Mosaic Museum of Tunisia

Mosaic Museum of Tunisia is a contemporary building which provides a space for an audience to visualise and experience the ancient mosaics. This cubical building is built right in the middle of the urban area representing the development of the Tunisian civilisation. There is a direct connection between the overall shape of the building and what is inside it. Its cubical shape and separation of the buildings gives a dynamic characteristic to the building and give audience a general idea of what the concept of the building is. The mosaics inside the buildings, tells the story of the history of Tunisia. Each separated buildings consists mosaics of different time.
