Inside the walls of the Old City, amidst the diversity and difference which defines Jerusalem, lies a secluded oasis, designed to unite women of all backgrounds. The Women’s Centre is located in the heart of the Old City, tucked away between the stone facades lining the pathways. Drawing upon the delicacy and subtle beauty of the city of Jerusalem, the Women’s Centre is designed to catch the eye of the keen observer. From the facade little is revealed, enticing those who are anxious to see behind the stone walls and into the clusters of light radiating through the shutters. Privacy is a central theme of the Women’s Centre. It is a place of retreat; a chance for women to step outside of the turmoil and tension which fills the city and into the freedom, peace and equality encapsulated in the Centre. The moment one crosses the threshold they are transported into a new world; an oasis. The Women’s Centre provides a place of relaxation, socialising, exercising, eating and education. It is a chance for all women to put their worries on hold and indulge in themselves.
