Message from the Dean

As Dean, I am very pleased to welcome you to the Faculty of Arts. We are passionate about the role of the humanities and social sciences in the world today - whether in addressing age-old questions at the heart of the human condition, or in tackling some of the most pressing social, political, economic and cultural challenges of our time.

The Faculty is especially proud of our talented postgraduate students, many of who come from around the world to study with us. We have nearly 600 research students studying for Masters and PhD degrees and over 1000 coursework students.

Our coursework programs offer you the opportunity to deepen your knowledge and skills in relation to a particular discipline, or explore exciting interdisciplinary areas such as Asian Studies, European Studies, Development Studies and Cross-cultural Communication.

I am delighted that you are considering undertaking a postgraduate degree in our Faculty. In joining us, you will be embarking on what I am sure will be an exciting and rewarding intellectual journey.

Professor Duncan Ivison
Dean of the Faculty of Arts
The Faculty of Arts was established in 1852 as the founding faculty of The University of Sydney, Australia’s first university. The Faculty of Arts is one of the largest faculties in the University with just under one quarter of the University’s students enrolled in Arts degrees.

In 2011 the Faculty of Arts will again offer a wide range of postgraduate courses, including programs designed to meet the needs for continuing professional education.

The faculty is the umbrella for four schools which, in turn, are the administrative centres for forty departments, Centres and interdisciplinary postgraduate programs.

School of Languages and Cultures
- Department of Arabic and Islamic Studies
- Asian Studies program
- Buddhist Studies Program
- Department of Chinese Studies
- Department of French Studies
- European Studies program
- Department of Germanic Studies
- Department of Hebrew, Biblical and Jewish Studies
- International and Comparative Literary Studies program
- Department of Indian Sub-Continent Studies
- Department of Indonesian Studies
- Department of Italian Studies
- Department of Japanese Studies
- Department of Korean Studies
- Department of Modern Greek Studies
- Department of Spanish and Latin American Studies

School of Letters, Art, and Media
- Department of Art History and Film Studies
- Celtic Studies program
- Digital Cultures program
- Department of English
- Linguistics program
- Department of Media and Communications
- Centre for Medieval Studies
- Department of Museum Studies
- Department of Performance Studies
- Department of Studies in Religion

School of Philosophical and Historical Inquiry
- Department of Archaeology
- Department of Classics and Ancient History
- Sydney Centre for the Foundations of Science
- Department of Gender and Cultural Studies
- Department of History
- Centre for Time
- Department of Philosophy

School of Social and Political Sciences
- Department of Anthropology
- Department of Government and International Relations
- Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies
- Department of Political Economy
- Department of Sociology and Social Policy

The faculty also administers postgraduate coursework and research programs offered by the United States Studies Centre.

The faculty is responsible for the administration of all postgraduate enrolments, candidature records and variations, notification of the award of all degrees, and the examination of research theses. If you are intending to vary your enrolment in any way, for coursework or research candidature, you must apply to the Faculty of Arts office directly. Informing the school office or the academic staff member convening your course is not sufficient. Forms relating to applications to vary enrolment (adding or withdrawing from a unit of study; requesting a period of suspension; cross-listing a unit of study from outside your regular program etc) are available from the faculty office, or the faculty’s web pages:

4. Units of study – descriptions

Postgraduate Coursework Units of Study Descriptions

ANHS6905
The Mediterranean World 51-30 BC
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Kathryn Welch
Session: Semester 1
Classes: 1x2 hour seminar per week
Assessment: 1x2000 word seminar paper (35%), 5x400 word short book reviews (35%), 1x1000 word seminar presentation (20%) and participation (10%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

In 51 BC, Cleopatra became queen of Egypt on the death of her father Ptolemy Auletes. In 49 BC an expected civil war broke out in Rome. The two incidents were to become intricately entwined as the civil wars of Rome moved to the East. Only by moving with the Romans will we understand the mechanics of their civil wars and the deep-seated changes which resulted from them. This course offers a chance to study the crisis in Mediterranean world in the second half of the 1st century BC from both points of view and to see how two ends of it were affected by each other.

ANHS6903
A Tale of Three Cities
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Richard Miles
Session: Semester 2
Classes: 1x2 hour seminar per week
Assessment: 2x2000 word seminar papers (65%), 1x2000 word take-home exam (35%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

'Great nations write their autobiographies in three manuscripts: the book of their deeds, the book of their words and the book of their art.' (Ruskin) Empires spawn capital cities whose deeds, words and art reflect the ideograph of their imperialism. Compare three imperial cities: democratic Athens as a ruler of a Hellenic empire in the time of Pericles; the republican city state of Rome turning into an autocratic world state in the time of Caesar Augustus; the evolution of fourth century Constantinople as the centre of a Christian bureaucratic and Hellenistic empire.

ANTH6901
Anthropology of the Nation State
Arts
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Prohibitions: ANTH4011 Assessment: 1x1000wd review and presentation (40%), 1x3000wd essay (60%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit explores power and inequality in nation states through issues of racism, sexuality, identity, exploitation, marginalisation and religious practice. Ethnographies covering South America, the Caribbean, Southeast and East Asia, and Australia examine ways people deal with such issues in daily life, drawing on old and new meanings and practices. The unit shows how systems of power impact, the role of nationalism and economies on cultural practice, and critiques hegemonic understandings which deny peripheralised peoples a cultural capacity.

ANTH6910
Supervised Reading I
Arts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Robbie Peters Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Prohibitions: ANTH6921 Assessment: 1x2000wd literature review (40%), 1x3000wd essay (60%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

This is one of four postgraduate units of study designed to consolidate an understanding of contemporary debates within the discipline of anthropology and give students the skills required to frame a specific research project. Key questions include: (1) do cultural processes create their own space-time? (2) do they create different kinds of places? (3) the implications of processes of reterritorialisation; (4) the implications of these questions for an anthropological methodology based on fieldwork.

Supervised Reading II
Arts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Neil Maclean Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Prohibitions: ANTH6922 Assessment: 1x2000wd literature review (40%), 1x3000wd essay (60%). Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

What is culture? One of the most influential concepts of the twentieth century has also been a central idea in anthropology. This unit will trace some major twists and turns in definition of the concept of over the past century. In particular, the course will consider whether or not the culture concept as presently construed is compatible with a global world and with current forms of critical thought.

Ethnographic Method
Arts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Robbie Peters Session: Semester 2 Classes: Please consult Dept for class schedule Assessment: 1x3000wd (equiv) practical exercise (60%) 1x500wd tutorial paper (10%) and 1 take-home exam (30%) Practical field work: 1 x practical exercise, 2000 words (equiv.) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Ethnography/Participant Observation emerged as the foundational method of modern anthropology with the recognition that the study of other cultures required an understanding of them as lived by their participants. Students follow the development of the method in a variety of social contexts (urban, village, tribe, corporation) forms of relationship (language, performance, space, exchange) forms of representation (notes, description, narrative, analysis, film) and as a sustained critical dialogue about the self, politics and the ethics of the ethnographer.

ANTH6916
Culture and Development: Key Concepts
Arts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Terry Woronov Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x750wd review (25%), 1x750wd essay (25%), 1x2000wd take-home exam (50%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

The unit introduces students with no background in the social sciences to key social science concepts relevant to a critical understanding of intercultural contexts of communication and project development. The unit will enable students to better conceptualise the social and political contexts within which inter-cultural relationships develop and the enabling and constraining aspects of those contexts.

ARBC6901
Issues in Arab Political Culture
Arts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Nijmeh Hajjar Session: Semester 2 Classes: 2x1-hr seminars/week Assessment: 2x2000wd essays (70%), 2x1000wd oral presentations (30%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

This unit of study focuses on the question of political culture in the modern Arab World (in West Asia and North Africa) through in-depth discussion of the historical, sociological, and ideological factors that have contributed to the patterns of political behaviour in the Arab states. The dialectics of unity and diversity and of change and continuity are running themes in the methodology of this course. Special attention is given to the particular historical experiences of different Arab countries. Main topics include: The significance of the classical Islamic and Ottoman legacies; the question of political legitimacy; primordial (local, tribal, ethnic, confessional) loyalties versus political integration; tensions between pan-Arab Nationalism and the idea of the "nation-state"; the Arab regional system; the place of question of Palestine and the Arab-Israeli conflict in Arab political culture; Arab politics between "secularisation" and Islamic radicalism. The course addresses these issues in concrete historical and sociological terms.

Central Asia From Alexander to Islam

Arts

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Assoc Prof Alison Betts
Session: Semester 1
Classes: 1x2 hour seminar per week
Assessment: 1x2000 word essay (40%), 1x3000 word research paper (60%)

Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Central Asia from the 4th century BC to the 7th century AD was rich and vibrant. Here the Chinese, Central Asian, Indian, Mediterranean and Persian worlds met and mingled. Kingdoms and empires rose and fell, creating an ever changing web of culture, religion and artistic influence. The unit will explore Central Asia during this dynamic period with a particular emphasis on the transmission of cultural and spiritual practices among highly disparate communities.

Assessment: 2x2000wd essays (100%)

The relation of film to industrial modernity is an ongoing issue for film theorists. With the advent of digital image processes and production the relation of art and industry has re-emerged with a new set of problems. How do we conceptualise the new forms? What theoretical and aesthetic language(s) do we draw on? And how best to rethink film in the face of rapid technological, formal and cultural change? These issues will be investigated via an examination of the history of film theory’s attempts to formulate concepts adequate to the age of industrial modernity.

Art curatorship is both a practical and theoretical activity, one that could be said to itself create rather than simply respond to the aesthetic debates within art history and film studies. This unit critically analyses the practical decisions curators, exhibition designers and educators make in staging and framing art exhibitions, developing the various aesthetic implications of these decisions. Students will be encouraged to apply a range of critical methodologies from art history and visual theory to the study of recent art exhibitions, addressing different curatorial display strategies.

By the end of this unit of study, students will understand that scholarly research is an essential component of successful art history and art curatorship, and appreciate the synergy produced when practical and research elements are combined. They will be able to undertake primary research, to differentiate between primary and secondary sources, and to interrogate them appropriately. They will be able to create a curatorial/research profile for an art object form scratch, in the absence of previous research. Most importantly, although this unit of study concentrates on Australian material culture, students will be able to apply the same principles and skills to any international curatorial and scholarly situation.

Is the network the distinctive mode of organisation for the 21st century? The Internet is the paradigmatic mode of decentralised many-to-many communication that interconnects with the century-old telecommunications and broadcasting networks. Geopolitical networks have displaced left/right Cold War oppositions. Social and professional networks extend influence beyond traditional institutional and family allegiances. Network models have challenged rationalist rule-governed models of thought and practice. The interdisciplinary critical analysis of current research, theory and debates will allow students to understand and evaluate the significance of networks in the contemporary world.

Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit is a compulsory core unit for the Master of Asian Studies. The unit will explore some of the most challenging and sensitive issues confronting Asian societies today while providing training in the conceptual methods used to critically and objectively examine those issues. Where do globalization and rapid economic change leave human rights, minority groups, women, civil society, environment, the poor and the ideals of religious and cultural integrity? Case studies will be used to illustrate concepts, theories and critical methods that can help our thinking on such issues.

ASNS6903
Theory and Method in Asian Studies
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Olivier Ansart
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week
Assessment: 1x2000wd mid-term essay (30%), 1x3000wd final essay (50%), class performance including oral presentation (20%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit is open only to MA (research) and Honours students. Students will be introduced to the theories and intellectual perspectives in humanities and social sciences that are important in the Asian context. They will also learn different methodological approaches to Asian Studies, including archival and library research, ethnographic fieldwork, and interview techniques. Students will pursue their own research projects to apply and demonstrate some of the theories and research methods they have learned.

ASNS6904
Human Rights in Asia
Arts
This unit of study is not available in 2011

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Drs David Bray and Michele Ford
Session: Semester 2
Classes: 2 hours per week
Assessment: 1 x 1500 word review essay on theoretical modules (30%); 1 x 3000 word research essay on a topic related to human rights (50%); participation (20%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit of study provides students with the opportunity to engage critically with different concepts of human rights and explore case studies concerning the exercise of civil and political, economic and socio-cultural rights in a range of Asian contexts. Students are encouraged to interrogate the idea of human rights and to understand the interaction between intellectual traditions, cultural legacies and social and political practices in Asian contexts.

ASNS6905
Asian Popular Culture
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Rebecca Suter
Session: Semester 1
Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week
Assessment: 1x1500wd analytical report on an Asian media item (30%), 1x3500wd major essay (60%), class participation (10%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Asia is fast becoming the centre of new developments in the mass media. Focusing on East and Southeast Asia, this unit will introduce major regional trends in film and television, differences in media systems, and cross-cultural understandings of Asian media. Particular focus will be on the analysis of feature films and television from Japan, Korea, Indonesia, Thailand and/or China, and on pan-Asian developments. These analyses will include discussions of the social, cultural and political roles of media.

ASNS6906
Communicating in Asian Contexts
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Nerida Jarkey
Session: Semester 2
Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week
Assessment: online learning activities (10%), groupwork data-gathering and presentation (20%), 1x report/essay (35%), 1x1hr exam (35%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit takes a cross-cultural approach to analysing the interactions of speakers of Asian languages and other language backgrounds, both Asian and non-Asian. Theoretical approaches are introduced through case studies, focusing on cultural key words, language systems and interaction styles. Students will reflect on their own cultures, languages and interaction styles, and undertake 'cross-cultural' or 'intercultural' research, using secondary and primary sources (including videos, interviews, chat rooms). This is not a language unit; no knowledge of Asian languages is assumed.

ASNS6908
Media Industries in East Asia
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Ki-Sung Kwak
Session: Semester 2
Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week
Assessment: 1xpresentation (equivalent to 1000wds) (20%), 1x1500wd industry report (30%), 1x2500wd major essay (50%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit examines the development and challenges of media industries in East Asia, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Hong Kong SAR, and China. It takes a broad comparative approach to identify political, economic, social, cultural and technological factors that affect the industries in this dynamic region. The unit covers various aspects of old and new media in the region, such as development and transformation of media industries, state regulation and policy, and the implications of the emergence of new communications technologies.

ASNS6910
Peace and Reconciliation in East Asia
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Leonid Petrov
Session: Semester 2
Classes: 1x1-hr lecture/week, 1x1-hr tutorial/week, 1x1-hr online/week
Assessment: group data-gathering and presentation (equivalent to 1000wds) (15%), online learning (equivalent to 1000wds) (15%), 1x2000wd mid-term essay (35%), 1x1hr final exam (1000wds) (35%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit examines the history of conflicts which occurred between China, Japan and Korea in the 20th Century. Although some of these conflicts are in the past, many remain unresolved until the present. East Asian historical controversies, the activity of governments, grassroots and academic groups working towards sustainable peace in the region and the role of new media in promoting intra-regional reconciliation will be examined. The conflicting approaches to regional peace, cooperation and reunification will help students understanding the contemporary issues, which continue impeding reconciliation in East Asia.

BDST6903
Tibetan Buddhism
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Andrew McGarry
Session: Semester 2
Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week
Assessment: 1x3000wd essay (50%) and 1x2000wd seminar presentation and written report (50%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit focuses on Tibetan Buddhism under the three aspects of history, philosophy and practice. The history section will explore the transmission, spread and development of Buddhism in relation to its Indian sources and to developments within Tibet up until the present day. The philosophy section will explore the Tibetan presentation and development of philosophical viewpoints developed in India. The practice section will cover both non-Mahayana and Mahayana sutra-based practices and the tantric practices of the Vajrayana.

BDST6904
Buddhism in Gandhara and Central Asia
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Mark Allon
Session: Semester 2
Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week
Assessment: 1x5000wd essay (100%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

The aim of this unit is to introduce students to the history of Buddhism in the northwest of the Indian subcontinent, particularly ancient Gandhara (present day Pakistan and Afghanistan) and Central Asia. Topics investigated will include the political, economic and cultural factors that influenced the implantation, expansion and development of Buddhism in these regions; Buddhism's interaction with other religions, such as Nestorian Christianity; the spread of Buddhism to China; artistic expressions; and the decline and disappearance of Buddhism.
10,000 - 15,000 words on an approved topic under the supervision of an academic staff member. Students undertaking this unit must also enrol in BDST6907, commencing their dissertation in one of these units and completing it in the other. Departmental permission is required before enrolling.

BETH5000 Core Concepts in Bioethics Science

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 13 x 2 hr seminars Assumed knowledge: A three-year undergraduate degree in science, medicine, nursing, allied health sciences, philosophy/ethics, sociology/anthropology, history, or other relevant field, or by special permission. Assessment: 1x750 wd review (15%) and 1x1500wd essay (35%) and 1x200-2500 wd essay (50%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day Note: A limited number of students may be granted permission to take this unit during their honours year.

This unit of study provides a broad overview of the primary issues in, and theoretical approaches to, bioethics. Following an introduction to the history of bioethics and review of the major theoretical approaches to applied ethics, central debates in bioethics surrounding doctor-patient relationships, informed consent, privacy/confidentiality, research ethics, abortion, euthanasia, genetics, cloning, stem cell research, justice and distribution of healthcare resources, etc., are examined. In addition to classical cases and traditional theoretical perspectives, emerging topics and alternative perspectives are explored. The unit concludes with the topic of global public health and socio-political critique(s) of the discipline of bioethics itself. Learning activities will include seminars, small group sessions, and project work.

BETH5102 Philosophy of Medicine Science

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 13 x 2hr seminars Assumed knowledge: A three-year degree in science, medicine, nursing, allied health sciences, philosophy/ethics, sociology/anthropology, history, or other relevant field - or by special permission. Assessment: 1x exercise 1200wds (30%); 1 x essay 3000-4000wds (60%); Participation (10%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day Note: A limited number of students may be granted permission to take this unit during their honours year.

This unit of study introduces students to the broader philosophical issues and epistemological structures that underlie medicine and the biomedical sciences. The unit will begin by introducing students to the philosophy of science and medicine, epistemology and the concepts of health, illness and disease. The second part of the unit will review debates regarding disease causation and the social construction of disease. Students will then consider issues relating to the generation and use of knowledge and evidence, and the differences between conventional and alternative/non-Western approaches to illness and healing. The final part of the unit will focus on diagnosis, nosology and classification of disease, with particular reference to mental illness.

BETH5103 Biomedicine and Society Science

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 13 x 2hr seminars Assumed knowledge: A three-year undergraduate degree in science, medicine, nursing, allied health sciences, philosophy/ethics, sociology/anthropology, history, or other relevant field, or by special permission. Assessment: 1 x exercise 1200 wds (30%); 1 x 3000-4000 wd essay (60%); Participation (10%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day Note: A limited number of students may be granted permission to take this unit during their honours year.

How does biomedicine both influence and reflect the broader society of which it is a part? This unit of study addresses this general question by examining a series of ethical and social issues relating to sex and drugs. The issues relate to gender, reproduction and sexual behaviour, and some of the drugs that have played a key role in the medicalisation of human experience in these domains. The course readings explore the issues from a range of different perspectives (i.e. history, sociology, politics, health policy, philosophy, religion, feminism, public health, and personal experience) with the aim of broadening the scope of bioethical inquiry. Each topic introduces specific concepts which students are encouraged to apply. Students are also encouraged to draw on their own disciplinary and/or professional background. Seminars, on-line discussions and coursework will provide opportunities to learn from other students, and apply learning from other units of study.

BETH5201 Ethics and Biotech: Genes and Stem Cells Science

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 6 x 2hr seminars 1 x 8 hr intensive Assumed knowledge: A three-year undergraduate degree in science, medicine, nursing, allied health sciences, philosophy/ethics, sociology/anthropology, history, or other relevant field, or by special permission. Assessment: 3 Tutorial assessments - 400 wds each (3x 10%); 1 x 1200-1500 wd essay (30%); 1 x 2200 - 2500 wd essay (40%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day Note: A limited number of students may be granted permission to take this unit during their honours year.

This unit introduces students to the broader social/political, ethical/philosophical and legal/regulatory issues that underlie genetics, stem cell research and the emerging biotechnologies. The unit will provide a brief overview of the relevant science before considering scientific, cultural and religious understandings of life and human identity. The second part of the unit will review the political, regulatory and commercial context of biotechnology and the control of information. Students will then review the history of genetics and eugenics and the ethical issues that arise in clinical and population genetics, stem cell research and cloning. The final part of the unit will explore the boundaries of research and knowledge and the issues raised by emerging biotechnologies, such as nanotechnology and proteomics. Learning activities will include an intensive seminar program, small group sessions and reading. Students will be able to concentrate on stem cell research, clinical or molecular genetics or other biotechnologies according to their clinical and scientific interests and experience.

BETH5203 Ethics and Public Health Science

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3 x 8hr Intensives Assumed knowledge: A three-year undergraduate degree in science, medicine, nursing, allied health sciences, philosophy/ethics, sociology/anthropology, history, or other relevant field, or by special permission. Assessment: 10 x Online tasks 250-400wds (20%); 1 x 1000 wd essay (30%); 1 x 2500 wd essay (50%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Block Mode Day Note: A limited number of students may be granted permission to take this unit during their honours year.

This unit will provide students with an overview of the broader philosophical, ethical, sociopolitical and cultural issues that underlie public health and public health research. Students will first review the history of public health and examine the values that underpin public health promotion and disease prevention. The second part of the unit will critique the place of facts and values in public health and the construction and use of information, with particular reference to evidence-based-medicine. The third part of the unit will examine the cultural, moral and social context of public health including the social determinants of health, the construction of health services, the determination of research priorities and issues relating to human rights and global health. Learning activities will include 2-hour weekly seminars and readings. Assessment tasks will consist of essays and a presentation/project.

CISS6001 New Security Challenges Economics and Business

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x 3hr seminar per week Assessment: policy memo (30%); final essay (50%); presentation (10%); participation (10%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day
This unit considers the evolving nature of security in the context of global politics. It focuses on non-military challenges to security while acknowledging the relationships between these and traditional security concerns. Among the topics considered are: international law and security; the privatisations of security; economics and security; energy resources; environmental degradation; the burden of infectious diseases; population dynamics; gender and age perspectives on security; the dilemmas of fragile and failing states; transnational organised crime; and new modes of warfare. The overall objective of the unit is to engage with issues and arguments that challenge how security is traditionally understood. Teaching and learning take place via a combination of lectures, student-led seminars, independent research, debates and case studies.

CISS6005 Ethics, Law and War
Economics and Business

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x 3hr seminar per week Assessment: Short essay (20%); Research Essay (50%); Exam (30%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit examines ethical and legal norms relating to the use of armed force for political purposes by states and non-state actors. In particular, it explores the ways in which ethics and law influence or fail to influence strategic and tactical decisions. After an introduction to the nature of ethics and the law in the relationship with politics and strategy, the course examines a wide range of topics, drawing on historical and contemporary case studies. The topics covered include: conscription and conscientious objection; law of armed conflict in international and internal conflicts; the concept of inhumane weapons; the use of private contractors to support and wage war; ideas of Just War and self-defence; forceful intervention in other states for humanitarian and other purposes; ethics and the "war on terror" and the enforcement of ethical and legal norms.

CISS6007 Terrorism in the Asia-Pacific Region
Economics and Business

Credit points: 6 Session: S2 Intensive, Winter Main Classes: intensive WINTER 6 days Assessment: PP brief (25%); Takehome exam (25%); essay (50%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Block Mode Note: Department permission required for enrolment in the following sessions: S2 Intensive.

The unit will begin by providing a conceptual framework for understanding the phenomenon of terrorism as a form of asymmetrical warfare waged by political actors including an examination of the impact that the end of the Cold War has had on the rise of religiously inspired terrorism. In doing so, common misconceptions will be challenged, highlighting the rationality that drives terrorist behaviour and strategies. With a focus on the Asia-Pacific region, the unit will analyse terrorist organisational structures, including leadership, ideologies, motivations, capabilities, strategies, tactics and targets. Equipped with this knowledge, students will consider effective counter-terrorism strategies, including practical considerations for protecting critical functions of the state and private sector.

CISS6013 Middle East Conflict and Security
Economics and Business

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x 3hr seminar per week Prohibitions: GOV76154 Assessment: Essays (55%); policy brief (45%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

The Middle East has been plagued for more than a century by a series of national, ethnic and religious conflicts, reflecting shifting regional alliances, the unresolved legacy of the collapse of the Ottoman Empire and the end of colonial rule. This unit examines the causes and manifestation of intra and inter-state conflict in the region today by starting with a theoretical framework for examining the process of state-formation in the region and the particularities of the Middle East as a region of developing states. The unit will focus first on some of the specific challenges to the state across the region (such as tribalism, political Islam, and the "oil curse") before examining several inter-state conflicts, with a view of considering the probability of the region becoming more peaceful in the foreseeable future.

COMP5047 Pervasive Computing
Engineering and Information Technologies

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: One 2 hour scheduled small-group class per week, plus 10 hours per week private work. Prohibitions: NETS5407 Assumed knowledge: Networking concepts, operating system concepts, programming expertise. Assessment: workshop skills(0%), projects(80%), final exam (40%). Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This is an advanced course in HCI, Human Computer Interaction, with a focus on Pervasive Computing. It introduces the key aspects of HCI and explores these in terms of the new research towards creating user interfaces that disappear into the environment and are available pervasively, for example in homes, workplaces, cars and carried or work.

COMP5206 Introduction to Information Systems
Engineering and Information Technologies

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: One 2 hour lecture and one 1 hour tutorial per week. Prohibitions: INF52510 Assessment: Quiz (10%), Assignment (40%), Final Exam (50%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit provides a comprehensive introduction to information systems in organisations and the enabling role of information technology. The critical role of data and knowledge management will be covered from both conceptual and practical standpoints. Methods and techniques for analysing systems and eliciting user requirements will be emphasised. Key topics covered include: basic information systems concepts; systems approach and systems thinking; E-Business and E-Commerce; data and knowledge management; systems analysis and development methodologies; ethical, legal and social aspects of information technologies; and Web 2.0 and social computing. On completion of this unit students will have a good understanding of important information concepts; a deep understanding of the systems approach and its applicability; be able to develop skills to perform systems analysis in contemporary systems environments; have an understanding of major conceptual and technological developments in Information Systems.

COMP5213 Computer and Network Organisation
Engineering and Information Technologies

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: One 2 hour lecture and one 1 hour tutorial per week. Assessment: Assignment (40%), Final Exam (60%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit of study provides an overview of hardware and system software infrastructure including: compilers, operating systems, device drivers, network protocols, etc. It also includes user-level Unix skills and network usability. The objectives are to ensure that on completion of this unit students will have developed an understanding of compilers, operating systems, device drivers, network protocols, Unix skills and network usability.

COMP5214 Software Development in Java
Engineering and Information Technologies

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: One 2 hour lecture and one 1 hour tutorial per week. Assessment: Assignment (75%), Lab Skills (25%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit of study introduces software development methods, where the main emphasis is on careful adherence to a process. It includes design methodology, quality assurance, group work, version control, and documentation. It will suit students who do not come from a programing background, but who want to learn the basics of computer software.

Objectives: This unit of study covers systems analysis, a design methodology, quality assurance, group collaboration, version control, software delivery and system documentation.

DVST6901 Development: Critical Perspectives A

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Thiago Opperman, Prof Linda Connor Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Prohibitions: SSCP6900 Assessment: 1x3000wd essay (60%), 1x1500wd take-home exam (40%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

In the post World War 2 era 'development' has seen a philosophical and policy shift from nation building projects of 'modernisation' to an emphasis on the local responsiveness of market forces and civil grounded projects of capacity building. This unit critically reviews this transition from the perspectives of an anthropological emphasis on the relationship between political economy and cultural difference and the sociology of multiple modernities. Specific questions of health, poverty, gender and resource development structure this critique.

DVST6902 Development: Critical Perspectives B

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Prof. William Foley Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Prohibitions: SSCP6901 Assessment: 2x2500-3000wd essay (100%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

The unit: (1) reviews the importance of language policy issues (variation, multilingualism and standardisation); education, planning and the functions of literacy) for development from the perspective of a sociology of language; (2) using Asian case studies explores development as a culturally specific response to modernisation and globalisation, two processes heavily shaped by Western ideology and interests; and (3) links the two themes through an exploration of the role of mass and state media in the process of modernisation and cultural revival.

DVST6904 Rethinking Poverty

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Robbie Peters Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x1200wd presentation (35%), 1x3500wd essay (50%), seminar participation (15%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Poverty reduction has always been a central development goal. Major international programs such as the UN's Millennium Goals place poverty at their centre. New explanatory concepts such as social exclusion, capability, social capital and sustainability have considerably expanded our thinking about its nature. Students will examine cases from many parts of the world of the way discourses, policies and development practices operate together, enabling an evaluation of contemporary approaches to poverty and their effects on those most vulnerable.

DVST6905 Development Project Evaluation

Arts

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x1500wd project proposal (30%), 1x3500wd project (60%) and 1x 500wd seminar presentation (10%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Project design, dynamics and evaluation are key elements of the management and delivery of development initiatives. This unit focuses on the history, significance, context and design of evaluation in that process. The unit addresses debates about participatory approaches to evaluation, quantitative and qualitative methodologies. Assessment is organised around the design and implementation of an evaluation project.

ECOP6010 International Trade Regulation

Arts

Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x1000wd essay (20%), 1x1500wd essay (30%), 1x1.5hr exam (40%), participation (10%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit aims to introduce students to competing perspectives on business regulation, then to familiarise students with the main elements of governance and regulation as they affect international business and, in particular, international trade.

ECOP6011 USA-Europe-Japan: Trade and Investment

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Joseph Halevi Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x3000wd essay (40%), 1x1000wd report, seminar presentation (20%), 1x2hr exam (40%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Economic relations between the United States, Europe and Japan are critical in determining the state of the world economy. It is important for students of international finance and business to appreciate the way in which relations within this triad are played out economically and politically. This unit addresses the development of these relations since the 1980s and considers the economic and political debates about access to each other's markets for trade and investment and the mutual determination of exchange rates within this triad.

ECOP6015 Global Employment and Migration

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Stuart Rosewarne Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x250wd weekly diary digest (20%), 1x1500wd write up/presentation (30%), 1x3000wd essay (50%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit examines the evolution of international employment opportunities as a feature of the globalisation of economies. Different approaches to the analysis of labour markets provide conceptual frameworks for examining the changing character and structure of global employment and international migration. Case studies examine the effects of state regulatory arrangements and international institutions governing cross-border labour migration and cross-border employment in multinational firms, including professionals, skilled and unskilled workers.

ECOP6016 China in the World Economy

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Joseph Halevi Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2hr oral presentation, 1x1500wd report (30%), 1x3hr exam (40%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit of study analyses the modern economic development of the People's Republic of China (PRC) and its role in the international economic system, including the World Trade Organisation. It examines the internal political economy of the PRC; the political economy of transition; and China's transformation into a major centre of foreign direct investment and global exports. In the course students will learn the differential impact of China's transformation on the USA, East Asia and Japan, and the European Union. The policy of free trade agreements of China will also be studied. An understanding of these issues is important for people concerned both with investment and trade with China and the global political economic implications of China's emerging market economy under socialism.

ECOP6019 Political Economy of Conflict & Peace

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Prof Frank Stillwell, Assoc Prof Jake Lynch Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x1hr lecture/week, 1x1hour
This unit will examine the economic bases of conflict in society at large. It will consider sources of conflict in the relations between market and state: capital and labour, and between national economies in the context of current processes of globalisation. Students will analyse issues of conflict as evidenced in industrial relations, crime, terrorism and war. They will consider economic and political drivers predisposing societies toward violent, or non-violent responses respectively. They will study how to enhance the prospects for peace with justice, by such means as regulation of market economies, corporate social responsibility, and mediation between the interests of stakeholders in economic activities.

ECOP6031 Research in Political Economy

Arts

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Lynne Chester
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2

This unit studies research methods in the social sciences, and political economy in particular, focusing on the skills needed for research and dissertation writing. It covers research planning and design, the nature of research materials and data collection methods, sources of information for research in political economy, data analysis techniques and available software to assist the research process. It includes writing a research proposal.

ECOP6101 Core Concepts in Political Economy

Arts

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Susan Schroeder (S1); Dr Joy Paton (S2)
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2

The unit introduces a basic analytical framework from a 'political economy' perspective on current economic and social issues. The unit provides an introduction to the different schools of economic thought and provides a conceptual underpinning for the rest of the program. Core concepts introduced include the accumulation process and economic crisis, the labour process, the role of the state, and the duality of nation state and global economy. Elucidation of core concepts will be developed in an empirically-focused manner through case studies of key current economic problems.

ECOP6103 Strategic Debates on Economic Change

Arts

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Bill Dunn
Session: Semester 1

This unit explores the processes of socioeconomic change, and the forces involved in bringing about such change. It introduces several theoretical perspectives and - using a number of contemporary case studies - considers the interests, the relationships and the constraints involved in socioeconomic change. Students consider a range of issues and debates, and make a detailed study in one such area.

ECOP6104 Long Essay/Project

Arts

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Martijn Konings
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2

A substantial piece of written work is considered an essential component of postgraduate education, and it is seen as the culmination of the Masters' program. The essay / project is of 10 to 12 thousand words, on a topic of the student's choosing, possibly related to the student's professional activity. The essay / project is completed in one semester, and is supervised by a permanent member of staff.

ECOP6130 Human Rights & International Development

Arts

Credit points: 6
Session: Semester 2

This unit links debates over social rights and democratic legitimacy to structural economic arguments. It introduces the competing arguments over social rights and the struggles that have created them, and promotes the use of evidence in these conceptual arguments. The approach of economic liberalism to rights is examined. Important global issues involving rights and economic argument - such as self-determination, land rights, food security, fair trade and economic governance - are examined.

ECOP6901 Finance and Economic Change

Arts

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Martijn Konings
Session: Semester 2

Foreign exchange, security and other derivative markets have expanded dramatically over the past 20 years. More recently, they have been associated with the largest economic crisis in 80 years. This unit develops a political economy perspective on these markets, including their vulnerability to crisis, and the intrusion of financial calculation into wider social and personal calculation. The unit also addresses the regulation of financial markets and institutions, including key regulatory and monitoring agencies, and arguments for new regulatory regimes.

EDP85016 Global Poverty, Social Policy and Education

Arts

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Professor Anthony Welch/Dr Nigel Bagnall
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2

This unit links debates over social rights and democratic legitimacy to structural economic arguments. It introduces the competing arguments over social rights and the struggles that have created them, and promotes the use of evidence in these conceptual arguments. The approach of economic liberalism to rights is examined. Assessment: 1x4000wd essay (100%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial)
Day

This unit of study is designed to explore the issues surrounding the cinematic adaptation of major literary works. Is the adapted text merely secondary and derivative or does it have its own aesthetic authenticity? Should literary aesthetics supervise cinematic texts, or should the filmmaker's first priority be the quality and aesthetic integrity of the film itself? What is a "good" and a "bad" adaptation - or do these categories no longer matter?

What is the relation between feminism, masculinity and the human? Does sexual difference affect our identity? Does it affect our relations with others? Is there any link between cultural and racial difference and sexual difference? Where does equality fit into all this? Drawing on the work of recent feminist philosophers this unit examines philosophical and psychoanalytic representations of femininity, the issue of embodiment, and how sex and race are articulated within the concepts of otherness and the stranger.

The global community is faced with the collision between environmental degradation and human rights, from oil spill disasters to the disproportionate impact of anthropogenic climate change in the developing world. At the same time we are witnessing an ever increasing demand to meet human rights obligations. Both these phenomena necessitate a re-think of the way environmental conditions are perceived. This unit of study addresses the diverse and complex interaction between human rights and the environment, and examines whether human rights can be secured in degraded or polluted environments. Initially this course explores the role of human rights instruments in addressing environmental issues while also looking at the incorporation of human rights concerns within multi-lateral environmental agreements. The role of a rights based approach in addressing human rights and environmental issues is explored while the tensions inherent in development, conservation and human rights dialogues are considered. Through a series of themed lectures the course explore links between human rights and the environment in terms of development projects including large infrastructure programmes such as dams or resource use such as mining. The implications of a right to water are examined while the complicated issues associated with human rights and climate changes are investigated. The concept of an environmental refugee is studied with reference to vulnerable populations in the Asia-Pacific region. Consideration is also given to the urban environment; especially relevant to participatory or procedural human rights. Links between indigenous groups, the environment and human rights are explored. This course also probes connections between human rights dialogues and forestry; and potential implications of the REDD (Reduced Emissions from Deforestation and Degradaion) scheme. The course deals with the human rights - environment nexus through a series of lectures and seminars.

This unit examines Australia's external relations through its foreign, defence and trade policies from Federation until today. It will begin with an overview of the theoretical tools for studying foreign policy and the institutions of Australia's external relations. Following an examination of 'Continuity and Change' in Australia's foreign, defence and trade policies over the past millennium, key regional and international relationships will be analysed and the questions of national borders and international legal obligations examined. The final weeks of the unit will consider Australia's response to contemporary global issues such as the 'War on Terror'; the environment; nuclear affairs; and Australia's place in the global economy today.

This unit introduces students to the notion of human rights, outlines international human rights enforcement mechanisms and the application of human rights standards globally. Throughout the course we consider the evolution of human rights and consider questions about the adequacy of existing human rights machinery. We examine criticisms by a range of commentators of the UN and other international rights institutions and discuss alternatives for protecting international human rights. We also look at the role played by Non-Government Organisations in advancing and protecting human rights throughout the world.

It is widely believed that we are entering a new era in which the transborder flows of capital, goods, ideas, and people are rapidly transforming human society. 'Globalisation', many claim, threatens the autonomy of nation-states and erodes the power of national governments to provide social protection and promote the nation's economic prosperity. This unit examines not only the causes and mechanisms of this process, but also assesses its social, economic, and political impacts. The views of radicals, transformationalists, skeptics, and institutionalists are compared and criticised. While globalisation is often viewed as a singular process, trending towards a global society, this unit offers a distinctive approach. Globalisation has uneven and highly differentiated impacts, whether harmful or beneficial, and this unevenness is closely associated with the nature of institutions of governance, at both the domestic and international levels.

GOVT6125 Politics of the World Economy
The objectives of this unit are to introduce students to the various approaches to the key institutions and processes in the areas of production, trade, and finance at the global and regional levels. After completing the unit, students should be able to analyse current international political-economic developments in their historical context and form an informed opinion on contemporary issues. This unit introduces students to the key theoretical approaches and contemporary issues in the discipline of international political economy and the political structuring of the present global economy. The unit focuses on how inter-state cooperation and competition mediated through the main multilateral economic institutions (the WTO, BIS, IMF and World Bank) both constrain and allow global market forces to expand. This is a unit on international politics not international economics. The unit’s survey nature means that students are introduced to numerous different issues from the spread of multinational production to offshore banking.

This unit is organised around the upsurge in regional economic and security cooperation within East Asia and the more nebulous Asia Pacific in the last 15 years. It also looks at academic efforts to define East Asia and the Asia Pacific as regions. The first part of the unit covers the domestic similarities in East Asia and what these mean for East Asian and Asia-Pacific regionalism. The second part of the unit covers efforts to develop regional institutions like APEC and ASEAN and the role of these institutions in spurring regionalism. While the Asia Pacific and its sub-regions are the focus of the unit, both domestic and global economic and political forces are fully integrated into discussions. The unit provides critical insights into the reasons for the upsurge in regional economic and security cooperation, its likely trajectory and how East Asia and the Asia-Pacific are defined.

Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit introduces students to some of the most important contemporary structural changes in the global political economy and power structure with special attention to non-state actors (including corporate ones) and global civil society. The unit begins with an outline of the dominant modes of thinking about international political and economic relations, surveys some of the main theoretical schools and then examines global politics and political economy in terms of those events and forces that have been or are capable of precipitating major change. The historical focus will be principally on the role of war (including the so-called War on Terror), globalisation, power shifts and ideological innovation (including American unilaterality and Islamic fundamentalism) in the post Cold War period. The new agenda of international politics will be explored in a theoretical perspective - including the climate change emergency and the issue of effective global governance; the struggle for global social and economic justice, and the global prospects of democracy. The unit is designed as an advanced introduction to international relations for students pursuing postgraduate studies.

Why do states behave the way they do? Using a historical perspective, this unit explores the ways in which the different theories of international relations account for what shapes the international system - who are its main actors, what are its determining forces and structures. It examines both how these theories have vied with one another within inter-paradigm debates and how they developed in relation to specific historical events. These theories include realism, idealism, neorealism, neoliberal institutionalism, Marxism, the English school, constructivism, poststructuralism, feminism, post-colonial approaches. While no prior study of international relations is required, a willingness to engage with theoretical thinking and grapple with complex questions of ontology and epistemology is essential.

This unit examines the institutions, structures and conflicts of stable liberal democracies. It compares Australian patterns with those of Western Europe, North America and Japan. It considers theories of different types of democratic politics, especially Lipset's contrast between consensual and majoritarian systems. In doing so the unit looks at the central democratic political institutions, such as legislatures, executives, party and electoral systems, and relates these to policy processes and to the broader socio-economic environments.

This unit provides an overview of contemporary debates about policy making in democratic states, such as Australia. It examines how 'governance' is constituted by the interaction between the state and civil society. Governance is an emerging area of interest for both government and non-government organisations, and this unit analyses the way these social, economic and political organisations interact to both create public policy agendas and lead to social and political change. The unit covers the configurations of policy communities, political networks and social movements which shape both representative and participatory democratic practice. There is a particular emphasis on understanding the strategies that different political actors adopt.

'The leader points the way.' Eleanor Roosevelt. Leadership is a story that resolves these questions: What is a leader? What kinds of leaders are there? Is democratic leadership different from other kinds? Is leadership in a local community similar to that in national politics or international politics? Are leaders made or born? Is leadership generic? Is it the same in Europe and Asia? What is the difference between a leader and a manager? This unit reviews and evaluates theories of leadership. Participants' experiences and perceptions of leadership are an important part of the unit.

This unit focuses on the nature of public policy and the processes by which it is produced. Relevant issues are common to all nation states, although they take specific forms in each individual country. First, the unit takes an overview of public policy - dealing with basic themes such as 'What is policy?' through to different approaches to understanding the policy process. These include policy cycles, rationality, interest groups, institutions, and socio-economic interests. Second, it maps out and examines the main components of policy-making: actors, institutions and policy instruments. Third, it focuses on aspects of policy-making processes which often attract a high level of attention from analysts. These include problem definition, agenda setting, decision-taking, policy implementation, policy evaluation and crisis policy-making. Fourth, it examines wider issues in terms of the state and who ultimately holds power over the making and shaping of public policy. Finally, it examines the 'bigger pictures' of long term policy trends, and the extent to which national policy making capacities and processes have been affected by globalisation. Assessments offer a large element of flexibility, allowing students to concentrate on areas of particular interest.

Crises and disasters encompass a range of phenomena. They include natural disasters (hurricanes, floods and tsunamis), terrorist bombings (Bali, New York, Madrid, London), corporate failures (Enron, Worldcom), threats to human and animal welfare (SARS, foot and mouth disease, BSE), critical incidents (rail crashes, aviation accidents, mass shootings), environmental degradation (rain forests, ozone layer), and policy failures (UK Poll Tax, Australian Wheat Board). Some of these are 'sudden' crises which arrive on agendas without warning, while others are 'creeping' crises - the build-up of many months and often years of problems. The common denominator is that they pose a threat to prevailing patterns of organisational, social, economic and political interaction. It is for this reason that governments and public authorities are at the forefront of dealing with crises and disasters. This unit focuses on the causes and consequences of crises and disasters, as well as the strengths and weaknesses of different public policy responses to managing these extraordinary phenomena. Teaching and learning is via a combination of lectures, seminars, role play workshops and video case studies.

Cyborgs, designer babies, clones, artificial intelligence - today's mass media is crowded with artificial humans. Far from being just a recent phenomenon, the artificial creation of human life is an eternal dream of humankind. This course considers the motif of the artificial human from the early myths (Prometheus, Pygmalion, Golem, etc.) to its manifestations in contemporary literature, including the famous silent film Metropolis. We will analyze a selection of poems dealing with the tradition of this motif (poems by Goethe, Droste-Hülshoff, Dischereit etc.); in addition, we will examine Hoffman's popular romantic story about a young man falling in love with a puppet. Next we will discuss an early socio-critical science fiction movie about the 'woman-machine' Maria, and finally we will be investigating two contemporary works dealing with reproductive cloning and human clones.

This unit introduces the main concepts and analytical methods of health economics, political economy and finance to examine the workings of health systems in Australia and comparable countries. It looks at the main models of funding used in developed countries and their implications for the structure, planning and delivery of services. The first module focuses on the basic concepts and methodologies of health economics and political economy and their contribution to policy analysis. The second module places funding structures in a broader political and policy context. Topics include the debates over the public-private mix and governance and accountability - who makes decisions about funding priorities? To whom should decision makers be held accountable and for what aspects of their work? How does health finance shape broader policy reform?

Assessment: 1x1500word paper (25%), 1x3000word paper (50%), and online learning activities (25%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Distance Education/Intensive on Campus

This unit aims to develop a critical and comparative grasp of the theory and practice of health policy and to give an overview of the political choices and frameworks that shape policymaking. The unit explores the main structures and institutions that make health policy. Students will debate the reform of policy frameworks, raising questions about equity, ethics and the role of socio-economic status over access to health care and priorities of the current system. Australian policy debates will be placed in their broader context by comparing different health systems and assessing global influences. Case studies will be used to examine the relationships between policy and practice.

An examination of one area of the contemporary literature in the history and philosophy of science. Special attention will be paid to development of research skills in the history and philosophy of science.

Human Rights: Norms and Mechanisms 1
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Kiran Grewal
Session: Semester 1, Semester 2
Classes: 1x3-hr seminar/week
Assessment: 1x2000wd essay (40%), 1x1500wd equivalent participation in human rights simulation exercise (30%) and 1x1500wd report on human rights simulation exercise (30%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit provides a foundational understanding of the content and philosophical justifications of human rights norms. Philosophical, historical and positivist perspectives will be brought together in this unit to allow students to grasp the content of human rights and the justification for norms that become law and to think about how to develop other justifications in the different cultural and social contexts. Using a case study method it will cover institutional protection mechanisms, including UN treaty and charter bodies.

Democratisation: Theory and Practices
Arts

HSTY6963 Treatise Part 2
The diplomatic, political, economic and cultural power of the United States is formidable and often described or denigrated as imperial. But is it? Has it ever been? This unit considers American foreign relations in comparative perspective with past and present empires and considers why most Americans are so adamant that their nation is not an empire-builder. The scope is broad, examining foreign and domestic politics, economics and culture, past and present.

What are Human Rights? This unit surveys the historiography of human rights to ask whether it is a product of a European past, particularly the Enlightenment. How did European human rights activists reconcile these rights with colonialism and slavery? How is the history of human rights related to humanitarianism and liberalism? The unit investigates human rights not only as theories embodied in texts, but as practices embedded in specific historical contexts. It will work toward a genealogy of human rights.

Human Computer Interaction
Architecture, Design and Planning
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Martin Tomitsch Session: Semester 1 Classes: One hour lecture and two hours tutorial per week. Assessment: Weekly tutorial submissions (30%); individual design project submission (40%); exam (30%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit is a foundation unit that provides a theoretical perspective on the concept of interaction within the Interaction Design and Electronic Arts (IDEA) stream. The aim of this unit of study to introduce Human Computer Interaction (HCI) design principles and methods. It introduces students to valuable tools, techniques, and sources of information about HCI and provides a systematic approach to the design and evaluation of alternative ways in which people interact with various types of computational environments. The unit increases awareness of good and bad design through observation of existing technology, and teaches the basic skills of task analysis, and analytic and empirical evaluation methods. Students will learn to apply knowledge of HCI theory and processes by conducting a case study to different types of interfaces; to critically read and examine research papers; to develop an experimental study on one developed or existing human-computer interface; to analyse the interface issues and effectiveness using HCI evaluation techniques.

The prolific growth of computing and its extensions, including the internet, internet media, mobile communication, and social computing have stimulated development of new, substantially different design fields and prompted radical changes to existing practices and expectations. This unit aims to give students, with an interest in design and designing, a fuller awareness of designing as both: 1) a holistic but complex cognitive activity by which a designer learns and integrates knowledge and skills, both general and specific, and applies these to many particular experiences, settings and requirements, to create unique works, and 2) a dynamic process of situated practice in which the designer, by intentional acts and unexpected discoveries, develops individual designerly ways. The unit investigates the mentality of designing, by presenting elements of the theoretical background of This unit will familiarise students with contemporary theoretical and methodological debates in comparative literature and their wider impact on the study of interactions between literature, culture and society. First, it will look at particular perspectives brought by comparatists to broader theoretical debates in literature. Second, it will examine the relationship between comparative literature and translation studies. Third, it will discuss how the emergence of area studies, especially outside the west, has impacted on the development of comparative literary studies.

Assessment: 1x4000-5000wd essay (100%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day
Note: Compulsory core unit in the MA (Hebrew, Biblical and Jewish Studies) program

This core unit explores the key elements of Jewish civilization, looking at the unique features of the Jewish experience. These include the concept of Jewish identity, the Jewish experience within Israel and the ways in which Jewish life in the Diaspora is moulded by events in the majority host community. The reasons for the richness of Jewish literature, including the evolution of many different languages such as Classical and Modern Hebrew, Aramaic, Yiddish, and Ladino will also be investigated. Students will not be expected to know these languages, but will develop an understanding of the role they have played within Jewish civilization. Questions will also be raised regarding both Biblical and post-Biblical texts in terms of authorship, date of sources and the 'original' intentions of the writers, all of which present specific methodological problems.

The Holocaust, unprecedented in history, has proved to be an ongoing story, and not one that ended in 1945. The magnitude of events during the Holocaust has created enormous debate but despite this it still eludes full comprehension. Issues such as the failure to deal with Nazi war criminals, Holocaust denial, and the question of how to effectively memorialize the Holocaust continue to challenge people today. This unit seeks to analyse a wide range of contemporary responses to the Holocaust.

In today’s globalised and multicultural societies, cross-cultural communication is common enough. Even so, it continues to be a challenge, both for people who engage in cross-cultural communication on a daily basis, and for researchers trying to describe and understand it. In this unit of study we will consider a variety of discourse-analytic approaches to studying cross-cultural communication, including conversation analysis, speech act theory, interactional sociolinguistics, the ethnography of communication, and critical discourse analysis. In our analyses of actual samples of cross-cultural communication we will pay particular attention to the social positioning of participants in an interaction, and the ways how social relationships (particularly of power and intimacy) between participants are reflected in their linguistic practices. The unit will end with exploring applied perspectives, particularly on cross-cultural communication in educational, courtroom and workplace interactions.

The unit will provide an overview of the various theories of Additional Language Learning or "Second Language Acquisition" as the field is more widely known. Although traditionally psycholinguistic theories have been most influential in the study of additional language learning, this unit will place a stronger emphasis on more recent sociocultural perspectives on additional language learning, which have mainly emerged from the study of English as a second language. We will discuss examples of language learning processes, products and outcomes in a variety of contexts from around the world. The unit also has a practical component in which applications of the research findings in L2 teachings will be explored. An additional or second language (L2) is any language the learning of which takes place somewhat later than the acquisition of the first language. This means that this class will not deal with infant bilingualism and it also means that an L2 may in fact be the third, fourth or fifth language a person is working with.

"Sexy, healthy and 100% Australian-owned"! In this unit you will learn about discourse analytic approaches to media communication. The discourse of advertising and gender discourses in the media will form a special focus of the unit. Furthermore, we will explore the politics of media discourses, the ways in which social identities are constructed in the media, differences between communication in various media (print, radio, TV, Internet), the rhetoric of persuasion and the discourses of popular culture. The framework for the unit derives from functional linguistics and critical discourse analysis, as well as cultural studies.

If you are interested in issues of globalization and language and/or the role of English in today’s world, then this unit is for you. We know that English is now the global language of politics, trade, commerce, media, research, and higher education. In this unit, we examine how these processes impact the English language, how people around the world relate to and adapt the language, and how this impacts the linguistic, pedagogical, and political landscapes.
Dealing with the Media

This unit combines theoretical and practical perspectives on public communication campaigns. It offers students the opportunity to design, implement and evaluate a communication campaign of public interest and to pitch it to specific media. It examines the relationships that exist between all stakeholder groups in the public communication campaign process including client, public relations practitioner, journalist and citizen.

This unit aims to provide an integrated and interpretive approach to an understanding of health-related behaviours of populations in international settings, by synthesizing anthropological knowledge and methodology, and the interactions of culture, biology, psychology and environment. The teaching process is by student-led, lecturer-guided, discussion based review and critical analysis of relevant topics. During the unit, students will explore a range of issues in international and multicultural health from an anthropological perspective. Methodological approaches will encompass ethnography and other anthropological data collection methods. The issues covered will include cultural influences on health, illness and healing, such as indigenous and traditional beliefs and systems, gender and cultural change and the impact of modernization and development on illness and healing. The impact examines disease and illness patterns - their distribution and persistence, mental illness and culture and attitudes towards the use of medications; and the provision of culturally sensitive and appropriate services. The emphasis will be on covering a range of topics relevant to the students enrolled, and those of particular importance in contemporary international and multicultural health contexts.

The models of interpretation for artefact and material culture are widely contested in many disciplines such as anthropology, archaeology, art history and history. This unit of study examines the historical development of artefact and material culture studies as it relates to the museum context. It will provide an historical and international perspective on the study of material culture, as well as the practical and theoretical knowledge to enable students to appraise, analyse and contextualise material culture in museums and galleries. The first half of the unit examines the history and development of different models of artefact study. The second half takes a thematic approach.

This unit is informed by an analysis of the museum experience from an audience perspective, drawing on literature from the fields of museum education, audience research, communication and learning theories. Students are encouraged to consider the positioning of public programs in a museum's mission. Issues of accessibility, empowerment and audience development are explored in applications of museum communication and public programming. Guidelines for the development and delivery of education and visitor programs are examined in case studies. Students have the opportunity to apply theoretical understandings to practical exercises in museum education.

Understanding display practices in museums is central to the functions of these cultural institutions. This unit of study examines the ways in which exhibitions may function by exploring current issues and debates associated with the practice of exhibiting. We will consider how different spaces inform the interpretation of the cultural material and information displayed. In particular, we will examine the issue of representation as it relates to the museum context. This unit of study will provide students with an overview of the intellectual discourses and practical knowledge used to analyse, conceptualise, propose and develop exhibitions.

The historical development of information and collection management has repercussions for all aspects of the Museum. This unit prepares students with both practical and theoretical knowledge about information and collection management in museums and galleries in Australia and internationally. The unit is structured thematically and uses contemporary issues as a way of interpreting the historical development of information and collection management. In particular, it focuses on the processes used in the development, maintenance and accessibility of museums' and galleries' collections.

MUSM7032 Museum and Gallery Administration

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Jennifer Barrett Session: Int January, Semester 2a Classes: Sydney: intensive mode in August 2011. Hong Kong: intensive mode in January 2011. Students are advised to check class timetable details Assessment: 1x2000wd project plan (35%) and 1x3000wd essay (65%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Good management is critical to the long term survival of museums as vibrant cultural institutions. This unit of study explores the characteristics of a well managed facility and provides students with the skills necessary to evaluate the operation of their own museum, both in terms of budget, human resource management and general cultural stewardship. Students will also acquire a specific set of key management skills utilised by middle and senior management. They include strategic planning, project management, budget development and program evaluation. Professional competence in these areas is normally a prerequisite for career progression. Field studies and role play techniques are utilised as part of the teaching program.

MUSM7033 The Museum Context

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Lee-Anne Hall Session: Int August, Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: Sydney: 1x2hr seminar/week, Hong Kong: intensive mode in August 2011. Students are advised to check class timetable for details Assessment: 1x500wd presentation (10%), 1x2000wd essay (40%) and 1x2500wd essay (50%) Campus: Hong Kong Mode of delivery: Block Mode

This core unit provides an historical, theoretical and political overview of the development of museums. The subject surveys the historical development of the museum as both an idea and an institution. The social and cultural roles of the museums are investigated using writings on the history of the museum and contemporary cultural debates as they relate to museum issues. The subject examines the relationships between the production of cultural material, its management and display, the audiences and the museum as a site of knowledge, politics and power. This foundation subject prepares students for the practical units of study to be undertaken as part of the program and is therefore a corequisite or prerequisite for enrolment in all other units of study.

MUSM7034 Museum Research Methods

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Jennifer Barrett Session: Semester 1a Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x1000wd survey design project (25%), 1x10slide presentation (15%) and 1x3000wd research proposal (60%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Museums develop programs, exhibitions and services - but for whom do they do it? This unit is about the 'end users' - the public who visit museums, explore exhibitions, participate in public programs and use the services and facilities which together make up the museum 'experience'. Who are they? Why do they come? Why do people value museums? How can the museum message reach them and how can we use their feedback to develop and improve museum programs?

In this unit, students will address these questions and develop some of the skills to acquire the answers through the tools of exhibition evaluation, program evaluation and audience research. Components include: using audience research for decision-making and planning; identifying, creating and developing audiences; market segmentation; quantitative and qualitative methodologies; analysing barriers to participation; and marketing 'values' brands.

MUSM7035 Ethics of Cultural Property

Arts

Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Lynda Blanchard (S1), Dr Wendy Lambourne (S2) Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: 5x1-2hr Assessment: research and writing toward a dissertation of 12000-15000 words on an approved topic under the supervision of an academic member of staff

This unit tracks the ethical and political disputes surrounding the ownership, control and care of cultural property. While giving historical background on religious iconoclasm, the focus will be on notable modern cases, from the Elgin Marbles or the Benin Bronzes in the colonial era to recent acts like the destruction of the Bamiyan Buddhas or the ransack of the Iraq Museum. Australian museum practice in relation to Indigenous cultural property and issues of repatriation will be considered, as will the art market, in both legal and philosophical dimensions.

PACS6901 UN and International Conflict Resolution

In this unit students critically examine the role of the United Nations in promoting international peace and security. The various international conflict resolution mechanisms employed by the UN are defined and analysed, including preventive diplomacy, peacemaking, peacekeeping, peace enforcement, and peacebuilding. Students will learn to assess the contribution of the UN to the attainment of peace with justice by considering historical and contemporary case studies such as Cambodia, Somalia and East Timor.

PACS6903 Peace and the Environment

Arts

This unit considers the relationship between environmental degradation and human conflict in a range of geographical and cultural settings. Students investigate their personal relationship with 'nature' before exploring the reasons why the environment is being degraded. The unit traces the reasons why individuals in Western industrialised nations have come to see nature as 'other', 'separate' or 'removed' and explores the links between environmental degradation and conflict using the impacts of the anthropogenic greenhouse effect as a case study. We will also highlight some of the contradictions in the concept of "sustainability", and examine new approaches to environmental security, focusing on the issue of peace building through environmental protection at local, regional and internal levels.

PACS6907 Gender and the Development of Peace
Arts

This unit of study is not available in 2011.

Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Lynda-ann Blanchard
Session: Semester 2b
Classes: 2 hours per week
Assessment: 5,000 words written work

This unit explores the significance of gender in peace and conflict studies. From the operation in Australia of women’s night patrols as a response to community violence, to the Grameen Bank’s experience of the feminisation of poverty in Bangladesh, the unit focuses on development as a community process. Feminist approaches to human rights and the role of women as agents of social change are investigated. Issues addressed include gender in peace-keeping operations and the contribution of men and women as peacemakers.

Teacher/Coordinator: Assoc Prof Jake Lynch
Session: Summer Early Classes: 2 hours/week equivalent intensive
Prohibitions: SCWK6935
Assessment: Class participation (20%), 2x2500wd commentaries (80%)

This unit examines media representations of conflict and their influence on the behaviour of those involved. It introduces creative ways for journalists, media development workers and media activists to apply principles of conflict resolution. Students diagnose ‘war journalism’ and ‘peace journalism’, and analyse conflict in a journalism context. Theories of news and concepts of objectivity and responsibility are critically explored. Students gain practical skills in peace journalism and media activism as well as devising media interventions in conflict-affected areas.

Session: Semester 2
Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week
Assessment: 1x3000wd anthology (30%), 1xclass presentation (30%), 1x2500wd group assignment (40%)

In governments’ deliberations about ending conflicts and UN representatives’ conduct of peacebuilding, the influence of poetry is left mostly unacknowledged. This unit explore how the message of anti-war poets, from diverse cultures and traditions, expresses the meanings of peace and non-violence. It identifies ways in which peace negotiators - such as former UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld - were inspired by poets. The unit focuses on poetry but students are also encouraged to tap other literature that has explored the meanings of peace and thereby inspired individuals and social movements.

Assessment: class participation (15%), 1x1500wd personal reflection exercise (25%) and 1x4000wd essay (60%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Peace psychology plays a vital role in understanding violence - from domestic abuse and community violence, to war and genocide. This unit examines how psychological processes, both cognitive and emotional, individual and collective, combine with external factors such as socioeconomic injustice and discrimination in causing violence. We explore how these psychological insights can help prevent and resolve violent conflicts, by developing approaches to peacemaking and peacebuilding which address psychological needs and fears and which focus on attaining "peace of mind".

Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: On-line

This unit offers a comparative consideration of different concepts of democratisation and development including the criteria for compiling country development indices and typologies of democracy. Experiences of implanting and/or imposing democracy are examined in Japan, Iraq and other nations. The pan-Pacific model of development, and the pros and cons of using authoritarian means to achieve it, is also considered, with examples including Indonesia under Suharto and Singapore under Lee Kuan Yew. Relationships between development, conflict and poverty are examined - do elections lead to more democracy? More development? Or do they allow authoritarian winners to institutionalise power? What about the coup in Thailand?

Session: Semester 2
Classes: 1x2-hr lecture/week, 1x1-hr tutorial/week
Assessment: 1x4000-5000wd essay (100%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial)
Day

Should we think of our moral and political obligations as limited by our membership in particular communities? Should we define our moral obligations as limited by our membership in particular communities? Should we define our conceptions of moral and political community according to particular cultural or national characteristics, or in terms of a shared common humanity? Do we have special obligations to our compatriots or general obligations to humanity as a whole? What is the relation between universal principles and local practices, and what are the consequences for our conceptions of practical reason? We shall explore these questions, and others, through an engagement with the arguments of leading contemporary moral and political philosophers.

Session: Semester 1

Classes: 2

2 hours per week

Assessment: 5000 word essay (25%)

Campus: Camperdown/Darlington

Mode of delivery: Normal

(lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

How shall we conceptualise moral responsibilities that individuals and institutions bear in relation to structural social and political problems to which they contribute by their actions, but which cannot be causally traced directly to these actions? We will investigate this question by comparing and contrasting several theories and concepts of moral and legal responsibility: philosophical theories of personal and collective responsibility, concepts of responsibility in tort and criminal law, and theories of shared, organisational and institutional responsibility.

Romanticism as Philosophy

Arts

Credit points: 6

Teacher/Coordinator: Prof Paul Redding

Session: Semester 2

Classes: 1

2hr seminar/week

Assessment: 2x2000-2500wd essays (100%)

Campus: Camperdown/Darlington

Mode of delivery: Normal

(lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Besides the romantic sensibility pervading many distinct areas of 19th century European culture, a distinctly philosophical variant of romanticism has recently been acknowledged. This unit examines versions of philosophical romanticism commencing in the 1790s to the present, interpreting and evaluating them as responses to what has been perceived as the nihilistic consequences of social and psychological changes typical of the modern world. The links of philosophical romanticism to romantic movements in the arts, politics, science and religion will be examined.

Philosophy and the Science of Happiness

Arts

Credit points: 6

Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Caroline West

Session: Semester 2

Classes: 1

2hr seminar/week

Assessment: 1x1500wd short essay (25%)

and 1x3500wd long essay (75%)

Campus: Camperdown/Darlington

Mode of delivery: Normal

(lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit deals with the philosophy and psychology of happiness and wellbeing. It covers classical and contemporary philosophical work on the nature of happiness. It discusses the kind of goal happiness or wellbeing is - is it something that we want only insofar as we desire it, or is there some rational requirement to make a richer conception of wellbeing the goal of life? The unit will also engage with aspects of positive psychology.

2hr seminar/week

Assessment: 1x1500wd essay (25%)

and 1x3500wd essay (75%)

Campus: Camperdown/Darlington

Mode of delivery: Normal

(lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Advances in modern medicine and in our understanding of the natural world have raised a new and urgent set of moral questions. What are our ethical obligations towards sentient non-human animals, human embryos and the environment? Is it wrong to keep terminally ill or incapacitated humans alive against their wishes? If we can enhance the genetic capabilities of human beings, should we? This unit draws on contemporary moral philosophy to shed light on these and other pressing applied ethical questions.

Arts

Credit points: 6

Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Paul Dwyer

Session: Semester 1

Classes: 1

3hr seminar/week

Assessment: 1x essay preparation of a bibliography for their essay and plan plus 1000 words of draft essay writing in which a performance is described and analysed through the "lens" of one of the critical theories surveyed in the unit, by Week 9 (25%), 1x3500-4000wd final essay on the topic "What is Interpretation?" (75%)

Campus: Camperdown/Darlington

Mode of delivery: Normal

(lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

As an emerging discipline, performance studies has drawn upon a wide range of theoretical positions and resources, from semiotics to New Historicism, cultural studies, feminism, psychoanalysis, discourse theory, deconstruction, phenomenology and hermeneutics. In this unit, we will read some key theoretical texts and look at how they have been applied to the analysis of performance.

Rehearsal Studies

Arts

Credit points: 6

Teacher/Coordinator: Ms Miranda Heckenberg

Session: Semester 1

Classes: 1

3hr seminar/week

Assessment: 1x essay and 1x3000wd research essay (70%)

Campus: Camperdown/Darlington

Mode of delivery: Normal

(lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit prepares students for the task of observing and analysing rehearsal practices (or training, creative development etc) in theatre and other genres of aesthetic performance. We will canvass some of the key theoretical and methodological issues of ethnographic research, not only through readings but also through practical tasks involving video recordings of rehearsal, prompt books and other materials held in the department's unique archive. This unit is a pre-requisite for those students undertaking PRFMS903 Rehearsal to Performance.
PRFM5003
Rehearsal to Performance
Arts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Paul Dryer Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x3-hr seminar/week Prerequisites: PRFM5002 Rehearsal Studies Assessment: 1x1000wd formative assessment and casebook plan (25%). During weeks 1-5 of semester, students practice writing fuller versions of their fieldwork notes and submit summaries of any major categories that emerge during the process of ‘coding’ their notes. In week 6, they submit a detailed plan for their rehearsal casebook. 1x4000wd casebook (75%). The casebook is essentially a small-scale ethnography of the rehearsal practices observed in the mid-year break (July). This account will be a blend of illustrative description and analytical commentary, detailing some of the characteristics of this particular rehearsal. Students will be explaining the ‘culture’ of this rehearsal, the ways in which people worked together, the aesthetic and pragmatic criteria which informed their decision-making, problems encountered, solutions found etc.
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day
Note: Students are required to attend 2 weeks of rehearsals during July prior to commencement of semester 2 classes. This rehearsal observation provides essential preparatory work to undertake the unit of study.

This unit is structured around a rehearsal process occurring in the mid-year break (July) and involving performing artists in residence at the Department’s Rex Cramphorn Studio. Students attend rehearsals full time for two weeks, documenting the process and writing up their observations as ethnographic fieldnotes. Seminars during semester provide an opportunity for students to ‘unpack’ this experience and to develop strategies for turning fieldnotes into a more detailed, coherent and analytical casebook.

PUBH5019
Cancer Prevention and Control Medicine (Sydney Medical School)
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Monica Robotham Session: Semester 2 Classes: 3hr per week online lectures, discussion and other activities for 13 weeks Prerequisites: PUBH5010 Assessment: 2 assignments (65%), 5 online tutorials (35%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: On-line

This unit aims to provide students with specific information on the concepts, methods and applications underpinning cancer prevention and control at population level. It is designed to address specific educational needs of students in various programs within the School of Public Health and to offer a broad-based perspective on cancer control, ranging from primary prevention, screening and early intervention, tertiary prevention and palliative care. Emphasis will be given to cancers with the greatest impact at population level and where evidence demonstrates that policies and interventions are capable of reducing cancer incidence, mortality, prolonging survival and improving quality of life. Although focusing on specific Australian conditions, the information will be presented in the context of regional cancer control efforts. At the completion of the unit, students will be equipped with the basic tools to design, plan, implement and evaluate cancer control programs in Australia or their own countries.

PUBH5033
Disease Prevention and Health Promotion Medicine (Sydney Medical School)
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Philyarath Phongsavan Session: Semester 1 Classes: 3 workshops, tutorials and online discussion; fully online version available Assessment: 1x1500 word assignment (25%); 1x2500 word assignment (45%); online discussion participation (30%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Block Mode or On-line

This core unit of study will provide students with an introduction to and critical overview of evidence-based prevention and health promotion as a fundamental component of efforts to address chronic disease prevention and reduce health inequalities in populations. The unit is divided into three sections: (i) principles underlying disease prevention and health promotion, (ii) evidence-based planning disease prevention and health promotion programs, and (iii) implementing and evaluating health promotion programs for disease prevention. The unit will illustrate the principles of prevention and health promotion programs in Indigenous and non-Indigenous populations. It will develop students' skills in: identifying problems and setting prevention priorities; planning and implementing programs, and; evaluating the impact of programs on population health. The unit will address diverse disease prevention and health promotion programs, including individual change programs, interpersonal (family, social networks), organisational (worksites, primary care), and community-wide programs. Students will develop an understanding of approaches used to enhance inter-sectoral action, community participation and consultation, the development of partnerships and the use of policy and advocacy. These approaches will be particularly applied to Indigenous health promotion settings.

Session: Semester 2
Classes: Mixed mode of online lectures with some face-to-face/online case studies (13 sessions of 2 hours)
Assessment: 1x written assignment (45%), 1x quiz (40%) and case study participation (15%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Distance Education/Intensive on Campus or On-line

This unit aims to develop an understanding of environmental hazard identification and risk assessment and for students to understand the principles of hazard regulation and control. The unit will explore the major categories of environmental health hazards such as air quality; water & food quality; chemical hazards eg contaminated sites; physical hazards eg noise and radiation; and microbiological hazards eg Legionnaires’ disease. It will use the disciplines of epidemiology, toxicology and ecology to characterise risks associated with these hazards and will explore various approaches to managing the risks. In studying this unit students will appreciate the multi-disciplinary nature of environmental health concerns and the need to work closely with external agencies. Regional and global issues of sustainability, climate change and land use planning will also be addressed.

Cinema is regularly described through religious language: the ecstatic, the eucharistic, the mystical and the sublime. This unit examines how filmmakers utilise mythic, ritualistic, emotional and affective structures to move us towards these states. The unit of study will examine cultural and academic discourse that relies on religious language to describe such experiences. This unit will also assess how cinema seeks to replicate and/or replace religious feeling in our secular age by an increasingly sophisticated architronics of ecstasy.

Global Social Policy
Education and Social Work
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Ruth Phillips
Session: Semester 1
Classes: 2x2hr lecture/week, 1x2hr tutorial/week
Assessment: written assignment (40%), 1x5000wd literature review (20%), 1x500wd short answer assignment (20%), 1x3000wd final essay (30%) and 1x500wd project plan (10%).
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

There is a well-established scholarship and governmental interest in both the impact of globalisation on social policy and the emergence of what is increasingly termed ‘global social policy’ which is a direct response to global social problems. It is a field that is growing in the areas of social policy and social work research and practice and can be clearly linked to increased employment opportunities for social workers and social policy graduates in the international/global arena.

A key perspective of this unit of study is from non-government organisations’ participation in the development of a global civil society and their contribution to global social policy. It also examines the United Nations Millennium Development Goals and how NGOs have contributed to both the ambitions of the goals as well as the outcomes for different countries. This unit provides opportunities for students to deepen their understanding and knowledge of core global concerns such as poverty, health, education, environment, NGO corporate engagement and gender equality and make links to the vital role of NGOs in these areas.

The Cultures and Languages of Spain
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Assoc Prof Kathryn Cramer
Session: Semester 1
Classes: 1x2hr seminar/week
Assessment: 1x1000wd seminar presentation (30%), 1x5000wd project plan (10%), 1x3000wd project on an approved topic (60%).
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Contemporary Spain is a very diverse country with several languages that are co-official with Spanish in particular regions, including Catalan, Basque and Galician. Even regions that do not have their own language often have a very distinctive cultural identity, such as Andalusia. This unit introduces students to the advantages and challenges of such diversity, including some of its political aspects. Specific topics include language planning, ethnicity, minority nationalism, and local cultural forms.

Citizenship and Belonging in Latino USA
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Vek Lewis
Session: Semester 2
Classes: 1x2hr lecture/week, 1x1hr tutorial/week
Assessment: 1x5000wd literature review (20%), 1x1000wd take home short answer assignment (20%), 1x3000wd final essay (70%).
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day
Note: Department permission required for enrolment.

Latino cultural activism emerged in response to the experiences of exclusion and invisibility faced by Latin American-origin people who have, over time, relocated to the US, frequently in search of the ‘American Dream’. This history informs the questions raised by contemporary Latino Studies and subjects. The USA’s large ‘ethnic minority’, Latinos, never a totality, show a plurality of identifications. This course uncovers, examining cultural products and social research, the complexity of that increasingly visible transnational collective known as Latino USA.

TRNS6901
Advanced Language Skills for Translators
Arts
Credit points: 6
Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Wei Wang
Session: Semester 1
Classes: 1x1hr lecture/week, 1x2hr tutorial/week
Assessment: written assignment (equivalent to 2000wd in English) (40%) and 1x1hr exam (equivalent to 500wd in English) (40%)
Campus: Camperdown/Darlington
Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Translation requires more than accuracy at word and sentence level. To translate a whole text well requires consideration of its context and resulting features, such as style. Who wrote the text, for what intended readership, and with what purpose? How does the text’s style relate to its purpose, the medium in which it circulates, and the conventions of its genre? This unit introduces students to questions and problems relating to discourse analysis, genre and style on the basis of actual English and LOTE texts.

USCC6901 Fundamentals of US Studies
Other
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Rebecca Sheehan Session: Semester 1a Classes: 2x5-hr intensive classes weeks 1 and 2, 1x6-hr intensive week 3 Assessment: class participation including journal (20%), learning portfolio (equivalent to 3000wds) (40%) and 1x3000wd research essay (40%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Block Mode

This unit introduces students to the foundations of American politics, economics, society and culture, examining the interplay of major actors and ideas from these spheres. It will familiarise students with the varied landscapes of America through analysing contemporary issues using interactive approaches to learning. Students will survey how America's political framework either engages with or impedes social and economic actors and how these dynamics are reflected in and supported or undermined by the media and artistic expression.

USCC6902 US Politics: Competing Centres of Power
Other
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Assoc Prof B O'Connor Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x2hr class/week Assessment: 1x2000-2500wd major paper (45%), 1x2hr exam (45%) and class participation (10%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day
Note: Previous relevant study in US politics is recommended in order to complete this unit of study.

This unit will examine US domestic politics through analysing the federal structure and separation of powers within the American political system. This understanding will provide an appreciation of the porous nature of US political institutions, offering social actors a variety of venues and opportunities to influence political decision-making. It will examine the factors that make some arenas more open than others and strategies that groups and political actors take to secure or prise open those avenues for change.

USCC6903 US Foreign and National Security Policy
Other
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr David Smith Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x2-hr class/week Assessment: class participation (10%), 1x3000wd essay (45%) and 1x2hr exam (45%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day
Note: Previous study in US politics is required in order to complete this unit of study.

This unit will examine US foreign and security policy formulation and implementation throughout the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. It will consider US military policy, foreign economic policy, foreign energy and resource policy, policy on human rights and democracy overseas, and US responses to the proliferation of WMD and trans-national terrorism. The unit will conclude by examining US foreign and defence policy in the aftermath of 9/11, the Iraq War, and other contemporary security challenges facing the US.

USCC6906 US Constitution
Other
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Harry Melkonian Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2-hr class/week Assessment: class participation (10%), oral presentation (10%), 1x1000wd short paper (10%), 1x3000wd long paper (20%), 1x2hr final open book written exam (50%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day
Note: Previous relevant study in US politics is recommended in order to complete this unit of study.

This unit will examine the US Constitution, a document which animates nearly all facets of contemporary American life. It shapes the contours of speech and media and is constantly tested and reinterpreted by social actors, the judiciary, and political institutions. Many issues faced by foreign businesses or organisations operating in the US have a constitutional dimension. Students will participate in lively debate about the Constitution, consistent with its importance in the American landscape.
USSC6907
American Exceptionalism
Other
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week Assessment: class participation (10%), 1x3000wd essay (45%), 1x2hr exam (45%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit examines the motivation and meaning behind the claim that the United States of America is an exception nation. What exactly is an exceptional nation? Is the US exceptional or just different? How has the idea of exceptionalism evolved throughout American history? What are the implications or consequences of exceptionalism? To what extent and in what ways has the idea of exceptionalism shaped US history and influences America's relationship with the rest of the world?

USSC6914
Key Issues in American Culture
Other
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Stephen Robertson Session: Semester 1 and 2 Classes: 2x1-hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x2000wd essay (30%), seminar participation (10%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit proposes a week-by-week engagement with some of the defining moments in US cultural history. Working from the premise that ideas in the US are cultural and political acts, the unit constructs a chart of the nation's salient (and often critical) intellectual projections. Blending written texts with works of visual art, high with 'low' culture, the course offers a close encounter with a misunderstood intellectual tradition and shows its relevance to the present.

USSC6916
Research Essay in US Studies
Other
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Assoc Professor Brendan O'Connor Session: Semester 1, Semester 2 Classes: 2x1-hr supervisory meetings weeks 2, 4, 6 and 8 Assessment: 1x6000wd research essay (100%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

Students will undertake research essay of 6,000 words on an approved topic under the guidance of a supervisor from the Centre for US Studies. Normally, the essay involves deeper study of a subject which the student has already covered in the first semester of his or her program. Entry to this unit is subject to the permission of the Director and depends upon the availability of a supervisor from the Centre, the student's existing knowledge in the area, and her or his academic performance in the preceding semester.

USSC6917
The American City
Other
Credit points: 6 Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x2-hr class/week Assessment: seminar participation (10%), 1x1000wd multi-media scrapbook (25%), 1x oral presentation of research project (15%) and 1x4000wd final research project (50%) Campus: Commencing in week 4 of Semester 1 Assessment: weekly reflective journal (4000 words) (60%), 1x2000wd research paper (30%), seminar participation (10%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit explores the concept, ideal and experience of the city in the United States. Taking an interdisciplinary approach, this course seeks to engage a variety of discourses in its exploration of the question of the city as both an imaginary and a material construct. The particularity of the American city will be examined by considering how it is lived in terms of built form, urban life and sustainability and how it is conceived in and through its representation in literature, cinema, the visual arts, critical and cultural theory, urban studies and popular culture. From a study of sources as diverse as the changing and conflicted fictional cityscapes of Edith Wharton, Dos Passos and DeLillo; the cartoons of Frank Miller; the films of Martin Scorsese; as well as, reflecting upon and rethinking the notion of the 'wounded' or 'traumatised' (post-crisis) cities of NYC, Detroit and New Orleans; addressing the crucial issue of sustainability and the future of the city; and exploring the significance of contemporary urban phenomena, the American city will be discovered to be a unique, dynamic, paradoxical and profoundly influential site of human interaction and engagement.

USSC6919
American Film and Hollywood
Other
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Bruce Isaacs Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x4hr class/week Assessment: 1x1500wd critical analysis/evaluation (30%), 1x2500wd research essay (50%), seminar participation (20%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit explores the relationship between 'American cinema' and Hollywood cinema. 'American cinema' draws inspiration from and attempts to contribute to cultural movements and contexts that include Hollywood but extend to literature and the visual arts more generally. Hollywood's power as a cultural sign will be examined in relation to alternative and independent film cultures. This will include not only analysis of feature films but also of writings by filmmakers and theorists. Questions of cinematic subjectivity and authorship will be a focus of the unit.

WMST6902
Arguing the Point
Arts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Melissa Gregg Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x1500wd outline/literature review (20%), 1x500wd in-class presentation (10%) and 1x4000wd thesis chapter (70%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This core unit of study aims to develop scholarly skills of research, writing and argumentation. Through the study of different examples of academic research, we will carefully draw out why and how certain research and argumentation strategies are privileged in different texts. We will also closely examine different genres of academic writing and different modes of research (including empirical research). The unit will encourage students to develop their own argumentation skills and research practices.

WMST6903
Gender, Media and Consumer Societies
Arts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Jane Park Session: Semester 1 Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week Assessment: 1x5000wd essay (100%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit examines theories of consumption in regards to cultural and media products and practices. From the basis of sociology, cultural studies and gender theories, we will critically analyse different forms of belonging and identity that are created through these practices. We will also pay close attention to the critiques of globalisation and consumption, theories of the 'citizen consumer' and the realities of geo-political and economic inequalities that underpin many forms of consumption. The unit focuses on theories of culture, media and consumption, principally through the analyses of case studies.

WMST6904
Modernism, Modernity and Modern Culture
Arts
Credit points: 6 Teacher/Coordinator: Dr Natalya Lusty Session: Semester 2 Classes: 1x2-hr seminar/week Assessment: 2x seminar presentations, written + oral (30%), 1x5000wd final research paper, developed from a presentation, (70%) Campus: Camperdown/Darlington Mode of delivery: Normal (lecture/lab/tutorial) Day

This unit examines ideas about the modern and modernity as they continue to impact on contemporary cultural analysis. Beginning with post-Enlightenment philosophy, we will consider a range of roughly twentieth-century ideas we have come to identify with 'modernity', 'modernism' and 'postmodernism'. The unit focuses on how these concepts are used in a wide range of academic disciplines and other cultural fields, including popular culture, media, practices of museums and galleries, literature, philosophy, and the social sciences.

The Coursework Clause

Resolutions must be read in conjunction with the University of Sydney (Coursework) Rule 2000 (as amended), which sets out the requirements for all undergraduate courses, and the relevant Resolutions of the Senate.

Resolutions of the Faculty of Arts for coursework awards

These resolutions apply to all undergraduate and postgraduate coursework award courses in the Faculty, unless specifically indicated otherwise. Students enrolled in postgraduate research awards should consult the resolutions for their course. These resolutions must be read in conjunction with applicable University By-laws, Rules and policies including (but not limited to) the University of Sydney (Coursework) Rule 2010 (the ‘Coursework Rule’), the resolutions for the course of enrolment, the University of Sydney (Student Appeals against Academic Decisions) Rule 2006 (as amended) and the Academic Board policies on Academic Dishonesty and Plagiarism.

Part 1: Course enrolment

1 Admission

Admission to one or more courses, including undergraduate diplomas, concurrently with any other award course, requires the permission of all Deans concerned.

2 Enrolment restrictions

1 General

(a) The Coursework Rule sets limits to the maximum number of credit points a student may take in each semester. The Faculty does not encourage any student to take more than the normal full time load required to complete their course in the standard time (usually 24 credit points per semester). The Faculty sets minimum and maximum limits for undergraduate students in their first year of study (below).

(b) Units of study in excess of a student's award course requirements will be taken on a full fee, non award basis, unless approved otherwise by the Dean.
(c) A student may not enrol in a unit of study based on a language other than English if, in the opinion of the chair of department concerned on the advice of the teacher of the unit, the student's linguistic knowledge or competence would unfairly advantage them over other students enrolled in the unit of study. If enrollment has already taken place, the Dean may direct that the student be withdrawn without penalty from the unit of study.

2 Undergraduate
(a) An undergraduate student must enrol in a minimum of 12 junior credit points in semester one and two in the first year of candidature.
(b) Except with the permission of the Dean, an undergraduate student may not enrol in units of study with a total value of more than 24 junior credit points in semester one or two in the first year of candidature (students who are granted credit or advanced standing may be permitted to enrol in senior units);
(c) The maximum number of credit points that may be counted towards a degree from any single subject area in Table A of the Tables of units of study is 18 junior and/or 60 senior.
(d) The maximum number of credit points that may be counted towards a degree from any single subject area in Table B of the Tables of units of study is 12 junior and/or 48 senior.

3 Time limits
(1) A student must complete all the requirements for a master's degree within four calendar years of first enrolment.
(2) A student must complete all the requirements for a graduate diploma within three calendar years of first enrolment.
(3) A student must complete all the requirements for a graduate certificate within two calendar years of first enrolment.
(4) A student must complete all the requirements for a bachelor's degree (including combined degrees) or undergraduate advanced diploma within ten calendar years of first enrolment.
(5) A student must complete all the requirements for an undergraduate diploma within six calendar years of first enrolment.
(6) If a student is admitted, or re-admitted, with credit, the Faculty will determine a reduced time limit for completion of the award.
(7) Any variations from the above time limits are specified in the course resolutions.

4 Suspension, discontinuation and lapse of candidature
(1) Except for the time limits below, the Coursework Rule specifies the conditions for suspending or discontinuing candidature, and return to candidature after these events. The Rule also defines the circumstances when candidature is deemed to have lapsed. Students should pay careful attention to the significant dates in these processes and their effect on results and financial liability.
(2) The following limits apply to suspension of candidature in the Faculty of Arts:
   (a) Diplomas: 2 semesters
   (b) Bachelor degrees: 4 semesters (a maximum of 2 semesters can be applied for at one time)
   (c) Graduate Certificates, Graduate Diplomas and Master degrees: 2 semesters.

5 Credit for previous study
(1) General
   Except as described below, or in specific course resolutions, the Coursework Rule specifies the conditions for the granting of credit for previous study to courses in this Faculty.
(2) Undergraduate
   (a) A student can apply for credit to count towards an undergraduate diploma for up to 12 junior and six senior credit points if the credit is in a relevant subject area. Credit will not be granted for:
      (i) units of study that count towards another qualification;
      (ii) units of study taken at another institution after admission to candidature.
   (b) A student can apply for credit to count towards a bachelor's degree for up to:
      (i) 96 credit points for successfully completed units in courses where no award has been, or will be, made;
      (ii) 48 credit points for successfully completed units in courses where an award has been, or will be, made.
(3) Postgraduate
   A student can apply for credit to count towards a master's degree or graduate diploma for up to 50 per cent of the course requirements. No credit may be granted towards a graduate certificate course unless specified in the resolutions for the course.

Part 2: Unit of study enrolment

6 Faculty of Arts Units of Study level
(1) Undergraduate units of study in the Faculty of Arts are designated as junior, senior and honours level. They are represented numerically in the unit of study code as:
   (a) Junior (1000)
   (b) Senior (2000 and 3000)
   (c) Honours (4000)
(2) Postgraduate units of study in the Faculty of Arts are represented numerically as 5000, 6000 and 7000.

7 Cross-institutional study
(1) Cross institutional study is available unless specified otherwise in the course resolutions.
(2) Provided the student has sought permission in advance, the Dean may permit a student to complete a unit of study at another institution and have that unit credited to the student's course requirements, provided that:
   (a) the unit of study content is not taught in any corresponding unit of study at the University; and
   (b) the student is, for good reason, unable to attend the corresponding unit of study at the University; and
   (c) an undergraduate student has completed 48 credit points towards the award course in which they are enrolled.
(3) Cross institutional study is regarded as another form of credit and will be counted as such when considering eligibility.

8 International exchange
The Faculty encourages students to participate in international exchange programs, unless specified otherwise in the resolutions for a particular course. For more information refer to the Study Abroad and Exchange Office.

Part 3: Studying and Assessment

9 Late submission policy
(1) It is expected that, unless an application for special consideration has been approved, students will submit all assessment for a unit of study on the due date specified. If the assessment is completed or submitted within the period of extension, no academic penalty will be applied to that piece of assessment.

(2) If an extension is either not sought not granted or is granted but work is submitted after the extended due date, the late submission of assessment will result in an academic penalty. The penalty for undergraduate coursework is as follows:

(a) From the day after the published due date, the penalty applied is two marks (out of 100) per working day;
(b) For assignments marked out of a maximum total other than 100, the penalty will apply pro rata. For example, for assignments marked out of 40 the penalty will be 0.8 marks per day.

(3) Postgraduate coursework students will need to consult their unit of study outline for information about the academic penalty for late submission of assessment.

10 Attendance

(1) Students are required to be in attendance at the correct time and place of any formal or informal examinations. Non attendance on any grounds insufficient to claim special consideration will result in the forfeiture of marks associated with the assessment. Participation in a minimum number of assessment items may be included in the requirements specified for a unit of study.

(2) Students are expected to attend a minimum of 80% of timetabled activities for a unit of study, unless granted exemption by the Dean, Head of School or Chair of Department most concerned. The Dean, Head of School or Chair of Department most concerned may determine that a student fails a unit of study because of inadequate attendance. Alternatively, at their discretion, they may set additional assessment items where attendance is lower than 80%.

(3) The case of any formally enrolled student who is absent from 50 per cent or more of classes, regardless of the reasons for the absences, will be automatically referred to the end-of-semester departmental examiners' meeting for a determination as to whether the student should pass or fail the unit, or, if a pass is awarded, the level of penalty that should be applied.

11 Special Consideration for illness, injury or misadventure

Special Consideration is a process that affords equal opportunity to students who have experienced circumstances that adversely impact their ability to adequately complete an assessment task in a unit of study. The Coursework Rule provides full details of the University policy. The procedures for applying for special consideration are described in each unit of study outline.

12 Concessional Pass

In this Faculty the grade PCON (Concessional Pass) is not awarded.

13 Re-assessment

The Faculty does not offer opportunities for re-assessment (also called ‘supplementary’ assessment) other than on the grounds of approved Special Consideration.

Part 4: Progression, Results and Graduation

14 Satisfactory progress

The Faculty will monitor students for satisfactory progress towards the completion of their award course. In addition to the common triggers used to identify students not meeting academic progression requirements (as set out in the provisions relating to progression in the Coursework Rule), students must not fail more than 50% of the credit points in any semester of enrolment.

15 Undergraduate majors

(1) A major from Table A is offered by the Faculty of Arts and consists of either:

(a) a minimum of 36 senior credit points in a single subject area;
(b) 18 senior credit points in a single subject area combined with no more than 18 senior credit points cross-listed to the major, except in the case of Film Studies and Medieval Studies, or in other subject areas as may be approved by the Dean, where the entire major may be cross-listed from the Schedule of Cross-listed Units of Study; or
(c) a double major in Sociology and Social Policy, requiring a minimum of 48 credit points as defined by the Faculty Handbook.

(2) A major from Table B is offered by another faculty at the University of Sydney. Requirements for completion of the major are defined in the resolutions of the faculty offering the major.

(3) Specific majors required for the completion of a degree are listed in the course resolution for that degree. The majors available in this Faculty are:

16 Award of the bachelor's degree with honours

(1) To qualify for admission to candidature for honours, a student must:
   (a) have qualified for the award of the pass degree at The University of Sydney or an equivalent recognised tertiary Institution or be eligible for the award of the pass degree;
   (b) must complete the honours requirements within no more than 10 years from commencement of candidature in the pass degree;
   (c) have completed a minimum of 48 senior credit points with a Credit average or above in the intended subject area(s); and
   (d) have the permission of the chair of the department or program coordinator most concerned.

(2) General conditions of candidature include:
   (a) the honours course is normally full-time over two consecutive semesters. Students who are unable to enrol full-time should apply to the Faculty to undertake the honours course part-time over a maximum of four consecutive semesters;
   (b) a student who Fails or Discontinue Fails an honours course may not re-enrol in it;
   (c) students who wish to suspend their honours candidature should apply to the Faculty. The maximum period of suspension is one semester;
   (d) the maximum period of candidature is five consecutive semesters;
   (e) have qualified for the award of the pass degree at The University of Sydney or an equivalent recognised tertiary Institution or be eligible for the award of the pass degree;
   (f) enrol full-time should apply to the Faculty to undertake the honours course part-time over a maximum of four consecutive semesters.

(3) To qualify for the award of honours a student must complete 48 credit points of honours units of study in a single subject area, or in two subject areas for students completing joint honours, with a minimum honours mark of 65.

(4) A student may not:
   (a) enrol in more than 24 credit points of honours units of study in any one semester;
   (b) enrol concurrently in any other course or unit of study while enrolled in an honours course.

(5) A student who wishes to enrol in honours in two subject areas must meet the entry requirements for both subject areas. Eligible students can choose to enrol in either:
   (a) a joint honours course. The requirements are completion of 24 credit points in honours units of study in each subject area;
   (b) an honours course in two subject areas. The requirements are completion of 48 credit points in honours units of study in each subject area.

(6) Cross-listing
   (a) Where the Faculty deems that the content of a unit of study offered for one major is also related to another major, the unit may be cross-listed as a unit in the other major. Cross-listed units may only be counted once, either in the major that offers the unit or in the major to which the unit is cross-listed.
   (b) The Schedule of undergraduate Cross-listed Units of Study is updated annually by the Faculty and is available at:sydney.edu.au/arts/downloads/documents/Cross-listed.pdf

17 University medal

A student with an honours mark of 90 or above may be awarded a university medal. The medal is awarded at the discretion of the Faculty to the highest achieving students who, in the opinion of the Faculty, have an outstanding academic record, in accordance with the Coursework Rule. Candidates who are awarded an undergraduate diploma with honours are not eligible for the award of a university medal.

18 Weighted average mark (WAM)

The University has a formula for calculating a Weighted Average Mark and this is defined in the University Glossary. WAMs are used by the University as one indicator of performance.

19 Progression through embedded postgraduate programs

(1) Providing candidates satisfy the admission requirements for each stage, a candidate may progress to the award of any of the courses in an embedded sequence. Only the highest award completed will be conferred.

(2) The minimum requirement to upgrade from a graduate certificate to a graduate diploma is the completion of 18 credit points of units of study at credit average or above. The minimum requirement to upgrade from a graduate diploma to a master’s degree is the completion of 24 credit points of units of study at credit average or above.

Part 5: Other

20 Transitional provisions

(1) These resolutions apply to students who commenced their candidature after 1 January 2011.

(2) Students who commenced prior to 1 January 2011 complete the requirements in accordance with the resolutions in force at the time of their commencement, provided that requirements are completed by 1 January 2016. The Faculty may specify a later date for completion or specify alternative requirements for completion of candidatures that extend beyond this time.

The Research Clause

All postgraduate research courses must be read in conjunction with the relevant Rules and Resolutions of the Senate and Academic Board, including but not limited to:

1. the University of Sydney (Amendment Act) Rule 1999 (as amended), and
2. the University of Sydney (Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)) Rule 2004, the Resolutions of the Academic Board relating to the Examination Procedure for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy, and
4. the relevant Faculty Resolutions.

Doctor of Philosophy

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy is a University degree governed by Resolutions set down by the Academic Board. Candidates should be familiar with the Academic Board documents Degree of Doctor of Master of Philosophy

(2) If the Faculty is of the opinion that the candidate’s work is of sufficient merit, that candidate shall receive a bronze medal.
(3) A candidate who has completed the requirements but has not qualified for the award of the degree may be awarded the degree of Master of Arts.

3 Admission to candidature

(1) An applicant for admission to candidature for the degree shall except as provided in Part 9, section 47 of the University of Sydney (Amendment Act) Rule 1999 (as amended):
   (a) be a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) of the University of Sydney or, in special cases, be a graduate with honours of another faculty or board of studies of the University; and
   (b) have obtained honours in a subject within the subject area in which the applicant seeks to proceed; or
   (c) hold the degree of Master of Arts awarded with merit in an appropriate subject area; or
   (d) hold the degree of bachelor and have completed courses at a level deemed by the Faculty to be equivalent to honours in an appropriate subject area.
(2) An applicant for admission to candidature proposing to proceed primarily by research and thesis must in support of the application nominate for the approval of the head of the department concerned a proposal for a program of study in the subject area nominated.
(3) Applicants may be required to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Faculty their ability to proceed by the method nominated.

4 Availability

(1) Admission to candidature for the degree may be limited by quota.
(2) In determining the quota the University will take into account:
   (a) availability of resources, including space, library, equipment and computing facilities; and
   (b) availability of adequate and appropriate supervision, including both the supervision of research candidatures and the coordination of coursework programs.
(3) In considering an applicant for admission to candidature the Faculty may take account of the quota and will select in preference applicants who are most meritorious in terms of the eligibility for admission criteria.

5 Probationary admission

(1) A candidate may be accepted by the faculty on a probationary basis for a period not exceeding 12 months and upon completion of this period the Faculty shall review the candidate’s work and shall either:
   (a) confirm the candidate’s status; or
   (b) terminate the candidature.

6 Method of progression

A candidate for the degree shall proceed primarily by research and thesis.

8 Time limits

(1) A candidate may proceed on either a full-time basis or a part-time basis.
(2) A full-time candidate shall complete the requirements for the degree:
   (a) not earlier than the end of the first year of candidature; and
   (b) unless otherwise determined by the Faculty, not later than the end of the second year of candidature.
(3) A part-time candidate shall complete the requirements for the degree:
   (a) not earlier than the end of the second year of candidature; and
   (b) unless otherwise determined by the Faculty, not later than the end of the fourth year of candidature.
(4) The earliest and latest dates for completion of requirements for the degree shall be adjusted for those candidates wishing to proceed on a part-time basis following their admission to candidature on a full-time basis, and vice versa.

9 Credit

(1) A candidate who, before admission to candidature, has spent time in advanced study in the University of Sydney or in another university or institution, may be deemed by the Faculty to have spent such time after admission to candidature.
10 Supervision

(1) The Faculty shall appoint, on the recommendation of the head of the department concerned, a full-time member of the academic staff of the department to act as supervisor of each candidate proceeding primarily by research and thesis.

(2) The Faculty may appoint, on the recommendation of the head of department concerned, from amongst appropriately qualified persons, an associate supervisor to assist in the supervision of any candidature within the Faculty.

11 Requirements for the degree

(1) A candidate proceeding primarily by research and thesis shall:
   (a) complete such seminars and such courses as may be prescribed by the head of department concerned;
   (b) carry out supervised research on a topic approved by the Faculty on the recommendation of the head of the department concerned;
   (c) write a thesis embodying the results of the research; and in completion of the requirements for the degree; and
   (d) lodge with the Registrar three copies of this thesis, typewritten and bound in either a temporary or permanent form.
   (e) Theses submitted in a temporary binding should be strong enough to withstand ordinary handling and postage;
   (f) the preferred form of temporary binding is the 'Perfect Binding' system;
   (g) ring-back or spiral binding is not acceptable.

(2) Theses submitted in a temporary form shall have fixed to the cover a label clearly identifying the name of the candidate:
   (a) the title of the thesis;
   (b) and the year of submission.
   (c) These submitted in abbound form shall normally be on international standard A4 size paper sewn and bound in boards covered with book cloth or buckram or other binding fabric.
   (d) The title of the thesis, the candidate's initials and surname, the title of the degree, the year of submission and the name of the University of Sydney should appear in lettering on the front cover or on the title page.
   (e) The lettering on the spine, reading from top to bottom, should conform as far as possible to the above except that the name of the University of Sydney may be omitted and the thesis title abbreviated;
   (f) Supporting material should be bound in the back of the thesis as an appendix or in a separate set of covers.

(3) The degree shall not be awarded until the candidate has caused at least one copy of the thesis (containing any corrections or amendments that maybe required) to be bound in permanent form.

(4) The candidate shall state in the thesis:
   (a) the sources from which the information was derived;
   (b) the extent to which the work of others has been used; and
   (c) the portion of the work claimed as original.

(5) The thesis shall be accompanied by a statement from the supervisor stating whether, in the supervisor's opinion, the form of presentation of the thesis is satisfactory.

(6) A candidate may not present as the thesis a work which has been presented for a degree in this or another university, but will not be precluded from incorporating such in the thesis provided that in presenting the thesis the candidate indicates the part of the work which has been so incorporated.

12 Requirements for the degree by coursework

A candidate proceeding primarily by coursework shall complete such courses; attend such seminars; and complete such essay or other written work as may be prescribed by the Faculty on the recommendation of the head of department concerned.

13 Examination

(1) On completion of the requirements for the degree by a candidate proceeding primarily by research and thesis, the Faculty, on the recommendation of the head of department concerned, shall appoint at least two examiners to examine and report on the thesis.

(2) The reports of the examiners shall be made available to the head of department who shall consult with the professor most concerned, if the professor is not the head of the department, and the supervisor.

(3) The head of the department shall report the result of the examination of the candidature, together with a recommendation concerning the award of the degree, to the Faculty which shall determine the result.

(4) In special cases the Faculty, on recommendation of the head of the department concerned, may require the candidate to take a further examination in the area of the thesis.

(5) The Faculty may:
   (a) permit an unsuccessful candidate to revise and resubmit the thesis if, in the opinion of the head of the department concerned, the candidate's work is of sufficient merit to warrant this concession; and
   (b) may prescribe special conditions to be fulfilled by the candidate.

(6) On completion of the requirements for the degree by a candidate proceeding primarily by coursework the head of the department shall report the result of the examination of the coursework to the Faculty which shall determine the result of the candidature.

14 Progress

The Faculty may, on the recommendation of the head of the department concerned, call upon any candidate to show cause why that candidature should not be terminated by reason of unsatisfactory progress towards completion of the degree; and where, in the opinion of the Faculty, the candidate does not show good cause, terminate the candidature.

15 Location

A candidate pursuing candidature outside New South Wales must also complete a minimum of one semester of candidature within the University before submission of the thesis.

Doctor of Arts

Doctor of Social Sciences

The Doctor of Arts and the Doctor of Social Sciences are professional doctorate degrees which will allow candidates to pursue a higher degree of rigorous scholarship as well as advance their professional practice. In that sense, these degrees will be distinct from the more purely research approach associated with the undertaking of a PhD.

The nature of the units of study required in the coursework component will vary from discipline to discipline, reflecting different career and professional skills required in each.

2 Admission to candidature

(1) An applicant for admission to candidature shall:
(a) apply in writing to the Dean;
(b) hold (in a relevant field of study), or has fulfilled the requirements for a Bachelor degree with First or Second Class Honours from the University of Sydney; or
(c) an undergraduate degree deemed to be equivalent; or
(d) a Bachelor degree from the University of Sydney together with a substantial portfolio of published/professional work (for example, books, films, TV programs, creative work, government reports etc); or
(e) an undergraduate degree deemed to be equivalent together with a substantial portfolio of published/professional work (for example, books, films, TV programs, creative work, government reports etc); or
(f) hold a master degree by research from the University of Sydney; or
(g) a master degree by coursework from the University of Sydney with merit; or a postgraduate degree deemed to be equivalent; and
(h) the applicant has a minimum of three years recent, full-time employment or professional experience in a relevant field.
(i) Submit with the application:
(i) an outline of the proposed program of advanced coursework and research (not less than 1000 words) including the general area of the proposed thesis and whether it falls within the Humanities or Social Sciences;
(ii) evidence of at least three years recent full-time experience in a professional area of work as the Dean shall consider appropriate for postgraduate study at this level; and
(iii) a body of work as evidence of adequate training and ability to pursue the proposed program.
(j) An applicant for admission to part-time candidature, in addition to the above, shall also submit with the application a written undertaking that the applicant will:
(i) have sufficient time available to complete the requirements for the degree in accordance with Senate Resolutions, and within the maximum time period prescribed in Senate Resolutions;
(ii) be able to attend the University at such time and on such occasions for the purposes of consultation and participation in prescribed activities as may be required by the coordinator of the relevant department or on the recommendation of the Dean (through the Associate Dean Research/Coursework).

3 Probationary acceptance

(1) A candidate may be accepted on a probationary basis for a period not exceeding two semesters and upon completion of this probationary period, the Dean shall review the candidate's work and shall either confirm the candidate's status or terminate the candidature.
(2) In the case of a candidate accepted on a probationary basis, the candidature shall be deemed to have commenced from the date of such acceptance.

4 Availability

(1) Admission to candidature may be limited by quota.
(2) In determining the quota the University will take into account:
(a) availability of resources, including space, library, equipment and computing facilities; and
(b) availability of adequate and appropriate supervision.

(3) In considering an applicant for admission to candidature, the Dean may take account of the quota and will select in preference applicants who are most meritorious in terms of the eligibility for admission criteria.

5 Degree requirements

In order to complete the requirements for the degree, a candidate shall complete an approved course of advanced study and research as follows:
(a) one core unit plus 4 elective postgraduate units of study as prescribed by the Faculty, comprising a total of 30 credit points; and
(b) a thesis of 50,000 words in length investigating an appropriate topic approved by their supervisor, the relevant postgraduate coordinator and the Faculty.

6 Units of study

(1) Coursework units of study
(a) A candidate shall complete the following units of study (normally with a Distinction or above average):
(i) WMST6902 Arguing the Point - The aim of this course is to provide candidates with an understanding of the value and purpose of graduate research in general and what constitutes an acceptable thesis within the Faculty of Arts. Assessment requirement: at least 8000 words.
(ii) Four units of study from the existing MA offerings of the appropriate discipline- In these units, candidates will submit assessment as required in the master's program (normally 4000 words).
(b) The Dean may permit a candidate to include within the required 30 credit points of units of study up to a maximum of 12 credit points for postgraduate units of study offered by another faculty in the University or by another tertiary institution, having demonstrated a high level of competency (normally Distinction level or above) in the completed postgraduate coursework for which credit transfer is required.
(c) Normally only credit transfer will be granted for previously completed units of study which can be demonstrated as contributing to the candidate's total program of study in the Doctor of Arts or Doctor of Social Sciences degree.

7 The thesis

(1) On completing the postgraduate units of study, a candidate shall undertake research to produce a research thesis of approximately 50,000 words.
(2) The candidate shall state, throughout the thesis and specifically in chapter or foot notes, the sources from which information is derived, the extent to which use has been made of the work of others, and the portion of work the candidate claims as original.
(3) The topic of the thesis must have the prior approval of the Dean.
(4) A candidate may also submit in support of the candidature any publication of which the candidate is the sole or joint author. In such a case the candidate must produce evidence to identify satisfactorily the sections of the work for which the candidate is responsible.
(5) A candidate may not present as the thesis any work that has been presented for a degree or diploma at this or another university, but the candidate will not be precluded from incorporating such in the thesis, provided that, in presenting the thesis, the candidate indicates the part of the work which has been so incorporated.
(6) The thesis shall be written in English.
(7) A candidate shall submit to the relevant department four copies of the thesis and four copies of a summary of about 300 words in length.
(8) The copies of the thesis submitted for examination will be either printed copies or, where prior approval has been obtained from the relevant head of department, in the form of CDs, as provided in the Resolutions of the Academic Board relating to the Form of the Thesis for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.
5. Faculty of Arts postgraduate award Resolutions

(9) The thesis shall be accompanied by a certificate from the supervisor stating whether, in the supervisor’s opinion, the form of presentation of the thesis is satisfactory.

(10) When the degree has been awarded, a hard copy of the thesis printed on archival paper and incorporating any required emendations and revisions shall be lodged in the University Library, except as provided in section 18 below.

8 Length of candidature

(1) A candidate may proceed either on a full-time or part-time basis.

(2) Except with the express approval of the Dean -
   (a) a full-time candidate shall complete the degree requirements no earlier than the end of the sixth semester of candidature and no later than the end of the eighth semester of candidature; and
   (b) a part-time candidate shall complete the degree requirements no earlier than the end of the sixth semester of candidature and no later than the sixteenth semester of candidature.

(3) Where a candidate is granted credit for previous studies in accordance with section 10 below, the candidate’s minimum and maximum length of candidature may be adjusted accordingly.

(4) Where a candidate is granted a period of suspension of candidature, this period will not count as part of the time limits prescribed in sub-section 8 (2).

(5) Where a candidate is granted permission to change from full-to part-time candidature, or the reverse, the minimum and maximum lengths of candidature will be amended pro-rata.

9 Credit transfer

(1) Coursework component
   (a) A candidate who, at the date of admission to candidature, has completed postgraduate coursework (whether a degree for that work has been awarded or not) may apply for credit transfer towards the degree.
   (b) On the recommendation of the relevant head of department, the Dean may grant a candidate credit for previous studies provided that:
      (i) the coursework for which credit is sought is deemed by the Dean to have been completed with a high level of competency (normally at a Distinction level or above) and to be relevant to the candidate’s total program of study; and
      (ii) no more than 12 credit points shall normally be so credited, unless the units of study for which credit is sought were completed in an embedded program at this University, in which case there shall be no restriction on the amount of credit that may be granted.

(2) Research component
   (a) A candidate who, at the date of admission to candidature, has completed not less than one semester as a candidate for a degree of master in the Faculty of Arts or in another faculty in the University of Sydney, may be permitted by the Dean to transfer credit for the whole or any part of that candidature towards the DArts or DSoScSci degree, provided that:
      (i) the period of candidature for the degree of master for which credit is sought shall have been in a program of full-time or part-time advanced study directly related to the candidate’s proposed course of advanced study and research for the DArts or DSoScSci degree; and
      (ii) the candidate shall have abandoned candidature for that degree of master.
   (b) A candidate who, at the date of admission to candidature, has completed not less than one semester as a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the University of Sydney may be permitted by the Dean to transfer credit for the whole or any part of that candidature towards the DArts or DSoScSci degree, provided that:
      (i) the period of candidature for the PhD degree for which credit is sought shall have been in a program directly related to the candidate’s proposed course of advanced study and research and for the DArts or DSoScSci degree; and
      (ii) the candidate shall have abandoned candidature for the PhD degree.

(3) A candidate who, at the date of admission has completed not less than one semester as a candidate for a higher degree in another university or institution may be credited for the whole or any part of that period of candidature towards the DArts or DSoScSci degree, provided that:
   (a) the period of candidature for the higher degree for which credit is sought shall have been in a program of full-time or part-time advanced study and research directly related to the candidate’s proposed course of advanced study and research for the DArts or DSoScSci degree;
   (b) the candidate shall have abandoned candidature for the higher degree of the other university of institution concerned for which credit is sought; and
   (c) the amount of credit which may be so granted shall not exceed two semesters.

10 Control of candidature

(1) Each candidate shall pursue his or her course of advanced study and research under the control of the University.

(2) Where a candidate is employed by an institution other than the University, the Dean may require a statement from that employer acknowledging that the candidature will be under the control of the University.

11 Location of candidature

(1) Subject to the approval of the supervisor, relevant head of department and the Dean, a candidate shall pursue the program of advanced study and research:
   (a) within the University, including its research centres;
   (b) on fieldwork either in the field or in libraries, museums or other repositories;
   (c) within research institutions or other institutions considered by the Dean to provide adequate facilities for that candidature;
   (d) within a professional working environment considered to be appropriate by the Dean.

(2) A candidate shall be regarded as engaging in work within the University if he or she is undertaking approved distance and/or off-campus study, this being a mode of study in which the student would not be in regular physical attendance on a designated campus of the University.

(3) A candidate must, however, be able to attend the University at such times and on such occasions for the purposes of consultation and participation in prescribed academic and educational activities, as may be required by the relevant head of department.

(4) Except in respect of a candidate undertaking approved distance and/or off-campus study, a candidate pursuing candidature outside Australia must also complete a cumulative minimum period of two semesters candidature within the University.

12 Supervision

(1) Appointment of supervisor
   (a) The Dean, on the recommendation of the relevant head of department, shall appoint a suitably qualified supervisor for each candidate to take primary responsibility for the conduct of the candidature.
   (b) The Dean, on the recommendation of the relevant head of department, shall normally appoint one or more associate supervisors for each candidate to assist in the supervision of that candidature.

(2) Qualifications of supervisors
   A person appointed as a supervisor must be:
   (i) a member of the academic staff;
   (ii) a member of the senior research staff;
13 Progress

(1) Annual review
   (a) At the end of each year of candidature, each candidate shall complete and submit an annual progress report form to provide evidence of progress to the satisfaction of the supervisor, the relevant head of department and the Dean.
   (b) The supervisor shall comment on the candidate's report, and the form will then be referred back to the candidate who shall sign the report to indicate that he or she has sighted the supervisor's comments.
   (c) The form shall then be referred to the head of the relevant department, who, on the basis of the evidence provided, shall recommend that the conditions of candidature to apply for the following year. The head may require the candidate to provide further evidence of progress at the end of one semester or such other period as the head considers appropriate.
   (d) The progress report form is then forwarded to the Dean for consideration and comment.

(2) Interview at the end of the first year of candidature
   (a) In addition to the requirement for submission of an annual progress report, at the end of the first year of candidature each candidate's progress will be reviewed at an interview to be organised by the relevant department.
   (b) The review shall include an assessment of the research project including the resources being made available, the candidate's progress and the supervisory arrangements. If both the supervisor and the relevant head of department participate in the review, another member of staff - usually the departmental postgraduate co-ordinator - shall normally also participate in the review. There shall also be a segment where the candidate has the opportunity to discuss in confidence his or her progress in absence of the supervisor.
   (c) An outcome will be considered by the head of department, if not directly involved, and the Dean. Where difficulties have been identified, the report will include an agreed course of action which may include discontinuation of candidature.

(3) Lack of evidence of satisfactory progress
   (a) If a candidate fails to submit evidence of progress or if the relevant head of department considers that the evidence submitted does not indicate satisfactory progress, the Dean may, on the head's recommendation, call upon the candidate to show good cause why that candidate should not be terminated by reason of unsatisfactory progress towards completion of the degree and where, in the opinion of the Dean, the candidate does not show good cause, the Dean may terminate that candidature or may impose conditions on the continuation of that candidature.
   (b) For the purposes of these Resolutions, good cause means circumstances beyond the reasonable control of a candidate, which may include serious ill-health or misadventure, but does not include demands of employers, pressure of employment or time devoted to non-University activities, unless these are relevant to serious ill-health or misadventure. In all cases the onus is on the candidate to provide the University with satisfactory evidence to establish good cause.

14 Discontinuation of enrolment

(1) A candidate who wishes to discontinue enrolment in the degree or in a unit of study must apply to the relevant head of department and will be presumed to have discontinued enrolment from the date of that application, unless evidence is produced showing:
   (a) that the discontinuation occurred at an earlier date; and
   (b) that there was good reason why the application could not be made at the earlier time.

(2) A candidate who discontinues enrolment in a unit of study shall have that discontinuation recorded as Withdrawn (W) or Discontinued Not to Count as Failure (DNF) where that discontinuation occurs within the time-frames specified by the University or where the candidate meets other conditions as specified by the relevant head of department.

(3) A candidate who discontinues candidature for the degree shall have that discontinuation recorded as Withdrawn (W) or Not Enrolled or Not Continuing where that discontinuation occurs Doctor of Arts Doctor of Social Sciences within the time-frames specified by the University or where the candidate meets other conditions as specified by the relevant head of department.

(4) A candidate who discontinues candidature and who seeks to re-enrol as a candidate for the degree must apply for re-admission in accordance with the procedures determined by the Committee.

15 Suspension of candidature

(1) A candidate must be enrolled in each semester in which he or she is actively completing the requirements for the degree. A candidate who wishes to suspend candidature must first obtain approval from the Dean.

(2) The candidature of a candidate who has not re-enrolled and who has not obtained approval from the Dean for suspension will be deemed to have lapsed.

(3) A student whose candidature has lapsed must apply for re-admission in accordance with procedures determined by the Committee. If re-admitted to candidature, the candidate shall complete the degree requirements under such conditions as determined by the Dean.

(4) A candidate who enrols after suspending candidature shall complete the requirements for the degree under such conditions as determined by the Dean.

16 Examination

Except as prescribed in these resolutions, the examination procedures shall be in accordance with the policies and procedures prescribed by the Academic Board for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

17 Appointment of examiners

(1) On receiving the thesis and having considered the certificate of the supervisor, the Dean shall consult with the relevant head of department and, if the Dean sees fit, appoint examiners.

(2) If the Dean resolves to appoint examiners, two independent examiners shall be appointed. Of the examiners so appointed:
   (a) both will be external to the University;
   (b) the supervisor may not be appointed as an examiner;
   (c) an industry-based associate supervisor may not be appointed as an external examiner; and
   (d) each examiner shall hold a professional doctorate or PhD-level qualification and/or be a member of staff at a recognised university.

(3) The Dean shall report the names of the examiners appointed to the PhD Award Sub-Committee of the Research and Research Training Committee of the Academic Board, which may appoint one or more additional examiners.
5. Faculty of Arts postgraduate award Resolutions

18 Determination of the result of candidature

The Dean will refer the results of the coursework and the examiners’ reports on the thesis, together with a recommendation concerning the award of the degree, to the PhD Award Sub-Committee or the Academic Board’s Research and Research Training Committee, which shall determine the result of the candidature.

19 Public availability of thesis

(1) It is the policy of the Senate that a candidate for a higher degree should not normally be permitted to undertake a program of advanced study and research which is likely to result in the lodgement of a thesis that cannot be available for use immediately, to be read, photocopied or microfilmed, except as provided in sub-sections 19(3) and 19(4) below.

(2) An applicant for admission to candidature for a higher degree shall be required to acknowledge awareness of this policy when applying for such admission.

(3) Use of confidential material and access to a restricted thesis

(a) If, at any time between application for admission to candidature and the lodgement of the thesis, it shall appear to the supervisor and to the relevant head of department that successful prosecution of the candidature will require the use of confidential material which the candidate would not be at liberty to fully disclose in the thesis, the matter shall be reported as soon as practicable to the Dean.

(b) The Dean may, if the Dean thinks fit, recommend to the Research and Research Training Committee of the Academic Board that the candidate be granted:

(i) permission to include an appendix to the thesis such material as is essential to the thesis but which, for a limited period, may not be available for general inspection; and

(ii) exemption, in respect of such an appendix, from the requirement to give the undertaking specified in sub-section 19 (2) above.

(c) Subject to the provisions sub-section 19(3)(d) below, if the Research and Research Training Committee of the Academic Board resolves to grant such permission and exemption, the University Librarian shall restrict access, for a period to be specified by the Graduate Studies Committee of the Academic Board, to any appendix referred to in sub-section 19(3)(b) above. This period of restriction shall not exceed five years unless there are exceptional reasons for an extension of the period.

(d) The University Librarian may grant access to an appendix to a thesis to which access has been restricted in accordance with sub-section 19(3)(c) above, to a scholar who -

(i) demonstrates bona fide concern with the material in that appendix; and

(ii) has the written consent of either: the author of the thesis; or the head of the relevant department in a case where the author cannot be contacted, notwithstanding that all reasonable steps have been taken to contact the author.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of these resolutions, the examiners of a thesis, including any Faculty committee or any committee of the Academic Board which is directly concerned with the examination of such thesis, shall have access to the thesis and any appendix to the thesis for the purposes of any examination or re-examination.

(4) Deferment of public availability of thesis

(a) The Senate recognises that there are certain circumstances where deferment of the public availability of the thesis and any appendix to the thesis for the purposes of any examination or re-examination.

(b) In a case where a candidate or potential candidate is to be associated with a project in collaboration with industry that has potential for concern over exploitation of intellectual property, the Dean, if satisfied that the circumstances warrant it, may recommend to the Research and Research Training Committee of the Academic Board that:

(i) the candidate or prospective candidate be granted exemption from the requirement to give the undertaking specified in sub-section 19(2) above; and

(ii) authorisation be given to delay lodgement of the thesis in the Library for a period that, except in exceptional circumstances, shall not exceed eighteen months from the date of the award of the degree.

(c) The Chair of the Research and Research Training Committee of the Academic Board may approve such applications on behalf of the Research and Research Training Committee, where the Chair is satisfied that they are appropriate.

(d) If, at any time between application for admission to candidature and the lodgement of the thesis, it shall appear to the candidate, supervisor and to the relevant head of department that there are reasons to believe that the candidate’s interests would be at risk if the thesis were immediately made available, the candidate may apply in writing for deferment of the availability of that thesis in the University Library for a specified period of time. Any such application should set out clearly the reasons for the request and include supporting evidence, as appropriate.

(e) The Dean, if satisfied that such deferment is necessary to protect the interest of the candidate, may:

(i) give authorisation for the thesis not to be lodged in the Library for a period not exceeding six months from the date of award of the degree; and may also

(ii) recommend to the Research and Research Training Committee of the Academic Board that a longer period of deferment, or an extension of the original deferment, be approved provided that, except in exceptional circumstances, the total period shall not exceed eighteen months.

20 Chairs of department

A chair of department may delegate to a specified member of the academic staff his or her responsibilities under these resolutions by countesigning a specific recommendation in respect of a particular candidature or by making, and forwarding to the Registrar, a written statement of delegation of those powers.

2 Admission to candidature

An applicant for admission to candidature shall:

(a) apply in writing to the Dean;

(b) hold a bachelor degree with a major in a relevant subject area with a distinction average from the University of Sydney; or

(c) an undergraduate degree deemed to be equivalent; and
Probationary acceptance

1. A candidate may be accepted on a probationary basis for a period not exceeding two semesters and upon completion of this probationary period, the Dean shall review the candidate's work and shall either confirm the candidate's status or terminate the candidature.

2. In the case of a candidate accepted on a probationary basis, the candidate shall be deemed to have commenced from the date of such acceptance.

Availability

1. Admission to candidature may be limited by quota.

2. In determining the quota the University will take into account:
   (a) availability of resources, including space, library equipment and computing facilities; and
   (b) availability of adequate and appropriate supervision.

3. In considering an applicant for admission to candidature, the Dean may take into account the quota and will select in preference applicants who are most meritorious in terms of the eligibility for admission criteria.

Degree requirements

1. In order to complete the requirements for the degree, a candidate shall complete an approved course of advanced study and research as follows:

2. one postgraduate unit of study as prescribed by the Faculty comprising a total of 6 credit points; and a thesis of 28,000-30,000 words investigating an appropriate topic approved by their supervisor, the relevant postgraduate coordinator and the Faculty; or

3. two postgraduate units of study as prescribed by the Faculty comprising 12 credit points; and a thesis of 26,000-28,000 words investigating an appropriate topic approved by their supervisor, the relevant postgraduate coordinator and the Faculty; or

4. a thesis of 30,000-35,000 words investigating an appropriate topic approved by their supervisor, the relevant postgraduate coordinator and the Faculty.

Units of study

1. A candidate shall complete units of study from the Table of units of study for the Master of Arts degree in the Faculty of Arts Postgraduate Handbook.

2. Candidates who elect to undertake units of study together with the shorter thesis must complete the units of study prior to the submission of the thesis.

The thesis

1. A candidate shall undertake research to produce a research thesis of the required length. The candidate shall state, throughout the thesis and specifically in the chapter or footnotes, the sources from which information is derived, the extent to which use has been made of the work of others, and the portion of the work the candidate claims as original.

2. The topic of the thesis must have prior approval of the Dean.

3. A candidate may also submit in support of the candidature any publication of which the candidate is the sole or joint author. In such a case the candidate must produce evidence to identify satisfactorily the sections of the work for which the candidate is responsible.

4. A candidate may not present at the thesis any work that has been presented for a degree or diploma at this or another university, but the candidate will not be precluded from incorporating such in the thesis, provided that, in presenting the thesis, the candidate indicates the part of the work which has been so incorporated.

5. The thesis shall be written in English or, in the case of language departments, either in English or in their target language as determined by the department. Such applications should normally be made in writing and approved by the chair of department concerned and the Dean of Arts before the commencement of candidature. In considering applications a chair of department shall take into account arrangements for supervision and examination.

6. A candidate shall submit to the relevant department three copies of the thesis and three copies of a summary of about 300 words in length.

7. The copies of the thesis submitted for examination will be either printed copies or, where prior approval has been obtained from the relevant head of department, in the form of CD's, as provided in the Resolutions of the Academic Board relating to the Form of the Thesis for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

8. The thesis shall be accompanied by a certificate from the supervisor stating whether, in the supervisor's opinion, the form of presentation of the thesis is satisfactory.

9. When the degree has been awarded, a hard copy of the thesis printed on archival paper and incorporating any required emendations and revisions shall be lodged in the University Library.

Time limits

1. A candidate may proceed either on a full-time or part-time basis.

2. Except with the express approval of the Dean:
   (a) a full-time candidate shall complete the degree requirements no earlier than the end of the second semester of candidature and no later than the end of the fourth semester of candidature; and
   (b) a part-time candidate shall complete the degree requirements no earlier than the end of the fourth semester of candidature and no later than the end of the eighth semester of candidature.

3. Where a candidate is granted credit for previous studies in accordance with section 9 below, the candidate's minimum and maximum length of candidature may be adjusted accordingly.

4. Where a candidate is granted a period of suspension of candidature, this period will not count as part of the time-limits prescribed above in section 8(2).

5. Where a candidate is granted permission to change from full-to part-time candidature, or the reverse, the minimum and maximum lengths of candidature will be amended pro rata.

Credit for previous study

1. Coursework component:
   (a) A candidate who, at the date of admission to candidature, has completed postgraduate coursework (whether a degree for that work has been awarded or not) may apply for credit transfer towards the degree.

   (b) On the recommendation of the relevant head of department, the Dean may grant a candidate credit for previous study provided that:
      (i) the coursework for which credit is sought is deemed by the Dean to have been completed with a high level of competency (normally at Distinction level or above) and to be relevant to the candidate's total program of study; and
      (ii) no more than 12 credit points shall be credited.

   (c) A candidate who, at the date of admission to candidature, has completed not less than one semester as a candidate for a degree of master in the Faculty of Arts or in another faculty in the University of Sydney, may be permitted by the Dean to transfer credit for the whole or any part of that candidature towards the Master of Arts (Research) degree, provided that:
      (i) the period of candidature for the degree of master for which credit is sought shall have been in a program of full-time or part-time advanced study directly related to the candidate's proposed course of advanced study.

2. Credit for previous study in another faculty:
   (a) A candidate who, at the date of admission to candidature, has completed not less than one semester as a candidate for another degree in the University of Sydney, may be permitted by the Dean to transfer credit for the whole or any part of that candidature towards the Master of Arts (Research) degree, provided that:
      (i) the period of candidature for the degree of master for which credit is sought shall have been in a program of full-time or part-time advanced study directly related to the candidate's proposed course of advanced study.
and research for the Master of Arts (research) degree; and
(ii) the candidate shall have abandoned candidature for that degree of master.

(2) Research component:
(a) A candidate who, at the date of admission to candidature, has completed not less than one semester as a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy or Master of Philosophy in the University of Sydney may be permitted by the Dean to transfer credit for the whole or any part of that candidature towards the Master of Arts (Research) degree, provided that:
(i) the period of candidature for the PhD or MPhil degree for which credit is sought shall have been in a program directly related to the candidate’s proposed course of advanced study and research for the Master of Arts (Research) degree;
(ii) the candidate shall have abandoned candidature for the PhD or MPhil degree.
(b) A candidate who, at the date of admission, has completed not less than one semester as a candidate for a higher degree in another university or institution may be credited for the whole or any part of that period of candidature towards the Master of Arts (Research) degree, provided that:
(i) the period of candidature for the higher degree for which credit is sought shall have been in a program of full-time or part-time advanced study and research directly related to the candidate’s proposed course of advanced study and research for the Master of Arts (Research) degree;
(ii) the candidate shall have abandoned candidature for the higher degree of the other university of institution concerned for which credit is sought; and
(iii) the amount of credit which may be granted shall not exceed two semesters.

10 Control of candidature
Each candidate shall pursue his or her course of advanced study and research wholly under the control of the University.

11 Location of candidature
(1) Subject to the approval of the supervisor, relevant head of department and the Dean, a candidate shall pursue the program of advanced study and research:
(a) within the University, including its research centres;
(b) on fieldwork either in the field or in libraries, museums or other repositories;
(c) within research institutions or other institutions considered by the Dean to provide adequate facilities for that candidature; or
(d) within a professional working environment considered to be appropriate by the Dean.
(2) A candidate shall be regarded as engaging in work within the University if he or she is undertaking approved distance and/or off-campus study, this being a mode of study in which the student would not be in regular physical attendance on a designated campus of the University.
(3) A candidate must, however, be able to attend the University at such times and on such occasions for the purposes of consultation and participation in prescribed academic and educational activities, as may be required by the relevant head of department.
(4) Except in respect of a candidate undertaking approved distance and/or off-campus study, a candidate pursuing candidature outside Australia must also complete, a cumulative minimum period of one semester of candidature within the University.

12 Supervision
(1) Appointment of supervisor
(a) The Dean, on the recommendation of the relevant head of department, shall appoint a suitably qualified supervisor for each candidate to take primary responsibility for the conduct of the candidature.
(b) The Dean, on the recommendation of the relevant head of department, shall normally appoint one or more associate supervisors for each candidate to assist in the supervision of the candidature.

(2) Qualifications of supervisors
(a) A person appointed as a supervisor must be:
(i) a member of the academic staff;
(ii) a member of the senior research staff;
(iii) a person whom the Senate has conferred an academic title; or
(iv) such other member of staff of the University as may be considered appropriate in a particular case by the Graduate Studies Committee of the Academic Board.

(3) Qualifications of associate supervisors
A person appointed as an associate supervisor must:
(i) hold the qualifications referred to in section 12(2); or
(ii) have been appointed as an honorary associate of the University.

13 Progress
(1) Annual review
(a) At the end of each year of candidature, each candidate shall complete and submit an annual progress report form to provide evidence of progress to the satisfaction of the supervisor, the relevant head of department and the Dean.
(b) The supervisor shall comment on the candidate’s report, and the form will then be referred back to the candidate who shall sign the report to indicate that he or she has sighted the supervisor’s comments.
(c) The progress report is then forwarded to the Dean for consideration and comment.
(2) Interview at the end of first year of candidature
(a) In addition to the requirement for submission of an annual progress report, at the end of the first year of candidature each candidate’s progress will be reviewed at an interview to be organised by the relevant department.
(b) The review shall include an assessment of the research project including the resources being made available, the candidate’s progress and the supervisory arrangements. If both the supervisor and the relevant head of department participate in the review, another member of staff ? usually the departmental postgraduate coordinator ? shall normally also participate in the review. There shall also be a segment where the candidate has the opportunity to discuss in confidence his or her progress in the absence of the supervisor.
(c) An outcome will be considered by the head of the department, if not directly involved, and the Dean. Where difficulties have been identified, the report will include an agreed course of action which may include discontinuation of candidature.
(3) Lack of evidence of satisfactory progress
(a) If a candidate fails to submit evidence of progress or if the relevant head of department considers that the evidence submitted does not indicate satisfactory progress, the Dean may, on the head’s recommendation, call upon the candidate to show good cause why that candidature should not be terminated by reason of unsatisfactory progress towards completion of the degree and where, in the opinion of the Dean, the candidate does not show good cause, the Dean may terminate that candidature or may impose conditions on the continuation of that candidature.
(b) For the purposes of these Resolutions, good cause means circumstances beyond the reasonable control of a candidate, which may include serious ill-health or misadventure, but does not include demands of employers, pressure of employment or time devoted to non-University activities, unless these are relevant
14 Discontinuation of enrolment

(1) A candidate who wishes to discontinue enrolment in the degree or in a unit of study must apply to the relevant head of department and will be presumed to have discontinued enrolment from the date of that application, unless evidence is produced showing:
   (a) that the discontinuation occurred at an earlier date; and
   (b) that there was good reason why the application could not be made at an earlier time.

(2) A candidate who discontinues enrolment in a unit of study shall have that discontinuation recorded as Withdrawn (W) or Discontinued Not to Count as Failure (DNF) where that discontinuation occurs within the time-frames specified by the University or where the candidate meets other conditions as specified by the relevant head of department.

(3) A candidate who discontinues candidature for the degree shall have that discontinuation recorded as Withdrawn (W) or Not Enrolled or Not Continuing where that discontinuation occurs within the time-frames specified by the University when the candidate meets other conditions as specified by the relevant head of department.

(4) A candidate who discontinues candidature and who seeks to re-enrol as a candidate for the degree must apply for re-admission in accordance with procedures determined by the Committee.

15 Suspension of candidature

(1) A candidate must be enrolled in each semester in which he or she is actively completing the requirements for the degree. A candidate who wishes to suspend candidature must first obtain approval from the Dean.

(2) The candidature of a candidate who has not re-enrolled and who has not obtained approval from the Dean for suspension will be deemed to have lapsed.

(3) A student whose candidature has lapsed must apply for re-admission in accordance with procedures determined by the Committee. If re-admitted to candidature, the candidate shall complete the degree requirements under such conditions as determined by the Dean.

(4) A candidate who enrolls after suspending candidature shall complete the requirements for the degree under such conditions as determined by the Dean.

16 Examination

Except as prescribed in these resolutions, the examination procedures shall be in accordance with the policies and procedures prescribed by the Academic Board for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

17 Appointment of examiners

(1) On receiving the thesis and having considered the certificate of the supervisor, the Dean shall consult with the relevant head of department and, if the Dean sees fit, appoint examiners.

(2) If the Dean resolves to appoint examiners, two independent examiners shall be appointed. Of the examiners so appointed:
   (a) at least one examiner shall be external to the University;
   (b) the supervisor may not be appointed as an examiner;
   (c) each examiner shall hold a professional doctorate or PhD-level qualification and/or be a member of staff at a recognised university;

(3) In any case where the Dean, having received the thesis and having considered the report of the supervisor, resolves not to appoint examiners, the Dean shall report the circumstances to the Graduate Studies Committee of the Academic Board.

18 Determination of the result of candidature

The Dean will consider the results of the coursework and the examiners’ reports on the thesis, together with a recommendation concerning the award of the degree, and shall determine the result of the candidature.

19 Public availability of thesis

(1) It is the policy of the Senate that a candidate for a higher degree should not normally be permitted to undertake a program of advanced study and research which is likely to result in the lodgement of a thesis that cannot be available for use immediately to be read, photocopied or microfilmed, except as provided in sections 19(3) and 19(4) below.

(2) An applicant for admission to candidature for a higher degree shall be required to acknowledge awareness of this policy when applying for such admission.

(3) Use of confidential material and access to a restricted thesis

(a) If, at any time between application for admission to candidature and the lodgement of the thesis, it shall appear to the supervisor and to the relevant head of department that successful prosecution of the candidature will require the use of confidential material which the candidate would not be at liberty to fully disclose in the thesis, the matter shall be reported as soon as practicable to the Dean.

(b) The Dean may, if the Dean thinks fit, recommend to the Graduate Studies Committee of the Academic Board that the candidate be granted:
   (i) permission to include an appendix to the thesis such material as is essential to the thesis but which, for a limited period, may not be available for general inspection; and
   (ii) exemption, in respect of such an appendix, from the requirement to give the undertaking specified in section 19(2) above.

(c) Subject to the provisions sub-section 19(3)(d) below, if the Graduate Studies Committee of the Academic Board resolves to grant such permission and exemption, the University Librarian shall restrict access, for a period to be specified by the Graduate Studies Committee of the Academic Board, to any appendix referred to in section 19(3)(b) above. This period of restriction shall not exceed five years unless there are exceptional reasons for an extension of the period.

(d) The University Librarian may grant access to an appendix to a thesis to which access has been restricted in accordance with section 19(3)(c) above, to a scholar who:
   (i) demonstrates bona fide concern with the material in that appendix; and
   (ii) has the written consent of either: the author of the thesis; or the head of the relevant department in a case where the author cannot be contacted, notwithstanding that all reasonable steps have been taken to contact the author.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of these resolutions, the examiners of a thesis, including any Faculty committee or any committee of the Academic Board which is directly concerned with the examination of such thesis, shall have access to the thesis and any appendix to the thesis for the purposes of any examination or re-examination.

(4) Deferment of public availability of thesis

(a) The Senate recognises that there are certain circumstances where deferment of the public availability of the thesis is appropriate.

(b) In a case where a candidate or potential candidate is to be associated with a project in collaboration with an industry that has potential for concern over exploitation of intellectual property, the Dean, if satisfied that the circumstances warrant it, may recommend to the Graduate Studies Committee of the Academic Board that:
(i) the candidate or prospective candidate be granted exemption from the requirement to give the undertaking specified in section 19(2) above and
(ii) authorisation be given to delay lodgement of the thesis in the Library for a period that, except in exceptional circumstances, shall not exceed 18 months from the date of the award of the degree.
(c) The Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee of the Academic Board may approve such applications on behalf of the Graduate Studies Committee, where the Chair is satisfied that they are appropriate.
(d) If, at any time between application for admission to candidate and the lodgement of thesis, it shall appear to the candidate, supervisor and to the relevant head of department that there are reasons to believe that the candidate’s interests would be at risk if the thesis were immediately made available, the candidate may apply in writing for deferment of the availability of that thesis in the University Library for a specific period of time. Any such application should set out clearly the reasons for the request and include supporting evidence, as appropriate.
(e) The Dean, if satisfied that such deferment is necessary to protect the interest of the candidate, may:
(i) give authorisation for the thesis not to be lodged in the Library for a period not exceeding six months from the date of award of the degree; and may also
(ii) recommend to the Graduate Studies Committee of the Academic Board that a longer period of deferment, or an extension of the original deferment, be approved provided that, except in exceptional circumstances, the total period shall not exceed 18 months.

20 Chairs of department

A chair of department may delegate to a specified member of the academic staff his or her responsibilities under these resolutions by countersigning a specific recommendation in respect of a particular candidature or by making, and forwarding to the Registrar, a written statement of delegation of those powers.

The attendance pattern for these courses is full time or part time according to candidate choice.

3 Master’s type

The master’s degree in these resolutions is an advanced learning course, as defined by the Coursework Rule.

4 Embedded courses in this sequence

(1) The embedded courses in this sequence are:
   (a) the Graduate Certificate in Applied Linguistics
   (b) the Graduate Diploma in Applied Linguistics
   (c) the Master of Applied Linguistics

(2) A candidate for the graduate certificate or graduate diploma may apply to progress to a longer course in this sequence, providing the candidate meets the admission requirements for that course. Only the longest award completed will be conferred.

5 Admission to candidature

(1) Available places will be offered to qualified applicants based on merit, according to the following admissions criteria. In exceptional circumstances the Dean may admit applicants without these qualifications but whose evidence of experience and achievement is deemed by the Dean to be equivalent.

(2) Admission to candidature for the Graduate Certificate in Applied Linguistics requires:
   (a) a bachelor’s degree from the University of Sydney, with a major in a relevant subject area, or an equivalent qualification; or
   (b) a bachelor’s degree from the University of Sydney, in any subject area, or an equivalent qualification, and either:
      (i) a relevant professional qualification; or
      (ii) recent, relevant, professional experience.

(3) Admission to candidature for the Graduate Diploma in Applied Linguistics requires:
   (a) completion of the requirements for the Graduate Certificate in Applied Linguistics with a minimum credit (65%) average, or an equivalent qualification; or
   (b) a bachelor’s degree with a minimum credit (65%) average, from the University of Sydney, including a major in a relevant subject area, or an equivalent qualification; or
   (c) a bachelor’s degree with a minimum credit (65%) average, from the University of Sydney, in any subject area, or an equivalent qualification, and either:
      (i) a relevant professional qualification; or
      (ii) recent, relevant, professional experience.

(4) Admission to candidature for the Master of Applied Linguistics requires:
   (a) completion of the requirements for the embedded Graduate Diploma in Applied Linguistics with a minimum credit (65%) average of an equivalent qualification; or
   (b) a bachelor’s degree with a minimum credit (65%) average, from the University of Sydney, including a major in a relevant subject area, or an equivalent qualification; or
   (c) a bachelor’s degree with a minimum credit (65%) average, from the University of Sydney, in any subject area, or an equivalent qualification, and either:
      (i) a relevant professional qualification; or
      (ii) recent, relevant, professional experience.

6 Requirements for award

(1) The units of study that may be taken for these courses are set out in the Postgraduate Table of Units of Study for the Applied Linguistics subject area.

(2) To qualify for the award of the Graduate Certificate in Applied Linguistics a candidate must complete 24 credit points of core units of study.

(3) To qualify for the award of the Graduate Diploma in Applied Linguistics a candidate must complete 36 credit points, including:
   (a) 24 credit points of core units of study; and
5. Faculty of Arts postgraduate award Resolutions

(4) To qualify for the award of the Master of Applied Linguistics, a candidate must complete 48 credit points, including:
(a) 24 credit points of core units of study; and
(b) 24 credit points from elective units of study.

7 Course transfer
A candidate for the master's degree or graduate diploma may elect to discontinue study and graduate with a shorter award from this sequence, with the approval of the Dean, and provided the requirements of the shorter award have been met.

8 Transitional provisions
(1) These resolutions apply to students who commenced their candidature after 1 January 2011.
(2) Candidates who commenced prior to 1 January 2011 will complete the requirements in accordance with the resolutions in force at the time of their commencement, provided that requirements are completed by 1 January 2016. The Faculty may specify a later date for completion or specify alternative requirements for completion of candidatures that extend beyond this time.
