA international students who discontinue or suspend their studies. Students who suspend their studies for severe medical or compassionate reasons should contact the International Office urgently.

Overseas student health cover
Australian Student Visa holders must maintain overseas health cover for the duration of their stay. The International Office arranges health cover for the first year but it is the individual student’s responsibility to maintain health cover for each subsequent year.

Additional information
For more information related to international students, please see the Glossary in this handbook.

Academic Board
The senior academic body within the University. In conjunction with faculties, the Academic Board has responsibility for approving, or recommending to Senate for approval, new or amended courses and units of study and policy relating to the admission and candidature of students. (For further information, see the University Calendar.)

Academic cycle
The program of teaching sessions offered over a year. Currently the cycle runs from the enrolment period for Semester One through to the completion of the processing of results at the end of Semester Two. (See also Stage.)

Academic dishonesty
Academic dishonesty occurs when a student presents another person's ideas, findings or written work as his or her own by copying or reproducing them without due acknowledgement of the source and with intent to deceive the examiner. Academic dishonesty also covers recycling, fabrication of data, engaging another person to complete an assessment or cheating in exams. (See also Plagiarism.)

Academic record
The complete academic history of a student at the University. It includes, among other things: personal details; all units of study and assessment results (marks and grades); awards and prizes obtained; infringements of progression rules; approvals for variation in course requirements and course leave; thesis and supervision details. Access to a student's academic record is restricted to authorised University staff and is not released to a third party without the written authorisation of the student. (See also Academic transcript.)

Academic transcript
A printed statement setting out a student's academic record at the University. There are two forms of academic transcript: external and internal. (See also External transcript, Internal transcript.)

Academic year
The current calendar year in which a student is enrolled. (See also Academic cycle, Stage.)

Admission
Governed by the University's admission policy, this is the process for identifying applicants eligible to receive an initial offer of enrolment in a course at the University. Admission to most courses is based on performance in the HSC, with applicants ranked on the basis of their UAI. Other criteria such as a portfolio, interview, audition, or results in standard tests may also be taken into account for certain courses.

Admission basis
The main criteria used by a faculty in assessing an application for admission to a course. The criteria used include, among other things, previous secondary, TAFE or tertiary studies; work experience; special admission; and the Universities Admission Index (UAI).

Admission (Deferment)
An applicant who receives an offer of admission to a course may apply to defer enrolment in that course for one semester or one academic cycle.

Admission mode
A classification based on how a student was admitted to a course, for example 'UAC' or 'direct'.

Admission period
The period during which applications for admission to courses are considered.

Admission year
The year the student expects to begin the course (see also Commencement date.)

Advanced diplomas
(See Award course.)

Advanced standing
(See Credit.)

Advisor
A member of academic staff appointed in an advisory role for some postgraduate coursework students. (See also Associate supervisor, Instrumental supervisor/teacher, Research supervisor, Supervision.)

Aegrotat
In exceptional circumstances involving serious illness or death of a student prior to completion of their course, the award of aegrotat and posthumous degrees and diplomas may be conferred.

Alumni sidneiensis
A searchable database of graduates of the University from 1857 to 30 years prior to the current year.

Annual average mark (AAM)
The average mark over all units of study attempted in a given academic year (equivalent to the calendar year).

The formula for this calculation is:

\[ AAM = \frac{\sum (\text{marks} \times \text{credit point value})}{\sum \text{credit point value}} \]

(sums over all units of study completed in the selected period)

Where the mark is the actual mark obtained by the student for the unit of study, or in the case of a failing grade with no mark – 0. Pass/fail assessed subjects and credit transfer subjects (from another institution) are excluded from these calculations; however, the marks from all attempts at a unit of study are included.

Annual progress report
A form which is used to monitor a research student's progress each year. The form provides for comments by the student, the supervisor, the head of the department and the dean (or their nominee). The completed form is attached to the student's official file.

Appeals
Students may lodge an appeal against academic or disciplinary decisions. An academic appeal (e.g. against exclusion) is managed by the Student Centre – Exclusions Office while it is under consideration and a record of the outcome of the appeal will be retained.
Glossary

Assessment
The process of measuring the performance of students in units of study and courses. Performance may be assessed by examinations, essays, laboratory projects, assignments, theses, treatises or dissertations. (See also Result processing, Result processing schedule.)

Formative assessment
Formative assessment is used principally to provide students with feedback on their progress in learning. It reinforce successful learning, and is an opportunity for students to expose the limitations in their knowledge and understanding.

Summative assessment
Summative assessment is used to certify competence, or to arrange students in a rank order of merit. It certifies the attainment of a standard, and is used as the basis for progression to the next part of a program, or to graduation.

Associate supervisor
A person who is appointed in addition to the supervisor of a research student, who can provide the day-to-day contact with the candidate or provide particular expertise or additional experience in supervision. (See also Advisor, Instrumental supervisor/teacher, Research supervisor, Supervision.)

Assumed knowledge
For some units of study, a student is assumed to have passed a relevant subject at the HSC and this is called assumed knowledge. While students are generally advised against taking a unit of study for which they do not have the assumed knowledge, they are not prevented from enrolling in the unit of study. (See also Prerequisite.)

Attendance pattern
Attendance pattern is classified as full-time, part-time or external, this is dependant on the student's mode of attendance and the student load.

Attendance mode
A Department of Education, Science and Technology (DEST) classification defining the manner in which a student is undertaking a course, i.e. internal, external, mixed or offshore.

Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF)
The framework for recognition and endorsement of qualifications established by the Ministerial Council on Education, Employment, Training and Youth Affairs (MCEETYA).

AUSTUDY
Austudy provides financial help to students who are aged 25 years or more who meet the required criteria, and are undertaking an approved full-time course at an approved institution. (See also Youth Allowance.)

Automated Results Transfer System (ARTS)
This system was developed by the Australasian Conference of Tertiary Admissions Centres (ACTAC) to allow the electronic academic record of a student to be accessed, via an admission centre, by tertiary institutions.

Award course
(See Course.)

B
Bachelor's degree
The highest undergraduate award offered at the University. A bachelor's degree course normally requires three or four years of full-time study or the part-time equivalent. (See also Award course.)

Barrier
An instruction placed on a student's record that prevents the student from re-enrolling or graduating. (See also Deadlines (fees), Suppression of results.)

Board of Studies
An academic body which supervises a course or courses, and which is similar to a faculty except that it is headed by a chair rather than a dean and does not supervise PhD candidates.

Bursaries
Financial award made to a student, based primarily on need. (See also Scholarships.)

C
Calendar
The annual University publication which provides general and historical information about the University of Sydney, the statutes and regulations under which it operates and the Senate resolutions relating to constitutions and courses in each faculty.

Cadigal program
A program, named in recognition of the Aboriginal people of the land on which the University is located, designed to increase the successful participation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people in degree courses in all faculties at the University of Sydney.

Campus
The grounds on which the University is situated. There are 10 campuses of the University of Sydney:
- Burren Street (Institute of Transport Studies)
- Camperdown
- Darlington
- Camden (Agriculture and Veterinary Science)
- Conservatorium (Sydney Conservatorium of Music)
- Cumberland (Health Sciences)
- Mallett Street (Nursing)
- Rozelle (Sydney College of the Arts)
- St James (Law)
- Surry Hills (Dentistry)

Cancellation
Where enrolment is cancelled for non-payment of fees.

Candidature
Candidature commences when a student is admitted to a course of study leading to the award of a degree, diploma or certificate. There are minimum periods and in some cases maximum periods of candidature depending on the award course and whether the candidate is a full-time or part-time student.

Census date
The date at which a student's enrolment, load and HECS liability are finalised before this information is reported to DEST. (See also Commonwealth-supported Student, HECS-HELP)

Ceremony
(See Graduation ceremony.)

Chancellor
The non-executive head of the University. An honorary position, the Chancellor presides over meetings of the University's governing body, the Senate, and important ceremonial occasions such as graduations.

Clinical experience
Students undertake clinical placements in a professional environment as part of their course requirements. Many require University approved supervision. In order to undertake clinical placements a student may be required to fulfill additional requirements.

College of Health Sciences
Consists of the Faculties of Dentistry; Health Sciences; Medicine; Nursing; and Pharmacy.

College of Humanities and Social Sciences (CHASS)
Consists of the Faculties of Arts; Economics and Business; Education; Law; the Sydney College of the Arts; and the Sydney Conservatorium of Music.
College of Sciences and Technology (CST)
Consists of the Faculties of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources; Architecture; Engineering; Rural Management; Science, and Veterinary Science.

Combined course
A course which leads to two awards. For example the Arts/Law course leads to the separate awards of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws.

Combined degree
A combined degree is a single program with a single set of course resolutions leading to the award of two degrees (unless otherwise specified in the resolutions). (See also Combined course.)

Commencement date
The date a student commences candidature.

Commonwealth-supported student
Most of the students who study at the University of Sydney are Commonwealth supported. These students have most of the cost of their education paid by the government but must also contribute towards this cost themselves (their student contribution).

Compulsory subscriptions
Each enrolled student is liable to pay annual (or semester) subscriptions, as determined by the Senate, to the student organisations at the University. There are different organisations for undergraduate and postgraduate students.

The student organisations are specific to different campuses. The organisations at campuses other than Camperdown and Darlington include: the Conservatorium Student Association, the Cumberland Student Guild, the Orange Agricultural College Student Association and the Student Association of Sydney College of the Arts. (See also Compulsory subscription exemption, Joining fee, Life membership.)

Compulsory subscription exemption
Students of a certain age or those with disabilities or medical conditions may be exempt from the subscription to the sports body. Conscientious objectors to the payment of subscriptions to unions of any kind may apply to the Registrar for exemption. The Registrar may permit such a student to make the payment to the Jean Foley Bursary Fund instead. (See also Compulsory subscriptions.)

Confirmation of Enrolment form (COE)
This form is issued to each student after enrolment, showing the course and the units of study in which the student is enrolled, together with the credit point value of the units of study and the HECS weights. Until all fees are paid, it is issued provisionally. A new confirmation of enrolment form is produced every time a student’s enrolment is varied.

Conjoint ventures
Two or more institutions cooperate to provide a unit or course of study to postgraduate coursework students. Arrangements exist between individual departments at the University of Sydney and individual departments at the University of New South Wales (UNSW) and the University of Technology Sydney (UTS), whereby students enrolled for a degree at one institution complete one or more units of study at the other institution to count towards the award program at their ‘home’ institution.

Continuing professional education
A process which provides a number of programs of continuing education courses for professionals as they move through their career. These programs are presently administered by the Centre for Continuing Education and a number of departments and foundations across the University. This process supports the whole of life learning concept and involves the maintenance of a long term relationship between the student and the University.

Convocation
The body comprising all graduates of the University.

Core unit of study
A unit of study that is compulsory for a particular course or subject area. (See also Unit of study.)

Corequisite
A unit of study which must be taken in the same semester or year as a given unit of study (unless it has already been completed). These are determined by the faculty or board of studies concerned, published in the faculty handbook and shown in FlexSIS. (See also Prerequisite, Waiver.)

Cotutelle Scheme
Agreement between the University and any overseas university for joint supervision and examination of a PhD student as part of an ongoing cooperative research collaboration. If successful, the student receives a doctorate from both universities with each testamur acknowledging the circumstances under which the award was made.

Course
An undertaking of study at the University of Sydney.

Award course
A formal course of study that will see attainment of a recognised award. Award courses are approved by Senate, on the recommendation of the Academic Board. The University broadly classifies courses as undergraduate, postgraduate coursework or postgraduate research. (See also Bachelor's degree, Course rules, Diploma, Doctorate, Major, Master's degree, Minor, PhD, Stream.)

Non-award course
Studies undertaken by students who are not seeking an award from the University. (See also Cross-institutional enrolment.)

Coursework
An award course not designated as a research award course. While the program of study in a coursework award course may include a component of original, supervised, other forms of instruction and learning normally will be dominant.

Research
A course in which at least 66 per cent of the overall course requirements involve students in undertaking supervised research, leading to the production of a thesis or other piece of written or creative work, over a prescribed period of time.

Course alias
A unique five character alpha-numeric code which identifies a University course.

Course code
(See Course alias.)

Course enrolment status
A student's enrolment status in a course is either 'enrolled' or 'not enrolled'. 'Not enrolled' reasons include: cancelled; suspended; under examination; or terminated. (See also Cancellation, Candidature, Course leave, Enrolment, Enrolment variation, Terminated, Under examination.)

Course leave
Students are permitted to apply for a period away from their course without losing their place. Course leave is formally approved by the supervising faculty for a minimum of one semester. Students on leave are regarded as having an active candidature, but they are not entitled to a student card. At undergraduate level, leave is not counted towards the total length of the course. Students who are absent from study without approved leave may be discontinued and may be required to formally reapply for admission. (See also Progression.)

Course rules
Rules which govern the allowable enrolment of a student in a course. Course rules may be expressed in terms of types of units of study taken, length of study, and credit points accumulated, e.g. a candidate may not enrol in units of study having a total value of more than 32 credit points per semester. Course rules also govern the requirements for the award of the course, e.g. a candidate must have completed a minimum of 144 credit points. (See also Award course, Corequisite, Prerequisite.)

Course suspension
(See Course leave.)

Course transfer
A transfer occurs when a student changes from one course in the University to another course in the University without the requirement for an application and selection process (e.g. from a PhD to a master's program in the same faculty).

Credit
The recognition of previous studies successfully completed at this University, or another university or tertiary institution recognised by the University of Sydney, as contributing to the requirements of the course to which the applicant requesting such recognition has been admitted. Credit may be granted as specified credit or non-specified credit.

Specified credit
The recognition of previously completed studies as directly equivalent to units of study.

Non-specified credit
A ‘block credit’ for a specified number of credit points at a particular level. These credit points may be in a particular subject area but are not linked to a specific unit of study. (See also AAM – Annual average mark, Waiver, Weighted average mark (WAM).)

Credit points
The value of the contribution each unit of study provides towards meeting course completion requirements. Each unit of study will have a credit point value assigned to it. The total number of credit points required for completion of award courses will be specified in the Senate Resolutions relevant to the award course.

Cross-institutional enrolment
An enrolment in units of study at one university to count towards an award course at another university. Cross-institutional enrolments incur a student-contribution liability (see Commonwealth-supported student) or tuition fee charge at the institution at which the unit of study is being undertaken. (See also Non-award course).

D

Data Audit Committee (DAC)
The Data Audit Committee's role is to oversee the integrity and accuracy of the course and unit of study data as strategic University data. It also advises the Academic Board on suggested policy changes related to course and unit of study data. A subcommittee of the VCAC Enrolment Working Party, it is chaired by the Registrar, with membership including the deans, the Student Centre, FlexSIS and the Planning Support Office.

Deadlines (Enrolment variations)
(See Enrolment variation.)

Deadlines (Fees)
The University has deadlines for the payment of fees (e.g. HECS, compulsory subscriptions, course fees). Students who do not pay fees by these deadlines may have their enrolment cancelled or they may have a barrier placed on the release of their record. (See also Barrier, Cancellation.)

Dean
The head of a faculty, or the principal or director of a college (such as the Sydney Conservatorium of Music or the Sydney College of Arts).

Dean's certificate
A statement from the Dean certifying that all requirements, including fieldwork and practical work, have been met and that the student is eligible to graduate. Not all faculties use Dean's Certificates. In faculties that do, qualified students have 'Dean's Certificate' noted on their academic record.

Deferment (Deferral)
(See Admission (deferment), Course leave.)

Degree
(See also Award course, Bachelor's degree.)

Delivery mode
Indicates how students receive the instruction for a unit of study. The delivery mode must be recorded for each unit as distinct from the attendance mode of the student, i.e. an internal student may take one or more units by distance mode and an external student may attend campus for one or more units.

Distance education
Where subject matter is delivered in a more flexible manner, such as correspondence notes, and student may only attend campus if required. (See also Extended semester, Distance education, International – off shore.)

Intensive on campus
Attendance of scheduled lectures, tutorials etc at a campus of the University.

Department
(See School.)

Department of Education, Science and Training (DEST)
The Commonwealth Government department responsible for higher education.

Differential HECS
(See Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS).)

Diploma
The award granted following successful completion of diploma course requirements. A diploma course usually requires less study than a degree course. (See also Award course.)

Direct admissions
For some courses, applications may be made directly to the University. Applications are received by faculties or the International Office, and considered by the relevant department or faculty body. Decisions are recorded and letters are forwarded to applicants advising them of the outcome. (See also Admission, UAC.)

Disability information
Students may inform the University of any temporary or permanent disability which affects their life as a student. Disability information is recorded but it is only available to particular authorised users because of its sensitive nature.

Disciplinary action
Undertaken as the result of academic or other misconduct, e.g. plagiarism, cheating, security infringement, criminal activity.

Discipline
A defined area of study, for example, chemistry, physics, economics.

Discipline group
A DEST code used to classify units of study in terms of the subject matter being taught or being researched.
Discontinuation (course)
(See Enrolment variation.)

Discontinuation (unit of study)
(See Enrolment variation.)

Dissertation
A written exposition of a topic which may include original argument substantiated by reference to acknowledged authorities. It is a required unit of study for some postgraduate award courses in the faculties of Architecture and Law.

Distance education
Where a student does not attend campus on a daily basis for a given course or unit of study. (See also Delivery mode, Extended semester.)

Doctorate
A high-level postgraduate award. A doctorate course normally involves research and coursework; the candidate submits a thesis that is an original contribution to the field of study. Entry to a doctorate course often requires completion of a master’s degree course. Note that the doctorate course is not available in all departments at the University.
(See also Award course, PhD.)

Domestic Student
A student who is not an international student. (See also Local student.)

Double degree
A double degree is a program where students are permitted by participating faculties (and/or by specific resolutions within a single award) to transfer between courses in order to complete two awards.

Downgrade
Where a student enrolled in a PhD reverts to a master’s by research, either on the recommendation of the University on the basis that the research they are undertaking is not at an appropriate level for a PhD; or at the student’s own request, for personal or academic reasons.

Equivalent full-time student unit (EFTSU)
The equivalent full-time student unit (EFTSU) is a measure of student load based on the workload for a student undertaking a full year of study in a particular course. A student is then recorded as having generated one EFTSU.
(See also Load, Stage.)

Equivalent full-time student load (EFTSL)
The equivalent full-time student load (EFTSL) for a year. It is a measure, in respect of a course of study, of the study load for a year of a student undertaking that course of study on a full-time basis (effective 1 January 2005).

Embedded courses
Award courses in the graduate certificate, graduate diploma and master’s degree by coursework sequence which allow unit of study credit points to count in more than one of the awards, e.g. the Graduate Certificate in Information Technology, Graduate Diploma in Information Technology and Master of Information Technology.

Enrolment
A student enrolls in a course by registering with the supervising faculty in the units of study to be taken in the coming year, semester or session.

Commencing
An enrolment is classified as commencing if a student has enrolled in a particular degree or diploma for the first time.

Continuing
Students already in a course at the University re-enrol each year or semester. Most continuing students are required to pre-enrol.
(See also Pre-enrolment.)

Enrolment list
A list of all currently enrolled students in a particular unit of study.
(See also Unit of study.)

Enrolment status
(See Course enrolment status.)

Enrolment Variation
Students may vary their enrolment at the beginning of each semester. Each faculty determines its deadlines for variations, but HECS liability depends on the HECS census date.
(See also HECS.)

Examination
A set of questions or exercises evaluating on a given subject given by a department or faculty. (See Examination period, Assessment.)

Examination period
The time set each semester for the conduct of formal examinations.

Examiner (Coursework)
The person assessing either the written/oral examination, coursework assignments, presentations, etc of a student or group of students.

Exchange student
Either a student of the University of Sydney who is participating in a formally agreed program involving study at an overseas university or an overseas student who is studying here on the same basis. The International Office provides administrative support for some exchanges.

Exclusion
A faculty may ask a student whose academic progress is considered to be unsatisfactory to ‘show good cause’ why the student should be allowed to re-enrol. If the faculty deems the student’s explanation unsatisfactory, or if the student does not provide an explanation, the student may be excluded either from a unit of study or from a course or faculty. An excluded student may apply to the faculty for permission to re-enrol. Normally, at least two years must have elapsed before such an application would be considered.

University policy relating to exclusion is set out in the University Calendar.
(See also Progression, Senate appeals.)

Exemption
A decision made at a sub-unit of study level to allow a student to complete a unit of study without also completing all the prescribed components of coursework and/or assessment.
(See also Credit, Waiver.)

Expulsion
The ultimate penalty of disciplinary action is to expel the student from the University. The effect of expulsion is:

- the student is not allowed to be admitted or to re-enrol in any course at the University;
- the student does not receive their results;
- the student is not allowed to graduate; and
- the student does not receive a transcript or testamur.

Extended semester
A distance-learning student may be allowed more time to complete a module or program if circumstances beyond the student’s control, e.g. drought, flood or illness, affect the student’s ability to complete the module or program in the specified time.
(See also Distance education.)

External
(See Attendance mode, Distance education.)

External transcript
A certified statement of a student’s academic record printed on official University security paper. It includes the student’s name, any credit granted, all courses the student was enrolled in and the final course result and all units of study attempted within each course together with the result. It also acknowledges prizes the student has received.
Marks can be included or omitted, as required. (See also Academic transcript, Internal transcript.)

F
Faculty
A formal part of the University's academic governance structure, consisting mainly of academic staff members and headed by a dean, which is responsible for all matters concerning the award courses that it supervises. Usually, a faculty office administers the faculty and student or staff inquiries related to its courses. The University Calendar sets out the constitution of each of the University's faculties. (See also Board of Studies, Supervising faculty.)

Faculty handbook
The annual University publication for each faculty which provided detailed information about the faculty and its courses.

FEE-HELP Loan
Fee-paying students who are Australian citizens or holders of a Permanent Humanitarian Visa can gain assistance in paying their fees through the Commonwealth Government's FEE-HELP program. There is a $50,000 limit to the amount students can borrow and a 20 per cent loan fee on the amounts borrowed through FEE-HELP.

Fee-paying students
Students who pay tuition fees to the University and are not liable for HECS.

Fellows of Senate
Members of the governing body of the University.

Flexible learning
(See Delivery mode, Distance education.)

Flexible start date
Full fee-paying distance students are not restricted to the same enrolment time frames as campus-based or HECS students.

Flexible Student Information System (FlexSIS)
The computer-based Flexible Student Information System at the University of Sydney. FlexSIS holds details of courses and units of study being offered by the University and the complete academic records of all students enrolled at the University.

Formative assessment
(See Assessment.)

Full-time student
(See also Attendance pattern, EFTSU.)

G
Grade
The outcome for a unit of study linked with a mark range. For example, a mark in the range 85–100 attracts the grade 'high distinction' ('HD'). (See also Mark.)

Graduand
A student who has completed all the requirements for an award course but has not yet graduated. (See also Graduation, Potential graduand.)

Graduate
A person who holds an award from a recognised tertiary institution. (See also Graduand, Graduation.)

Graduate Certificate
(See Award course.)

Graduate Diploma
(See Award course.)

Graduate entry degree
A bachelor's, or undergraduate degree, that requires another undergraduate degree as a prerequisite of entry. Examples of graduate entry degrees at the University of Sydney include: the Medical Program; Graduate Law and the Bachelor of Dentistry.

Graduation
The formal conferring of awards either at a ceremony or in absentia. (See also In absentia, Potential graduand.)

Graduation ceremony
A ceremony where the Chancellor confers awards upon graduands.
Group work
Means a formally established project to be conducted by a number of students in common, resulting in a single piece of assessment or a number of associated pieces of assessment. (See also Legitimate cooperation.)

Grand Weighted Average Mark (GWAM)
Is the WAM calculated over all units of study undertaken in a degree course (except those "Discontinued – Not to count as failure" and those with only a “Satisfied Requirements” result), weighted according to credit point value and the year-levels (1, 2, 3 or 4) of the units of study. The GWAM may be expressed as:

GWAM = \frac{\sum (Mark \times Credit \ Points \times Year)}{\sum (Credit \ Points \times Year)}

H
Handbook
(See Faculty handbook.)

Head of department (HOD)
The head of the academic unit which has responsibility for the relevant unit of study, or equivalent program leader.

Higher doctorates
(See Award course.)

HECS (Higher Education Contribution Scheme)
Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS)
The Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS) was the previous Commonwealth Government student loan scheme. It ceased to operate on 1 January, 2005 and was replaced by HECS-HELP (see below).

HECS-HELP Loan
Commonwealth supported students who are Australian citizens or holders of a Permanent Humanitarian Visa can choose to pay their contributions upfront or to obtain a HECS-HELP loan from the Commonwealth. A HECS-HELP loan is repaid through the tax system once the student is working and their income reaches a threshold (currently around $35,000). Students who choose to pay their student contribution upfront receive a 20 per cent discount. The student's contribution is calculated twice a year (before each semester).

Honorary degrees
A degree honoris causa (translated from the Latin as 'for the purpose of honouring') is conferred on a person whom the University wishes to honour. Long-standing full-time members of the University's academic staff who are not graduates of the University may be considered by Senate, upon their retirement, for admission ad eundem gradum, to an appropriate degree of the University.

Honours
Some degrees may be completed 'with Honours'. This may involve either the completion of a separate honours year or additional work in the later years of the course or meritorious achievement over all years of the course. Honours are awarded in a class (Class I, Class II – which may have two divisions or, Class III).

NSW Higher School Certificate (HSC)
The NSW Higher School Certificate (HSC), which is normally completed at the end of year 12 of secondary school. The UAI (Universities Admission Index) is a rank out of 100 that is computed from a student's performance in the HSC.

In absentia
Latin for 'in the absence of'. Awards are conferred in absentia when graduands do not, or cannot, attend the graduation ceremony scheduled for them. Those who have graduated in absentia may later request that they be presented to the Chancellor at a graduation ceremony. (See also Graduation.)

Instrumental supervisor/teacher
All students at the Sydney Conservatorium of Music and BMus students on the Camperdown Campus have an instrumental teacher appointed. (See also Advisor, Associate supervisor, Research supervisor, Supervision.)

Internal mode
(See Attendance mode.)

Internal transcript
A record of a student's academic record for the University's own internal use. It includes the student's name, student identifier (SID), address, all courses in which the student was enrolled and the final course result, and all units of study attempted within each course together with the unit of study result. (See also Academic transcript, External transcript.)

International student
Any student who is not an Australian or New Zealand citizen or a permanent resident of Australia is an international student. An international student is required to hold a visa that allows study in Australia and may be liable for international tuition fees.

Fee-paying
A private International Student who is liable to pay tuition fees for their studies with the University.

Fee-paying – Outgoing exchange
An international fee-paying student undertaking short term study at a recognised overseas institution with which the University has a student exchange agreement. Exchange study counts towards the student's University of Sydney award and students remain enrolled in their University of Sydney course during the period of exchange.

International – cross-institutional
An international fee paying student undertaking non-award study at the University on a cross-institutional basis. They are liable to pay fees for the study they undertake at the University, but there is no compliance reporting requirement, which rests with their 'home' institution.

International – Sponsored
A private international student who is fully sponsored for his/her tuition; his/her sponsorship may also cover Overseas Health Cover and Compulsory Subscriptions.

Offshore studies
International offshore students undertake their program of study at one of the University's offshore campuses and hence do not enter Australia; therefore they do not require a visa. They are distinct from international students who are on outbound exchange programs as they never enter Australia during their program of study.

Short course
An international fee-paying student undertaking a short course with the University of Sydney comprising such programs as international development programs, executive training or study visits. The study undertaken by these students is non-award and generally a student visa is not required.

Sponsored award
An international student sponsored by the Australian government, undertaking a program of study at the University. Currently Australian Development Scholarships holders, funded by AusAID, are the only students in this category. These students are fully sponsored for their tuition and other costs such as travel and health cover, and are paid a stipend.

Study Abroad
An international student who is undertaking short-term study at the Glossary

University under the Study Abroad scheme. Study Abroad students must have completed at least one year of study towards a degree at a recognised institution in their home country and are continuing towards the degree of their home institution. (See also Local student, Student type.)

J

Joining fee
Students enrolling for the first time pay a joining fee in addition to the standard subscription for the University of Sydney Union or equivalent student organisation. (See also Compulsory subscription.)

L

Learning Entitlement
Each student has a seven year full-time period during which they can remain Commonwealth supported. This seven year period is called their 'learning entitlement'.

Leave
See Course leave.

Legitimate cooperation
Any constructive educational and intellectual practice that aims to facilitate optimal learning outcomes through interaction between students. (See also Group work.)

Life membership
Under some circumstances (e.g. after five full-time years of enrolments and contributions) students may be granted life membership of various organisations. This means they are exempt from paying yearly fees. (See also Compulsory subscriptions.)

Load
The sum of the weights of all the units of study in which a student is enrolled. The weight is determined by the proportion of a full year's work represented by the unit of study in the degree or diploma for which the student is a candidate. Student load is measured in terms of Equivalent full-time student units (EFTSU). (See also Equivalent full-time student units (EFTSU).)

Local Student
Either an Australian or New Zealand citizen or Australian permanent resident. New Zealand citizens are required to pay their Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS) fees upfront. (See also Commonwealth-supported student, Domestic student, International student.)

M

Major
A field of study, chosen by a student, to represent their principal interest; this would consist of specified units of study from later stages of the award course. Students select and transfer between majors by virtue of their selection of units of study. One or more majors may be awarded upon the graduand's assessment of study. (See also Award course, Minor, Stream.)

Major timetable clash
The term used when a student attempts to enrol in units of study which have so much overlap in the teaching times that it has been decided that students must not enrol in the units simultaneously.

Mark
An integer (rounded if necessary) from 0 to 100 indicating a student's performance in a unit of study. (See also Grade.)

Master's degree
A postgraduate award. Master's degree courses may be offered by coursework, research only or a combination of coursework and research. Entry to the course often requires completion of an honours year at an undergraduate level. (See also Award course.)

Method of candidature
A course is either a research course or a coursework course and so the methods of candidature are 'research' and 'coursework'. (See also Course – Coursework, Course – Research.)

Minor
Studies undertaken to support a Major. Requiring a smaller number of credit points than a major students select and transfer between minors (and majors) by virtue of their selection of units of study. One or more minors may be awarded upon the graduand's assessment of study. (See also Award course, Major, Stream.)

Mixed mode
(See Attendance mode.)

MPhil
The Master of Philosophy (MPhil) is a master's by research degree offered by some (but not all) of the University's faculties. (See also Award course, Master's degree.)

Mutually exclusive units of study
(See Prohibited combinations of units of study.)

MyUni
The University of Sydney's student portal system. It provides students with access to information about the University and its courses, including access to email, library services, student support services, student self-administration and e-learning software such as Blackboard and WebCT.

N

Non-award course
(See Course.)

Non-standard session
A teaching session other than the standard February and August sessions – e.g. Summer School, in which units of study are delivered and assessed in an intensive mode during January. (See also Semester, Session.)

O

Orientation Week
Orientation or 'O Week', takes place in the week before lectures begin in Semester One. During O Week, students can join various clubs, societies and organisations, register for courses with departments and take part in activities provided by the University of Sydney Union.

P

Part-time student
(See Attendance mode, Attendance pattern, Equivalent full-time student units (EFTSU).)

Permanent home address
The address used for all official University correspondence with a student, both inside and outside of semester time (e.g. during semester breaks), unless the student provides a different overridden by semester address for use during the semester. (See also Semester address.)

PhD
The Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) and other doctorate awards are the highest awards available at the University. A PhD course is normally purely research-based; the candidate submits a thesis that is an original contribution to the field of study. (See also Award course, Doctorate.)
Plagiarism
Presenting another person's ideas, findings or work as one's own by copying or reproducing them without the acknowledgement of the source. (See also Academic dishonesty.)

Postgraduate
A term used to describe a course leading to an award such as graduate diploma, a master's degree or PhD which usually requires prior completion of a relevant undergraduate degree (or diploma) course. A 'postgraduate' is a student enrolled in such a course. (See also Course – Coursework, Course – Research.)

Postgraduate Education Loans Scheme (PELS)
An interest-free loans facility for eligible students who are enrolled in fee-paying, postgraduate non-research courses. It is similar to the deferred payment arrangements available under the Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS). This scheme was replaced by the FEE-HELP scheme on 1 January 2005. (See FEE-HELP Loan.)

Potential graduand
A student who has been identified as being eligible to graduate on the satisfactory completion of their current studies. (See also Graduand, Graduation.)

Pre-enrolment
Pre-enrolment – also known as provisional re-enrolment – takes place in October, when students indicate their choice of unit of study enrolment for the following year. After results are approved, pre-enrolment students are regarded as enrolled in those units of study for which they are qualified. Their status is 'enrolled' and remains so provided they pay any money owing and comply with other requirements by the due date. Students who do not successfully pre-enrol in their units of study for the next regular session are required to attend the University on set dates during the January/February enrolment period. (See also Enrolment.)

Prerequisite
A unit of study that is required to be successfully completed before another unit of study can be attempted. Prerequisites can be mandatory (compulsory) or advisory. (See also Assumed knowledge, Corequisite, Waiver, Qualifier.)

Prizes
Awarded in recognition of outstanding performance, academic achievement or service to the community or University.

Probationary candidature
A student who is enrolled in a postgraduate course on probation for a period of time up to one year. The head of department is required to consider the candidate's progress during the period of probation and make a recommendation for normal candidature or otherwise to the faculty.

Professional practice
Students undertake placement in a professional practice as a part of their course requirements. May require University approved supervision. Professional placements are located in a wide range of professional practices environments, and may not require additional criteria to be fulfilled.

Progression
Satisfactory progression is satisfying all course and faculty rules (normally assessed on an annual basis) to enable the completion of the chosen award within the (maximum) completion time allowed. (See also Exclusion.)

Prohibited combinations of units of study
When two or more units of study contain a sufficient overlap of content, enrolment in any one such unit prohibits enrolment in any other identified unit. (See also unit of study.)

Provisional re-enrolment
(See Pre-enrolment.)

Q
Qualification
An academic attainment recognised by the University.

Qualifier
A mandatory (compulsory) prerequisite unit of study which must have a grade of pass or better. (See also Assumed knowledge, Corequisite, Prerequisite, Waiver.)

R
Recycling
The submission for assessment of one's own work, or of work which substantially the same, which has previously been counted towards the satisfactory completion of another unit of study, and credited towards a university degree, and where the examiner has not been informed that the student has already received credit for that work.

Registration
In addition to enrolling with the faculty in units of study, students must register with the department responsible for teaching each unit. This is normally done during Orientation Week. Note that unlike enrolment, registration is not a formal record of units attempted by the student.

Research course
(See Course – Research.)

Research supervisor
A supervisor is appointed to each student undertaking a research postgraduate degree. The supervisor will be a full-time member of the academic staff or a person external to the University recognised for their association with the clinical teaching or the research work of the University. A research supervisor is commonly referred to as a supervisor. (See also Advisor, Associate supervisor, Instrumental supervisor/teacher, Supervision.)

Result processing
Refers to the processing of assessment results for units of study. For each unit of study, departments tabulate results for all assessment activities and assign preliminary results. (See also Assessment, Formative assessment, Examination period, Summative assessment.)

Result processing schedule
The result processing schedule will be determined for each academic cycle. All departments and faculties are expected to comply with this schedule. (See also Assessment, Examination period, Result processing.)

Result
The official statement of a student's performance in each unit of study attempted as recorded on the academic transcript, usually expressed as a mark and grade. (See also Grade, Mark.)

Research Training Scheme (RTS)
The RTS provides Commonwealth-funded higher degree by research (HDR) students with an 'entitlement' to a HECS exemption for the duration of an accredited HDR course, up to a maximum period of four years full-time equivalent study for a doctorate by research and two years full-time equivalent study for a master's by research.

S
Scholarships
Financial or other form of support made available to enable students to further their studies. (See also Bursaries.)
School
A school or academic unit shall encourage and facilitate teaching, scholarship and research and coordinate the teaching and examining duties of members of staff in the subjects or courses of study with which it is concerned.

Semester
A half-yearly teaching session whose dates are determined by the Academic Board. Normally all undergraduate sessions will conform to the semesters approved by the Academic Board. Any offering of an undergraduate unit not conforming to the semester dates (non-standard session) must be given special permission by the Academic Board. (See also Session, Non-standard session.)

Semester address
The address to which all official University correspondence is sent during semester time, if it is different to the permanent address.

Senate
The governing body of the University. (See the University Calendar for more details of its charter and powers.)

Senate appeals
Senate appeals are held for those students who, after being excluded by a faculty from a course, appeal to the Senate for readmission. While any student may appeal to the Senate against an academic decision, such an appeal will normally be heard only after the student has exhausted all other avenues, i.e. the department, faculty, board of study and, in the case of postgraduates, the Committee for Graduate Studies. (See also Exclusion.)

Session
Any period of time during which a unit of study is taught. A session differs from a semester in that it need not be a six-month teaching period, but it cannot be longer than six months. Each session maps to either Semester One or Two for DEST reporting purposes. Session offerings are approved by the relevant dean, taking into account all the necessary resources, including teaching space and staffing. The Academic Board must approve variation to the normal session pattern. (See also Semester, Non-standard teaching period.)

Session address
(See Semester address.)

Short course
A fee paying student undertaking a short course with the University of Sydney comprising professional development, executive training etc. The study undertaken by these students is a non-award course.

Show cause
(See Progression, Exclusion.)

Special consideration
Candidates who suffer serious illness or misadventure which may affect performance in any assessment, may request that they be given special consideration in relation to the determination of their results.

Sponsorship
Financial support of a student by a company or government body.

Stage
A normal full-time course of study taken in a year. (See also Course rules, EFTSU, Progression.)

Stream
A defined award course, which requires the completion of set units of study as specified by the course rules for the particular stream, in addition to the core program specified by the course rules. A stream will appear with the award course name on transcripts, e.g. Bachelor of Engineering in Civil Engineering (Construction Management). (See also Award course, Major, Minor.)

Student
Student means a person enrolled as a candidate for an award course or unit of study.

Student identifier (SID)
A nine-digit number which uniquely identifies a student at the University.

Student ID Card
All students who enrol are issued with an identification card. The card includes the student’s name, SID, the course code, a library borrower’s bar code and a passport-style photo. The card identifies the student as eligible to attend classes and must be displayed at formal examinations. It must be presented to secure student concessions and to borrow books from all sections of the University Library.

Student progress rate (SPR)
A calculation which measures the rate at which load undertaken is passed annually in each award program.

Student type
Student type identifies whether a student is local or international and the type of study the student is undertaking. (See also International student, Domestic student, Exchange student.)

Study Abroad program
A scheme administered by the International Office which allows international students who are not part of an exchange program to take units of study at the University of Sydney, but not towards an award program. In most cases the units of study taken here are credited towards an award at their home institution. (See also Exchange student.)

Subject area
A unit of study may be associated with one or more subject areas. The subject area can be used to define prerequisite and course rules, e.g. the unit of study ‘History of Momoyama and Edo Art’ may count towards the requirements for the subject areas ‘Art History and Theory’ and ‘Asian Studies’.

Summative assessment
See Assessment.

Summer School
(See Sydney Summer School.)

Supervising faculty
The faculty which has the responsibility for managing the academic administration of a particular course, i.e. the interpretation and administration of course rules, approving students’ enrolments and variations to enrolments. Normally the supervising faculty is the faculty offering the course. However, in the case of combined courses, one of the two faculties involved will usually be designated the supervising faculty. Further, in the case where one course is jointly offered by two or more faculties (e.g. the Liberal Studies course), a joint committee may make academic decisions about candidature and the student may be assigned a supervising faculty for administration.

Supervision
Refers to a one-to-one relationship between a student and a nominated member of the academic staff or a person specifically appointed to the role. (See also Advisor, Associate supervisor, Instrumental supervisor/teacher, Research supervisor.)

Suppression of results
Results for a particular student can be suppressed by the University when the student has an outstanding debt to the University; or the student is facing disciplinary action. A student may also request a suppression for personal reasons.

Suspension
(See Course leave.)

Sydney Summer School
A program of accelerated, intensive study running for approximately six weeks during January and February each year. Both undergraduate and postgraduate units are offered. Summer School provides an opportunity for students at Sydney and other universities to catch up on needed units of study, to accelerate completion of a course or to undertake a unit that is outside their award course. All units attract full fees and enrolled students are also liable for compulsory subscriptions. Some fee-waiver scholarships are available.

Semester Weighted Average Mark (SWAM)
Is the WAM calculated over all units of study undertaken in a semester (except those 'Discontinued – Not to count as failure' and those with only a 'Satisfied Requirements' result), weighted according to credit point value. The SWAM may be expressed as:

SWAM = \frac{\sum (\text{Mark} \times \text{Credit points})}{\sum \text{(Credit points)}}

T

Teaching department
(See School.)

Teaching end date
Official finish date of formal timetabled classes.

Teaching start date
Official commencement date of formal timetabled classes.

Terminated
Term used when a student’s candidature has been officially closed because they are not able to complete the Course requirements. (See also Candidature.)

Testamur
A certificate of award provided to a graduand, usually at a graduation ceremony. The Award conferred will be displayed along with other appropriate detail.

Thesis
A major work that is the product of an extended period of supervised independent research. (See also Course – Research.)

Timetable
The schedule of lectures, tutorials, laboratories and other academic activities that a student must attend.

Transcript
(See Academic transcript.)

Transfer
(See Course transfer.)

Tuition fees
Tuition fees may be charged to students in designated tuition fee-paying courses. Students who pay fees are not liable for HECS.

U

Universities Admissions Centre (UAC)
The UAC receives and processes applications for admission to undergraduate courses at recognised universities in NSW and the ACT. Most commencing, local undergraduate students at the University apply through the UAC.

Universities Admission Index (UAI)
A measure of overall academic achievement in the HSC that assists universities in ranking applicants for university selection. The UAI is based on the aggregate of scaled marks in ten units of the HSC, and is a number between 0.00 and 100.00 with increments of 0.05.

Under examination
Indicates that a research student has submitted their written work (thesis) for assessment, and is awaiting the finalisation of the examiners’ outcome and recommendation.

Undergraduate
A term used to describe both a course leading to a diploma or bachelor's degree and a student enrolled in such a course.

Unit of study
Unit of study or unit means a stand-alone component of an award course. Each unit of study is the responsibility of a department. (See also Prohibited combinations of unit of study.)

Unit of study enrolment status
The enrolment status indicates whether the student is still actively attending the unit of study (i.e. currently enrolled) or is no longer enrolled. (See also Discontinuation or Cancellation.)

Unit of study level
Units of study are divided into Junior, Intermediate, Senior, Honours, Year 5, and Year 6. Most majors consist of 32 Senior credit points in a subject area (either 3000 level units of study or a mix of 2000 and 3000 level units of study).

University
Unless otherwise indicated, University in this document refers to the University of Sydney.

University Medal
A faculty may recommend the award of a University Medal to a student qualified for the award of an undergraduate honours degree (or some master's degrees), whose academic performance is judged to be outstanding.

Upgrade
Where a student enrolled in a master's by research course is undertaking research at such a standard that either the University recommends that the student upgrade their degree to a PhD, or the student seeks to upgrade to a PhD and this is supported by the University.

USYDnet
The University of Sydney’s intranet system. It provides access to other services such as directories (maps, staff and student, organisations), a calendar of events (to which staff and students can submit entries), and a software download area.

V

Variation of enrolment
(See Enrolment variation.)

Vice-Chancellor and Principal
The chief executive officer of the University, responsible for its leadership and management. The Vice-Chancellor and Principal is head of both academic and administrative divisions.

W

Waiver
In a prescribed course, a faculty may waive the prerequisite or corequisite requirement for a unit of study or the course rules for a particular student. Unlike credit, waivers do not involve a reduction in the number of credit points required for a course. (See also Credit, Exemption.)

Winter School
An intensive session offered by the University during the mid-year break.

Weighted average mark (WAM)
This mark uses the unit of study credit point value in conjunction with an agreed ‘weight’. The formula for this calculation is:
Where $W_c$ is the weighted credit point value – i.e., the product of the credit point value and the level of weighting of 1, 2, 3, or 4 for a first, second, third or fourth year unit of study respectively; and where $M_c$ is the greater of 45 or the mark out of 100 for the unit of study.

The mark is the actual mark obtained by the student for the unit of study, or in the case of a failing grade with no mark – 0. Pass/fail assessed subjects and credit transfer subjects (from another institution) are excluded from these calculations; however, the marks from all attempts at a unit of study are included. (Effective from 1 January 2004.)

In addition, faculties may adopt other average mark formulae for specific progression or entry requirements. If such a formula is not specified in the faculty resolutions, the formula outlined above is used. (See also WAM weight.)

WAM weight
A weight assigned to each unit of study to assist in the calculation of WAMs.

---

Y

Year of first enrolment (YFE)
The year in which a student first enrols at the University. (See also Commencement date.)

Youth Allowance
Youth Allowance is payable to a full-time student or trainee aged 16–24 years of age who is enrolled at an approved institution such as a school, college, TAFE or university, and undertaking at least 15 hours a week face-to-face contact.
