Standing tall and vigilant against the Tunis skyline, the Lighthouse Hotel on the waterfront is open to tourists who find the hotel's iconic cantilever 'springboard' one of the more beautiful vantage points for viewing Tunis in its whole or the magnificent view of the water. Adorned on the top of the Lighthouse is the hotel's unique solidified flame that houses the bulb of the "lighthouse".

At night, the Lighthouse Hotel really shines (and not just by the bulb); the Lighthouse Hotel Cafe is a popular stop for locals and tourists alike to enjoy a coffee by the water, and parties never seem to stop, the nights in the hotel penthouse are always celebrating something; the party-goers enjoying the beautiful nightview of the water.
