CONTENTS

Contributors vii
Introduction xiii
Robert Dixon and Nicholas Birns

SECTION 1: TRANSPACIFIC: NATIONAL LITERATURES AND TRANSNATIONALISM 1

1. Antipodal Propinquities? Environmental (Mis)Perceptions in American and Australian Literary History 3
   Lawrence Buell

   Paul Giles

3. Transcendentalism, Emerson and Nineteenth-Century Australian Literary Culture 39
   Ken Stewart

4. Looking to American Manhood: The Correspondence of Alfred Deakin and Josiah Royce 63
   Marilyn Lake

5. American Friends: Clinton Hartley Grattan and W.W. Norton 81
   Carol Hetherington

6. Missed Appointments: Convergences and Disjunctures in Reading Australia Across the Pacific 91
   Nicholas Birns
Section 2: Poetry and Poetics

7. East–West Turnings: Australian and American Poetry in Light of Asia
   Paul Kane
   107

8. Smooth and Troubled Passages Across the Pacific
   Kevin Hart
   119

Section 3: Literature and Popular Culture

   Benjamin Miller
   151

10. The Novel Newspaper and its Role in the Transmission of American Fiction to Australia
    Elizabeth Webby
    167

11. Elvis Down Under: Simulations of a US Pop Icon in Australian Fiction
    Paul Genoni
    177

12. Cold Dreams: National Efforts and Global Visions in Antarctic Arts Programs
    John Scheckter
    195

Section 4: The Cold War

    Bruce Bennett
    209

14. ‘A Skyrocket Waiting to Be Let Off’, but to Where? Christina Stead’s First Impressions of the United States and Her Postwar Literary Rehabilitation
    Michael Ackland
    225

15. The ‘American Dilemma’: Christina Stead’s Cold War Anatomy
    Fiona Morrison
    241
16. An Imperishable Spring? Stow’s Tourmaline, the Cold War and the Phenomenon of the Star 255
   Kerry Leves

17. ‘Turning a Place into a Field’: Shirley Hazzard’s The Great Fire and Cold War Area Studies 265
   Robert Dixon

SECTION 5: PUBLISHING HISTORY AND TRANSPACIFIC PRINT CULTURES 281

18. Literary Appreciation, American-Style: Channels of Influence in Early Twentieth-Century Australia 283
   Patrick Buckridge

19. New York City Limits: Australian Novels and American Print Culture 299
   Roger Osborne

20. Rejected by America? Some Tensions in Australian–American Literary Relations 309
   Louise Poland and Ivor Indyk

21. American Dreams and the University of Queensland Press 323
   Deborah Jordan

   David Carter

Index 361